CARMEL MANNERS NOT FOR FAIRFAX

Councilmen Scrap Proposed Law Against Sitting On Grass; Audience Sounds Off

By JOANNE GRANT

Fairfax resident may continue sitting on the grass in the city parks for at least another month, the city council decided last night in an emotional meeting punctuated with applause, boos and the ejection of one citizen from the council chambers.

Facing a crowd of more than 130 mostly hostile residents, the council agreed to scrap the ordinance it copied from Carmel to regulate public conduct and to come up with a different one by June 9.

The council was considering the ordinance at the request of Mayor Francis J. O'Connell, who said March 10, "The time has come — the sun's been out for a week and we've got problems. He referred to what the council calls "new residents" or "visitors" in careful attempts to avoid the term hippie.

Last night, he admitted he had seen nothing in the past few weeks to warrant the ordinance which would prohibit a host of activities ranging from sleeping on walls to sitting on grass to picking rocks or flowers.

However, he said he would like to see it passed and "have it become another ordinance on the books that no one knows anything about."

City Atty. Wallace S. Myers told the council some sections of the ordinance are in the penal code and that he didn't think "sitting on the grass should be classified as a crime."

"You would be unable to adopt an ordinance such as this in an open session like this," said Myers, suggesting a council committee get together and work on an ordinance "that would take care of the problems that have been disturbing people."

"What has been going on that has been disturbing people?" asked Councilman Adelaide P. Wilson. No one answered her.

Members of the audience were permitted to speak briefly and comments opposing the ordinance flew.

Ric Fink of 245 Tamalpais Road suggested the city merely enforce the laws it now has. If the ordinance under considerations is passed it will look like "it is aimed at something in the city."

Attorney Carl B. Shapiro, representing the American Civil Liberties Union, commented, "I think the City of Fairfax is part of a despicable movement to try and wipe out a class of people."

"Who is this group that we're

Nixon Asks For Random Draft Plan

19 Year Olds Would Be In First Round Lottery

Nixon recommended that 19 year olds be subject to the first call but that they remain vulnerable to the draft for only one year rather than seven as under the existing system.

"It is my conviction," Nixon said in a message to Congress, "that the disruptive impact of the military draft on individual lives should be minimized as much as possible, consistent with the national security. For this reason I am today asking the Congress for authority to implement important draft reforms."

The President repeated his stand that ideally there should be an all-volunteer armed force for the nation. He said he continued to believe that this ideal can be reached under more stable world conditions.

He added: "Under present conditions, however, some kind of draft will be needed for the immediate future. As long as that is the case, we must do everything we can to limit the disruption caused by the system and to make it as fair as possible."

The chief executive offered a six-point recommendation, topped by changing from an oldest-first to a youngest-first order of call so a young man would become less rather than more vulnerable to selection as he grows older.

The random system—a lottery—would be applied to all those who are vulnerable during a given year rather than to those whose birthdays fall at certain times of the year or month.

$9 Million For Rec-Culture Center

A $9 million, seven-year plan for completion of the community cultural-recreational center at the Marin County Civic Center was proposed last night by the directors of Fair-Marin.

The proposal calls for equal contributions from Fair-Marin, Marin County and the State of California of $250,000 each for the seven-year period. This would total $5,250,000 after seven years.

The remaining $3,750,000 would be financed by federal or private grants, special funding on the part of user organizations, or by a small bond issue if necessary.

The $9 million would be used for capital improvement on the 80-acre site surrounding the Veterans Memorial Auditorium.

Of the total, nearly half, or $4,200,000, would be spent for an arts, sciences and activities complex. Although the master plan includes separate buildings for a natural history museum, an art museum and a community center, the current proposal would allow the consolidation of any or all of these functions if the sponsoring groups desire.

An exhibition building, covering some two to the three acres, would cost about $3,500,000 and outdoor lighting, parking, landscaping and other on-site improvements would cost an estimated $800,000.

The remaining $500,000 is needed to furnish the Veterans Memorial Auditorium with additional seats, stage, sound and lighting equipment and a movable, sound-proof partition.

All of the cost estimates are based on current costs plus allowances for inflation.

Harold Stockstad, president of Fair-Marin, said that at present, there is only $1,100,000 committed for finishing the 80-acre site. This includes a $600,000 six-year capital improvement outlay by the county to provide landscaping, parking and other site improvements, and a $500,000 pledge by Fair-Marin to furnish the additional seats and equipment for the auditorium.

"This proposal marks the first time that the problem of finishing the Civic Center has been viewed realistically in its entirety," said Stockstad. "As the operating agents for the community cultural recreational center, we must seek out the most equitable and practical means of completing the project.

"This proposal we feel is eminently fair, calling for the Marin taxpayer to bear less than 20 per cent of the total cost. This is a bargain that will be hard to match, and one which will give Marin County a community center unparalleled in the country, one that will attract international attention and will command the respect of all."

The proposal will be submitted for approval and action to the full Fair-Marin membership at the next general meeting on June 2.

Nixon To See Lodge Before Viet Address

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today that President Richard M. Nixon's speech to the nation on Vietnam peace prospects tomorrow night will contain new material and that Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge is returning from the Paris peace talks for new instructions.

But White House officials cautioned again against expecting an announcement of some breakthrough toward peace.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the President will broadcast on all television and radio network at 7 p.m. PDT from the White House theater in the east wing, for about 30 minutes.

Ziegler said Lodge will arrive from Paris early tomorrow afternoon and return there early Thursday. He said the ambassador was asked to return to consult on "how to proceed in the Paris talks in the light of the President's speech."

Nixon also discussed his proposed speech at a morning meeting with Republican congressional leaders.

House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford said that as a result his observations of cautious optimism regarding the Paris peace talks were reinforced.

Ford noted that it will be Nixon's first radio-television speech to the nation as President, and said the mere fact that the President is making the speech implies there will be something of public interest.

But he gave no hints of what, and other sources said the speech is not expected to report any major breakthroughs in the Paris negotiations.

Ford said there was "no discussion of troop withdrawal," in Nixon's summation of his planned speech. Ford emphasized that it was said the speech would not make any announcements on troop withdrawals.

Marin Senator Takes Strong Pro-Bay Stand

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — In a sharp reversal, Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, announced yesterday that he is supporting a newly strengthened bill to control development of San Francisco Bay.

McCarthy called a news conference to reveal he is dropping his own bay bill — which was generally regarded as being kind to bay fillers — to support one by Sen. Richard J. Dolwig, R.-Atherton.

Dolwig had announced Friday he was amending his bill dealing with San Francisco Bay to make it stronger. Conservationists had previously pictured Dolwig as an opponent of tough bay conservation measures.

Dolwig's measure now would adopt most of the features of the bay master plan proposed by the Bay Conservation Development Commission, including extending BCDC's jurisdiction to the shoreline marshlands and salt ponds. It also would give BCDC the power to develop a regional plan for parks and open spaces around the bay.

McCarthy, who described himself in a press statement as a "longtime supporter of conservation and beautification legislation, said, ". . . beautification of the bay and preservation of its ecology need the continuing guiding hand of the BCDC, which will go out of existence this year in the absence of legislation to save it."

McCarthy's bill, however, would have taken away virtual-

Extra Cash Debated For Point Reyes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interior Department recommended to Congress today an additional authorization of $28.3 million to complete acquisition of the Point Reyes National seashore in California.

George B. Hartzog Jr., director of the National Park Service, urged also that the ban on condemnation of property in the 26,000-acre pastoral zone be repealed.

At a hearing before the House Interior subcommittee on parks, California sponsors of legislation to fund completion of the park disagreed with Hartzog's new appraisal.

Arguing that the $19,135,000 already funded for the seashore shore be augmented by $38,365,000 rather than the $28.3 million figure, due to land price inflation were Reps. Don H. Clausen, R-First District; William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District; Jeffery Cohelan, D-Seventh District; Harold T. Johnson, D-Second District and Paul N. McCloskey Jr., R-11th District.

Clausen said the Marin county assessor consider a $38 million increase more realistic.

Hartzog said his $28.3 million figure is based on an 18-month study of land values in the area by the best professional appraiser for the park service in San Francisco.

"I think it is in the ball park," Hartzog testified.

Furthermore, he said he estimates that $10.3 million of that can be recouped through sale or lease of the property to private interests subject to restrictions against subdivision or other incompatible use.

Reagan Aide, Bagley Spar Over Tax Boost

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State Finance Director Caspar Weinberger says a proposed income tax hike is "a vital part" of Gov. Ronald Reagan's tax reform package.

Weinberger made the comment yesterday after the head of the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee said the tax proposal would probably be dropped from a compromise tax reform bill.

Chairman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, said the 1 per cent tax on adjusted gross income would hit low-income families just as hard as rich ones — and would come under strong fire from organized labor and other groups.

Weinberger said the committee has not yet taken action on the governor's package, and as far as he knows the tax hike is still "very much alive.

"I think it's an offhand comment and you shouldn't take it too seriously," he said.

The average California taxpayer would pay an additional 50 per cent in state income tax under the Reagan plan. But the increased funds would be returned to homeowners in the form of a 50 per cent cut in property tax.

The object of the tax is to shift much of the cost of running local schools from the property tax to the income tax.

At a hearing on the governor's plan, Bagley noted that persons earning $3,000 a year who are now exempt from federal income taxes would have to pay the 1 per cent levy. He asked Weinberger whether the tax could start at a higher level.

Weinberger replied: "If you do, you'll relieve (those at $3,000 incomes) of support of the school system." He said it would also lead to a reduction in property tax relief — even for many persons earning $3,000 a year who own their own home.

Bagley replied: "I am of the opinion that a man on a virtual poverty income of $3,000 a year either lives in a hovel somewhere or rents a house trailer."

Speaking of several tax reform measures before the committee, Bagley said there seems

Fair Adds To State Budget

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan's budget — a record $6.2 billion — will be even bigger when it is approved by the Assembly's GOP-dominated Ways and Means Committee, the chairman said today.

The budget screening committee argued about the 1969-70 appropriations bill late into the night yesterday and finally raised it by $650,000 to provide enough money to stage this year's edition of the state's fair in Sacramento.

Chairman Frank Lanterman, R-La Canada, told a reporter that additional funds for education, welfare and state construction will boost the total even more.

In addition, the California State Employees Association, representing some 119,000 state workers, is asking for $40 million more in pay than Reagan wants to give.

Burns Loses Leadership Of Senate

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Republican Sen. Howard Way was chosen to replace Democrat Hugh M. Burns as president pro tem of the Senate today, ending Burns' 13 years as presiding officer of the upper house.

The action came in a closed caucus of the Senate after the 67-year-old Burns dramatically called for the vote.

It followed weeks of hard campaigning by Way, a tall, gray-haired member of a San Joaquin Valley farm family and fellow Republicans. They began their efforts when the GOP captured control of the house 21-19 in special Contra Costa County election.

The vote for Way was 21-19.

The senators declined to specify the partisan breakdown on the vote, but Way had been supported by some liberal Democrats, unhappy with Burns's support of President Richard M.

Red Troops Fire Rockets From Within Neutral Zone

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops have made their heaviest coordinated rocket and mortar attacks from inside the demilitarized zone since American planes quit bombing North Vietnam last Nov. 1, military spokesmen reported today.

U.S. headquarters said 11 positions in the southern half of the DMZ fired more than 45 rounds of rockets and mortars yesterday into allied positions stretching halfway along the 40-mile zone. But there were no reported allied casualties since the U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops were well dug in.

Marine artillery and the big guns of the U.S. heavy cruiser St. Paul in Tonkin Gulf blasted the enemy gun positions. All of the guns were silenced and forward observers reported 10 secondary explosions, indicating direct hits on ammunition stores, U.S. headquarters said.

U.S. headquarters keeps a close watch on the DMZ, since American officials say North Vietnam agreed to keep it free of military action in return for the bombing halt. Hanoi denies

Tamalpais Fire District Bond Vote Turnout Light

Voting was light under cloudy skies this morning in Tamalpais Fire Protection District as residents balloted on a proposed $800,000 bond issue to finance a new Tamalpais Valley fire station, improved water mains, and new fire equipment. The polls will remain open until 8 p.m.

By 11 a.m., 294 of the district's 3,541 registered voters and cast ballots, fewer than 8 per cent. Precinct figures were 83 of 958 registered at Tamalpais Valley Fire Station, 55 of 921 at Marin Terrace School, 84 of 861 at Homestead School, 70 of 756 at Tamalpais Valley School and 2 of 45 at Alpine Lodge.

The 30-year bond issue would provide $334,000 for the new station, $225,000 for water mains and hydrants, $134,000 for fire trucks and apparatus, $60,000 for furnishings and an alarm system, $30,000 in engineering, architectural and bond attorney fees, and $15,000 to remodel the Homestead Valley fire station. The issue would add 28 to 32 cents to the district tax rate. A two-thirds majority is needed for passage.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Volpe Criticized

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A Chinese-American assemblywoman is upset because she says Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe ignored the contribution of the Chinese in building the United State's first transcontinental railroad.

Assemblywoman March K. Fong, D-Oakland, sent a telegram to Volpe yesterday saying he "slighted" the efforts of the Chinese and demanding a "public apology to the Chinese community."

Volpe was the featured speaker at ceremonies Saturday at Promontory, Utah, to mark the 100th anniversary of linking California to the East by rail.

Sirhan Denies Belli

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Sirhan B. Sirhan will stick with the attorneys who handled his trial to fight his conviction and death sentence for the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Sirhan issued a statement yesterday from his jail cell through his chief defense attorney, Grant B. Cooper, denying that San Francisco attorney Melvin Belli might take over the case.

Belli said last Friday in Tucson, Ariz., that he was contacted by Sirhan's mother, Mary, and his brother, Adel, 30, and, "they want me to do the appeal."

Ghana Crackdown

ACCRA (UPI) — Police confiscated more than $1.4 million yesterday in assets allegedly acquired unlawfully by former Ghanan officials, authorities announced. Guards surrounded houses said to belong to former ministers in the regime of outed President Kwame Nkrumah. One minister who bought his wife a gold bed was ordered to pay the government $720,000.

Farmer's Share Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Food price increases reported recently have generally been passed on to farmers instead of swelling operating margins for middlemen, an Agriculture Department report indicated today.

The department said farmers got an average of 40 cents out of each dollar consumers spent on farm-produced foods in the first quarter of 1969. This was 1 cent above the farm share a year earlier, and 2 cents higher than the estimate for the last three months of 1968.

Blaiberg Exhausted

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Philip Blaiberg, 59, the world's longest surviving heart transplant recipient, was ordered to bed today for a week because doctors believe he has exhausted himself.

His wife, Eileen, said she called the doctor in charge of her husband's postoperative care to the apartment early today when Blaiberg appeared short of breath.

"There is nothing wrong with him," she said, adding his confinement was not due to any rejection symptoms in the heart Dr. Christiaan N. Barnard implanted in his chest at Groote Schuur Hospital Jan. 2, 1968.

Red General Dies

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Defense Ministry today announced the death of another general, the 12th in three weeks. He was Lt. Gen. Nikolai Silayev, 58, and the announcement said he died after an "extended illness."

While some diplomats have called the series of deaths "intriguing," most sources discount the possibility that some disaster caused them. Because of their enlargement during World War II, the Soviet armed forces have thousands of high-ranking officers in the upper age brackets, and most westerners believe the series of deaths to be a coincidence.

Surgery Lauded

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Astronaut Alan B. Shepard's ear surgery probably means that he will be less vulnerable to dizziness in space than astronauts who never had a problem with their balance mechanism, says his doctor.

"I would have no qualms medically about his going to the moon," Dr. Charles A. Berry told newsmen before addressing the Los Angeles County Heart Association yesterday.

Meredith Accused

NEW YORK (AP) — A court has issued a summons for James Meredith, a Negro whose enrollment at the University of Mississippi led to rioting in 1962, on a charge of harassing tenants in his Bronx apartment building.

A tenant complained yesterday that Meredith, demanding higher rents in the 35-family building, cut off the hot water and elevator service.

No date was set for a hearing on the summons.

Red Coup Hinted

HONG KONG (AP — An underground radio station in Communist China is accusing Defense Minister Lin Piao of seizing power for the army in a coup d'etat against Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-tung, a group of Chinese seamen reported today on their return here from North China.

The station, located somewhere near the small city of Yent'ai on the Shantung coast, has been broadcasting appeals to the navy and air force to "rescue Chairman Mao from the arch plotter Lin Piao, wrest back political power from the army, and save the nation," the seamen said.

Drug Arrests Up

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Juvenile drug arrests in California more than doubled in 1968, according to the state Bureau of Criminal Statistics.

Spokesmen said yesterday juvenile arrests last year totalled 29,947 compared to 13,911 in 1967 — an increase of 115.3 per cent.

During the same time adult drug arrests showed a 65 per cent increase.

Report On Alcoholics Due Advisory Board

A report on a study of alcoholics will be presented to that Marin Mental Health Advisory Board at 8 p.m. May 21 at the Coral Room, Marin General Hospital.

Board members also will hear a report on the mental retardation program under community mental health services.

Panel Seeking To Curb Noise

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It soon may be a misdemeanor in San Francisco to play a radio, television set, phonograph, juke box or sound amplifying equipment that is loud enough to "disturb the peace, quiet and comfort of persons in the neighborhood.

The board of supervisors gave initial approval to such a bill yesterday and it will become law after a second vote and the mayor's signature.

Noise is a violation if it is audible 50 feet away from its source between 10 p.m. and 7 a.m., the bill says.

FIERY CRASH KILLS FIVE

Black smoke billows from a downtown intersection in Flint, Mich., where five persons died when a gasoline transport truck collided with a car. The truck carried 11,000 gallons of gasoline, part of which ignited after spilling into the street in the collision yesterday. Five business places were also extensively damaged in the gasoline-fed blaze.

Pompidou, Poher Are French Front Runners

Both men are middle-of-the-roaders in the French political spectrum.

The other major candidates in the June 1 election all come from the divided left, and the split presumably means none can get into the June 15 runoff. They are Jacques Duclos of the Communist Party; Michael Rocard of the far-left Progressive Socialist Party; Alain Krivine, a Trotskyite, and Gaston Deferre of the Socialists.

Any candidate who manages to get 100 signatures of elected office holders on a petition by midnight also will be on the ballot. One such hopefully is Nelly Bonart-Pontary, a 40-year-old woman lawyer and mother who said she did not expect to win but wanted to run to make the nation's women "aware of their own strength."

Highway 80 Detour Work May Require Two Weeks

RICHMOND (AP) — Emergency construction of a detour around a massive cave-in on Interstate 80 west of Pinole is under way today but Division of Highways officials say it will be nearly two weeks before a six-lane detour can be constructed.

Only one lane remained of the six-lane freeway after rain-eroded fill began breaking away Sunday.

Yesterday's morning traffic backup of more than 20 miles lessened during the evening rush as motorists became aware of alternate routes.

The remaining lane carried some northbound traffic while other traffic was diverted to nearby roads.

Unusually heavy spring rains which washed away fill dirt under the freeway were blamed by the Division of Highways for the massive collapse.

Cracks in the road began to show Thursday but didn't appear dangerous until Sunday, when an 18-inch crack developed in a southbound lane. One by one, lanes were shut down as the original crack developed into a gaping hole 50 feet deep and 70 feet across in some places along the 600-foot slide.

A 12-inch gasoline pipeline in the hole ruptured, Sunday spilling high-octane aviation fuel into the storm sewers of the Tara Hills section of E. Sobrante. Local fire trucks flooded sewers to wash away the highly volatile liquid.

Dozens of workmen from the Gordon Bell Construction Co., are in service moving the estimated 100,000 cubic yards of fill for the detour. Estimated cost for the emergency project is $360,000.

There was no immediate estimate of the cost of repairing the original roadway.

Meanwhile, a Division of Highways spokesman said no attempt is being made to prevent the cave-in from growing bigger, perhaps even taking away the remaining lane.

"If it goes, it's going to have to go," the spokesman said.

Volpe Ready To Push His Transit Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The blueprint for a multibillion dollar attack on mass transit problems Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe is expected to send to the White House in two weeks is certain to stir strong debate within the administration.

One issue will involve the financing Volpe has indicated he will use for the program. Another problem could arise because the plan is expected to lack specific proposals for action.

But, Volpe says, "I'm a fighter and I expect to see this through.

Volpe admits his researchers have not been able to come up with a cheap, practical way to move masses of people into, out of and around the nation's cities.

But a Volpe aide says this doesn't mean there is any doubt about the need for money.

The financing is expected to involve a trust fund concept used in the federal highway construction program and advocated by Volpe in a recently proposed airport construction bill.

Opposition to this financing by some administration economists has resulted in the temporary halt to the airport bill.

Nixon Buys California White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon has closed the deal for a $340,000 summer White House in his native California on a bluff commanding a view of the Pacific Ocean.

In making the announcement yesterday, White House aides also listed the President's net worth at $596,900. This includes his interests in his homes and property in Florida, the old Nixon family house in Whittier, and proceeds from the sales of his New York apartment and shares in a Florida land company.

$100.000 DOWN

Nixon is paying $100,000 down on the California property and the rest over five years at 7.5 per cent interest.

The California house at San Clemente is 50 miles south of Los Angeles and was bought from Mrs. Henry Hamilton Cotton, the 90-year-old widow of a wealthy oil and real estate dealer.

An aide said the President has in mind some repairs and a new paint job for the 45-year-old, 10-room white stucco home with a red tile roof. A tennis court, described as "having seen better days," may be restored, and the President is thinking about building a swimming pool.

BEACH FRONT

There is a stretch of beach for walks in the California sun. Several wealthy neighbors are seeking to have the Sante Fe Railroad tracks by the beach removed, but Nixon is said to think the train traffic will be "charming."

Nixon bought five acres of a $1.4 million, 20-acre estate. A spokesman said the balance of the land will be held in trust until a "compatible buyer" is found.

Nixon sold his 10-room cooperative apartment in New York City for $326,000. He bought it for $166,860 and had put some $95,000 into improvements.

The purchasers of the apartment were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Lehrman. He is president of Rite Aid Corp., a wholesale food and drug company in Harrisburg, Pa.

SELLS SHARES

The White House said Nixon has sold 185,891 shares of common stock in Fisher's Island Inc., a firm which owns an unimproved island in Biscayne Bay near Miami. At $2 a share the sale amounted to $371,782, "a substantial profit," an aide said. This holding could have been a conflict of interest "way down the line," he added.

White House Seeking Job Corps Showdown?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House apparently is seeking a Senate showdown on the battle over President Richard M. Nixon's order closing 59 Job Corps centers and is looking to Dixie Democrats for the balance of power.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., says he understands the White House wants him to withdraw his counter-resolution that could blunt a move by Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., asking delay on the closings.

"I have heard indirectly that they'd like me not to press it (his resolution) and have a straight confrontation on the issue," Javits told a reporter. "I understood their disposition was to let this be voted up or voted down."

Javits said, however, he is not planning to withdraw his resolution.

Yesterday's opening debate was strictly party-line with only Democrats speaking for the Cranston measure and only Republicans speaking against it.

Asked last night if Cranston's measure would carry on an immediate vote of the Senate's 57 Democrats and4 3 Republicans, Javits said: "It looks that way. I would say that'll depend on whether we can unravel things tomorrow."

He indicated he would spend today looking to dent the Democratic solidarity and pick up support from among 16 Dixie Democrats.

Nixon's move would cut the 35,000-member Job Corps nearly in half saving an estimated $100 million a year.

Cranston's resolution would ask, but not bind, the administration to delay the closings now due by July 1 until Congress can study the program and alternatives.

Javits' proposal would put the Senate on record in favor of Nixon's position, which includes the promise of another training opportunity for every enrollee and an increase in the number of youths involved.

June Hearing Set

A preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court has been set for June 12 for Robert D. McKendrick, 35, of Inverness, who is accused of marijuana possession March 30.

Petaluma's Mayor, Youth Spar On Plans

The Petaluma City Council — facing the usual "communication gap" — last night heard young people ask the city to serve as the center of planning for the many youth groups developing new activities for teen-agers.

With many youngsters attending the study session, some council members felt the teen-agers were impudent and irreverent at times in demanding that a city program be planned.

"There will be a long, hot, dull summer coming up, if the city doesn't do something soon," a young spokesman warned the council.

Mayor Helen Putnam at first tried to stifle the participation of the young people, saying that all segments of the teen community were not represented. "We want to be fair to everyone, so we'll set aside a time to hear everybody who wants to be heard," she said, suggesting the study session was meant for the councilmen to exchange views and not for the young people to offer opinions.

On the prodding of Vice Mayor Kenneth J. Colin and several adults in the audience, the young people were allowed to speak. Referring to the roost dances sponsored by the city recreation department, and the "Square Balloon," a private teen club, the youngsters said that false rumors among adults had killed the activities.

"The word spread falsely that kids were getting drunk and stoned there, so the parents refused to allow their teen-agers to attend," a young man said.

Councilman Robert S. Lipman, who had called for the youth session, said that many adult groups and teen-agers were meeting on the problems and that it should be the council's role to draw them all together and determine what resources the city can make available.

"We've been talking for so long, now it's time to start doing something," he said. "The problems will only increase."

After the meeting, Lipman said he would offer a resolution at the meeting next Monday to set up a youth study meeting to chart a course of action. "We've got to start trusting each other," Lipman said, referring to the generation gap.

Councilman Phillip L. Joerger said he felt the young people had unfairly charged that the city wasn't doing anything for their benefit.

Mayor Putnam said she felt the city had already taken the first step and said she had been meeting with student representatives from the schools along with school administrators, the recreation director and the chief of police to plan activities.

Although the young people wanted the meeting to continue so they might be heard at length, Mrs. Putnam gaveled the session to a close. When the teen-agers shouted "Why?" she replied, "because that's the prerogative of the mayor."

The Petaluma City Council Also:

CAR BID — Awarded a contract for the purchase of a compact pool car to Western Motors with the low bid of $1,726.

SIGN — Granted a variance to Denny's restaurant, 4986 Redwood Highway North, to construct a 50-foot freestanding sign, 20 feet higher than the usual city limit. The council agreed the sign should be higher since the restaurant must attract freeway traffic.

SERVICE STATIONS — Adopted an ordinance regulating the proximity of service stations and placed a 30-day moratorium on service station applications so the rulings may take effect. Stations will now be confined to two per intersection and the others must be 500 feet apart. They must also be 350 feet away from a school, park, playground or other place of public gathering.

COMMITTEE — Appointed Councilman David W. Brainerd to the advisory committee of the Petaluma Board of Education studying the proposed educational park plan.

AMBULANCE — Amended the boundaries of the ambulance district to withdraw the town of Marshall, which would rather be served by the Point Reyes ambulance service.

SHOEMAKER — Directed that a resolution be prepared showing appreciation for the 15 years of service by County Supervisor Leigh S. Shoemaker of Petaluma, who recently resigned due to ill health.

Dinner To Honor Past Presidents

The Marin County Peace Officers Association will honor its past presidents at a dinner this evening at the Wiltshire Towers Motel in San Rafael.

Host will be Albert E. Bagshaw, who was first president of the association on its organization in 1940. Co-host will be Donald T. Wood, who was the first secretary-treasurer. Bagshaw is a former district attorney and San Rafael city attorney; Wood, former San Anselmo police chief.

All past presidents will be presented life membership in the association, said Undersheriff Sidney Stinson, the current president.

Second Trial Set After Hung Jury

A second trial was set yesterday for the week of Sept. 2 for Ronald T. Faircloth, 24, of Kentfield, who is accused of two counts of selling marijuana to a narcotics agent.

Faircloth was convicted last week of possession of marijuana but a Marin Superior Court jury was hung on whether he was guilty of the selling charges.

He is due to be sentenced June 3 by Judge E. Warren McGuire on the possession conviction.

Supervisors Delay Point Reyes Action

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Sonoma County supervisors yesterday deferred action on a request to support a bill in the House of Representatives to appropriate $38,150,000 to complete acquisition of the Point Reyes National Seashore.

The bill, jointly sponsored by Reps. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, and William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, is the subject of a House hearing opening today in Washington, D.C.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors, spearheading a drive in support of the bill, has sent a three-man delegation to back the congressmen. In Washington are Marin's county counsel, Douglas J. Malone, Supervisor Louis H. Baar and West Marin rancher Boyd Stewart.

Raynon E. Paschke, Clausen's district representative, asked the Sonoma supervisors to approve a resolution supporting the appropriation and to send it to Washington in the next 10 days.

Paschke referred to the park as "the jewel in the crown of the National Park System," and said the added authorization would relieve the property owners of the uncertainty of the future use of the land.

Several large landowners, under the heavy burden of increasing taxes, have said they plan to sell the land to subdividers if the government doesn't make the purchase, and one has reluctantly begun subdividing.

Supervisors said they would consider a supporting resolution today.

September Trial For Hub Trio

A jury trial yesterday was set for the week of Sept. 2 in Marin Superior Court for three of the four young people arrested Nov. 15 in a San Anselmo house which officers said hald a laboratory capable of producing LSD.

Andrew Samuel Perri, 19, yesterday pleaded innocent to offering to sell LSD, and Hamilton B. Henry, 21, denied possessing LSD and marijuana for sale. Mary T. Rosenbaum, 20, pleaded innocent to possessing LSD.

Judge Harold J. Haley yesterday denied a motion to dismiss the indictment against the four because of illegal entry.

Tune-Up Session Set For Devils

Marinwood Water Devils will conduct a tune-up swimming session Saturday at 9:30 a.m. at the Marinwood pool, recreation director William A. Gordon announced last night at a meeting of the Marinwood Parks and Recreation Commission.

Jerry C. Leith, president of the Marinwood Homeowners Association, reported his organization is working on a summer activity program for youths between 12 and 16.

Gordon announced the summer recreation program will begin June 16. Among activities planned are day camps, tennis instruction, horseback riding, roller skating, sewing, folk guitar instruction, two-day campouts, ice skating, San Francisco Giants games, bike hikes, fishing, arts and crafts, Ice Follies, archery, nature hikes, tumbling, judo, and senior citizens activities.

Fairfax Drops Business Fee For Festival Booths

Fairfax Festival participants will not have to pay a business license fee for the one or two days they are in the city, the city council agreed last night. The festival is set for Sept. 20-21. (Another Fairfax City Council story, page 1.)

The festival committee had asked for a waiver of the license fee because, according to Chairman Charles J. Vergara, "if it is imposed the festival would be priced out of business."

City Atty. Wallace S. Myers told the council it has been held that a one-shot operation is not "engaging in the transaction of business" as defined in the ordinance.

The council agreed to hold until budget time a request from the festival committee for a $500 donation. Last year, the council gave $350.

Vergara pointed out the festival draws 15,000 to 20,000 persons to the city and predicted it would begin showing a substantial profit soon. Fairfax has had three festivals so far and last year was the only time a profit was realized.

The Fairfax City Council Also:

DOG CONTROL Agreed unanimously to adopt the proposed revisions to the county's dog control law subject to a joint powers agreement with the county.

BUSINESS HEALTH — Agreed to dig out all plans for the parkade and have them on display at a meeting so the council members can look at it all at once. Doing something with the parkade was one of the suggestions of the business health division of the Congress for Community Progress.

SENIOR CITIZEN — Named Mrs. Leah Jarrett as the outstanding senior citizen of Fairfax.

MEMORIAL DAY — Learned the Senior Citizen Organization will conduct a memorial day service at 1:30 p.m. May 30 in the Honor Grove at Memorial Park.

SEVEN ELEVEN — Denied a request for a special use permit to build a 7-11 store at 161 Bolinas Road when the applicant, David S. Smith, asked for his fourth postponement. The council stipulated he could reapply when he is ready to appear.

TENNIS — Learned the new lights have been installed at the tennis courts next to the Women's Club.

BAY — Agreed to support county efforts to preserve the bay shoreline.

HOUSING CODE — Delayed for a month adding the housing code to the city's ordinances to give council members a chance to read it. Councilman Adelaide P. Wilson reported much of it is like the building code but also pertains to occupancy.

COMMITTEES — Received appointments to committees for the coming year, with each councilman assigned to a city department to act as liason. Mrs. Wilson thought those assignments should be eliminated now that Fairfax has a city administrator but got no support.

DEBRIS — Learned the annual spring debris pickup would be held next week and eight debris boxes will be loaded up at city expense provided the firm has an attendant on duty and only residents of Fairfax are permited to use the boxes.

APPOINTMENT — Approved the appointment of Joanne Walla to represent Fairfax at Marin County Human Rights Commission meetings.

FLOOD CONTROL — Heard Councilman Frank J. Egger request all the background on Fairfax participation in the Corte Madera Food Control District.

FORREST AVENUE — Delayed discussion on an engineering report on the slide on Forrest Avenue to an adjourned meeting at 8 p.m. May 26 at the Women's Club.

County Contends Coroner Danced Over RFK Death

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The county of Los Angeles claims coroner Thomas T. Noguchi danced in his office and expressed hope Sen. Robert F. Kennedy would die from an assassin's bullet so he could perform the autopsy and gain an international reputation.

Another time, claims the county, Noguchi, 42, did another dance while saying, "Isn't it nice ... isn't it nice?" after the second of two helicopters crashed with heavy loss of life.

Noguchi is contesting before the county Civil Service Commission his dismissal last March 18. He was fired by the board of supervisors after the county chief's administrative officer, L. S. Hollinger, filed a lengthy report accusing Noguchi of taking drugs, exhibiting symptoms that indicate a need for psychiatric care and bullying employees.

No Pay Hike For Teachers In Lagunitas

Contracts based on the present salary schedule will be offered to teachers in the Lagunitas School District, the board decided last night, turning down a 4 per cent salary scale increase requested by teachers.

Supt. Marshall J. McCunniff said the board's action was with the understanding that if additional funds become available the contracts will be revised.

McCunniff said teachers at the meeting last night seemed to understand what the board is facing and said he does not expect any mass resignations.

The board did approve financing dental insurance for teachers at a cost to the district of $2,400 a year, he said.

The Lagunitas School District board also:

MUSIC — Asked McCunniff to investigate costs of instituting a music program in the district after receiving a letter from the Parent-Teacher Association asking the board to consider adding such a program.

TRANSPORTATION — Agreed to seek bids on maintenance of buses in connection with a study on transportation policies.

CULTURAL CENTER — Approved an agreement with Jean Berensmeier to use the old school building for a cultural arts education program for children of the district.

$600 Theft Listed

Burglars took $300 in silver coins, a portable radio- tape recorder and portable television set, valued at $300, from the residence of Daniel Kerridge, 28 Gomez Way, Mill Valley, between 7 a.m. and 4 p.m. yesterday, police reported.

Westshore Plan Wins Commission Approval

The Corte Madera Planning Commission last night recommended approval of the Westshore Plan, a proposed planned development of the Domenic Muzzi property on San Francisco Bay.

In doing so, the commission also recommended to the town council a policy statement in which these two conditions were stressed:

Waterfront residences must be provided with useable water access via a channel with a bottom elevation of minus five feet mean low lower water to deep water through a dredging project. This is to assure provision of a marina which may be combined with an assessment district for dredging San Clemente Creek.

Pedestrain and emergency vehicle access shall be provided on Harbor Drive and public vehicular and pedestrian access to the east shoreline shall be provided.

The commission approved a proposed 72,000-square-foot addition to H. Koch and Sons, 15 Koch Road, secretary Betty Long reported.

Approval was on condition that the company remove two existing billboards on the site and that a plan be presented to conceal open storage of materials or the materials be removed.

Two Face Trial In Burglary

A jury trial has been set for the week of June 9 in Marin Superior Court for two men accused of burglarizing Braverman's Furniture Store in San Anselmo on March 11.

The defendants are Howard Tennyson Payne, 48, of Oakland, and Phillip Martin Steward, 29, of no known address.

They were arrested on the roof of the store with what police call "very sophisticated" burglary tools in their possession.

Fairfax To Try Again On Loitering Control

trying to end?" O'Connell asked.

Shapiro indicated it was hippies and O'Connell countered with, "What's a hippie?" as the audience booed.

Shapiro contended the ordinance is "designed not to correct a problem that exists but a problem that you think exists." der a good citizenry ordinance

An unidentified man charged the ordinance is "social and political suppression cloaked under a good citizenry ordinance You're not fooling anybody," he said.

O'Connell, acting on Myers' suggestion for a committee, asked Mrs. Wilson to serve with him.

"I've been totally opposed to this right from the beginning," she said amid applause.

Councilman Cornelis Van Vliet suggested putting Councilman Frank J. Egger on the committee because "it was his idea in the first place." (Some time ago Egger asked for a copy of the Carmel ordinance.)

Egger said the Carmel ordinance appears to be unenforceable. "I am against it," he said and moved that the council drop "this particular ordinance," and the audience clapped vigorously.

Councilman Robert R. Souza volunteered to be on the committee, commenting, "The council can't be responsible to 125 people." O'Connell accepted, and the two-man committee was created.

Egger's motion failed 3-2 with him and Mrs. Wilson on the losing end, and O'Connell asked that the next item be considered.

But the audience wasn't finished. George R. Weddleton Jr. of 18 Kent Avenue shouted that he wanted to be heard and O'Connell reluctantly gave him three minutes.

Weddleton, who attends almost every council meeting, angrily told O'Connell he would take longer than three minutes if he chose and the mayor ordered Police Chief James R. Orr to remove him

Meanwhile, Lois Williams, a 31-year resident of Fairfax sobbed, "Listen to us. We are the people."

She asked the council what would happen if this kind of an ordinance were passed and related a Sunday incident in which her 10-year-old son, caught smoking a cigarette, was dragged off to the police station and held for 20 minutes even though what he was doing was not illegal.

She warned "these jolly good citizens" will be dragging people off under this new ordinance.

As other members of the audience indicated they still wanted a chance to speak, Souza suggested giving them 15 more minutes. O'Connell agreed and asked them to keep their comments to three minutes.

Fink accused the council of "waiting until a different time when there aren't so many people there," while James Hanson pointed out Fairfax has no recreation such as dances and now "you're taking away the places we have to go."

At that point Chief Orr returned and conferred in whispers with O'Connell, apparently on the disposition of Weddleton, while the audience shouted, "Speak into the microphone" and "It's a public meeting."

O'Connell told the group he had asked that Weddleton not be arrested and that he could come back to the meeting if he behaved.

An unidentified member of the audience suggested scrapping the ordinance under consideration and if three members of the council want to wrote another, go ahead.

"Okay, it's scrapped," said O'Connell and the audience complained that there was no vote. O'Connell moved as Egger had earlier to drop the ordinance and added a line providing for a new one.

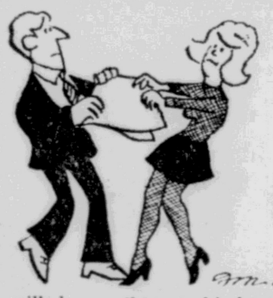
Four members voted yes and Souza passed until the vote was taken and then voted yes.

No members of the audience favored the ordinance.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Deed Violates Trust Of Wife



Pete and Joan, husband and wife, owned a ranch in joint tenancy. In his later years when Pete was failing in health, Joan did her best to comfort and nurse him.

Before he died, Pete got Joan to sign a quit-claim deed to transfer to him any interest in property she owned. Joan signed the deed when he told her that it would not take away her part of their jointly owned ranch.

After Pete died, Joan found out that the deed had transferred her right to get the whole ranch at his death. Pete had willed everything to his brother.

Joan asked the court to nullify the deed, and the court did so.

The quit-claim deed was invalid. Pete had obtained it by violating his wife's trust in him. Under the law he could not take advantage of her.

The ranch again became a joint tenancy, and the survivor, in this case Joan, got all of it.

A large amount of property owned by husband and wife is held in joint tenancy. When one of them dies the other gets the property automatically. Neither spouse can will away his half interest to children or anybody. A will has no effect on joint tenancies, except in very special circumstances.

One joint tenant, while alive, however, could on his own without telling his wife destroy the effect of the joint tenancy. He could break the joint tenancy merely by transferring his interest in it to someone else and have him transfer it right back. Or a creditor could force a sale, let us say, of the husband's interest and thus break the joint tenancy.

When a lawyer is discussing their estates with husband and wife, to prepare wills for them, he may have to ask them to change the joint tenancy property to some other form of holding title, to permit them to will their interests to others, or for tax reasons.

A court reviews all transactions between husband and wife carefully for fairness. Neither can legally take advantage of the trust the other has a right to impose — or treat the other as a stranger in property dealings.

BURNS

Nixon and other Republicans in the last election.

Way told newsmen he would make no major changes "at this time." He said there would be "no drastic changes in committee assignments."

Burns, the most powerful senator since his election in 1957, said, "I don't think the Republican party gained a great deal."

But after weeks of campaigning by Way, Burns, for the first time, recognized today that his opponents had made headway.

In a voice quavering with emotion, he rose on the Senate floor and announced he wanted all 40 senators in a closed caucus in an upstairs committee room.

Decrying the battling, he denounced the "disturbances and machinations" of his opponents.

"I cannot ask the Senate to continue in session with all these disturbances connected to the subject continuing on and off the floor."

After he and his colleagues left the ornate, Victorian-era Senate chamber, he called for a ballot on whether they thought he should continue on the job.

He lost that vote 21-19 and then the same majority elected Way.

Opposing Way was Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, a close friend of Burns.

The action will have to be formally ratified at a Senate session tomorrow.

Way's move came without support from Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan, who had repeatedly said Burns had the votes to win.

Indictments Handed Out For Rioting

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Twenty Brooklyn College students have been indicted as a result of campus disorders during the past two weeks, it was announced today.

Indictments returned by a Brooklyn grand jury allege arson and vandalism. Asst. Dist. Atty. Gen. Eugene Gold said 17 students have been arrested and three were being sought. He said all 20 are Negro or Puerto Rican, including three women.

Also at Ithica, N.Y., today the Tompkins County Grand Jury, which has been investigating the April 19 takeover of a Cornell University building by black militants who emerged with guns, returned 21 sealed indictments.

Rist. Atty. Matthew J. McHugh declined to specify that the indictments involved the takeover of Willard Straight Hall, the campus union center by 100 blacks.

In fact, there were indications most of the indictments would not concern Cornell and that most or all charges brought in connection with the seizure would be misdemeanors not contained in indictments. The misdemeanor charges appeared likely to be criminal trespassing, and the defendants would appear in city court.

Meanwhile in Stony Brook, N.Y., police with warrants for 19 State University students for selling marijuana and hashish swooped down on dormitories early this morning, arresting 14 which set off three hours of campus rioting.

More than 200 windows were smashed in campus buildings, two automobiles burned and others damaged, and a number of small fires set, including one which burned down a gatehouse.

Damage was estimated at about $10,000. Four persons were treated for minor injuries.

About 200 students were involved in the rioting, apparently set off by the presence of police on the campus where an unannounced police drug raid more than a year ago is still a subject of controversy.

The Long Island campus, about 50 miles from New York, has 5,600 students.

One source said the narcotics squad of Suffolk County police notified campus security officials last week of the impending raid. But another source said that Stony Brook's president, Dr. John S. Toll, was told of police plans only minutes before the raid occurred.

As a result of the drug raid last year, 46 persons were arrested on narcotics charges, including 20 students. The raid, made without notifying school officials, touched off a furor among students and faculty.

Classes and scheduled preregistration were reported virtually normal later this morning, as Toll appealed in a statement distributed around the campus for calm and normalcy.

On another scene an integrated group of students at Union Theological Seminary in New York hald a day-long sit-in to support black militants' demands for $500 million in reparations for racial injustice, while more than 100 students at Mariette College in Ohio entered the fourth day of a hunger strike.

About 100 seminarians moved out of Union's administration building after 23 hours, when school officials agreed to convene a meeting of the board of directors yesterday to hear student demands.

The students for the Protestant ministry seek $100,000 from the seminary and $1 million to be raised privately by the directors for the reparations campaign against religious institutions, led by the National Black Economic Development Conference.

The students moved to the chapel and pledged to remain there until their demands were met.

Marietta has about 1,800 students.

At the City College of New York, Dr. Joseph J. Copeland ender his first day yesterday as president of the 20-000-student school with a promise to try and re-open negotiations with black and Puerto Rican students who seek a separate school of black studies and enrollment of more minority group students.

Kiesinger Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced Tuesday West German Chancellor Kurt Kiesinger will make an official visit to Washington July 22-23. President Nixon had invited Kiesinger to come to the United States.

DRAFT

year and leave it during his 20th year.

Undergraduate students would continue to be deferred and their year of maximum vulnerability would begin with the expiration of the deferment.

Graduate students would be allowed to complete the full academic year during which they were ordered up for induction, rather than just one term.

The National Security Council and the Selective Service director are being directed to review the whole policy of deferments and exemptions and give the President their findings and recommendations.

Nixon said the random draft plan would be established nationally but be applied locally by each draft board to meet its local quota.

Summing up, Nixon told Congress:

"I believe these reforms are essential. I hope they can be implemented quickly."

The President had gone over high points of his message with Republican congressional leaders earlier in the day. One of them, House Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, said he thought the prospects of congressional approval were good.

The President said that ultimately the draft should be abolished. Only in 1948, he said, did a peacetime draft become a relatively permanent fact of life for the nation, and now a full generation has grown up under a system of compulsory military service.

"I am hopeful," he said, "that we can soon restore the principle of no draft in peacetime. But until we do, let us be sure that the operation of the Selective Service System is as equitable and as reasonable as we can make it."

Nixon set out the mechanics of his draft plan in considerable detail.

He said the government plans to designate a "prime age group" every year. This would provide a different pool of persons eligible for the draft for each consecutive 12-month period. This period would be called a Selective Service year, since it would not necessarily start Jan. 1.

The prime age group for any Selective Service year would be made up of those who are 19 at the start of the year. Young men with deferments or exemptions would rejoin this group upon expiration of deferments or exemptions.

In the first year of operation nobody would escape vulnerability to the draft merely because of a change from one system to another. This would be assured by a system under which all eligible men from 19 to 26 who are not deferred or exempt would go into the prime age group.

Each individual would have maximum vulnerability to the draft only in the year he is in the prime group. After that, normally during his 20th year, he would move down progressively to less vulnerable categories while an entirely new set of young men would be coming up into the new prime age group.

Nixon said this would mean a young man would receive an earlier, more decisive answer to his question of where he stands with the draft and thus could plan his life accordingly.

this, saying the bombing halt was unconditional.

Farther south along the Laotian border near the A Shau Valley, other North Vietnamese troops made a heavy attack on American paratroopers trying to choke off infiltration routes into South Vietnam. Twenty American paratroopers were killed, 65 were wounded, and their artillery base sustained "light to moderate" damage, U.S. headquarters said. Twenty North Vietnamese troops were reported killed.

In another fight in the northern provinces, North Vietnamese troops ambushed a U.S. Marine force about 20 miles southwest of Da Nang, killing 10 Marines and wounding 12. Four enemy bodies were found. The fighting was at such close quarters that the Marines were unable to call in bombers of artillery.

Otepka Gets Panel Nod To Loyalty Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee approved, 10-3, today President Richard M. Nixon's nomination of Otto F. Otepka to be a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., one of the three to vote against recommending confirmation, said he will oppose the nomination when it is brought up in the Senate.

"I don't think there is room on the SACB for a member whose basis of strength and support is the John Birch Society and the Liberty Lobby," Kennedy told reporters after a closed meeting of the committee at which he questioned Otepka.

DENIES LINKS

In a statement the committee made public yesterday, Otepka said he does not have and has not had any "connections with the John Birch Society, or the Liberty Lobby, or Mr. Willis Carto, or with any other person or organizations known to him to be actively associated with any of the above three."

The Washington Evening Star said today two organizations that contributed more than $23,500 to fight Otepka's dismissal as the State Department's chief security evaluator have clearly defined ties with numerous right-wing groups including the John Birch Society.

The Star, in a story prepared for today's editions, said the principal fund-raising organization for Otepka also urged its supporters to subscribe to right-wing publications and was founded by a man who addressed a Birch Society rally last year.

The Star also said a $2,500 donation was made by another organization whose leaders have appeared at Birch Society functions, contributed to society publications and actively sought funds for the society.

PANEL AIRING

Questions about Otepka's "connections and finances" were raised last week by four members of a committee considering his appointment by Nixon to the $36,000-a-year job.

Sens. Kennedy, D-Mass.; Philip A. Hart, D-Mich.; Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., and Quentin N. Burdick, D-N.D., submitted the questions, including one asking specifically about Carto, a leader of the Liberty Lobby.

The memorandum responding to the questions was delivered yesterday to committee Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss. by J. G. Sourwine, counsel of the internal security subcommittee.

Otepka was ordered dismissed in 1963 from his State Department post after his superiors accused him of unauthorized disclosure of personnel files to the subcommittee, a unit of the Judiciary Committee.

The subcommittee, which had received testimony from Otepka about lax department security practices, strongly protested. In 1967, after reviewing the case, then-Secretary of State Dean Rusk changed the dismissal order to demotion, transfer and reprimand.

Apollo 10 Crew Is Fit For Sunday Blastoff

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Doctors today pronounced the Apollo 10 astronauts physically fit to fly around the moon next week.

Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Cmdrs. John W. Young and Eugene A. Cernan underwent a rigorous four-hour examination as the countdown proceeded smoothly toward a Sunday launching. Apollo 10 is to pave the way for a moon landing by two Apollo 11 astronauts in July.

ly all of BCDC's regulatory powers and made it only an advisory body. The legislation also would have allowed residential development on bay fill and given public navigation and fishing easements to bay fillers free.

McCarthy said he would seek to amend the Dolwig Bill in the Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee today to provide for more elected officials to serve on BCDC and to assure "just compensation" for shoreline areas taken by public agencies. The bill was to be heard by the committee — to which McCarthy and Dolwig belong — late today.

McCarthy said Dolwig did not object to these changes or even to calling the legislation the Dolwig-McCarthy Act.

In related developments yesterday, 15 Bay Area assemblyman announced their support of any strong save-the-bay bill; Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, author of a bill similar to Dolwig's, said he was still studying the Dolwig measure for possible loopholes, and the Sierra Club charged the Reagan administration with underestimating public feeling that BCDC should not only be continued, but strengthened.

The 15 lawmakers, including Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, urged speedy passage through the Assembly of the Knox bill, which cleared the Committee on Local Government of the lower house last week. It has the wide support of conservationists.

While there may be loopholes in the Dolwig Bill, Knox said, he declared that he will support it if it turns out to be the strongest bay measure. "If it is known as the Dolwig Save-the-Bay Act, that's all right with me," Knox added.

to be general agreement on areas for needed relief.

Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post suggested studying the possibility of reducing the oil depletion allowance as a new revenue source.

A tax package by Democratic Assemblymen John Dunlap of Napa and Alan Sieroty of Beverly Hills favors such a reduction and an oil severance tax.

But Bagley said he didn't think a reduction in the depletion allowance would be included in the package either. "You would conjure the wrath of the oil industry — and also 20 or 30 no votes."

With the exception of the governor's plan, Bagley said, all of the tax packages favor mandatory withholding of state income tax.

Race Riot Hits Malaysian City

KUALA LUMPUR (UPI) — Gangs of Malays and Chinese fought in the streets of Kuala Lumpur today in an outburst of racial violence. The government imposed a 24-hour curfew. Early reports said that at least 14 persons were killed in the first three hours of fighting and that clashes were continuing.

Police were reporting firing into the rioters.

Tax Refund Measure Approved By Senate

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The Senate today voted 35-2 to extend the time for an estimated 300,000 tardy property taxpayers to file for a tax refund.

The measure by Assemblyman George Milias, R-Gilroy, extends until May 23 the time for homeowners to apply for a $70 property tax rebate. It returns to the lower house for concurrence in amendments.

Middle School Hours Voted In Mill Valley

A revised schedule for the Edna Maguire middle school was approved last night by the Mill Valley School District board, according to Supt. James A. Collins.

The new schedule, as outlined by Dr. Glenn Skelton, middle school director, will establish two 140-minute and one 70-minute time blocks for subject study.

One block of 140 minutes will be devoted to English and history, the second 140 minutes to math and science and the final 70 minutes to arts and crafts alternating with physical education, Collins said.

Skelton told the board that the studying other choices including school staff had recommended the simplified schedule after studying other choices including the standard seven or eight-period day and one which would use 20-minute modules of time for various subjects.

Mill Valley School District Board Also:

COMMENDATION — Received two letters commending Edna Maguire drama teacher George Muldoon for the performance of "Skin of Your Teeth" held last week at Park School.

OUTDOOR EDUCATION — Agreed to act as an agent for the Marin County Superintendent of Schools office in obtaining a $15,000 federal grant to establish an outdoor education program at the Audubon Canyon Ranch.

SIGN — Delayed approval of a permanent sign and placque for the new middle school until a name for the school has been chosen and asked district residents to suggest names.

ENGINEER — Asked the staff to provide cost estimates for a structural engineer to inspect district schools.

SAFETY — Asked the staff to prepare a report, aided by the Mill Valley Parent-Teacher Council and the California Highway Patrol, on the safety of school street crossings in the district.

INSTITUTE — Agreed to allow the Behavior Therapy Institute of Sausalito to use a portable classroom at Strawberry Point School from June 16 to Aug. 15 and asked staff to draft a policy for evaluating such requests in the future.

STUDENT TEACHERS — Approved a policy encouraging the district to participate in student teacher training programs.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted resignations from Mary M. Robison, Edna Maguire English-social studies teacher, who resigned to go into independent business; Kathleen Rossi, third grade teacher, Alto School, who is moving to Boston; and Michael D. Healy, educationally handicapped teacher at Strawberry Point School, who is accepting a post as consultant to the educationally handicapped program in Napa County.

CLOSED SESSION — Met in closed session to instruct Collins on negotiations with employee organizations.

Ehrlich Maps Court Plea Against Officer's Firing

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The attorney for a fired policeman said today he would appeal an order ousting Michael O'Brien from the force for the off-duty fatal shooting of a Negro truck driver.

The three-man police commission voted unanimously yesterday to fire O'Brien on grounds of "unofficerlike conduct" in the shooting last Sept. 30 in an alley near the Hall of Justice.

Attorney J. W. Ehrich said he would appeal the decision to superior court. He said a petition for a writ of mandamus seeking reinstatement of O'Brien would be filed within a week.

Ehrlich said the commissioners had made up their minds before reading the transcript of O'Brien's 10-week manslaughter trial. The 28-year-old officer was found innocent by a Municipal Court jury.

"Officer O'Brien is being sacrificed on the alter of political chicanery for a hoped-for batch of votes for this mayor," the attorney said. He charged the commission decision was politically motivated since the members were appointed by Mayor Joseph L. Alioto.

After two months of investigations and meetings, the police commission announced its decision to fire O'Brien.

The officer had been on suspension since the day George Baskett was shot and killed outside his Brush Place apartment. The shooting occurred when a car driven by a Negro brushed O'Brien's boat trailer.

One witness testified at O'Brien's trial that the policeman had been drinking wine that day during an outing on a Northern California lake before returning to San Francisco.

Dixie Schools Curriculum Post To Principal

Raymond Riley, principal of Miller Creek School, will suceed Dr. Penrod Moss as assistant superintendent of curriculum for the Dixie School District.

Riley was appointed last night at a closed meeting of the Dixie District Board of Trustees. Dr. Moss, who has been with the district for more than 10 years, resigned effective July 1 to become an associate professor at Dominguez State College in Los Angeles.

Salary for Riley was not set last night, Supt. Dennie B. Willis said the fixing of salary will probably await the setting of salaries for all teachers, now under negotiation.

The trustees received the resignation of reading specialist Paul Ricciardi, but no successor was named.

The trustees will continue discussion of teachers' salaries at the regular meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the district office, 35 Trellis Drive, Terra Linda.

Burglary Reported

An amplifier, guitar, clock, 25 rock and roll records, and stereo equipment were taken by burglars who broke into the home of Mike N. Morena at 1000 Butterfield Road, Sleepy Hollow on Sunday, sheriff's officers said today.

Phone Official Is Hospitalized

Ross W. Wright, general manager of Western California Telephone Co. which serves North Marin was reported in satisfactory condition in Novato General Hospital today after apparently suffering a heart attack yesterday.

Wright, 63, will be in the hospital's intensive care unit for at least the next six days, telephone company officials reported, and is under doctor's orders to receive no visitors or calls.

He collapsed while working in his office shortly before 3 p.m. officials said.

Wright and his wife live at 750 Kendon Lane in Novato.

WAYNE A. STEVENS
Killed in Vietnam

Ex-Redwood Student Dies In Vietnam

Pfc Wayne Alan Stevens, 20, former Redwood High School student, was killed May 1 during a small arms attack near An Hoa, Vietnam, the Independent-Journal learned today.

He had been in Vietnam since last August, serving with the First Marine Division.

Stevens, son of Mrs. and Mrs. Harold F. Stevens of College Park, Md., attended Redwood High School in Larkspur from 1963 to 1965. During that time he was a member of the marching and concert bands.

He was also a member of the Western Regional Band and played with the Marin County Symphony. Stevens was a a member of DeMolay in Larkspur.

He attended Pacific Music Camp at the University of the Pacific, Stockton, during the summers of 1965 and 1966. His favorite musical instrument was the trombone.

Stevens was a member of the California United Methodist Church, San Rafael.

He studied music at the University of Arkansas. He enlisted in the Marine Corps in Nov. 1967 and was trained at Camp Pendleton.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a brother, Roger, of College Park.

Funeral was to be held in College Park and burial in New Richmond, Ohio. The family requested that tributes be in contributions to the United Methodist Church, San Rafael.

Meeting Shifted

The Tamalpais High School District board will hold a special meeting at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, in the district office to discuss the 1969-70 budget. This meeting was originally set for 8 p.m.

Apartment Looted

A burglar stole a phonograph, turntable, television set, two watches and two bottles of cologne valued at a total of $200 from their apartment yesterday, Linda J. Corso and Kathy M. Melby of 25 Rodeo Avenue, Apt. 1, told Sausalito police.

Money Held For Loans To Students

The College of Marin Foundation board voted last night to set aside $4,700 as matching money for national student defense loans for the 1969-70 year, board president Aaron E. Rucker reported.

The board authorized that $500 be placed in the current emergency loan fund and said what is left over in the current fund drive, an estimated $6,000, will go into the general scholarship fund.

The spring fund drive took in $19,600 but the figure may be adjusted when the final tally is made, Rucker explained. The board voted to award scholarships at its annual meeting at 8 p.m. June 2 at the college.

It also confirmed the appointments of Philip Merriman and Bernard Kerns to serve on the board until June 1971.

San Rafael Pickup Stolen In Petaluma

Police said the truck owned by Hans Ster, 807 Vendola Drive, had been driven to the area by George Bushton, 527 Stone Drive, Novato. The 1957 green Chevrolet truck had several dents, police reported, and the license number of H94411.

Budgetary Problems Worry Kentfield District Trustees

Kentfield School District trustees discussed the 1969-70 preliminary budget last night and expressed concern that the budget shows no increases for teachers' salaries, no capital expenditures and a reduction in maintenance.

Supt. Anthony G. Bacich said that the estimated budget of $1,300,000 — a cut of $112,391 from the current budget — shows no capital expenditures, a sum which is usually $3,000 to $40,000. And, he added, the 12.9 per cent salary increase requested by teachers cannot be financed from the budget as it stands now.

The district has a predicted 1969-70 income of $1,236,554 plus a balance of $130,000 — or a total income of $1,366,554, Bachch reported. Expenditures for 1969-70, he said, are estimated at $1,300,000.

The board hopes to hold the present tax rate of $3.34 per $100 assessed valuation, Bacich said.

The Kentfield School District Board Also:

NONGRADED CLASSES — Heard recommendations for nongraded classes from second to sixth grades at Wolfe Grade School by a parent study group but took no action pending further study.

HEARING-HANDICAPPED — Approved a contract with Corlett and Spackman of San Francisco, district architects, for the proposed four classroom hearing-handicapped building to be built by the county on county land at Adaline E. Kent School.

RESIGNATION — Accepted resignation of Norma Hannah, district librarian for eight years, who is moving to San Diego.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE — Granted Bernice Winik, A. E. Kent Junior High School physical education teacher, a year's maternity leave and David Van Kriedt, district instrumental music teacher, to the end of the term, for personal reasons.

Marijuana Count Filed By Novato

Two 18-year-old San Rafael men were arrested by Novato police on suspicion of possession of marijuana for sale after they were stopped on a routine traffic matter last night, police said.

Booked into Marin County Jail and held in lieu of $625 bail each were Robert James Kirby of 105 Garden Avenue and Michael John Hunn of 235 Devon Drive. They were to appear for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Officer Ronald Green said he stopped the car because it did not have a license plate light and because it was weaving slightly. Approaching the car, he said he smelled burning marijuana and found a half kilo of marijuana under the front seat.

Scholarship To Petaluma Senior

Alfred L. Kuck, Petaluma Senior High School student, has been awarded the Don Ament Memorial Scholarship by the Sebastopol chapter of the Future Farmers of America.

Kuck, who was selected from 10 finalists, plans to use the grant in the fall to major in agricultural engineering at the University of California at Davis.

A two-year member of the Petaluma Chapter, Kuck serves as treasurer and has won awards in the dairy division of state competition. He also serves as a 4-H junior leader.

Kuck is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Kuck of 4770 Bodega Avenue, Petaluma.

The scholarship is awarded annually in the memory of Don Ament, a former member of the Sebastopol chapter who died in Vietnam.

Varied Loot Taken

Henry E. Ravetto of Mill Valley reported to the sheriff's department that burglars had entered his weekend home at Forest Knolls Friday and taken a stereo set, two cases of liquor, a pistol, electric blanket, telescope, iron, 20 nembutal capsules and assorted food.

San Francisco Fights To Pare Big Budget

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A board of supervisors committee yesterday lopped $23 million from the city's proposed 1969-70 budget, but the total was still $80 million higher than this year.

The finance committee took a month to cut the record $606 million budget submitted by Mayor Joseph L. Alioto down to $583 million. The mayor had slashed $41 million from departmental requests.

The full board will consider the spending program next Monday.

The biggest cuts were in the welfare budget, with about $9 miflion removed from the Aid to Dependent Children and General Assistance spending programs.

A $583 million budget would require $210.9 million from city property tax payers. City Controller Nathan Cooper said it would mean a boost in the present tax rate which is $10.23 per $100 assessed valuation, but he refused to estimate how much.

In a budget-related action, the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce filed suit to block a 5 per cent wage increase granted 14,000 city and county employees. The chamber charged the increase violates the city charter.

FERRYBOAT, NIGHT CLUB TO LIBRARY?

How about a floating library for Sausalito?

Trustee Anita Koenig raised the idea last night before the Sausalito Library Board and suggested investigating the possibility of using the ferryboat Charles Van Damme as a library.

The boat, formerly used as a night club, is now outside the city limits at Gate 6 Road. The city has been seeking a new library site since 1967 when voters rejected plans for a new building on the waterfront downtown.

The library board took no action on Mrs. Koenig's suggestion.

Timetable For Novato Sewage Set

A timetable for action by the Novato Sanitary District to stop polluting the Petaluma River and Novato Creek was submitted to the district trustees last night by engineer-manager Charles Joseph.

The timetable calls for engineering and financial studies to be made on the district's needs, to be submitted to the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board by July 1, 1970.

The regional board in March issued an order to the sanitary district to stop polluting the two rivers.

Under the timetable submitted by Joseph, the district would begin a detailed restudy of sewer facilities planning by June 23. He said the study would involve, among other things, an attempt to find a solution to Novato's sewage treatment problems which would satisfy regional requirements as well as represent facilities that would tie in well with a proposed Bay-Delta regional collector system and would be financially sound for the district.

A financial consultant would be hired to begin the necessary long range financial studies by Jan. 1, 1970, Joseph said. The engineering report should be finished by Feb. 1 and the financing study by May 15, he said.

The board, according to the timetable, then would have until June 22, 1970, to review the reports and hold any necessary public hearings before submission by July 1, 1970, a report on what has been done and a further detailed timetable on the district's plans to conform to regional requirements.

The Novato Sanitary District Board also:

ASSESSMENT — Approved an amended assessment affecting two properties in the Ignacio project to conform to changes in property lines.

EXTENSION — Accepted a sewer main extension to service Tijuana Taco on Tamalpais Avenue at Novato Boulevard.

FREEWAY — Received from the district staff a report on preliminary plans for required relocations of facilities as a result of the Novato freeway project.

WARRANTS — Approved $7,826 in warrants and ratified $9,148 in salary warrants.

MEETING — Set its next meeting for 6 p.m. May 26 at the North Marin County Water District offices in Novato.

Osteopathic Leader Hits AMA's Health Care Policy

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—The president-elect of the American Osteopathic Association said last night his organization could n ever merge with the American Medical Association because of the AMA's policies on health care.

Dr. J. Scott Heatherington, Gladstone, Ore., spoke at the convention of the Indiana Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons.

He charged that the AMA has attempted to destroy the osteopathic profession and has fought Medicare, Blue Cross, public venereal disease clinics, free cancer detection centers, Red Cross blood banks, compulsory diptheria and smallpox inoculation, mandatory TB reports and federal grants for student loans and medical school construction.

Dr. Heatherington said the AMA is apparently more worried about competition from the osteopaths than improving health care. He charged the AMA has attempted to destroy the osteopathic profession through tactics ranging from merger offers to attempted "academic piracy" of osteopathic students and the appropriation of AMA funds for the purchase of existing osteopathic colleges.

He said it was "unfortunate so many people still accept the myth that the AMA is the final authority in all areas of health care and that its only interest is the protection of the public."

"Even if the AMA's record did not show how much it has been dominated by its own self serving policies, the business of providing adequate health care to a nation of two hundred million people has grown much too compex to be handled by a single organization that exists primarily to defend the professional interests of its members," Heatherington said.

Steam Bus Outlay Held Too Little

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The U.S. Department of Transportation has put up $150,000 to finance designing of a steam engine for buses, but that amount is not nearly enough, says William Lear.

"You're trying to build an atom bomb for a nickel," the president of Lear Motors Inc., declared yesterday as he and 23 other designers appeared for a look at the vehicles for which the steam is planned.

Lear, who developed the business jet plane that bears his name and is working on steam engines in Nevada, said steam-driven buses are feasible.

The $150,000 is to see if a steam engine operates better than internal combustion engines and to evaluate public understanding and acceptance of the proposed system.

A governmental panel working ont he project says that "the first priority is protection of the public's health and safety from any operational hazards whatsoever."

Steam is being tried in an effort to curtail air pollution.

San Francisco Municipal Railway and the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District are each to provide buses into which experimental steam engines will be installed.

Plans Bared For Catholic Hoop League

Plans for a Catholic Youth Organization basketball league in Rohnert Park were presented last night to the city recreation commission.

George Geister, a former commissioner, said he was planning a league to include boys in grades four through six, but needed commission funds and sanction to get the program going.

The commission, anticipating a budget review soon, said the league and costs for referees and uniforms would be considered then. Geister said the teams would play in the county organization league and perhaps later be enlarged to include grades three through eight.

The Rohnert Park Recreation Commission also:

POOL — Set the official opening of the two city pools for May 30 and said all residents would be admitted at no charge. Ronald E. Rasmussen, commission chairman, said the pools will be open daily when school closes.

BOOTH — Heard report that the announcing and concession booth at Alicia Park is nearly complete. All construction work was done by residents.

LANDSCAPING — Requested City Manager Peter M. Callinan to present a cost breakdown on the landscaping of the new community and recreation center so some funds can be included in the commission budget.

Driver Sustains Only Minor Injuries

Francois L. Albert, 45, of 1491 Indian Valley Road, Novato, was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital with a cut scalp and chin suffered yesterday when his car skidded into the center strip on Highway 101 in Terra Linda, the California Highway Patrol reported. Albert was to be released from the hospital today.

The patrol said the accident occurred at 9:10 a.m. when heavy southbound traffic slowed and Albert's car skidded as he braked, went broadside into the dirt center strip and turned onto its right side.

Action Delayed On Apartment Proposal

A proposal to amend the San Marin master plan to permit an 80-unit apartment development on land originally intended for a park was continued last night by the Novato Planning Commission until its May 26 meeting.

The proposal, from Murray and McCorrmick Inc., seeks to permit multiple family use of 3.8 acres on the south side of San Marin Drive across from San Mateo Way. The area was designated in the San Marin master plan for park purposes.

Consideration of the proposal was delayed to give more time for study of the application.

The commission adopted a zoning change which reclassified the Los Robles Mobile Home Park from the county zoning of mobile home park to the Novato zoning of planned residential.

Planning Director Brian Mattson said the action was needed to make the mobile home park conform to the city's zoning classifications. Novato's planned residential zoning permits mobile homes.

The Novato Planning Commission Also:

PERMIT — Approved a use permit for construction of a building to be used as an electrical contractor's shop and an electrical fixture wholesale house in the Novato Auto Mart subdivision, west of Highway 101 and south of Novato Creek.

DELICATESSEN — Approved a use permit for a delicatessen and meat market in the Nave Shopping Center, requested by Robert M. Nave.

EXCAVATION — Approved a variance request by Dotson Builders, Inc., to permit an excavation exceeding set limits at the rear of the proposed convalescent hospital at Hill and Indian Valley roads.

HELD OVER — Held over until its June 7 meeting consideration of underground utilities ordinance and the remainder of the capital improvements program.

HEARING — Set a public hearing for the May 26 meeting to consider a variance on off-street parking and reconsider use permit conditions relating to setbacks.

ADMINISTRATOR — Delayed until the May 26 meeting discussion of a zoning administrator position.

Players, Tapes Reported Stolen

Two San Rafael motorists have reported the theft of tape players and tapes from their autos.

Ellen P. Stanbro of 8 Elaine Way said a player and 10 tapes, valued at a total of $165, were taken from her car parked at her residence.

Gilbert R. Levey of 24 Bonnie Banks Way reported the loss of a player and tapes worth a total of $180 from his car while the vehicle was parked across from 5 Ross Street Sunday.

Mill Valley Man's Apartment Looted

Burglars who ransacked the apartment of Herman Andrew Kemp fo 100 Reed Boulevard, Mill Valley on Sunday outfitted themselves with clothes along with a great many other articles. He estimated his total loss at $1,359, sheriff's officers said today.

Missing were a color television, radio, three suits, 10 pair of slacks, eight pairs of shoes, jewelry, a luggage set, six shirts, an umbrella, two power drills, a vacuum cleaner, a carton of cigarettes, six books of Blue Chip stamps and $52 in change.

Weekend Theft

The theft during the weekend of a $100 rug and a $200 refrigerator from a vacant residence at 1801 Las Raposas Road, San Rafael, was reported yesterday by the Sthymmel realty firm. There was no signs of forced entry.

The first governor of California was Peter H. Burnett, elected Nov. 13, 1849.

Petaluman, 92, Struck, Killed By Car

Carl A. Petersen, 92, of 434 Gossage Avenue, Petaluma, was struck and killed yesterday at 10:10 a.m. as he was walking along Petaluma Boulevard North in the 2400 block.

The California Highway Patrol said Petersen apparently stepped into the path of a car driven by Samuel A. Smoot, 78, of 19 La Cresta Drive, Petaluma. Petersen was pronounced dead on arrival at Petaluma General Hospital.

A native of Germany, he had lived in the Petaluma area for 50 years. Petersen had been employed as a poultryman until his retirement 15 years ago.

Cycle Strays; Rider Injured

A Hamilton Air Force Base airman suffered a severe cut on his leg yesterday when his motorcycle slammed into a parked car, Novato police reported today.

Airman 1/C Milton M. Perry, 19, of 3 Santiago Court, Novato, was reported in good condition today at the base hospital.

Police said the accident happened at 6:35 p.m. as he was driving out of his driveway, crossed the street on his cycle jumped a curb, crossed a lawn and hit a car owned by David L. Harris of 2 Santiago Court.

Sir Frederick Grant Banting, a Canadian scientist, was the first to extract the hormone insulin.

Two Airmen Are Burglary Victims

Radio and tape playing equipment valued at $1,830 and two shotguns worth $1,170 were stolen yesterday in a daylight burglary at the apartment of two Air Force officers at 88 Forrest Lane, San Rafael.

The thieves wrenched off the front door knob of the residence and carted off the items from a bedroom and the living room, police said.

One of the occupants, Capt. Ramiro Ross, who is stationed at Hamilton Air Force base, listed two guitars, a long distance radio, a $750 tape deck and a $450 stereophonic tuner-amplifier as among the items taken. The two shotguns stolen belonged to a roommate, Col. James M. Thomas, who is stationed in Maine, Ross reported.

Low Attendance; Classes Dropped

Two sections of the College of Marin Adult Education courses of "Black America" have been canceled because of low attendance Dr. Eugene A. Farrar, reported today.

They are the sections scheduled for Monday nights at San Rafael High School and Tuesday nights at Novato High School.

The courses will be continued on Wednesday nights at Tamalpais High School and Thursday nights at Olney Hall, College of Marin.

30-Day Sentence For Marijuana

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court yesterday ordered Ronald David Gemmell, 21, of San Anselmo to spend 30 days in jail, get a job when he gets out and refrain from using narcotics or associating with persons who do.

The youth had been convicted April 16 of possessing marijuana June 29 in Mill Valley.

Judge McGuire also placed Gemmell on one year probation.

Temblor Detected

BERKELEY (AP) — The University of California seismograph recorded an earthquake at 7:24 a.m. today calculated to be 3,600 miles southeast of here off the coast of the Colombia-Ecuador border. The quake was rated 6.2 on the Richter scale.

Fine, Probation In Certificate Charge

Donald Ray Spears, 21, of San Francisco, yesterday was fined $312.50 by Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court for attempting to cash three $50 gift certificates at Mac's in San Rafael with faked identification.

Spears was also placed on one-year probation and given a suspended 60-day jail sentence.

Bank Gains New Name, State Charter

Redwood National Bank, San Rafael has a new name and a new state charter.

Its conversion from a national bank to a state bank became effective yesterday upon receiving final approval from the State Banking Department. Stockholders of the bank had previously ratified the conversion to a state charter at their annual meeting of April 24.

The name of the bank will now become The Redwood Bank and new incorporation articles have been filed with the Secretary of State in Sacramento. Capitalization has been set at $2,440,000, with $5 par shares.

President Byron W. Leydecker said the conversion will enhance Redwood's secured lending authority with respect to individual borrowers. Under a state charter, unpledged government bonds may be included in the bank's reserves, releasing an equivalent amount of cash for investment, earning more money for the bank.

The bank new becomes subject to regulation by the California State Banking Department instead of the Comptroller of the Currency and the board of governors of the Federal Reserve System, but it will continue to be insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

Officially the bank becomes The Redwood Bank today, Leydecker said, but it will take time before there is a complete changeover in forms and bank literature.

Dinner Set For Student Travelers

Eight Terra Linda High School students, four exchange students returning home and four local students to go abroad, will be honored at a community dinner at 7 p.m. Monday at the school cafeteria.

Foreign exchange students who will be leaving after a year at Terra Linda High School are Fanny Margolis Kraychinski of Montevideo, Uruguay; Brigitte Petersen of Hadersley, Denmark; Doris Reckewell of Goslar, Germany; and Voltaire Tupaz of Valenzuela, Bulacan, Philippine Islands.

To live abroad this summer under the Experiment in International Living will be Carole Campbell, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Campbell, visiting Austria; Sue Giacomini, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Giacomini, to Italy; Gary Katz, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mossis Katz, to Great Britain; and Pat Orsini, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Caesar Orsini, to Germany.

The four local students will receive $450 each from the International Student Exchange Committee at the school toward their expenses.

Reservations for the dinner, sponsored by the committee and the student International Friendship Club, can be made through Mrs. Howard Council of Marinwood or Mrs. John D. King in Terra Linda.

Council To Hear Separation Plan

The San Anselmo City Council will consider a proposal to remove the city from the Ross Valley Flood Control District at its 8 p.m. meeting today in city hall.

The city has a joint powers agreement to help maintain the Corte Madera Creek flood control channel after phase three of the work is completed.

The removal proposal was made by Councilman James F. Reed who suggested May 29 that the Army Corps of Engineers is turning the Corte Madera Creek into a drainage ditch.

The council will also consider the final layout of the proposed hub intersection and hear a report from a council committee on a proposed public safety building site.

Task Force Folds After Tonight

The task force to study problems of aid to families with Dependent Children will meet for the last time at 8 p.m. today in room 400 of the Civic Center.

The task force, established by the Marin County Board of Supervisors one year ago, will be replaced on July 1 by the Family and Children's Advisory Committee, which is required by federal law.

At tonight's meeting, the AFDC task force hopes to approve a final report and recommendations to the supervisors before bowing out.

All But One Sentenced For Campus Uprising

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —All but one of 15 persons who pleaded guilty to charges growing out of a disturbance at San Francisco State College were sentenced to a suspended 90-day jail term, a year's probation and a $150 fine.

The other person received a similar sentence except the fine was $250.

Those who pleaded guilty to unlawful assembly, failure to disperse and disturbing the peace are Thomas Bell, Grant Colwell, Linda Dahl, Sharon La Motte, William Mayer, Julio Alvarado, Boyd Barnette, Gordon Bowen, Nina Gillig, Barbara Bonifas, Karen Pfeifer, Eric Shima, Stephen Connolly, Heidi Smith and Sally Napolitan.

Miss Napolitan was fined $250.

The disturbance Jan. 23 came during strike called by the Black Students Union, which demanded a college of ethnic studies and the admission of all Negroes regardless of academic qualifications.

Sex Education Seminar Slated

An all-day seminar on sex education in the schools will be held Saturday at the Bermuda Palms in San Rafael by the Central Area Parent-Taxpayer Affiliates, an ad hoc committee opposing the current family life program in schools, and by California Families United.

The program will include talks, workshops and a question period. Registration will be from 8:45 to 9:45 a.m. and then sessions will be held until about 6 p.m., with a break for a buffet lunch.

Reservations can be made through Mrs. Carl Hepp, 155 Elm Avenue, Mill Valley.

District Will Replace Old, Leaky Sausalito Pipeline

A 27-year-old 12-inch water main to Sausalito will be replaced with a 16-inch line, Marin Municipal Water District directors decided yesterday.

The change will be made in connection with a state highway project on Shoreline Highway near the Fireside Motel. The state will pay the cost of materials for the larger size pipe, $5,433.

The board also agreed to abandon an old four-inch line in Sausalito, off Sausalito Boulevard.

Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger asked for the abandonment, reporting the line leaks frequently and is difficult to get to for repairs. Residents on the line can be served from other water mains, he said.

The Marin Municipal Water District board also:

EQUIPMENT — Agreed to sell the district's obsolete data processing equipment to the Santa Rosa School District for $250 for training purposes, provided no Marin schools want it at the same price.

MICROWAVE — Approved an expanded lease with Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for use of a site on Mount Tamalpais, for a microwave station below vegetation level. The firm's current lease is for $1,200; the extra land will add $400.

VALVE — Agreed to buy a needed valve from the Groeniger Co. of Oakland for $795 although one is on order for $225 less from the Crane Co. The valve is needed soon, Seeger said, and Crane cannot make delivery until mid-August.

SUPPLIES — Bought $9,307 worth of copper tubing from P. E. O'Hair Co. of San Francisco.

SEWAGE — Heard a review of the state's Bay-Delta sewage disposal study as presented by Seeger for information purposes. Seeger noted he is not convinced regional government is the answer at this time.

PERSONNEL — Hired Dennis Y. Sato as a senior computer operator at $705 a month; Bradley J. Egnew as a part time recreation attendant; Dale Blanton as summer help in the auto shop; and Edmund C. Hill as summer help on the garden crew, all at $2.39 an hour.

New Hampshire entered the Union June 21, 1788.

Glaucome Tests

Marin opthomolgists, headed by Dr. Joel R. Levine of Mill Valley, will test persons for glaucoma at the annual free glaucoma clinic, sponsored by the Mill Valley Lions Club, from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday at Park School in Mill Valley.

Crash Victim's Long Troubles Much Eased

Two months ago, Jan Beam was struggling to recover from a March 1968 automobile accident, on the verge of being evicted from her home and almost broke.

Today she is living in a smaller apartment, improving physically and receiving disability benefits from Social Security, along with her welfare allotment.

Mrs. Beam, 41, now of 406 Maple Street, Mill Valley, received a check for about $700 yesterday, seven months worth of disability benefits from Social Security.

Mrs. Beam, who spent much of last year in hospitals, had not thought of applying for the benefits and persons assisting her had not done it for her. A story on her plight appeared in the Independent-Journal March 6 and Social Security representatives put the machinery in motion for her benefits.

(Normally, Social Security information is confidential. Mrs. Beam gave permission for her experience to be used to let others who might become disabled know they should file early for benefits.)

Mrs. Beam was paralyzed in the accident on Highway 101 but after a series of operations regained partial use of her body. She said she is working with her doctor on remaining problems in an effort to avoid more surgery.

After her story appeared, several persons offered financial and physical help to the former waitress. Among the persons who responded was a group from Marin Catholic High School.

Mrs. Beam said the students came to her former home and cleaned it and the yard and have volunteered to continue helping her in her new home.

"I'm very happy," said Mrs. Beam.

Petition Opposes Gas Rate Hike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Strong consumer opposition to a $37.1 million hike in gas rates have been sounded at a California Public Utilities Commission hearing.

Representatives of the Association of California Consumers, Inc., yesterday presented a petition bearing 6,500 names opposed to the rate increase.

Pacific Gas & Electric Co. is seeking a rate hike to increase its current return of 6.25 per cent to 7.5 per cent.

The firm maintains it needs the increase to obtain new capital on favorable terms in the present tight money market.

Clothes Shown In Murder Trial

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The bloody clothes of Lake County Deputy Sheriff David Hoyt were submitted as evidence yesterday at the trial of two convicts accused of killing him in an escape attempt.

Sgt. George Roxson said the coat, shirt and T-shirt had "bullet holes front and rear and were bloody." He took charge of the clothing after Hoyt was killed in Lakeport Oct 11, 1967.

The defendants, Larry Taylor and John Lynn, both 24, are accused of the fatal shooting of Hoyt during an escape attempt while they were being moved from the jail to a courtroom.

Outdoor Art Show Planned At Mall

The Terra Linda Art Association will hold its sixth annual Outdoor Art Festival May 23-24 in the Northgate Fashion Mall.

More than 400 pieces of art will be exhibited at the juried show. The show will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Friday and from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday.

$1,500 Youth Work Program Is Approved

Tiburon City Council last night authorized a summer work program for youth at a cost of $1,500 as a pilot project.

Parks and recreation commissioners, who recommended the program, noted it would give youth work opportunity and has been successfully operated in other Marin cities.

As proposed, the youth would work with the public works department on such jobs as weed control, park cleanup and related jobs.

Russell L. Melquist, assistant to the city manager, recommended against the program, saying the amount of work needed to be done was minimal and that it would require adult supervision which would more than offset the work gain.

Councilman Anne L. Ellinwood said it would be in "the overriding interest of the community" to undertake the program, and councilmen felt there would be enough work to do.

They left it to the city administration to determine how many youths would be hired and for how long. The proposed salary was $1.60 an hour.

The Tiburon City Council Also:

ROAD JOBS — Awarded Ghilotti Bros. Inc. of San Rafael, lowest of four bidders, a contract to reconstruct Trestle Glen Boulevard and Mar West Street from Cove Road to Esperanza Street at a cost of $30,044, and to make parking modifications on the south side of Tiburon Boulevard from Beach Road to Corner Market at a cost of $6,123. City Engineer Ray W. Foreaker said the proposed sidewalk along Trestle Glen Boulevard would be handled as a separate job at a later date.

STATE PROJECT — Approved state Division of Highway plans for improvements on Tiburon Boulevard including widening and left turn channels for southeast bound traffic at Rock Hill Road and Lyford Drive and widening at San Rafael Avenue.

DRUG WORKSHOP — Authorized an appropriation of $100 toward financing a workshop on drug abuse to be sponsored by the Citizens Committee to Study Drug Abuse at Bel Aire School June 7. The committee is sponsored by the cities of Tiburon and Belvedere and Reed School District.

NO-PARKING — Created a no-parking zone along the easterly side of Los Lomas Lane after the police department reported numerous complaints from residents on the lane that parked vehicles hindered driving.

FLOOD RELIEF — Applied for state flood relief funds, estimated to bring $1,860, to repair slide damages on Tara Hill Road, estimated to cost $11,510. The city also is seeking federal funds for the damage.

LEGISLATION — Supported AB 1882 which would permit the state to sell surplus land to other governmental agencies at less than market value, and opposed SB 944 which would require the city to pay a subdivider the costs of the land, improvements fees and taxes if he dedicates the land for park or recreational use.

COMMENDATION — Commended the city police department for its recent work which led to the uncovering of a burglary ring.

PROCLAMATIONS — Authorized Mayor Branwell D. Fanning to make proclamations recognizing events and observances which are significant to the community without council action.

APPEAL CONTINUED — Continued until May 26 at 8 p.m. an appeal by Lawrence E. Stotter of the board of adjustment's denial for a side yard variance at 2244 Vistazo East.

AUDITORS — Hired Sleezer and Eckhoff, certified public accountants, of San Rafael to undertake the audit for fiscal 1968-69 at a cost of $900.

DAMAGES — Denied a claim by Mausao Segi of 31 Juno Road for $200,000 for injuries suffered by his 14-year-old son, Ray, who was struck by a car Jan. 15, 1969, on Tiburon Boulevard at Jefferson Road after getting off a bus carrying homeward-bound students from Redwood High School.

ALLOCATION — Allocated unencumbered funds to revised drainage on Venus Court, estimated to $5,150 and to gutter revisions at Juno Road and Juno Court, estimated to cost $2,550.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned until 8 p.m. May 26 at city hall.

Councilman William R. Bremer was absent.

P-TA At Redwood Votes Opposition

The Redwood High School Parent - Teacher Association board has voted its opposition to the state P-TA stand against passage of Senate Bill 35 to restore ceilings on school taxes.

The action is unusual in that the P-TA's own rules forbid locals from actively opposing a proposition endorsed at the state level. "For this reason the Redwood board hopes to reopen the matter for P-TA study at the state level," reported Mrs. Reed Brockbank, president.

SB 35, introduced by a long list of state senators headed by John G. Schmitz, R-Tustin, and including John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, would repeal a portion of the Unruh Education Act of 1967 which removes all voter control of school tax increases as of 1971. It has passed the senate but is being held in the Assembly Education Committee, headed by Victor V. Veysey, R-Brawley.

Tamalpais Valley Woman Released

No charges were filed yesterday in Marin Municipal Court against a young woman arrested with an alleged heroin peddler Friday in Tamalpais Valley.

The district attorney's office said its investigation would continue.

Sandra L. Tsegeletos, 21, was released from jail but told to return to court Wednesday by Judge Peter Allen Smith.

She was arrested at the home at 240 Cleveland Avenue she has been sharing with Jan D. DeBruyn, 24, who is accused of a federal violation of selling heroin.

Volunteer Firemen Set Barbecue June 8

Novato volunteer firemen and their families will hold their annual barbecue at noon on June 8 at the Silvera Ranch on Highway 101 north of Novato, Fire Chief Jack Kidder said today.

The fete, planned at the volunteer' meeting last night, will feature a chicken barbecue and games for children and adults, Kidder said.

Tiburon Panel Approves Rezoning 26 Acres Held By City Treasurer

Tiburon City Council last night approved rezoning 26 acres south of Trestle Glen Boulevard, owned by City Treasurer Samuel M. Shapero, from park to planned residential.

The vote was 3-1 with Councilman Anne L. Ellinwood dissenting and Councilman William R. Bremer absent.

Councilmen felt the drainage problems at the site, the proposal to extend Porto Marino Drive and Shapero's potential gift of 12 acres for park should be separated from the rezoning matter.

Miss Ellinwood contended that the drainage and the road extension questions should be answered before the rezoning. "I think we should address ourselves to the problems and then rezone it," she said.

Furthermore, she said, the council has never had a presentation on the matter from either its planning consultant or planning director.

Councilman Denis T. Rice said the rezoning "should stand or fall on its own merits," and the other questions would be fully studied.

The parcel extends from Trestle Glen Boulevard south to Tiburon Hills, and from just east of Tiburon Boulevard almost to the Marin Convalescant and Rehabilitation Hospital.

Under planned residential zoning, Shapero would qualify to construct 52 units, but Rice felt the overall density should be reviewed, and possibly 38 or 40 units would be more appropriate.

Miss Ellinwood noted that the city could end up with the acreage where a drainage problem exists, and would be stuck with solving the drainage problem.

Councilman Thomas E. Drohan commented that part of the council's job "is looking a gift horse in the mouth."

John Hoffmire, representing the Tiburon Civic Foundation, said Shapero's proposal is to give the land to the foundation which would deed it to the city for park use. He estimated the value of 12 acres at about $100,000.

Rice emphasized that the question of a gift of land couldn't be considered while deciding on rezoning.

Councilmen decided that the parks and recreation commission should examine the proposed park site, and the design review committee should study the proposed density.

They also gave first approval to amending the zoning ordinance to have planned residential districts subject to review by the design review committee.

Under the proposed amendment no planned residential site plan would be final until approved by both the planning commission and the council.

The design review committee can protect the public interest when the plan is submitted for review, Rice reported.

Planning Director Wayne E. Moody noted that design review would cover traffic, grading and drainage.

Sentence Delay In Narcotics Case

Judge Harold J. Haley yesterday postponed sentencing for two weeks for Curtis Lynn Ross, 18, of San Rafael, while a determination is made whether the youth is a narcotics addict or in imminent danger of becoming one.

Ross's attorney, probation officer and district attorney's office had all recommended that he be given jail time followed by a commitment to Synanon or a state hospital.

Ross, who is due to be sentenced for a burglary, also faces a mandatory 90-day jail sentence for a misdemeanor conviction of being under the influence of narcotics.

He was one of three youths present when a 16-year-old girl died March 1 of an overdose of drugs in a Corte Madera motel.

Pentagon Aide Cites ABM Needs

COMBINED AP & UPI

DAYTON, Ohio—The Pentagon's chief scientist says the United States will be vulnerable to a Soviet missile attack by the mid-1970s if Congress refuses to authorize the Safeguard antimissile system this year.

Dr. John S. Foster Jr. said yesterday if authorization of the Safeguard system is delayed, the United States could not have an operational missile defense before 1976.

By that time, Foster said, the Soviet Union will have had in operation as long as a year a missile system capable of destroying 95 per cent of America's Minuteman silos.

His speech came in the wake of reports that congressional opponents of Safeguard have almost enough votes to reject the system, which military planners hope to have working by 1974.

In San Francisco, former scientific adviser to the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower said the system will be ineffective and will hamper disarmament negotiations.

The weapons expert, Dr. George Rathjens, said yesterday the ABM is not now necessary because the U.S. still has many more missiles than any Soviet attack could destroy.

The MIT scholar said he has doubts the ABM system would be effective, largely because there is no way to test it in the environment in which it would be used.

"Even if 90 per cent of the Minuteman sites were knocked out, there would be enough left to destroy 70 per cent of Russia's industry," said Rathjens, who noted the United States goes ahead with the ABM system.

Some ground squirrels spend as much as three-fourths of their lives sleeping underground.

Collegians Counting Days Until An Austrian Summer

By GRACE HENDERSON

Four students enrolled at Dominican College have announced plans for summer trips to Europe beginning on May 26. On that date Nancy Knolls of San Anselmo and Margaret Diener of Five Points will leave for a stopover in Switzerland prior to reporting for work at a youth hostel in Innsbruck, Austria.

Nancy, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Stanley Knolls of San Anselmo, is a junior at the college. Majoring in German with a minor in English, she says her German will come in handy on her travels this summer.

THE 20-YEAR-OLD Nancy has been to Switzerland five times, on visits to her grandparent's home. She will spend another four weeks with them following her Austrian employment and some traveling.

Margaret Diener, 21, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Diener of Five Points, where her father is a ranch foreman. She has traveled within the western United States only. Right now she is "just shopping" and collecting pamphlets on European areas to be visited this summer.

Margaret is also a junior at Dominican College and will travel with Nancy for the first part of their trip. Following her stay in Innsbruk, she will visit Italy and return through the low countries including Austria and Germany. Her major language is English and her minor is German.

Linda Keating, who says her French is "passable," is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Keating of San Rafael. Her father is an engineer with a construction company which has meant the family has lived in various parts of the world.

During her freshman and sophomore years in high school, Linda, her parents, a sister and three brothers lived in Jamaica. They have made Marin their home the past three years.

Between final examinations of the spring semester at Dominican College and her June 13 departure date for Innsbruck, the 19-year-old will prepare her wardrobe and work part-time as a receptionist at a beauty shop in the Northgate shopping center.

The San Rafael girl is majoring in English with a minor in music.

JOINING LINDA for the extended trip will be Margaret Morgan of Honolulu, Hawaii. She is also 19 years of age and a sophomore at the college. Her major is in French.

None of the four has worked at a youth hostel before, and all are counting the days until they see the famous Austrian Olympic town for themselves.

LINDA KEATING, 19, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Keating of San Rafael, is looking forward to a June 13 departure for Innsbruk, Austria where she will work in a youth hostel. She checks her list for last minute details she will combine with semester exams at Dominican College. Following two months at the hostel, Linda will join Margaret Morgan of Honolulu in further European travels.

ANTICIPATING A SUMMER in Europe are Margaret Diener, left, of Five Point and Nancy Knolls of San Anselmo. The Dominican College students will leave May 26 where they will be the first of four students from the local college to work in a youth hostel in Innsbruk, Austria. This will be the sixth trip into Switzerland for Nancy whose grandparents live there. Both girls will travel throughout Europe following their five weeks of employment. French Home Cookery Taught By Housewife

The art of French home cooking — the dishes the ordinary thrifty French housewife serves her own family — has been brought back to Marin by Jan Gilman Toulon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cary Gilman of San Anselmo.

Jan, who grew up in Larkspur and Ross, is passing along the culinary wisdoms learned in her mother-in-law's kitchen in France through classes sponsored by the Marin YWCA, an agency of United Bay Area Crusade.

Affirming that most French cooking Americans hear of is of the high style Parisian gourmet cuisine, Jan feels that many housewives are scared off by ingredients called for in recipes, hesitating, for example, to rush out and buy an expensive can of imported truffles.

The foods she is demonstrating in the YW sessions, held in her own kitchen at 108 Dominga Avenue, Fairfax, are those being served day-to-day in French homes, prepared with the same fruits, vegetables and meats that are served daily in Marin homes.

"To the French housewife, the important thing is freshness. She has fruits and vegetables only when they are in season, so she knows many different ways to cook each. Americans are apt to just boil and put on butter," she pointed out.

And appropriately, the recipes for the current classes call for vegetables and fruits available in Marin grocery stores.

BARQUETTES DE FRAISES (Strawberry boats)

The boats are made of pie dough, shaped about four inches long with half-inch sides, baked for 10 minutes at 425 degrees and then cooled.

Sort the smallest strawberries from a quart basket (or cut up larger ones), and fill the boats. For the sauce, crush the remainder (about half the basket) and add a half-cup of sugar and five ounces of raspberry jam.

Boil the crushed berries, sugar and jam in an enamel or teflon saucepan (the mixture darkens in aluminum) for two minutes, stirring with a wooden spoon. Spoon the sauce over the fresh berries in the crust boats.

PETITS POIS BONNE FEMMES

Gently fry a medium onion, sliced into little slivers, with a quarter-pound of diced saltpork and a tablespoon of butter. After about five minutes, add two or three chopped lettuce leaves to the bottom of the pan and then two pounds of shelled new peas.

Cook for 10 or 15 minutes on the lowest possible fire "without taking off the lid too often, only shaking the pot occassionally." Jan explains that because of the lettuce leaves, staying in the bottom of the pan, no other liquid is needed.

This recipe combines eggplant, zucchini and fresh tomatoes.

LA RATATOUILLE

Peel an eggplant and cut in bite-sized chunks. Salt and place on paper towels with a weighted plate on top for 10 or 15 minutes, so that the bitter mositure oozes out.

Cut four small zuccini in bit-sized pieces. Peel three tomatoes (by dunking in boiling water) and cut in chunks, allowing the seeds and water to escape

Saute an onion, cut in coarse pieces, and a finely chopped clove of garlic, in a heavy saucepan, using enough olive oil to cover the bottom of the pan.

The vegetables are added to this sauted onion and garlic in order of the cooking time needed for tenderness, beginning with the eggplant, then zuccini and last the tomatoes. Add a teaspoon of sugar and salt and pepper.

Simmer the mixture over a very low fire for 15 or 20 minutes, stirring frequently to avoid sticking.

IN EACH OF the weekly YWCA classes, scheduled from 10:30 a.m. to noon Wednesdays and Fridays, Jan is preparing a full course dinner — to be eaten by participants for lunch.

Information on enrollment may be obtained from Miss Eleanor Wolfe, executive director of the Marin YWCA, 305 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

A native Marinite and graduate of Katharine Branson School, Jan went to University of Aix-Marseille in 1961, returning briefly in 1962 with her husband-to-be, Louis J. Toulon, to be married in St. John's Church in Ross.

The couple lived in France for five years, returning to Marin in 1967. They have a boy and a girl, David, 5, and Martine, 2.

Jan's father, now retired, formerly was manager of Pacific Telephone in San Rafael, and her mother, Vera (Jim), operated a dress shop in Kentfield for 20 years, retiring recently.

Sausalito Women To Display Creative Stitchery To Guests

Creative stitchery, a centuries-old art, is again in vogue. The Sausalito Woman's Club program on Thursday at 2:30 p.m. will present Janet Van Evera and Marge Krijick, creative stitchery experts.

The two artists, painters and weavers will give a short history of embroidery and crewel from ancient to contemporary and will show examples of their work: wall hangings, pillows, sweathers, purses, table mats and samplers.

Mrs. Van Evera has shown work in more than 20 museums in the United States and has taught classes at the Marin Art and Garden Center, for the San Francisco Junior League and the Museum West Auxiliary.

An added feature will be an exhibit of recent work done by Woman's Club members Mrs. Jacques Neuville and Mrs. Jackson Perry. They will be available to answer questions about their hobby.

Mrs. Richard Cruikshank is program chairman , and Mrs. Carl Spring is planning an old fashioned tea to follow the meeting.

ROSARIUM INSTITUTE 175, Young Ladies' Institute, will have its crowning of a May queen at the meeting on Thursday in St. Patrick's Center, Larkspur. After the 8:15 p.m. meeting, Mrs. David Miller Jr. and her committee will proceed with the ceremony, which honors the institute member which the committee has selected.

FIESTA DEL quince de Mayo, West End School Parent-Teacher Association's family day luncheon, will be held Thursday at the school in San Rafael. Mrs. Donald Cliggett and Mrs. Theodore A. Martin are chairmen, assisted by HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

The Best Of Figures Not Always All Peaches AndCream To Owner

DEAR HELEN:

My figure is merely something that happened to me. It doesn't mean I'm a sexpot. But how do I convince boys?

They call me Miss Center Fold of —— High. One even said, "Baby, a girl with your build can't be cold." They take it as a personal insult when I turn them down.

Last night I used that line in your column, "It's my football, my field, and my rules." And the guy said that anyone with a walk like mine (he called it "backfield in motion") could expect some forward passes.

A lot of the girls resent me because the guys whistle. Helen, it's not all peaches and cream, being — RAQUEL THE SECOND

DEAR RAQUEL:

Girls who never had your problem might figure yeu're either batty or bragging, but other Raquel-types (including Herself, I'm told) will understand. It isn't all roses being a "No-no" product in a "Go-go" package. You're constantly having to prove there's something real behind the gorgeous facade.

But on the whole, it's a very happy challenge. Hold that line and you'll win the ball game!—H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm another guy with an opinion.

I recently went on vacation and met a girl who stopped my advances. I was never so happy to get turned down. I won't forget this girl and although she lives a long way from me, I enjoy writing to her. Had she given in to me, sho would have been classified as "ordinary."

Instead, she is the kind of girl a fellow takes to a walk-in show and out to dinner; the type he can be proud of, and might even want to marry some day.—A. T.

DEAR A.:

Foolish Question No. 246½: If you guys so admire the girls who stop your advances, why then do you "advance"? Really, they won't suspect your manhood if you show a little reserve. —H.

PERSONAL TO "ANN": Wild hoax letters are something like Rorschach test reactions. Reading yours, about the mother you killed through carelessness and the father you drove insane after he beat you. I'd guess you'd see monsters or devils in every ink blot.

Now — let's hear your real problem. Perhaps it isn't nearly as bad as it seems to you now. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

Regarding all the letters you'd had about drugs.

I can't help wondering if these kids who are trying to "find themselves" have ever found themselves inside a church or synagogue. I'll bet most weren't raised with firm, realistic religious convictions. Too many Christian parents baptize the baby, send him to Sunday School until he wants to quit, and from then on, Easter is about the only time they go to church. No wonder the kids are searching for the meaning of life. The adults are too busy with their tranquilizers and clubs to bother with them.

Maybe the church is as much at fault. If it offered real, everyday guides to faith and love, it would keep kids coming back.

No, I'm not an old fogey. I'm barely 23 and don't know nearly as much about my church, my God and my Bible as I should. But I'm trying to find out.—J.W.

A DANCER STEPS OUT

Miss Powers Is A Bride

Alexandra Chalmers Powers of Tiburon became the bride of Alec Malcome Stewart Saturday in a ceremony at St. Thomas Episcopal Church in Ketchum, Ida., she is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret C. Powers of Tiburon and John J. Powers of Portland, Ore.

Christine J. Powers of San Mateo was her sister's maid of honor, and her bridesmaid was another sister, Margaret R. Powers of Tiburon. Best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Stewart of Hailey, Ida., was Keith Meyers of Bellevue, Ida. Ushers were Kirk Bauer, Floyd J. Seivers and Mitchele Lete of Bellevue and William A. Ward of San Mateo.

The bride was graduated from Beaverton High School and attended Portland State University, and the bridegroom is a graduate of Wood River High School.

Town Meeting Saturday

By BRUCE COLEMAN

San Anselmo is to lose its tiny downtown park and fountain.

Some residents honk children off the sidewalk so that they can park their cars there.

There is no teen center and so groups of youngsters hang out in front of downtown stores and drive-ins.

The area surrounding the Greyhound bus depot is more than a little neglected.

These findings are taken from a community questionnaire filled out by 3,000 San Anselmo residents and will be discussed at the fourth annual San Anselmo Town Meeting to be held at 12:30 p.m., Saturday, according to chairman Everett Farey.

"It's a grass roots program and everybody has a chance to speak out," added Farey.

Subjects on the agenda were determined by the questionnaire response and topics at the event, to be held at Sir Francis Drake High School, are: Civic Pride and Beautification, Parks and Recreation, City Development, Schools and Education, Traffic and Transportation and Human Relations.

There will be a dinner dance, by reservation only, at 8 p.m. in Alexander Hall, San Francisco Theological Seminary.

Panelists from various professions and many different civic groups throughout the county will participate, Farey pointed out.

The panels are as follows:

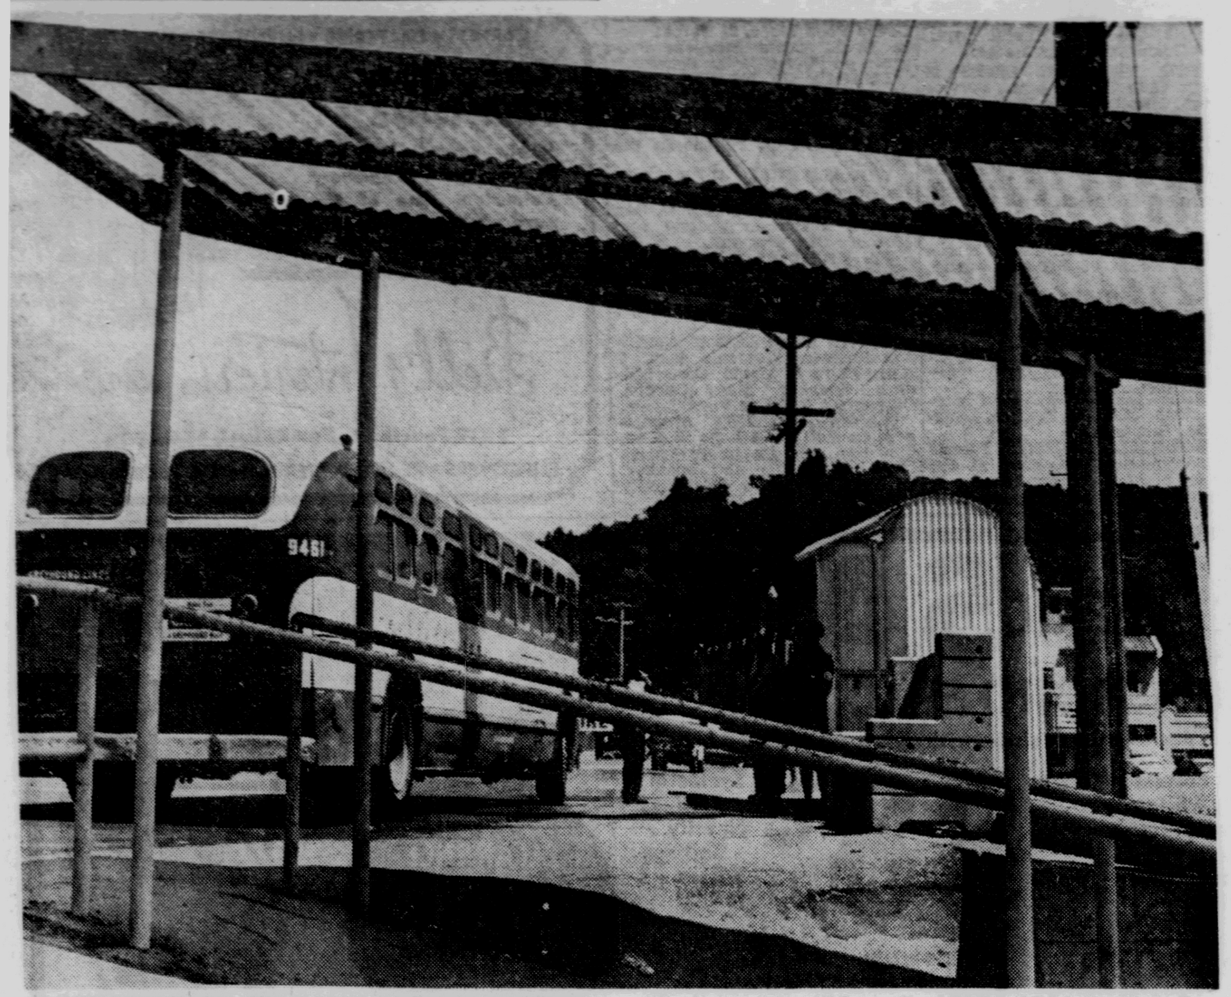
Parks and Recreation — Chairman Paul Brand, past chairman of San Anselmo Parks and Recreation Commission and Bay Area Anti-Pollution District inspector; Margaret Azevedo, Marin County Planning Commissioner; Chris Harris, Sir Francis Drake High School student and Marin County Youth Commission chairman; Ed Adams, Parks and Recreation director of the City of Novato; Irwin Luckman, landscape architect and former general manager of the East Bay Regional Park District.

City Development Chairman Jerry Lloyd, school teacher and past member of the San Anselmo Planning Commission; Mary Summers, past director of Marin County Planning Department; Paul Rosenthal, mechanical engineer and Mill Valley Planning Commissioner; Albert Wasser, proprietor of Wasser Furniture Accents, San Anselmo, and Richard Gross, financial consultant with Stone and Youngberg.

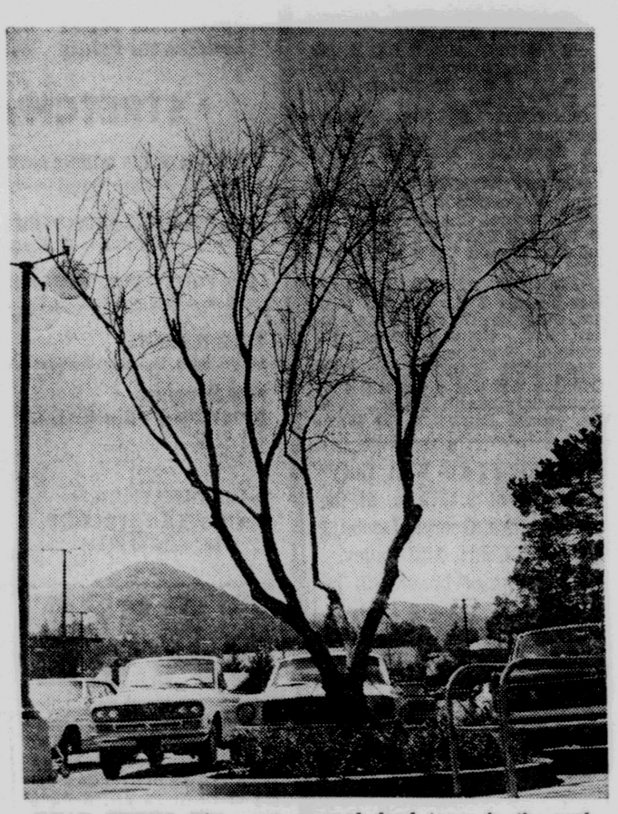
Schools and Education — Chairman Joe Trowbridge, San Anselmo Educational Specifications Committee member; Bill Christie IV, attorney and K-3 Educational Specifications Committee chairman; Dr. Penrod Moss, assistant superintendent, Dixie Elementary School District; John Cherry, Sir Francis Drake High School student and Frank Miller, Tamalpais High School District Trustee.

Traffic and Transportation — chairman of San Anselmo chairman of San Anselmo Homes Association; Seymour Kashin, Marin Transit District director; William Jack Adams, past member, Marin Transit District; John Dearman, attorney and Golden Gate Bridge District director and Robert Sieker, State Division of Highways traffic planner.

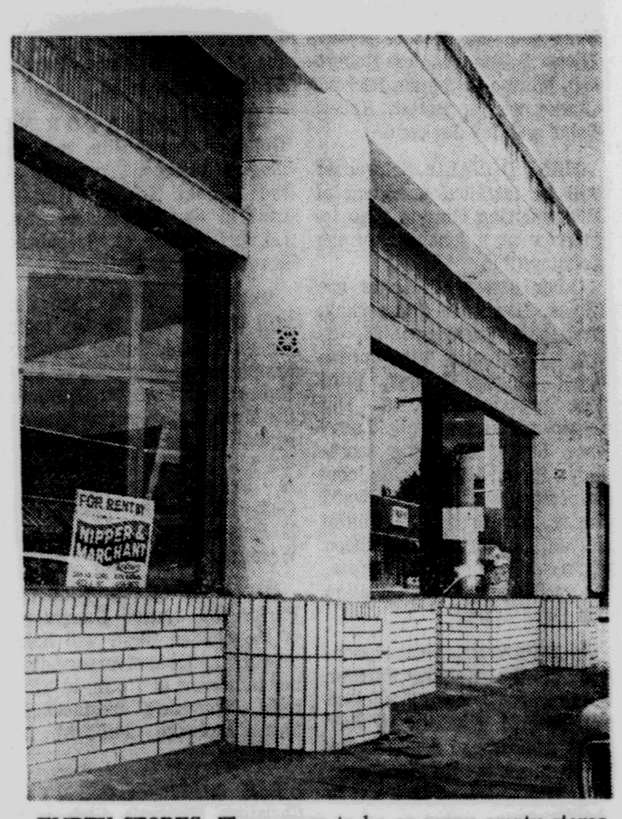
Human Relations — Chairman Robert Lee, chairman of the Ethnics and Society Department, San Francisco Theological Seminary; Basil Scalabrini, school teacher and trustee-elect of the San Anselmo School District; Norman Leach, San Francisco Theological Seminary student; Dr. Festus Adebonojo, San Anslemo Human Rights Commission member and Mary Donnelly, past member of the San Anselmo Planning Commission.



DESCRIBED AS 'HIDEOUS' — Some residents have told the San Anselmo Town Meeting that the area near the Greyhouund Depot on San Anselmo Avenue is "hideous" and should be improved. Vinyl-roofed structure shelters ramp leading from the depot to boarding area.



DEAD TREES—There are several dead trees in the parking lot at Red Hill Shopping Center on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. The town meeting participants will discuss their future on Saturday.

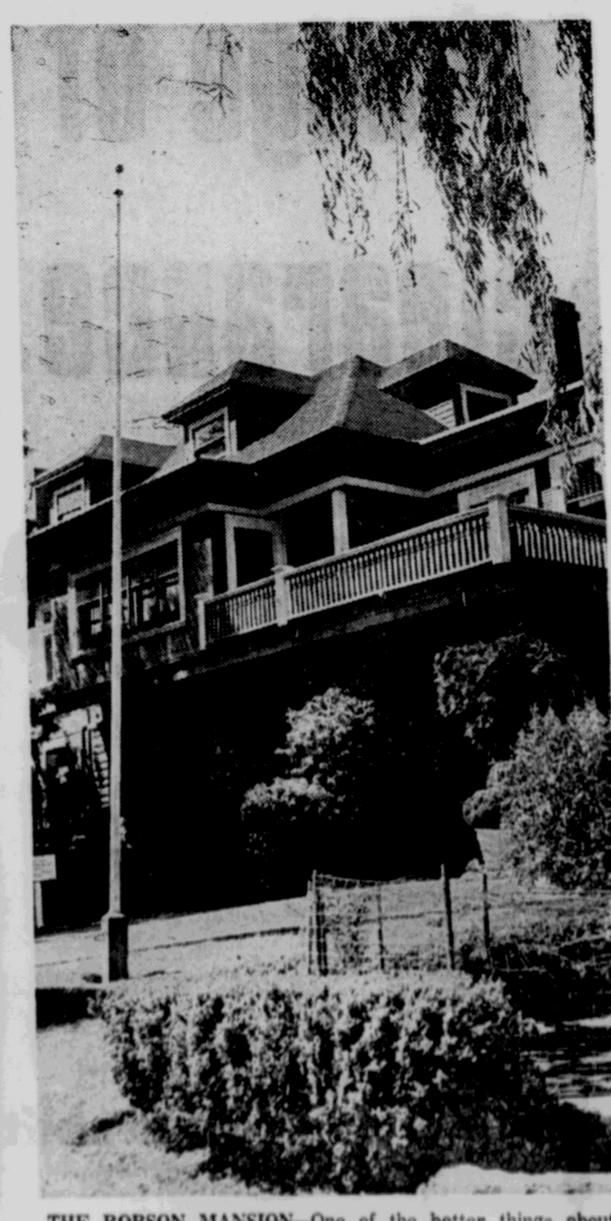


EMPTY STORES—There seem to be so many empty stores in the downtown area, people who filled out the San Anselmo Town Meeting questionnaire complained. What can be done about it? they ask.

STREET OR SIDEWALK? — The San Anselmo ordinance reads that one must not park overnight on the streets and, as a result, many people park on the sidewalks. Sometimes drivers honk their horns to get kids off the sidewalks so they can park.

FOUNTAIN TO GO—The tiny park and fountain on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard is to be eliminated when Hub streets are realigned. This rankles many people some of whom intend to discuss the park at the town meeting Saturday.

CENTER WIDENING—The proposed widening of Center Boulevard will mean that the boulevard will be wide for one block, then run into a bottleneck at Bridge Avenue, citizens report. Too, widening will destroy a clump of trees next to Guasco Market.



THE ROBSON MANSION—One of the better things about San Anselmo, questionnaire respondent said, is the Robson-Harington Park mansion. The town meeting will question: What use should be made of this park and mansion?

Visitors Produce Madrigal Magic

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

An entirely different kind of madrigal singing was presented last night at the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo by the Madrigal Singers from the University of the Philippines.

On a world tour as cultural representatives of the Philippine government, the group consists of 11 young men and 11 young women who sing mostly a cappella, as they sit in a semi-circle with boys and girls alternating instead of massed according to the four-voice types. The result was a beautifully blended sound.

Another extraordinary feature was that their director, Andrea Veneracion, a woman faculty members, sat and sang with them.

Their tonal quality was unique — of crystalline purity without any vibrato, yet not what is known as "white" and monotonous. They achieved variety and color through a wide range of dynamics, from a gossamer pianissimo to tremendous power that made them sound like three times as many voices. This amazing range was especially notable in an Echo Song by Di Lassus and an alleluia by Handall Thompson that brought a deserved standing ovation.

What one most often thinks of as madrigal singing was heard in their opening group of traditional madrigals by German, Italian and English composers such as the well-known Wilbye and Morley.

Most interesting was their second and fourth groups of Philippine folk songs. Spanish musical influence was clearly evident in the second group that included a war chant, two nursery songs, one about the Philippine national flower and a love duet.

The fourth group seemed more exotic and indigenous to the Philippines, perhaps because one, an evening serenade, was accompanied by a bamboo flute, whose tone was rather sharp and not entirely musical, and the finale, a song from Mindanao accompanied by a set of seven gongs of different pitches and two native drums.

The third group consisted of three contemporary songs, including the memorable alleluia, and four folks songs from around the world. These were one from Brazil, one from Hungary, a lovely African lullabye in the Bantu dialect and a Negro spiritual. The last was well sung but not in true Negro spiritual style.

There were some good enough individual voices. That made me wish a few solos had been included to add more variety to the program.

Auditions Set For Shakespeare

Auditions for the 1969 Marin Shakespeare Festival will be held Sunday from 1:30 to 5 p.m. at the Forest Meadows Theater adjacent to Dominican College of San Rafael.

Those wishing to audition should be prepared to present a speech of from 20 to 30 lines from a play they hope to perform in and should bring a glossy photo and a resume, reported Alvin T. Guthertz, public relations representative.

Productions this season will include "Midsummer Night's Dream," Richard II" and "Two Gentlemen from Verona."

There also are openings for stage technicians, reported Guthertz.

Sausalito Pot Case To Superior Court

Leonard Schectel, 22, of Sausalito, yesterday was bound over to Marin Superior Court on charges of possessing and selling marijuana Aug. 21 in Sausalito. Charges against his wife, Vivian, 20, and a friend, Leonard Model, 22, were dismissed, however.

Schectel was told by Judge Hadden W. Roth to appear in Superior Court June 6 for arraignment.

Classical Guitarist To Perform

Classical guitarist Phillip de Fremery of Ross, will give a concert at 8:30 p.m. Saturday at Angelico Hall on the Dominican College campus.

A student of Andres Segovia, de Fremery is a student at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music where he served as student body president. He is the first giutarist in the school's history to win a four-year scholarship.

He also studied at the North Carolina School of the Arts and the Santiago de Compostela in Spain. He is a graduate of Ross School and Redwood High School.

Student Art Shown Through May 23rd

The exhibit is open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. each school day and from 7 to 9 p.m. on Wednesdays. All children in the district will be bused to see the exhibit.

Crafts Show Has A Familiar Ring

By LAURA DEVENDORF

The contemporary crafts show through Saturday at Gallery III in the Marin Co-Op Center is literally a wall-to-wall, floor-to-ceiling exhibition.

It also includes many familiar names — Dick, Dumas, Kennedy, Roush, Dramer, Norstad, Teale, Showcroft, Madison, Falch, Nelson, Biniaritz, Wagner, Patera, Marx, Mazek, Simons, Patera, Harris and Cranford. All add to the planned confusion of ceramics, stitchery, weaving, jewelry and batiks plus items created with materials which only recently have become part of the craftsmen's list.

Of the latter, Kramer's complicated geometric designs of nylon-strung plexiglass evolve into total shapes that are to be used as mobiles or table bases.

How craftsmen vary more standard materials can be equally interesting. In ceramics, Norstad's several pots seem definitely tranquil compared to Dumas' raw bird shapes and masks that have such angry violence.

And the clean, smooth surfaces of Nelson's stem goblets and floral centerpieces have a near-cartoon quality requiring a kind of appreciation different from that needed for the moddy combinations of shapes, tones and textures on Biniaritz's raku pottery.

In stitchery, both Marx and Harris assemble many fabrics into unusual motifs including exotic landscapes and banners. While Teal's six panel work divided by split bamboo and twine incorporates shells and stones and their restitched images into a work that has rare fineness and restraint.

With the exception of an Indian motif stuck on a black and white striped panel, Cranford creates weavings that are sensitive compositions of color and texture. There are several rough, irregular pieces placed appropriately on weathered wood, several bell-hung woven pulls in lush color combinations, as well as Peruvian knotting by this artist.

And what has been mentioned is simply the beginning. Yet with floors, ceiling and walls thick with crafts you seldom see careless execution or hackneyed ideas. The few which do leave raveling, messy edges or creak with commercialism are hardly enough to distract from this mad, happy hunting ground for craft nuts.

No Session

Last night's scheduled meeting of the San Rafael Library Board was canceled for lack of a quorum. It will be re-scheduled later this month, said Vivian Smith, secretary.

Symphony Will Honor Beethoven

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A 24-week program including all Beethoven symphonies and piano concerti was announced today for the 58th season of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra opening Dec. 3.

The season will be the seventh and final one for music director Joseph Krips, who said he was going to "try to make it an interesting and a good season." He said there was an "enormous variety" in the 75 concerts that end May 29, 1970.

The program includes six full weeks of concerts conducted by Seiji Ozawa, who leaves his post as music director of the Toronto symphony this month.

Ozawa, at 33 one of the most highly regarded of young conductors, has a three-year contract to succeed Krips after the next season. Ozawa's 1970 guest appearances will include all four weeks of February and the first two in March.

Krips, who is 67, said he will maintain some connection with the orchestra, which he described as having "reached a point where everybody in San Francisco should be proud of them."

The heavy programming of Beethoven in the upcoming season includes, in addition to the symphonies and concerti, five other major works by the master whose 200th birthday anniversary is being commemorated.

Stanford Opens New Art Center

STANFORD (UPI) — The Nathan Cummings Art building was dedicated at Stanford University yesterday.

The building, constructed at a cost of $2.4 million, was called "one of the three important centers for the study of art in the West" by Dr. Lorenz Eitner, chairman of the Stanford Art Department.

New York industrialist Nathan Cummings attended the dedication with his wife. A major pledge by the couple made the building possible, a university spokesman said.

Special Session

The Marin County Redevelopment Agency will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Manzanita Center, Marin City, to consider an inquiry from the Marin City Council about the status of plans by Marin Development Co. to build 17 houses in Marin City.

Students To Play In Piano Recital

Pupils of James Odette of Mill Valley will present a piano recital open to the public at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the music room of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, 1123 Court Street, San Rafael.

Performing will be Darlene Wade, Dea Belrose, Douglas Ehrenberg, Laurie Sweeney, Gretchen Stranzl, Amy Seminario, Kim and Charles (Chip) Kouba, John Mohler, Eve Ehrenberg, Paul Gorman, Sharon Stranzl, Julie Person and Susan Vaughn.

Bodega Bay Club Is Now Incorporated

30 To Compete In County Bike Rodeo

Thirty Marin youngsters have won the right to compete in a county-wide bicycle rodeo at 8:30 a.m. Saturday at San Rafael City Hall. The top three winners will receive bikes.

The thirty were among 180 boys and girls who competed in six separate preliminary contests Saturday, under the sponsorship of Radio Station KTIM, Marin's Schwinn dealers and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The competition is part of a series of bicycle month events. The second part will be a family bicycle ride at 10 a.m. May 25 from the Civic Center to China Camp and back.

Winners, in order of placement, are:

Corte Madera: Mark Vidler, 12, of 5 Molo Street; John Dallara, 9, of 35 Chickasaw Court; Richard Kogler, 12, of 10 Echo Avenue; Peter Strassman, 9, of 122 Walnut Avenue, and Alan Pasquinelli, 8, of 416 Manzanita Avenue.

Ross Valley: Roy Sonntag, 8, of 444 The Alameda; Ted Robbins, 12, of 67 Ross Avenue; Marcus Lee, 10, of 18 Kensington Court, and Donald McClure, 9, of 1030 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, all of San Anselmo, and Victoria Vallee, 10, of 46 Winship Avenue, Ross.

Novato: Greg Luntzel, 12, of 794 St. Francis Avenue; Jack Davis, 9, of 27 Washington Street; Craig LaDow, 11, of 793 Eucalyptus Avenue; Paul Nye, 10, of 29 Washington Avenue, and Laura La Dow, 10, of 793 Eucalyptus Avenue.

San Rafael: Hugh O'Donnell, 12, of 2190 Danberry Lane; Chris Parlin, 11, of 323 Coleman Drive; John Scarlett, 8, of 1 St. Francis Lane; Susan Glover, 10, of 9 Coleman Drive, and John Parlin, 8, of 323 Coleman Drive.

Mill Valley: Lorraine Kellogg of 135 Peralta Avenue; Debbie Monardo, 12, of 50 Millay Place; Jolie Hughes, 8, of 120 Peralta Avenue; Martin Perone, 10, of 77 Longfellow Drive, and Terry Kellogg, 11, of 135 Peralta Avenue.

Council To Hear Zoning Pleas

The Novato City Council will hold public hearings on proposed amendments to the city's zoning ordinance at 8 p.m. today in the council chambers at the community house.

The proposed zoning changes would require a use permit for residential uses in commercial districts and limit commercial uses and eliminate residential uses in industral districts.

The council also will hold hearings on an appeal of the planning commission's denial of a use permit for a cloudburst car wash in Novato and an amendment to the Novato Auto Mark Master Plan to permit commercial uses by use permit.

San Anselmo Police Open House Saturday

The San Anselmo Police Department will hold an open house from 1 to 7 p.m., tomorrow through Saturday in honor of National Police Week, Chief Raymond R. Buchignani said today.

Visitors will be invited to see photographic and narcotic exhibits and examine the department functions.

Novato Classes In Dog Training

The Novato Parks and Recreation Department will conduct a dog training and obedience course for children 10 through 16 years old at 10:30 a.m. on Saturdays beginning May 24 and running through July 12.

The classes will be held at the Olive School multiuse field. Dogs must be at least three months old to participate.

Registration may be made at the recreation office in Novato City Hall.

Adult-Teen Conference On Monday

The North Marin Federation plans to appoint a committee of adults and teen-agers to work on youth programs and problems in the Novato area, June Owens, recording secretary of the federation said yesterday.

The committee will be made up of four adults and four teen-agers, Mrs. Ownes said, and will study such areas as drugs, a teen center and a Novato youth commission.

The federation will meet at 8 p.m. next Monday at Mrs. Owens' home at 885 Via Escondida.

Mrs. Owens said the federation also plans to send a letter to the Assembly committee on revenue and taxation supporting proposed legislaton to place property taxes on mobile homes. The committee has scheduled public hearing on the matter at 1:30 p.m. May 20.

The federation also plans to discuss at next week's meeting the proposed purchase of the San Marin Club by the City of Novato, a proposal for Friday night or Saturday morning banking hours as an aid to commuters, logging in West Marin and the county sign ordinance hearing scheduled for the county Board of Supervisors May 20 meeting.

Marine Corps Eyes Novato Men

Marine Corps recruiters will begin recruiting men in the Novato area next month for the corps' newly established law enforcement program, Marine officials in Santa Rosa said today.

Officials said recruiters would begin a regular schedule, probably from the main Novato fire station, to attract young men into the program soon after school is out next month.

Detailed schedules will be announced within the next few weeks, they said.

Mill Valley Bicycle Trail Policy Asked

A five-point bicycle trail policy was recommended for city council adoption by the Mill Valley planning and parks and recreation commissions in a joint meeting held last night.

The policy asks that a network of trails be developed throughout Mill Valley with pull-off points at view locations and parking facilities in the down town area, near the library and city parks, according to secretary Jeanne McLean Rohde.

The network should connect with the planned trails of the county and adjacent cities, according to the policy, and a link between Mill Valley and Sausalito should be developed as soon as possible, Mrs. Rohde said.

The commissions also asked that the county be urged to allocate money for the link between Mill Valley and Sausalito.

The policy asks that the city revoke the current prohibition against riding bicycles on city sidewalks but require only that bicycles be ridden in a safe manner; that facilities for bicycle trails and parking be included in the 701 planning study recommendations; and that further study should be given to the development of riding, hiking and cycling trails in the North Ride area.

The Mill Valley Planning Commission also:

TACO BELL — Denied a use permit application by Taco Bell for a take-out food restaurant at 497 Miller Avenue on the grounds the site, as proposed to be developed, is inadequate and the building design was declared unacceptable by the city's architectural advisory committee.

VARIANCE — Denied a variance application by Gene Addleman for relief from offstreet parking requirements for two parcels on Cascade Way at the Dipsea Trail on the ground the parking in the area is already overcongested. The commission also asked the council to zone the property open space and to acquire the property "In some manner."

USE PERMIT — Approved a use permit for a warehouse at the Goodman Building Supply Co., 775 Redwood Highway, subject to architectural advisory committee approval of building plans.

701 PLAN — Postponed consideration of the lower Miller Avenue portion of the 701 plan until May 26 because of the late hour.

Concerned Sausalito Group Assured Teacher To Stay

By CHARLES YOAKUM

Nearly 100 persons jammed the Sausalito School board meeting last night to protest the rumored firing of a new black teacher at the Martin Luther King School.

The large crowd — many of them students — left the district office only after being reassured that William Chaka would not be fired and that the board "felt he was doing a fine job."

Chaka has been with the district about two weeks, officially serving as a "consultant" to an eighth grade class at the school since he does not have a teaching credential. The teacher of record in the class is Margaret Moore, but for the past two weeks, Chaka has been doing the teaching.

Mrs. Moore remains technically in charge of the class, meeting state requirements that there be a certified teacher. She works on lesson plans and generally supervises the work program, Asst. Supt. Joseph Amato told the Independent-Journal after the meeting. Amato said the eighth grade class was added to her responsibilities when it was left teacherless after the resignation earlier in the school year for reasons of health by its teacher. Chaka, Amato said, had taken much of that extra burden from Mrs. Moore.

The large crowd — more than half of them black — began filling up the meeting place shortly after the board had begun the agenda. Within minutes all available seating space — including the floor — had been filled and many others were standing.

The board quickly abandoned its regular agenda and opened the meeting up to the floor.

"It's obvious all these people came to talk about something," board president Bruce E. Woelfel said.

A member of the audience rose and asked the board the status of "brother Bill" referring to Chaka.

"We understand he might lose his job," he said.

District Supt. Phillip W. Schneider asked to reply to the remarks.

"I think its time I made my position clear on this matter," Schneider said.

"William Chaka came into a classroom which had a lot of problems," Schneider said, "and in the short space of time he's been with us, I feel he's done a wonderful job.

"He's maintained control of the class, he's done an extraordinary job. I have every intention of recommending that we continue Chaka's employment. In fact, we are right now trying to get him a credential so he can be a regular teacher. If we can't, then we will work out something on a 'consultant' basis."

Schneider said that he had heard that Chaka was being charged by some white students and parents with "teaching black racism," but he called it nonsense.

"I have also heard that some parents feel that since he is teaching a social studies and English course, some more time should be devoted to those subjects," Schneider said. "But I think this is a case of him being new to the district. He needs time to develop a program."

Chaka was supported by several black students who are in his class.

"Our first teacher didn't do anything and the second taught racism and that all blacks are dirty," one eighth grade girl said. "Until Chaka took over, it was like a jungle in the classroom, with everybody throwing things and stuff."

Another student said that Chaka was teaching "the things that are important."

"Who cares about those punks George Washington and Abraham Lincoln," he said. The same youth charged the white students in the class with "going home to their parents and charging Chaka with teaching racism."

Another black student, Ruth Ann Compton, said that "I have done more work in the last two weeks than I did in the rest of the year.

"The white teachers we had couldn't get the white kids to shut up, and they used to huddle all together in the room, sitting away from us. The kids were scared of black people and so all they do is go outside and talk behind people's backs."

Following each statement in defense of Chaka, the rest of the crowd would break into hand-clapping and cheers.

Trustee Martha Freebairn-Smith asked Schneider if there was anything that could be done to "bring white children around?"

"I 'd rather not get into that at this meeting," Schneider said, "lets postpone it until later."

Chaka is a graduate of San Francisco State with a degree in government, Schneider said.

In other action, the Sausalito School board:

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted the resignations of the two half-time librarians at Martin Luther King, Virginia Geddes and Nancy Schimmel. Both resignations were tendered in one letter citing "personal reasons" as the cause.

COORDINATOR — Took under study a request that a full time "coordinator of volunteers" to coordinate the program which consists of volunteer teacher's aides and tutors. Under the proposal, a full time credentialed teacher would run the program, interview and evaluate volunteers and hold seminars to improve the program.

ART FESTIVAL — Approved the use of school facilities by the Sausalito Art Association for their annual art festival in September.

Weekend Vandalism

Vandals last weekend broke into the Sausalito Arts Association Center at Old Bayside School, threw sandbags around the auditorium and knocked down a light show display, police reported. The damage was discovered when the center was opened yesterday morning.

DOUGLAS WATERHOUSE
Winning carpenter

Novatan Is Carpenters' Skill Winner

Douglas Waterhouse of Novato is one of eight carpenters who will participate in the statewide carpenter apprenticeship contest June 18-21 in Los Angeles.

Waterhouse, who lives at 1117 Ferris Drive, won the honor Saturday when he competed in the 10th Annual Bay Counties Carpenter-Mill Cabinet-Millwright apprenticeship contest in Concord.

It is the third year in a row that someone from Carpenters Union Local 35 in San Rafael has won. Kenneth Becker of San Rafael won last year and Robert Ruzick of Novato won in 1967.

Waterhouse competed with men from the counties of Marin, San Francisco, San Mateo, Alameda and Contra Costa. He built in eight hours a rummage collection box such as is used at supermarket parking lots. He was also required to take a written examination two weeks ago.

Should Waterhouse be the state winner, he will be sent to represent California in the international competition in Chicago Aug. 11-16.

Teachers In Ross Win Pay Backing

Ross teachers, seeking raises of about $1,000 each, received support from parents last night and the school board agreed to continue salary negotiations.

At the last meeting, teachers asked for a pay package which would have cost the district $34,000 a year more and trustees said that kind of money was not available.

Four letters from parents were received last night and board chairman L. G. Maclise made a presentation on various salary schedules, including increases at a lesser rate than proposed by teachers, according to Supt. Robert D. Gowan.

Gowan reported he presented a new working budget to the board last night. The new figure calls for expenditures of $435,470 compared to a March working budget of $423,745.

The difference, he said, includes $6,200 in health benefits for teachers and maintenance work.

He said the board discussed levying a special seventh and eighth grade tax override which can be done without voter approval. He did not have an estimate tax rate figure but said it would be up at least 32 cents per $100 assessed valuation over this year's $2.715 per $100 assessed valuation.

Budget discussions will continue at the next meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday at Ross School.

The Ross School board also:

TEAM TEACHING — Learned a team teaching approach will be used in the second grade next year and there is a possibility it will also be adopted for sixth grade.

SUPERINTENDENT — Discussed the role of the superintendent-principal of the district in preparation for replacing Gowan who has resigned. Board members will discuss with teachers their ideas on administrative posts in the district and agreed to invite a teacher representative to participate in screening candidates for the position.

Fine And Probation For Pot Possession

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court yesterday fined Phillip David Brown, 21, of San Anselmo, $200 for possession of marijuana Oct. 15, 1967, at a College of Marin dance.

He also placed the youth on nine months probation and gave him a 15-day suspended jail sentence.

A co-defendant in the case, David G. Harrington, 21, of Kentfield, is still awaiting trial on the same charge.

Two More Arrests In Silver Theft Case

A San Anselmo junk and antique dealer and a San Rafael man were arrested yesterday by San Rafael police in connection with the theft of approximately $1,300 in silverware and jewelry from a Mission Avenue home on May 4, and sale of some of the goods.

Inspector Gilbert Freitas said the dealer, Bartlett Cannon Tucker, 54, owner of a shop at 1202 San Anselmo Avenue, bought a quantity of the stolen items for $40, a day after the burglary at the home of Ramona C. Wayland at 304 Mission Avenue. Tucker was booked into Marin County Jail in suspicion of receiving stolen property and released on $2,500 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow.

Arrested on suspicion of burglarizing the Wayland home was Paul Danny Cassidy, 22, of 1135 Fourth Street. Freitas said Cassidy's accomplice was George Edward Myers, also 22, with no fixed address. Myers was arrested Friday and is being held on $5,000 bail.

Bail had not been set this morning on Cassidy.

Freitas said all property taken from the Wayland home has been recovered. In addition, he is seeking the owners of a 12-piece serving of sterling silverware recovered in connection with the investigation of the Wayland burglary. The silverware is dated 1895 and bears the initial C.

Freitas said persons with information about the silverware should call him at the police department.

Students Asked To Make A Case

The administrative policy board of Tamalpais High School yesterday asked a student committee to meet the board to argue the case for an open campus.

Approximately 150 students walked off campus at noon Friday to protest Tamalpais's closed campus, after handbills appeared that morning urging the demonstration.

With a closed campus, students are not allowed to leave the school at lunch or between classes without specific permission. Tamalpais has had a closed campus since 1965 when neighborhood protests erupted over littering, trespassing and off-campus brawls among students.

Hearing Set For Man On Exposure Charge

Thomas M. Blankmann, 21, of 594 Keokuk Street, Petaluma, has been scheduled for a hearing Friday in Sonoma Superior Court on a felony charge of indecent exposure.

Blankmann was arrested last week by Petaluma police and was released on $2,500 bail. Officer James Gebhardt said Blankmann was accused of having exposed himself to young girls at the Petaluma Municipal Swimming Pool on April 24 and again last Friday. The offense was considered a felony beacuse of a prior conviction.

$455 In Goods

Burglars broke into the home of Carmen De Armond at 177 Canal Street, San Rafael, yesterday and stole jewelry, a portable television, a camera and binoculars worth a total of $455, police said.

New Panelist To Fair Board

Terry Bonner, of 69 Queva Vista, Novato, was named last night as the chamber of commerce's representative on the Western Weekend Inc. board of directors.

He replaces William Conklin, who resigned.

Directors of Western Weekend, to be held June 12-15, also named judges for the fair's annual beard contest which has drawn 24 entries thus far. Judges will be John Gilmore, past president of Western Weekend, Robert Carrow, former Novato mayor, and Novato barber Robert Comandura.

Sponsors announced at the general membership meeting last night there would be an aerial flag contest this year with a $10 weekly award during the next month.

Teen House Study

A drop-in house for Mill Valley teen-agers will be discussed by the Mill Valley Human Rights Commission at 8 p.m. tomorrow at 172 Lovell Avenue, Mill Valley.

Gnoss Estates Group Fills Two Vacancies

H. James Mumma of 1140 Rosalia Drive was appointed vice president and Anne Lusk of 14 Denise Court was named treasurer of Gnoss Estates Homeowners Association last night, president John Schoonover reported today.

Mumma replaces Muriel Birkland, whose husband is being transferred from Hamilton Air Force Base, and Mrs. Lusk succeeds Josephine Johnson, who is moving from the Novato area.

Schoonover also appointed Ross Brewster of 1150 Rosalia Drive to be the association's representative on the transportation committee of the North Marin Federation.

In other action, the association decided to see what action could be taken to prevent further slides in the development and heard reports on the financial advisory committee's report on Novato schools and progress of a planned beautification project with Olive School

Pet Collie's Death Caused By Poison

Insurance man Edward K. Wachsman of 50 Palm Avenue, San Rafael, has reported to police the family dog was fatally poisoned last week.

Wachsman said he found the pet collie lying beside his home Saturday. A veterinarian's autopsy disclosed the dog apparently had been poisoned by a household drain acid.

All-Day Breakfast To Benefit Youths

The Petaluma Rotary Club will sponsor an all-day breakfast tomorrow from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Elks Club, Petaluma.

Robert Armbruster, breakfast chairman, said all proceeds will benefit the Petaluma Boys' Club and Boy Scouts.

PARENTS: THIS SUMMER LET READAK

Help Your Child to New Success in School

Learn how a summer study program can unlock your child's unused potential

A little boy from San Francisco wrote us this note recently:

"I enjoyed your classes very much. But the time seemed to go by so fast! I partly wish I wasn't fixed up yet so I could go on with the classes. But I know what you have done for me will be a big help afterwards. And I'll learn how to divide just for you."

Course Outline

We don't just "fix up" children. We also teach 'A' and 'B' students how to read with greater comprehension, and how to read faster. We present courses at some of the toughest college preparatory schools in California.

Children of all ages are helped by reading improvement. We have small classes for third, and fourth graders. Fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth graders take our special courses. High school students know they must read well in order to get good grades. And get into college.

Comprehension is the key to any Readak course — for third graders, or for adults. We teach children how to find the main idea, how to spot the key facts, how to remember what they've read. We teach them how a paragraph is organized, and how the paragraphs fit together to make an essay, or a story. We teach vocabulary development.

Phonics is important for younger children. The diagnostic phonics tests tell us if your child needs phonics instruction. He will learn to identify the long vowels, the short vowels, the digraphs, the diphthongs. And he will learn to unlock new words, phonetically.

Study Skills

How often parents have told us, "My child reads well. He is bright. But he doesn't know how to study." Readak has now developed a special Study Skills course. This program makes scholars out of students. Your child will learn:

- How to prepare for study
- How to take notes
- How to take tests
- How to concentrate
- How to remember
- How to write essays
- How to use time
- How to write compositions

Throughout school, your child can only do his best work if he knows how to study. Often, low grades mean only poor study habits.

Your child is given a diagnostic reading test before enrollment. After he is tested, you have a conference with his teacher. You receive the test results in clear, plain talk — no holding back. If we feel we can help, your child is put in the proper class for complete attention to his individual needs. In order to help your child, we must know his present reading ability. And we will not accept any child without proper testing.

Advanced Methods

Readak reading courses do not duplicate the public school approach. There is no conflict. Readak teaches all the most advanced and efficient methods of reading improvement.

Often, regular school instruction is not enough. Classes are large. Teachers are busy. Your child is studying many subjects, not just reading. There is not enough time to concentrate on an intensive reading program.

. . . we won't guarantee we can get her into college, but Readak can give her something just as important — outstanding reading ability and love of books.

Readak has extremely small classes. Our teachers are highly trained reading experts. We teach reading only — not math, and science, and P.E. Just reading. The program is very concentrated, and very effective.

You will be very pleased by the results. Ask your neighbor. Probably her child went to Readak last summer. Children develop a new feeling of confidence. We want every child to be enthusiastic about reading. We want every child to love to read books.

The success of Readak depends upon our success in helping your child. We intend to keep on growing.

Our Director, Clyde R. Brown (M.A., Stanford; current Calif. General Secondary Credential) has taught in Calif. public schools and at Stanford's Counselling and Testing Center. ON VIOLENCE: Brute Force The New 'Education'

By JOYCE GABRIEL

NEW YORK — (NEA)— In 1964, the Berkeley Free Speech Movement erupted into headlines across the nation. Overnight, the peaceful campus was turned into a battlefield. Student rebels, united under a banner they called "freedom," sat in, sang in and struck the university, presenting demands which included the right to collect funds on campus for the Viet Cong, the right to use obscene language on campus, and the right to buy and sell hallucinatory drugs on campus.

At Berkeley, activity stopped as the administration, led by Clark Kerr, then president, attempted to appease the rebels.

The Free Speech Movement collapsed because of lack of support. But certain methods had been used, precedents had been set, and the mechanism had been launched for nationwide campus violence.

LAST APRIL, Students for a Democratic Society, picking up where the Free Speech Movement had left off, seized and occupied five buildings at Columbia University.

Dr. Robert Hessen, an instructor in Columbia's Graduate School of Business, described the Columbia action in a recent magazine article:

"The siege tactics which disrupted Columbia and brought its normal activities to a halt represent the latest assault by a revolutionary movement which aims to seize first the universities and then the industries of America. The rebels are members of Students for a Democratic Society, a nationwide organization with chapters on over 250 campuses."

THE PRINCIPLES of SDS, set forth by Carl Davidson, a student demonstrator and author of the booklet, "The New Radicals in the Multiversity," focus on two things: student power and revolution.

"If there is a single overall purpose for the student power movement," Davidson states, "it would be the development of a radical political consciousness among those students who will later hold jobs in strategic sectors of the political economy."

Student radicals, influenced by Prof. Herbert Marcuse's New Left philosophy, would seek to destroy the university as society's weakest link. And the way to destroy the university is by force.

"The basic issue in campus battles," said Dr. Hessen in an interview, "is whether any group has the right to threaten or initiate the use of force. The initiation of force to achieve one's political objectives is both immoral and illegal, regardless of whether the aggressors are KKK or SDS."

FORCE — VIOLENCE — explodes daily on the campus.

At Harvard University, student rebels held members of the faculty hostage until their demands were met. At Cornell, Afro-American students captured and held the student union building. They were armed with clubs, guns and spears.

These schools represent the best in American education — their admissions standards are among the highest, their courses the most difficult in the nation. In confrontation with student rebels, their administrations backed down.

"APPEASEMENT breeds contempt," said Hessen. "The way for any university administration to deal with campus violence is to state, in advance, that no individual or group may advocate or initiate the use of force and if anyone does, there is no place for the individual on campus. He should be suspended or expelled."

James Perkins, president of Cornell, concurs with Hessen. "It is time to stop the taking over of university buildings by force," he said.

Campus violence is increasing. It has encountered little real opposition.

"The New Left wins by default," explains Hessen. "No one has challenged the movement on ideological grounds. What people have to realize," said Hessen, "is that people who use brute force are not another school of thought."

The Same Old Story: Higher Rates, Less Service

When Winton M. Blount took over as postmaster general under the new administration, he professed himself amazed at the inefficiency in the Post Office Department.

Blount said he was determined to reform the department. As a first step, he moved to take postmaster appointments out of partisan politics. He indicated this was but the beginning of a reform that would restore efficiency to a mail service which has grown steadily worse over the years.

That was three months ago.

LATE LAST MONTH, Postmaster General Blount asked Congress to increase domestic letter postage to seven cents. This, he said, would enable the department to show a $384 million surplus next fiscal year, instead of a loss.

In asking the rate increase, Blount was merely following the foosteps of other postmaster generals of recent years.

Until the early 1930s, the letter rate had been two cents for over four decades. It was raised then to three cents, at which it remained until the Eisenhower Administration. It then went to four. The Johnson years saw it upped twice—to five and then to six cents.

WITH EACH RAISE, there was a promise of improved mail service made possible by innovations in equipment and mail handling. Not one of these promises was fulfilled. Instead of improving, the mail service kept getting worse.

The Post Office Department introduced the "automatic post office." It required everyone to use zip code in addresses "to speed up the handling of mail." It outlawed undersized envelopes "to speed up the handling of the mail."

AND HOW, as result of these and other innovations — and the accompanying increases in postal rates—did the Post Office Department speed up handling of the mail?

It did away with the Railway Mail Service system of sorting mail en route, instead allowing it to pile up at central distribution points (such as San Rafael) awaiting sorting. It discontinued directory searches in the case of wrong street addresses. It cut home deliveries from two a day to one a day—and last year threatened to cut out all Saturday deliveries. It cut the hours of post office service. It reduced special delivery service to the point where the extra postage often does not assure earlier delivery of the letter.

THE POST OFFICE Department, in short, has asked the mailer to do more and more, and has charged him more and more for worse and worse service.

Postmaster General Blount and the Congress should recognize a few obvious facts:

1. The post office is intended to perform a service for all the people. It is a valuable service. To insist that this department—alone of all in the government—be self-supporting is a piece of blatant nonsense.

2. If the volume of mail is excessive, the solution is not to raise rates to keep people from using the service. It is to provide more subsidy and demand the service be improved—at least so it is no worse than it was a generation ago. And if any rates are to be raised, they should be those of bulk mailers, who are in effect subsidized by the mailers of letters and packages.

The United States charges the highest postal rates in the world. And its service is among the worst. If Mr. Blount cannot do better in attacking this problem than to ask for another increase in the letter rate, we suggest he quit and let someone else try.

A Mixed-up Era

This is a crazy, mixed-up time in history. All places in history are a little mixed up, but our own time seems more so than usual. This is reflected in little, seemingly unimportant things.

Today, the frame often costs more than the picture. Barbers are asking for more money at a time when hairiness is the fashion. We spend our time and precious resources in a far distant country while our own environment goes to pot (no pun intended). We pave more of our county while knowing trees are important in the battle on air pollution. And the smog board rules against burning prunings and broken limbs, thus working against its own ends by making tree-ownership an expensive and impractical proposition.

Indeed, it is a strange, strange world we live in.

Movie Information Not Censorship

The members of the Marin Motion Picture and Television Council wish to correct an inaccuracy that was printed in a recent "Women's Agenda" column. The item referred to a program that two of our board members presented to the Tamalpais Center Women's Club wherein we were described as a group that promoted "censorship" of movies and television. Anyone who is acquainted with our group will tell you that we are organized to promote better films and television, stressing family-type entertainment. We try to encourage parents to exercise restraint in th shows they allow their youngsters to see, but we have always urged the two industries (movies and TV) to be responsible in the making their products. Our aim is to supply information from which parents may make their own judgement.

Wornum Absences Only Part-days

In the interests of accuracy I feel that you should correct the statement on my three absences as contained in your editorial of Tuesday, May 6.

On Jan. 23 I was present all day until 3:30, when I had to leave for a long-standing appointment in Fremont. The session continued about two more hours.

On March 11, I with Mr. (Peter R.) Arrigoni was on our two-day visit to Colorado Springs on invitation of the Air Force. I was interested, as you observed previously, in finding out further information on blocking the ABM installation in Sausalito. I did miss this meeting.

On April 8 I was present all morning, leaving at midday to catch a plane to Mexico. I timed my week's vacation so as to be back Monday night and thus only miss the afternoon session on the day I left.

I feel therefore that your statement contains the unfortunate implication that I am not doing my job. I have in effect missed one and one-half sessions in the first three months — not three. It would not be out of order to mention the innumerable extra meetings which we all attend.

Who First In Bay? Argument Continues

How ironic to be called a "die-hard theorist" by a die-hard theorist. I refer to L. A. Phillips letter of May 8 responding to my suggestion that Drake may have been the first to enter S.F. Bay.

Mr. Phillips bases much of his accusation on the spacious theory that anyone and everyone who dares to question Drake's having landed in present-day Drake's Bay does so because they have never sailed off Point Reyes in the summer months . . . He uses the voyages of Cabrillo and Ferrelo as proof. But Cabrillo sailed passed Point Reyes in November; Ferrelo in February . . .

"According to the Spanish, this is the bay in which Sir Francis Drake anchored; however safe he might then have found it, yet at this season of the year it promised us little shelter or security."

Thirty years later another English sea captain, F. W. Beechey, sailed off Point Reyes. He wrote: ". . . (the bay) is too exposed to authorize the conjecture of Vancouver that it is the same in which Sir Francis Drake refitted his vessel."

Long before this both Cabrillo and Vizcaino were unable to make a landing on the beach of Drake's Bay because of adverse winds and high seas. And Cermenho's ship was driven ashore and wrecked on the same beach.

Acre sites in Los Ranchitos, north of San Rafael, were advertised for sale at $2,500.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

GRANDMA put two apples on the table when Stanley and his little sister came calling. One apple was large and bright red, the other withered and wormy. "Now, my loves," said Grandma, "I want to see which of you has the better manners." "She does," said Stanley — grabbing the bigger apple.

A down-and-out actor, who owed money to everybody he knew, sidled up to a wealthy broker outside the Knickerbocker Club and whined, "My wife was taken to the hospital today. Won't you loan me $50 to tide me over this emergency?" "You might change your approach," rasped the broker. "This is the third time you've pulled this story on me. But here's $25 anyhow. Let's both make $25 this time!"

GOLDEN GATE VIEW

Marin's Own Version Of Berlin Wall Pose

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

We were stationed in Germany when the Berlin Wall went up eight years ago, and viewed with much skepticism the quick arrival of a host of American politicians who delighted in posing at the wall.

The flood control project in Kentfield has revived the same sort of ritual by some local and state politicians. The issue for them — if there is one — is secondary to the importance of being seen decrying the dreadful affair.

But in the case of the Kentfield controversy it also is noteworthy that the wailers at the wall are virtually all Democrats. The only relief from the tedium was the frank explanation by a Southern California congressman that he came because a prominent Democrat in the community had summoned him.

With all of the real issues waiting around for someone to get concerned about them, the creek project is awfully tame stuff to arouse so much controversy. Maybe that is its beauty.

Somewhat less refreshing was an appeal last week by a group of College of Marin students that Marin's state legislators enter their fight over the creek. Politics just isn't played that way, but at least the students had a chance to learn more than whatever was taught to them in high school government classes.

THE CALIFORNIA LABOR Federation, AFL-CIO, has condemned a bill to allow sale of prison-made goods in public buildings, at fairs or on property operated by nonprofit operations, rather than only at the state prison. The restriction found its way into a bill last year in a Sanate committee, thus barring future shows such as the one earlier last year at the Civic Center of art from San Quentin Prison.

Since it would not be fair to assume that the federation had reacted blindly to the miniscule threat posed by the sale under such limited circumstances, we can only seek some other reason for its position.

Perhaps the hangup is that the federation's members want to unionize prison inmates before they can be permitted to sell outside the walls. Or maybe there's a jurisdictional fight inside the prison between inmates who have kept up their dues in competing unions.

A HINT of the bind the state is in because of a growing backlog of unsold bonds came last week when Finance Director Caspar W. Weinberger asked the state Public Works Board to try to give property owners state bonds instead of cash whenever the state buys land worth more than $100,000.

The board agreed to try his suggestion, but land acquisition agents of the Department of General Services made it clear that few property owners will go for the idea.

Weinberger conceded that the state will be under heavy financial pressure within a few months when there will be a need for new money to finance the water project.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, may find that this pressure will build his case for a withholding tax — next year, if not now.

$2.5 Billion Price Tag To Rebuild South Vietnam

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

David E. Lilienthal, a man of impressive credentials, once remarked that in terms of wealth-producing capacity war was the best thing that had happened to Germany and Japan in 100 years.

Although both had suffered almost 100 per cent destruction of their industrial capacities during World War II, the reconstruction gave them the world's most modern equipment and enabled them in a few years to become the giants of Europe and Asia, far ahead of France and Britain which had suffered far less war damage.

Lilienthal, former head of the Tennessee Valley Authority, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission and a veteran of development planning in Iran, Colombia and elesewhere, now is at work on post-war rehabilitation for South Vietnam.

A REPORT prepared jointly with South Vietnamese planners now on President Nguyen Van Thieu's desk estimates that South Vietnam with $2.5 billion in economic aid can become economically independent within 10 years after war's end.

The report considered by some to be optimistic, places heavy emphasis on development and reclamation of vast area of the rice-producing Mekong.

It also presupposes efficient South Vietnamese management and presumably an end to a tolerant Asian view toward corruption which annually drains off $150 million or more from the national economy.

TWO OF the more exciting international projects which will bolster the South Vietnamese economy are the Trans-Asian highway which eventually will link Istanbul and Saigon and the $1 billion U.S. investment program offered by former President Johnson in a speech at Johns Hopkins in 1965.

This is the Mekong River development plan benefitting South Vietnam, Cambodia, Laos and Thailand upon which work already is far advanced.

Lilienthal, however, believes that South Vietnam's own development need not await these projects, nor does it need await the end of the fighting.

SOUTH VIETNAM'S pressing wartime needs for improved port facilities, warehousing and roads already have resulted in impressive groundwork for a peacetime economy. Thousands of skilled Vietnamese workers have been the outgrowth of a new port at Cam Ranh Bay, highway construction and related jobs in a $1.8 billion military construction program.

A rice hybrid has more than doubled production in areas where it has been tried.

But in the Mekong Delta alone more than one million acres have gone out of production as farmers fled the fighting.

Settlement of new owners on the land, desalination of water and clearing of silt-filled canals will get top priority. There are hopes for a new timber industry.

And in the end, perhaps, North Vietnam can sell minerals and manufactured goods in exchange for food from the fertile South.

Man At Door In Petaluma Pretty Sure To Be Candidate

When doorbells ring in Petaluma households, its usually not the friendly Fuller Brush man, but an office seeker soliciting votes for the June 10 election.

Candidates on the ringing route report there are so many covering the city that they often cross paths several times in the same afternoon. Despite the onslaught of unscheduled and sometimes untimely visitors, the residents have been most cordial, the candidates report.

CITY COUNCILMAN Robert S. Lipman, running for mayor, usually travels with a "secret weapon" — one of his three young children. When voters ask the youngster why they should vote for Lipman, the child responds, "Because he's my dad."

Incumbent Mayor Helen Putnam, with both of her children grown and out of state, could always enlist the aid of her first grade class. Judging from her popularity among the pupils, she'd have no trouble getting volunteers.

Most Petalumans agree the mayor's contest will be a close race, but are pleased to have the opportunity of choosing between two attractive candidates. "I was getting tired of having to choose between the lesser of two evils when I went to the polls," is a sentiment often heard.

Council candidates are also taking to the streets to gather votes, with some covering as many as 500 homes in one day. Veteran campaigners, carefully selecting their walking shoes, insist there's no cheaper way of reaching the voters.

SONOMA STATE College students last week put on a good demonstration in chaotic campus campaigning. In the original election, where candidates didn't win a clear enough margin and forced a run-off, students had to show official identification cards before voting. The student board of directors later voted that the cards would not be necessary, nor was the punching of cards needed to insure against ballot box stuffing.

Although the campus is currently in a state of political turmoil, the apparent new student body president is Jon Owen of Novato. A native of San Rafael, Owen graduated from San Rafael High School in 1966, where he was also student body president.

Pleased with the election outcome, Owen didn't wage what could be called an extensive campaign or become as emotionally involved as the other candidates. No banner proclaimed his candidacy and only a few campaign signs were posted on bulletin boards.

"I figured that if I won — that would be fine. If I didn't win — well, that would be all right too," he said.

Other students went to great lengths to attract the electorate's attention, including one wearing a sandwich board sign and another who air-dropped leaflets from a dangerously low-flying plane.

ART BUCHWALD

Take It From Mulligan: It's Much Better Not To Know

WASHINGTON — My friend Mulligan was in a stew. "I'm getting sick of all this 'public's right to know' business."

"What are you talking about?" I asked him.

"I've been watching the ABM hearings for two days and I'll be damned if I know what they're talking about."

"But Mulligan, these things should be thrashed out in the open. We have a big stake in the ABM, and if we don't know the pros and cons of the system, we could all be in a jam."

"IS THAT SO?" Mulligan said. "It so happens I was much happier not knowing about the ABM. I was minding my own business. I wasn't aware of the Soviets' first-strike peril; I couldn't have cared less about our second-strike deterrent capability; and I didn't even know there was a generation gap in our missiles."

"A generation gap in our missiles?" I said in astonishment.

"Sure. Don't you realize that our first-generation missiles are being threatened by the Soviets' second-generation missiles, which will soon be replaced by more sophisticated third-generation missiles?"

"I certainly didn't."

"I wish I didn't know, either. I suppose you're also unaware that the Soviets' SS-9 ICBMs are now in full production and will eventually have multiple nuclear warheads that could destroy five or six cities in the United States at the same time. How would you like to go to sleep with that knowledge every night?"

"I'D HATE to dream about it."

"What's going on in this country, anyway?" Mulligan said. "In the days gone by, before the public had a right to know, we had guys to do our worrying for us.

"It was their job to stew about someone blowing up the world. Now they tell us everything, and we're supposed to figure out what they're talking about. It's like a brain surgeon showing you 20 different instruments and asking you which one you want him to use for the operation."

"You're overwrought, Mulligan. The reason that they want you informed on matters pertaining to nuclear defense is that the people charged with safeguarding our country don't want to make mistakes. They feel if the public is aware of the danger, then they'll get the support so necessary to implement the decisions."

"BIG DEAL! What am I supposed to do — pick up the phone and say, 'Hey, Secretary Laird, if I were you I wouldn't worry about the Soviet first-strike peril. Come up with a more feasible Multiple-Independently-Targetable-Reentry Vehicle that won't cost too much and I'll put in a good word for you with the Daughters of the American Revolution'?"

"Now you're not being reasonable," I admonished Mulligan.

"Reasonable? We don't even know if the Minuteman ICBMs will work, so how the hell are we supposed to know if the ABMs work? Suppose the ABM system is protecting missiles that can't get off the ground?"

"YOU DON'T HAVE all the facts at your command to make that judgment," I said.

"You're damn right I don't," said Mulligan. "So I don't want to know any facts at all. You have to be a physicist to understand the questions, much less the answers, at the televised hearings. I say if they're going to mess around, let them do it in private. I really don't have any interest in how many more years we have before the Chinese can blow us up."

"You're being unfair to our leaders. All they're trying to do is share their awesome responsibility with you."

"If I wanted that awesome responsibility, I would have run for President or asked Mr. Nixon to make me secretary of defense," Mulligan said. "I'll make a deal with the administration. I'll worry about the sportswear business if they don't bug me with their problems about the ABM."

"You don't have the nuclear-team spirit, Mulligan. Aren't you at least interested in the missiles we're building for peace?"

Child Bike Rider Hurt By Collision

A 6-year-old Petaluma boy was injured yesterday at 6:05 p.m. when he rode his bicycle into the path of a car at 631 Baker Street, Petaluma, police reported.

Joseph A. Perrault, 529 Upham Street, was reported in good condition at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital with a concussion. Police said the youngster entered the street from a blind alley and struck the side of a car driven by Raymond E. Knapp, 32, of 3745 Skillman Lane, Petaluma.

Reagan Promises Decision Soon On Dos Rios Project

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan today wrestled with the decision on whether to approve the controversial Dos Rios Dam project, target of a bitter struggle between conservationists and water developers.

Aides indicated Reagan would announce a decision "soon."

The decision fell square in Reagan's lap yesterday when State Resources Secretary Norman B. Livermore Jr., a former Marin County resident, timber executive and director of the conservationist Sierra Club, made his recommendation.

But Livermore refused to disclose what recommendation he made on the estimated $400 million water development and flood control project on the north coast in Mendocino County.

Livermore, whose own agency is sharply divided over the proposal, met in a closed-door cabinet session with Reagan for about an hour and a half.

Highly placed sources indicated Livermore expressed opposition to construction of the 730-foot dam whose capacity would be greater than Oroville Lake and Lake Shasta combined.

Livermore has told intimates he opposes the project and his public statements have not contradicted this.

Reporters asked about a published report which said he would quit his post if Reagan approved the dam. He termed the report "twisted."

"I'll resign if the governor fires me," he said in response to questions. But pressed for a fuller explanation of the remark, he said he made the comment in "jocular" fashion.

"We're all living on limited time," he said.

Republican Chairman Gordon Cologne of the Senate Water Resources Committee said Reagan told the project supporters during a separate private meeting later "flatly he had not yet reached a decision."

A PROTESTER PROTEST

Teens Stage Relay Jog For Patriotism

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP) — Bearing an American flag, 30 seniors of Owensboro Catholic High School have completed an 180-mile relay jog as a protest against campus protesters.

The youths, tired but happy, finished their 22-hour journey from the state capitol at Frankfort yesterday.

"We had a job to do that was more or less patriotism," said Mike Mills, one of the joggers. "If we failed, then the whole school had failed. We did the job."

Tom St. Maxens, the student government president, who conceived the idea for the patriotic run, commented "The stiffness is just beginning to settle in on everybody."

Earlier the mood was one of jubilation, as a 100-car entourage led the group into Owensboro.

"It seemed everybody in town had turned out to welcome us," said one runner.

Senior class president Bernie Ballard carried the flag the last leg. "The closer I got to the high school, the faster I wanted to go," said Ballard.

At the end of the journey, St. Maxens ran the flag up the pole in front of the school while a crowd of 200 joined in reciting the Pledge of Allegiance and singing the national anthem.

The relay started Sunday afternoon.

Cubs' Annual Derby Is Set For May 22

Fellowships Go To Six Scholars For Grad Study

Five Marin scholars and one Southern Sonoma student have been awarded graduate fellowships by the State Scholarship and Loan Commission, Arthur S. Marmaduke, executive director, has announced.

Fellowship are up to a maximum of tuition and fees for the 1969-70 academic year, he said.

Selected from Marin and the schools they will attend were: Daniel Friedman, 353 Montford Avenue, Mill Valley, Stanford; Helen L. Hart, 46 Mohawk Avenue, Corte Madera, University of California at Berkeley; Timothy H. Hollingsworth, P. O. Box 303, Bolinas, Dominican College; Gustav A. Koehler, 1118 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, University of California at Davis; and Gilbert R. Precivale, Box 193, Lagunitas, Stanford.

TV REVIEW

Doctors To Make Return

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Doctors, once a very hot entry on network television, will be making a return to the home screen next season in a big way.

Or, as the French say, the more things change, the more they are the same.

The video territory once staked out by the likes of "Ben Casey" and "Dr. Kildare" will be claimed in the fall by three new shows—one on each major commercial network.

On CBS-TV, viewers will find an hour series which will be titled either "Medical Center" or "UMC" (University Medical Center).

On ABC-TV, the freshman show will be called "Marcus Welby, M.D.," and will star Robert Young as an oldtime doctor with a brash young assistant. This program is also an hour in length.

NBC-TV, meanwhile, has a weekly hour series titled "The Bold Ones," which actually will be three alternating shows—one of them focusing on persons involved with "the new medicine."

It is very clear the recent real dramas concerning transplants have helped give a new life to the glamor of the medical profession, and will probably be used plentifully on television come fall.

Griffith Beats Hayward, May Get Shot At Nino

NEW YORK (AP) — "Good fight, Emile," said middleweight champion Nino Benvenuti of Italy. You'll fight me, Nino?" asked Emile Griffith.

"Sure," replied Benvenuti.

So it looks like a fourth middleweight title fight is in the works between the two arch-rivals, probably for September in New York although nothing is on paper today.

FROM BEHIND

Griffth earned the shot by coming from behind to beat cut-prone Stan "Kitten" Hayward of Philadelphia on a decisive, unanimous 12-round decision at Madison Square Garden last night.

Hayward, who had outpointed Griffith in Philadelphia last Oct. 29, had rocked the former welterweight and middleweight champion with a stunning right to the jaw in the fourth round and was outboxing the grim New Yorker at this stage.

AFTER CUT

But when the wide cut on the Kitten's left eyebrow was opened in the fifth and blood streamed from the gash, Griffith took charge and dominated the fight from then on.

Referee Arthur Mercante and judge Tony Castellano each had Griffith the winner in rounds 8-4 while judge Johnny Dran had it 9-3 for Griffith. The Associated Press card had Griffith in front 8-4.

"It was Griffith all the way," said Benvenuti, who took the title from Emile a second time here 14 months ago. "He would have won even if Hayward was not cut. Griffith looked slower but stronger since I fought him."

BORED IN

Griffith bored in to work over Hayward's body and to prevent him from getting too much punching room.

"I couldn't get set for more than one punch the way he worked," said Hayward. "Then when I was cut, I couldn't see out of the eye for several rounds. I think I'll have an operation to get the scar tissue removed."

He was cut in the same place only last March 17 in a losing 15-rounder with Freddie Little for the junior middleweight title in Las Vegas.

IN TRAINING

Benvenuti came down from his training camp at Grossinger, N. Y., to watch the fight. The handsome Italian is training for a nontitle 10-rounder at the Garden May 26 with Dick Tiger, the former middleweight and light heavyweight champion from Biafra.

Hayward weighed the agreed limit of 161 pounds after sweating off 1½pounds within two hours after the first weighin. Griffith weighed 155.

Quite A Rebuilding Job At Rohnert Park Course

COMEBACK OF THE YEAR — There is a popular ditty which advises that if you get knocked on your kisser, pick yourself up, dust yourself off and start all over again.

That could very well be the theme song for the Rohnert Park municipal golf course.

Although it has been in existence for several years, the Rohnert muni until only recently was sort of a black eye to the seven-year-old Sonoma County city. The course developer, Dorado Pacific Corp., was forced into bankruptcy a number of years ago and the links, in awful shape from the beginning due in part to an inadequate irrigation system, appeared destined to become a subdivision.

The adobe soil in that neck of the woods made golfing a miserable adventure because of huge cracks in the fairways. I know one golfer who in one hour on the links lost four balls and his wife through the crevices, by cracky.

City Comes To Rescue

Anyway, the young city of Rohnert Park came to the rescue in 1967 by acquiring the 130-acre site and immediately launching an energetic renovation program under the green thumb guidance of course superintendent Sam Singh.

The first nine holes were opened last August and the final nine just two months ago. What once resembled Market Street after the '06 quake today is a lush and quite pleasant golf course.

City officials, proud as punch, hosted members of the news media the other day at a special prededication preview of the course.

I was given a cook's tour of the greenery by Chris Christensen, a former College of Pacific basketball star who is the Rohnert Park Men's Golf Club's tournament director.

Covering 130 acres, the course measures 6,435 years; men's par is 71, women's 74.

Adobe Problem Eliminated

Christensen, a former Marin County resident, pointed out that a new irrigation system has virtually eliminated the adobe problem; new lakes were created and existing lakes enlarged; sand traps were enlarged and filled with white Monterey sand; many pine trees have been planted; the clubhouse has been remodeled and a new access road from the freeway leads into a new parking lot.

"We're quite proud of this course," said Chris. "Rohnert Park (population 5,875) is the smallest city in the state with an 18-hole muni course. And we've got some good tournaments coming up to show it off. We're hosting the North Bay Counties Tournament of Champions June 15 and 22 and the Sonoma County Men's Amateur Championships July 27 and Aug. 3. We're expecting more than 100 club champs and runners up in the June tourney."

Club president Alan Appleton intoned: "It used to be like our own private country club here, but now that the word's out how we've renovated the course we're seeing more and more strangers."

Said club professional Bob Porter: "We can handle over 250 players a day and business is really picking up. Tell Marin County golfers they're welcome."

There Are No Weeds To Fight

Boasted Rohnert Park mayor Jimmie Rogers: "This course is unique in that there is no rough area, no weeds to fight. Play moves right along because there is no delay looking for lost balls."

There are a number of water hazards which keep things interesting. For example, two greens are completely surrounded by water. Also, a Northwestern Pacific line runs past the western boundary of the course so if you hook a shot on the ninth hole your Spaulding could wind up in Willits.

In the planning stage for the course is a subdivision to be known as Golf Lake Estates. The master plan also calls for a school near the 12th green. It will be an elementary school, so punsters won't be able to call it Pin High.

Yes, things are really booming at our young neighborhood to the north. If you're having trouble getting starting times in Marin, give Rohnert muni a jingle. They'll welcome you with open arms. It's only about a 35-minute drive from San Rafael.

Longden Gets His Tips From Majestic Prince

BALTIMORE (AP) — Trainer Johnny Longden can't get any information straight from his horse's mouth. But he picks up valuable tips sitting on the back of Majestic Prince.

"I guess I have a little edge by working my own horse," Longden said of the Kentucky Derby winner who goes after his second leg of the Triple Crown in Saturday's Preakness at Pimlico.

"By exercising my horse, I can tell by his actions when something is bothering him," said the former jockey, who won a record 6,032 races. "Then I can use my own judgment instead of relying on someone else. I get my information first hand, because I'm always there."

Longden recalls Majestic Prince once acted a bit sluggish during a workout at Santa Anita and a subsequent check showed he had a temperature of 102 degrees.

Rams Get Bob Brown In Five-Player Deal

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The Philadelphia Eagles settled a personnel problem yesterday by trading offensive tackle Bob Brown to the Los Angeles Rams in a five-player deal which returned defensive back Irv Cross for a shot at coaching his former teammates.

Brown, the 6-foot-4, 295-pounder called by Rams' Coach George Allen the "finest offensive lineman in football," asked to be traded "for personal reasons."

He met with Eagles General Manager Pete Retzlaff in the morning, and less than five hours later Retzlaff said he and Allen confirmed the deal, sending Brown and defensive back Jim Nettles to the Rams in return for Cross, offensive tackle Joe Carollo and offensive guard Don Chuy.

"The visit from Brown was not unexpected," Retzlaff said later. "I've been talking to George Allen for five days about a trade and I knew who I wanted."

Brown had indicated a desire to be traded after Eagles new owner, Leonard Tose, named Retzlaff general manager last week in place of Joe Kuharich.

Sohner Wins Doubleheader

Sohner Tree Service of San Anselmo swept an ulcer-inducing doubleheader in the Santa Rosa Softball League last night, beating the Alibi Club of Santa Rosa 1-0 in the opener and nipping Sebastopol 2-1 in the 14-inning nightcap.

Chuck Tyson pitched a one-hitter for Sohner in the opener. The only run came in the first inning when Herb Dower singled, was sacrificed to second, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on an infield out by John Brookman.

Iron man Maury Swarm pitched all 14 innings in the nightcap, striking out 16, walking 1 and yielding 5 hits. Sohner broke up the marathon with two out in the bottom of the 14th when Nolan Wilson singled and Jess Munyon tripled.

USC, UCLA, Stanford Big Winners

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Southern California put on a spectacular offensive display yesterday to sweep a doubleheader from Washington but the Trojans are still in second place in the Pacific-8 Conference baseball standings.

The Trojans, who have a 13-5 mark, blasted seven pitchers for 26 hits to post 13-2 and 11-7 victories over the Huskies. Cal Meir, the leading extra base hitter in the conference, led the explosion with five hits and four RBIs in the nightcap.

UCLA and Stanford remained deadlocked for the top spot with 14-4 records by taking twinbill sweeps.

The Bruins defeated Washington State, 4-1 and 9-7, and Stanford, behind the pitching and hitting of Bob Boone, took Oregon State, 4-3 and 12-2.

In the fourth Pac-8 doubleheader, Oregon took California 4-3 in the first game but the Bears bounced back to take the second game 10-9.

Giants Hope Bolin Can End The Skid

S.F. Falls To Pirate Late Rally

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The sliding San Francisco Giants call on big Bob Bolin tonight in an effort to reverse the unfavorable tide.

The Giants, who earlier ripped through a nine-game winning streak, suffered their eighth loss in 10 games yesterday when rookie Al Oliver cracked an opposite field single with two outs in the ninth to give Pittsburgh a 4-3 victory.

PERCENTAGE PLAY

Manager Clyde King played percentage baseball — not once but twice — in the final inning but it went for naught.

After Manny Sanguillen doubled down the rightfield line with one out, King brought in his ace southpaw reliever Joe Gibbon to face three lefty Pirate swingers, Rich Hebner, Willie Stargell and Oliver.

The first man drilled a single to right but Ken Henderson made perfect throw to the plate to nab Sanguillen. Then figuring the veteran Stargell more of a threat than Oliver, King ordered him intentionally walked.

SPOILS PLAN

In tonight's game, Bolin (2-2) will be opposed by either Bob Moose (3-1) or Steve Blass (2-2).

Marin Softballer 'Player Of Week'

Catcher Jess Munyon of Sohner Tree Service team of San Anselmo, was named "Player of the Week" in the Golden Gate Travel League for his hitting against Koss Supply in a May 4 doubleheader.

Munyon is the second Sohner player to receive the award. Outfielder Gary Swarm received the award several weeks ago.

Munyon collected four hits in the first game to drive in all three Sohner runs in a 3-2 victory. The Sohner catcher's fourth hit drove in the winning run in the bottom of the seventh.

Two Win Streaks Clash In Oakland

OAKLAND (UPI) — Unless it rains — and it's not likely — one winning streak will come to an end tonight. The Oakland Athletics hope it won't be theirs.

The A's have six straight hard-earned victories under their belts plus 10 of their last 11 and are in a virtual tie for first place with Minnesota in the Western Division of the American League.

EIGHT STRAIGHT

On the other hand, the Boston Red Sox have reeled off eight consecutive wins, including the last five on the road, and are only a game out of the top spot in the Eastern Division behind pace-setting Baltimore.

Dick Williams had been getting excellent long ball power from his Bosoxers. As a team, they have connected for 42 home runs in 29 games to lead the majors. Rico Petrocelli, who is batting at a torrid .360 clip, leads the club with 10 homers.

BIG GUNS

Oakland's top stickers include Danny Cater and his .328 average, Reggie Jackson with 10 homers and Rick Monday and Sal Bando who have 23 and 22 runs batted in, respectively, to rank among the league leaders.

Opening night hurlers are slated to be rookie Mike Nagy (1-0) for Boston and Jim Nash (3-1) for the A's.

Four Men Hurt, Six Horses Die In Fire

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (UPI)— A flash fire raced through a stable at Garden State race track early today, burning it to the ground as grooms and handlers worked to get 60 thoroughbred race horses to safety.

Police and firemen, who in less than an hour, said six horses died and four persons—two firemen and two track workers—were slightly injured, brought the fire under control

DESTROYED

Stable B, the oldest of a dozen stables at the track, was completely destroyed. Stable C, which had 40 horses inside, was slightly damaged.

All the dead horses were in Stable B, which was 250 feet by 40 feet.

One of the dead thoroughbreds was "old Woman," which yesterday won a $7,500 claiming race. She was owned by Kenny Noe, Sr.

The two track workers injured were knocked down when they attempted to keep horses from re-entering the burning stable from which they had evacuated. They were identified as Samuel Kirk, 58, a track security guard, and Theodore Craig, 59, an assistant trainer from Baltimore.

ROAM AREA

While all seven fire companies from Cherry Hill and firemen from five surrounding areas fought the general alarm blaze, the track workers tried to lead the horses to the track area. But many of the frightened animals broke loose and roamed the fenced-in track area for hours afterwards until handlers were able to catch them and bed them down in different areas away from the burned stable.

It was the first fire in the 20-year history of the track.

Swimming Pool Open Fridays, Saturdays

The Redwood High School swimming pool will be open for public use on Fridays and Saturdays now through the end of the school year in mid-June, Recreation Director Dick Hart announced.

The pool will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. Admission is 40 cents for adults, 25 cents for high school students and 15 cents for elementary school students, said Hart.

The Amazing Comeback Of Boston's Conigliaro

It was on the night of Aug. 18, 1967, that the Boston Red Sox had to call time because their ace batter, Tony Cognigliaro, got something in his eye—a baseball.

The pitcher had to call for a new ball, too, because that one had blood on it. So did Tony Conigliaro.

Tony was unable to take his base because he was too busy trying to hang on to the earth.

IT WAS the earliest Tony had got to bed in 10 years. It should have been easy to get to sleep because all Tony had to close was one eye, but this was one night he had a good excuse for breaking curfew. The doctors were X-raying whatever parts of the eye they could find till well into the morning.

The headache didn't last a day over a year, but the dizziness had more staying power. Tony was the only guy in Boston who could get seasick riding a bus.

THE DOCTORS who examined the X-rays wondered politely if anyone had heard the ball ticking just before it hit. Aside from the fractured cheek bone and dislocated jaw, there was internal bleeding where the eye had been. Tony was on the critical list for 10 days and the disabled list for two years.

NATURE IS bountiful with skin and bones, but eyes come only two to a customer, and Tony's left one was only slightly better than a glass one. Depth perception vanished to the point where he would back through doors, and vision plunged to 20/300. The only thing Tony could see out of his left eye was a forest fire. He'd have to be careful not to bump into an elephant. A cyst had burst a hole through the seeing part of the eye and it was flooding with fluid. Tony not only couldn't play a baseball game, he couldn't even watch one. Movies gave him a headache. Television looked like a match burning in a dark room.

IT WAS a tragedy for all baseball. Young Tony Conigliaro was far ahead of Babe Ruth's home run pace at the time. Only 22 years old, he had already hit 104 home runs in the big leagues (and 24 in only 80 games in the minors). On the first pitch ever thrown to him in Fenway Park, he broke windows in the house across the street from the left-field fence. Only one thing could have saved Babe Ruth. And, it appeared, it had.

The Red Sox won the pennant, but Tony was still going around bumping into things. When he went to spring training, the count would be 3-and-2 before Tony knew they had even let go of the ball. They threw him the kind of pitches you throw to little kids in the backyard — or the living room. Tony could have batted safely in a greenhouse. It was hard hitting a ball five inches in diameter, when he had trouble standing on one 8,000 miles in diameter.

AT FIRST, Tony gave in to black despair. "I was the saddest buy in town. I spent a lot of time with myself, but I was no fun to be with. When I laughed, it was only noise. My mouth was the only part of me that was laughing.

"At first I thought, 'Why should I ask God for help now when I'm down when I didn't need him when things were going good?' " God would know him for a fake, Tony felt.

THEN, MEDALS, rosary beads, letters from 20,000 people all over the world, Bibles, prayers from nuns in Italy and priests in Japan and ministers in Boston began to come in. "It gave me a push," Tony admits. "I found out from some of those people I was still a pretty lucky guy compared to a lot of them. I became a different person, I think a better one."

He tried a career singing. At 6-foot-3 with silken brown hair and movie actor looks, he had no trouble packing the clubs, but the squeals of teen-agers were no substitute for the roar of a Series crowd. "You never realize how much you're going to miss something you're fit for till you can't do it any more."

HE LOVED baseball enough to try to get back into it as a pitcher. He was far less of a threat to Babe Ruth at this, but at a winter instructional league last November, an astonishing thing happened: Tony Conigliaro looked up and there was the lovliest sight in the world, a baseball hanging in the air — a nice, fat, hitable baseball with Joe Cronin's name on it. Gingerly, he swiped at it with the bat — and heard the two most wonderful sounds in the world, the crack of the bat and the thump of the centerfield fence.

A crowd began to collect. The manager, Billy Gardner, called over to the pticher, "Throw him something hard." "He just hit my 'A' pitch off the center-field fence," the pitcher called back softly.

CONIGLIARO REFUSED to become too heartened. But he got so good, some of the pitchers were beginning to think about brushing him back again.

He hot-footed it to the Boston Eye Clinic. The doctor examined his eye, then checked him for wings or a halo. He didn't know whether to report it to the Medical Assn. or Lourdes. Tony's eye was 20/20. Babe Ruth was in deep trouble again.

"I DON'T know what to attribute it to," confessed the doctor. Tony did. And went right to church to do it.

Drake Warner Grid Sign-Ups

Coach Tony Barbera of the champion Drake Junior Pirates in the Marin Pop Warner Football League announced sign-ups for boys in the fourth through seventh grades will be held tomorrow night, 7:30 at Isabel Cook School in San Anselmo.

Another sign-up will be held the following Wednesday, May 21, at 7:30 p.m., at Fairfax Pavilion.

On hand with coach Barbera to explain the Warner Football program will be Walt Boatright, booster club president, and assistant coaches Randy Garrison, Darrell Williamson, Alan Brady, Marv Ingraham and Joe Casalnuove.

Boys must reside in the Drake High School area to play for the Junior Pirates.

Gibson's Perfect Game—With Bat

Bob Gibson had a perfect game, but he won't go down on the list with Don Larsen, Jim Bunning and Sandy Koufax.

The St. Louis ace collected three singles and a walk in four times at bat las night as the Cardinals defeated Los Angeles 6-2.

CUBS WIN

In the only other National League games, Pittsburgh edged San Francisco 4-3 and Chicago topped San Diego 2-0.

"I've had four hits in a game before, but I don't think I ever had a perfect night," Gibson said. "I should remember something like that, but I don't."

The 33-year-old right-handed hitter, who has hit one home run in each of the last two World Series, started his perfect game with a single in the third.

In the fourth, Claude Osteen intentionally walked Steve Huntz with two out, loading the bases, and Gibson followed with a two-run single, increasing the Cardinals' lead to 3-0.

EVEN STEALS

The pitcher led off the seventh with a single and scored, then walked in the eighth and stole second.

"Anytime they play behind me, I'm going to run," said Gibson, referring to first baseman Ron Fairly's playing off the bag. "I don't believe in that stuff about being four runs ahead and you play nice. Four runs isn't that much of a lead."

It was for him, though, as he scattered seven hits for his fourth victory against two defeats. He also tied a major league record in the seventh inning when he struck out three Dodgers on nine pitches.

DAVIS HOMERS

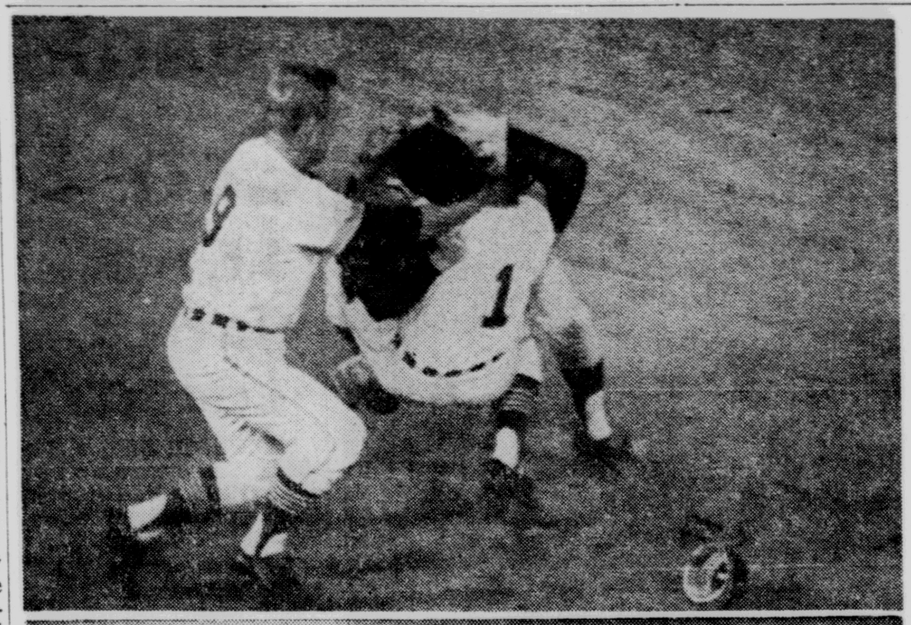
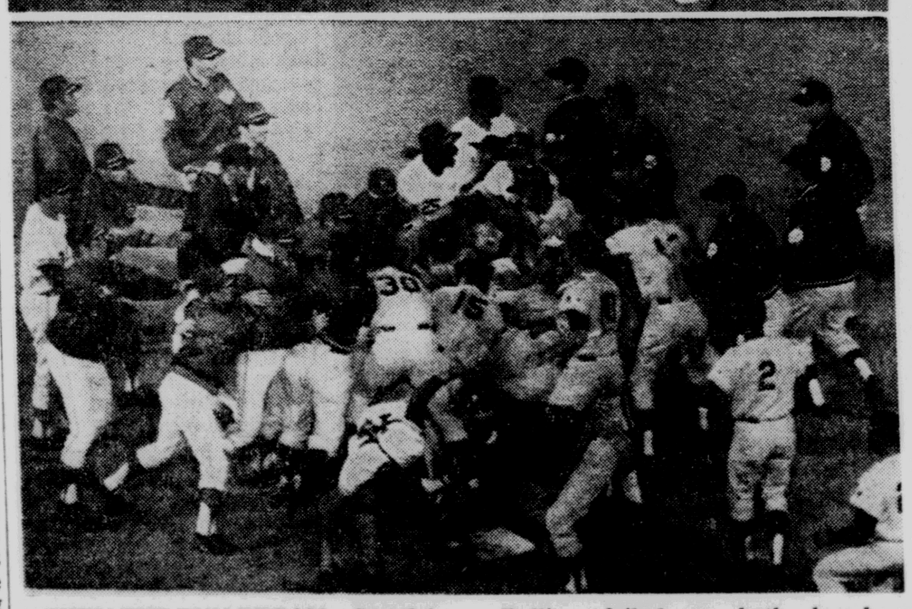
Ferguson Jenkins pitched a five-hitter and drove in the only run he needed against San Diego. The run came in the second inning as Jenkins grounded into a force play following singles by Randy Hundley and Al Spangler and a walk to Adolfo Phillips.





THEN THE FUN BEGAN—Seattle's Rich Rollins (9) tried to break up a fight between teammate Ray Oyler (1) and New York's Bobby Murcer (top photo), after Murcer slammed into Oyler in a hard slide at second. Rollins failed as both benches emptied, (bottom) for a five-minute brawl ending in the ejection of Murcer, Oyler and Yankee manager Ralph Houk.

It's Wild Time In Seattle When Pilots Dump Yankees

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

After two weeks in headlong retreat, the New York Yankees have stopped running and started fighting back—from a horizontal position.

The powder puff Yankees, floored by a seven-run Seattle salvo in the first inning last night, countered with a flurry of elbows, fists and body blocks before bowing to the Pilots 8-4 for their 13th loss in the last 15 games.

HARD SLIDE

Bobby Murcer, one of the few Yanks who hasn't lost his punch, socked a two-run homer in the first inning and decked Seattle shortstop Ray Oyler with a rolling slide in the third, touching off a mass melee at second base.

Embattled Manager Ralph Houk shoved an umpire after the brawl was over and got himself tossed out of the game along with Murcer and Oyler.

Relief pitcher Fred Talbot drew a warning from Umpire John Rice for knocking down Seattle hurler Marty Pattin in the bottom of the third and catcher Frank Fernandez almost triggered another donnybrook in the fourth by bowling over Pilots' receiver Gerry McNertney on a play at the plate.

ANGELS WIN

While the Yanks and Pilots battled at Seattle, the California Angels scraped past Washington 3-2 at Anaheim in the only other game on the American League schedule.

Tommy Davis' three-run double off Al Downing, who had walked the first three batters he faced, keyed Seattle's first inning spree. Jose Vidal's triple and singles by Pattin and Tommy Harper helped the Pilots rake reliever Mike Kekich for four more runs and a 7-2 lead.

Murcer, whose ninth homer sent the Yanks ahead before the deluge, came up again in the third and was brushed back by a Pattin pitch. He then singled to right and tried to stretch the hit, bowling over Oyler at second base. Oyler made the tag and then came up swinging. Murcer fought back and both benches emptied.

'NO WAY'

"He came in throwing an elbow," Oyler said after the game. "That's no way to play baseball."

"I had no intention of starting anything," Murcer said. "He jumped me, then I jumped him. Then everybody was on top of both of us. I don't think anyone really got hit, and I don't think there's any hard feelings now."

After the scuffle broke up, Houk stood toe-to-toe with umpire Russ Boetz and argued that Oyler had dropped the ball in the collision at second. Goetz thumbed him out and Rice, the senior umpire, had to step between them before escorting Houk to the dugout.

BENCHES EMPTY

Talbot low-bridged Pattin with two out in the Pilots' third, drawing a warning from Rice, and when Fernandez piled into McNertney in a futile attempt to score in the fourth, players streamed off both benches again.

But no punches were thrown and there were no further incidents as Pattin breezed to his fifth victory against one loss and the Yanks stumbled to their fifth straight setback.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG

Many women bowlers seem reluctant to pitch the ball out six or so inches over the foul line. If you suspect you may be dropping the ball, place a piece of paper just over the line where you release the ball. If black marks show up on it, you're dropping the ball. Concentrate on giving the ball a lift over the line.

SLUMP OF HIS OWN

Harrelson Like All Indians

CLEVELAND, (AP) — Hopes that Ken Harrelson would lift the Cleveland Indians out of their slump have not been fulfilled as he tries to break out of a slump of his own.

The Indians had only one victory in nine games in their worst start in years when they acquired the 1967 American League runs batted in champion from the Boston Red Sox in a six-player swap April 19.

Acquisition of the Boston slugger caused a surge of hope in the breast of many a Cleveland fan, and Manager Alvin Dark stated that Harrelson is the kind of guy who "can take this team and turn it right around."

Sixteen games later the Indians have a 4-21 record for an incredible .160 average, and the Hawk is battling to climb out of a slump during which his batting average has dropped 41 points.

Harrelson came to the Indians with a .239 average and now it is down to .198. He has had seven hits, including one homer, and four runs batted in, in 45 at bats since donning a Cleveland uniform.

The Hawk says the team slump bothers him more than his own.

"If the team was winning, it wouldn't bother me," Harrelson said last night as the Indians, who were idle yesterday, prepared to take off for Kansas City. "When they're losing ... that makes it doubly hard to take.

"I'm working as hard as humanly possible to break out of the slump."

State Replenishes Marin Waters With Catchables

Lakes Laguunitas and Phoenix and Rodeo Lagoon will receive their third plants of trout this week.

Most of the fish are nine to ten inches long and a limit makes a meal for about four people. Anglers using flyrods(fly lines and light leaders with a No. 10 or No. 12 hook, and a good class of salmon egg take easy limits with good action and sport.

Other anglers using spinning rods and small lures do just as well. Bait can be used on spinning gear if preferred. Rarely will one get a large fish from these waters as the pressure is very heavy. One year the state planted 10,000 catchables at Lagunitas, keeping a man on the scene to check the fish out. The first day 7,000 were taken, the second day 2,600 were taken and the remainder the third day.

I RECEIVED a call from the family of Gary Morgan of Tiburon in regards to his 20-inch trout taken at Rodeo Lagoon on opening day. I had kiddingly implied that maybe the size of this fish was stretched a little. They want to send me this 20-inch fish (I really think it was bigger!) through the mail for proof. Now, my wife, Mary, who happens to be the post master at Woodacre, says I've had it if everyone I needle starts sending fish through the mails to prove their point. I may never again say anything about anyone's fish in this column. (Except maybe about some of my friends' fish!)

KENT LAKE has been slow, but the anglers there are after trophies and are content to fish for one or two lunkers even if it takes a week. So far most of them are still getting their week in!

At Lake Berryessa near Napa, Joe Mello and his wife Molly of Santa Venetia took 18 trout trolling, though they had never fished there prior to this year. It took them about three trips to solve the puzzle of this lake.

I HEARD that Bernard Nerviani of Fairfax caught a trout that was short, but weighed six pounds or more. It was so fat that an experienced anglerette friend of mine thought it was a black bass. Descretion is the best part of valor here. I have no further information on this one!

THE STRIPED bass that Mello caught on April 9 in San Pablo was tagged with the $2 tag at Antioch on April 3. Also, this was the first tag returned to the Department of Fish and Game for a reward payment. That fish traveled from Antioch to San Pablo in six days or less.

I NOTICED Saturday that they were dredging out the launching ramp channel at the Marin Rod and Gun Club pier at Pt. San Quentin. Big trucks hauling mud away and a dredge-loader digging out the channel. Do you know who the foreman was? Yep, Bunky Scanlon of Mill Valley. She was there ordering trucks, showing them the way, the whole works! I think she is getting ready for a big summer of catching those $10 tagged fish the Department of Fish and Game just finished tagging.

SALMON FISHING is still excellent at Sausalito. Some good limits were brought in Saturday, though it was rough and choppy in some areas. Another few weeks or so and we should be getting those light variable wind predictions and things will be easier.

AT NICASIO about 100 anglers were out Saturday when 75 car loads of the Stafford Lake anglers arrived. They were sent there because of the crowded conditions at Stafford. Did you know that 9 out of 10 anglers at Nicasio fish for bluegills? The cane pole with the bobber and a worm on the hook is still most popular. About 10 trout were taken at Nicasio this week. Sometimes the fishermen there, when they catch a trout, don't know what it is?

The rubber eel is the big bass patience and skill to work this getter at Nicasio. It takes great areas with sometimes an hour lure along the rocky bottom between strikes. Try it!

Giant Injuries Called 'Unbelievable'

By JACK HANLEY

PITTSBURGH — Leo Hughes, better known as Doc, trainer of the Giants, shook his head in disbelief as he looked around his training room in Chicago the other day.

Willie McCovey was in the whirlpool, soaking an ailing hip. Willie Mays was on the rubbing table where Doc's educated fingers were kneading kinks out of the team captain's aching back. Juan Marichal was on the adjoining rubbing table where Doc's assistant, Al Wylder, was working on a knotted muscle in Marichal's left side.

"I can't believe it," said Hughes. "I just can't believe it. I've been in baseball all my life and I've never seen anything like this. Ever since the days Denny Carroll taught me the trade, I've never seen every key man on a team suffering simultaneously.

"It's not just that our 3Ms are hurting. Every regular is ailing. Do you realize that Jim Ray Hart was the only player in our opening day lineup who started against the Cardinals in Busch Stadium the other night?

Hughes momentarily left Mays and peeked outside the door leading into his training room. Hart and Bobby Bonds were lined up with several other walking wounded waiting their turn on the tables.

"I'll have to start issuing waiting numbers," said Hughes.

When Hughes was advised last Wednesday that Bonds' left forearm began to puff up during a special batting practice session, the team trainer said to the bearer of the gloomy news: "You got to be kidding. At least, I sincerely hope so because we got to field a team tonight."

That was the game Gaylord Perry pitched and stopped a five game losing streak of the Giants.

Despite his puffed forearm, originally damaged in Candlestick a fortnight ago by one of Bill Singer's fiast balls, Bonds volunteered for outfield defensive duty when Hart hurt himself in the seventh inning.

But Bonds couldn't swing a bat when it came time for him to hit so Ron Hunt batted for him. By this time King had run out of players and Mays emerged from the dressing room for ninth inning emergency defensive duty.

While he was at bat in the ninth, Davenport spun a vicious foul off the instep of his left foot. The old pro leaned on his bat for support. It was obvious that he was in considerable pain. Hughes went to him. Davenport waved off the trainer.

Davenport may not be able to play every day now that he is approaching his 36th birthday but the veteran with the weather-beaten face sure is ready for action in emergencies.

Mets Have Real Mobile Outfield

By MIKE RECHT

NEW YORK (AP) — There are a number of mobile outfields in the major leagues, but there's only one mobile Mobile outfield—and it belongs to the New York Mets.

It is composed of Celon Jones, Tommie Agee and rookie Amos Otis, all natives of Mobile, Ala., who still make their homes there.

And it isn't publicity that has caused Manager Gil Hodges to put the three buddies together on the field at the same time in recent games.

Jones happens to be the major leagues' leading hitter at .411, Agee raised his average to .279 with three homers in Sunday's doubleheader and Otis is the youngster for whom the Mets have such high hopes.

Jones and Agee are the best of friends, dating back to their days when they were high school baseball, football and track stars together in Mobile. And now Otis, four years younger at 23, claims them as his closest friends on the club.

"We have a feeling for each other because we are from the same town," Jones said. "Amos wants to do good because I'm doing good and I want to do good when Tommie is going good.

"We know how we should hit and we watch each other at the plate, more than we do any of the other guys, and we help each other out with advice.

"Tommie (a bachelor) and Amos (whose wife and three children) come over for dinner at least once a week and we drive to the park together."

"Our lockers are next to each other, too," Otis added.

"I weighed only 160 pounds after getting the flu in spring training, but I ate over Cleon's house two or three times a week —his wife, Angela, can sure cook—and now I'm up to 169.

"I first saw Cleon and Tommie when they were playing in a high school football game and I was in grade school. Now we work out together during the winter. And when I came to the club, everyone was friendly, but they were my best friends."

The three would like to keep their outfield intact, but right now Jones is the only daily starter, and Agee and Otis can joke about it.

"They'll give the key to the city to Cleon when we get back to Mobile next winter," Agee quips, "and maybe he'll let us use it, too."

Davis Cup: Yugoslavia, Brazil Win

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Brazil has eliminated Colombia and Yugoslavia has ousted France in the Davis Cup tennis competition.

Brazil defeated Colombia 3-2 at Bogota, Colombia, yesterday, gaining the crucial third point on Tom Koch's 6-2, 7-5, 6-2 triumph over William Alvarez. The victory qualified Brazil for the third round of the South American Zone play.

OTHER MATCH

In the other singles match, Colombia's Jairo Velasco beat Edson Mandarino 6-2, 6-1, 6-3.

Yugoslavia also won by a 3-2 score. The deciding match for Yugoslavia was won by Zeilko Franulovic, who downed Francois Jauffret 6-3, 6-3, 6-3.

Frenchman Georges Goven took the other singles scrap, beating Yugoslavia's Nikola Spear 6-3, 6-2, 6-1.

INDIA SWEEPS

At Poona, India, India won both singles matches yesterday and completed an East Zone sweep 5-0 over Japan. India's Premjit Lall defeated Ichizo Konishi 6-3, 7-1, 6-3, and Shiv Prasad Misar trounced Koji Watanabe 6-3, 6-3, 5-7, 6-2.

Conigliaro Dating Mamie Van Doren

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Hitters are so different from pitchers," says Mamie Van Doren, buxom, blonde actress linked romantically with outfielder Tony Conigliaro of the Boston Red Sox.

"He has so many calluses on his hands."

Miss Van Doren, 36, who once dated pitchers Sandy Koufax and Bo Belinsky and recently divorced minor league hurler Lee Meyers, says she didn't know the 24-year-old Conigliaro until two weeks ago in New York when entertainer Merv Griffin introduced them.

'GOOD FRIENDS'

"We are just good friends," says the star slugger who sat out last season after nearly losing his eyesight in 1967 when a pitched ball from California Angels' hurler Jack Hamilton struck hom on the left side of the face. "She's a lot of fun to be with."

The actress, 36-22-36, said yesterday she gave up on athletes after her divorce from Meyers until Conigliaro came along.

She thinks the cross-country friendship with Conigliaro will continue.

'LUCKY'

Conigliaro was asked if the relationship had reached the point of engagement. "I would not say so," he replied.

"I've been very luck for him, he told me," said Miss Van Doren, twice married. "He's better in his hitting. That's better than the other ones I went out with."

She says dating hitters is more difficult than dating pitchers because pitchers don't have to play every night.

FIRST TRICK

Each declarer won the first trick with the king of diamonds, saving dummy's ace for help in developing the clubs. The typical declarer continued with the ace and queen of clubs, noticing West's heart discard without enthusiasm.

Our typical declarer continued with a club to the king and another club to the jack. Back came a diamond to the ace, and declarer cashed the last club and then tried a finesse with the queen of spades.

South could get four clubs, two diamonds and two spades but nothing else. Down one. You'd have done better, of course, if you had been in Stockholm for the tournament. If not, think about the right play before you read on.

NEEDS TWO FINESSES

When West discards a heart on the queen of clubs, South sees that he will get only four club tricks and will therefore need two successful spade finesses to make the contract. Since dummy is short of entries, South must overtake the queen of clubs with dummy's king to return a spade at once for the first finesse.

The spade finesse succeeds, and South now leads his other club to dummy's nine. The overtake in clubs costs nothing since South is sure to lose one club trick no matter how he plays the suit.

WINS WITH CLUB

East wins with the jack of clubs and returns a diamond to dummy's ace. Now declarer cashes the ten of clubs and the last club. This leaves him in position to take a second spade finesse. South makes his contract with four clubs, three spades and two diamonds.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1-no-trump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ K 10 8 7
♥ K J 8
♣ J 8 5 4.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two clubs, the Stayman Convention, asking partner to bid any major suit of four or more cards.

If partner bids two spades, you will raise to three spades, promising four-card spade support with eight or nine dummy points. If partner bids anything but two spades you will retreat to the safety of 2-no-trump.

CARMEL MANNERS NOT FOR FAIRFAX

By JOANNE GRANT

Fairfax resident may continue sitting on the grass in the city parks for at least another month, the city council decided last night in an emotional meeting punctuated with applause, boos and the ejection of one citizen from the council chambers.

Facing a crowd of more than 130 mostly hostile residents, the council agreed to scrap the ordinance it copied from Carmel to regulate public conduct and to come up with a different one by June 9.

The council was considering the ordinance at the request of Mayor Francis J. O'Connell, who said March 10, "The time has come — the sun's been out for a week and we've got problems. He referred to what the council calls "new residents" or "visitors" in careful attempts to avoid the term hippie.

Last night, he admitted he had seen nothing in the past few weeks to warrant the ordinance which would prohibit a host of activities ranging from sleeping on walls to sitting on grass to picking rocks or flowers.

However, he said he would like to see it passed and "have it become another ordinance on the books that no one knows anything about."

City Atty. Wallace S. Myers told the council some sections of the ordinance are in the penal code and that he didn't think "sitting on the grass should be classified as a crime."

"You would be unable to adopt an ordinance such as this in an open session like this," said Myers, suggesting a council committee get together and work on an ordinance "that would take care of the problems that have been disturbing people."

"What has been going on that has been disturbing people?" asked Councilman Adelaide P. Wilson. No one answered her.

Members of the audience were permitted to speak briefly and comments opposing the ordinance flew.

Ric Fink of 245 Tamalpais Road suggested the city merely enforce the laws it now has. If the ordinance under considerations is passed it will look like "it is aimed at something in the city."

Attorney Carl B. Shapiro, representing the American Civil Liberties Union, commented, "I think the City of Fairfax is part of a despicable movement to try and wipe out a class of people."

"Who is this group that we're

Nixon Asks For Random Draft Plan

19 Year Olds Would Be In First Round Lottery

Nixon recommended that 19 year olds be subject to the first call but that they remain vulnerable to the draft for only one year rather than seven as under the existing system.

"It is my conviction," Nixon said in a message to Congress, "that the disruptive impact of the military draft on individual lives should be minimized as much as possible, consistent with the national security. For this reason I am today asking the Congress for authority to implement important draft reforms."

The President repeated his stand that ideally there should be an all-volunteer armed force for the nation. He said he continued to believe that this ideal can be reached under more stable world conditions.

He added: "Under present conditions, however, some kind of draft will be needed for the immediate future. As long as that is the case, we must do everything we can to limit the disruption caused by the system and to make it as fair as possible."

The chief executive offered a six-point recommendation, topped by changing from an oldest-first to a youngest-first order of call so a young man would become less rather than more vulnerable to selection as he grows older.

The random system—a lottery—would be applied to all those who are vulnerable during a given year rather than to those whose birthdays fall at certain times of the year or month.

$9 Million For Rec-Culture Center

A $9 million, seven-year plan for completion of the community cultural-recreational center at the Marin County Civic Center was proposed last night by the directors of Fair-Marin.

The proposal calls for equal contributions from Fair-Marin, Marin County and the State of California of $250,000 each for the seven-year period. This would total $5,250,000 after seven years.

The remaining $3,750,000 would be financed by federal or private grants, special funding on the part of user organizations, or by a small bond issue if necessary.

The $9 million would be used for capital improvement on the 80-acre site surrounding the Veterans Memorial Auditorium.

Of the total, nearly half, or $4,200,000, would be spent for an arts, sciences and activities complex. Although the master plan includes separate buildings for a natural history museum, an art museum and a community center, the current proposal would allow the consolidation of any or all of these functions if the sponsoring groups desire.

An exhibition building, covering some two to the three acres, would cost about $3,500,000 and outdoor lighting, parking, landscaping and other on-site improvements would cost an estimated $800,000.

The remaining $500,000 is needed to furnish the Veterans Memorial Auditorium with additional seats, stage, sound and lighting equipment and a movable, sound-proof partition.

All of the cost estimates are based on current costs plus allowances for inflation.

Harold Stockstad, president of Fair-Marin, said that at present, there is only $1,100,000 committed for finishing the 80-acre site. This includes a $600,000 six-year capital improvement outlay by the county to provide landscaping, parking and other site improvements, and a $500,000 pledge by Fair-Marin to furnish the additional seats and equipment for the auditorium.

"This proposal marks the first time that the problem of finishing the Civic Center has been viewed realistically in its entirety," said Stockstad. "As the operating agents for the community cultural recreational center, we must seek out the most equitable and practical means of completing the project.

"This proposal we feel is eminently fair, calling for the Marin taxpayer to bear less than 20 per cent of the total cost. This is a bargain that will be hard to match, and one which will give Marin County a community center unparalleled in the country, one that will attract international attention and will command the respect of all."

The proposal will be submitted for approval and action to the full Fair-Marin membership at the next general meeting on June 2.

Marin Senator Takes Strong Pro-Bay Stand

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — In a sharp reversal, Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, announced yesterday that he is supporting a newly strengthened bill to control development of San Francisco Bay.

McCarthy called a news conference to reveal he is dropping his own bay bill — which was generally regarded as being kind to bay fillers — to support one by Sen. Richard J. Dolwig, R.-Atherton.

Dolwig had announced Friday he was amending his bill dealing with San Francisco Bay to make it stronger. Conservationists had previously pictured Dolwig as an opponent of tough bay conservation measures.

Dolwig's measure now would adopt most of the features of the bay master plan proposed by the Bay Conservation Development Commission, including extending BCDC's jurisdiction to the shoreline marshlands and salt ponds. It also would give BCDC the power to develop a regional plan for parks and open spaces around the bay.

McCarthy, who described himself in a press statement as a "longtime supporter of conservation and beautification legislation, said, ". . . beautification of the bay and preservation of its ecology need the continuing guiding hand of the BCDC, which will go out of existence this year in the absence of legislation to save it."

McCarthy's bill, however, would have taken away virtual-

Nixon To See Lodge Before Viet Address

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today that President Richard M. Nixon's speech to the nation on Vietnam peace prospects tomorrow night will contain new material and that Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge is returning from the Paris peace talks for new instructions.

But White House officials cautioned again against expecting an announcement of some breakthrough toward peace.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the President will broadcast on all television and radio network at 7 p.m. PDT from the White House theater in the east wing, for about 30 minutes.

Ziegler said Lodge will arrive from Paris early tomorrow afternoon and return there early Thursday. He said the ambassador was asked to return to consult on "how to proceed in the Paris talks in the light of the President's speech."

Nixon also discussed his proposed speech at a morning meeting with Republican congressional leaders.

House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford said that as a result his observations of cautious optimism regarding the Paris peace talks were reinforced.

Ford noted that it will be Nixon's first radio-television speech to the nation as President, and said the mere fact that the President is making the speech implies there will be something of public interest.

But he gave no hints of what, and other sources said the speech is not expected to report any major breakthroughs in the Paris negotiations.

Ford said there was "no discussion of troop withdrawal," in Nixon's summation of his planned speech. Ford emphasized that it was said the speech would not make any announcements on troop withdrawals.

Tamalpais Fire District Bond Vote Turnout Light

Voting was light under cloudy skies this morning in Tamalpais Fire Protection District as residents balloted on a proposed $800,000 bond issue to finance a new Tamalpais Valley fire station, improved water mains, and new fire equipment. The polls will remain open until 8 p.m.

By 11 a.m., 294 of the district's 3,541 registered voters and cast ballots, fewer than 8 per cent. Precinct figures were 83 of 958 registered at Tamalpais Valley Fire Station, 55 of 921 at Marin Terrace School, 84 of 861 at Homestead School, 70 of 756 at Tamalpais Valley School and 2 of 45 at Alpine Lodge.

The 30-year bond issue would provide $334,000 for the new station, $225,000 for water mains and hydrants, $134,000 for fire trucks and apparatus, $60,000 for furnishings and an alarm system, $30,000 in engineering, architectural and bond attorney fees, and $15,000 to remodel the Homestead Valley fire station. The issue would add 28 to 32 cents to the district tax rate. A two-thirds majority is needed for passage.

Extra Cash Debated For Point Reyes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interior Department recommended to Congress today an additional authorization of $28.3 million to complete acquisition of the Point Reyes National seashore in California.

George B. Hartzog Jr., director of the National Park Service, urged also that the ban on condemnation of property in the 26,000-acre pastoral zone be repealed.

At a hearing before the House Interior subcommittee on parks, California sponsors of legislation to fund completion of the park disagreed with Hartzog's new appraisal.

Arguing that the $19,135,000 already funded for the seashore shore be augmented by $38,365,000 rather than the $28.3 million figure, due to land price inflation were Reps. Don H. Clausen, R-First District; William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District; Jeffery Cohelan, D-Seventh District; Harold T. Johnson, D-Second District and Paul N. McCloskey Jr., R-11th District.

Clausen said the Marin county assessor consider a $38 million increase more realistic.

Hartzog said his $28.3 million figure is based on an 18-month study of land values in the area by the best professional appraiser for the park service in San Francisco.

"I think it is in the ball park," Hartzog testified.

Furthermore, he said he estimates that $10.3 million of that can be recouped through sale or lease of the property to private interests subject to restrictions against subdivision or other incompatible use.

Reagan Aide, Bagley Spar Over Tax Boost

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State Finance Director Caspar Weinberger says a proposed income tax hike is "a vital part" of Gov. Ronald Reagan's tax reform package.

Weinberger made the comment yesterday after the head of the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee said the tax proposal would probably be dropped from a compromise tax reform bill.

Chairman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, said the 1 per cent tax on adjusted gross income would hit low-income families just as hard as rich ones — and would come under strong fire from organized labor and other groups.

Weinberger said the committee has not yet taken action on the governor's package, and as far as he knows the tax hike is still "very much alive.

"I think it's an offhand comment and you shouldn't take it too seriously," he said.

The average California taxpayer would pay an additional 50 per cent in state income tax under the Reagan plan. But the increased funds would be returned to homeowners in the form of a 50 per cent cut in property tax.

The object of the tax is to shift much of the cost of running local schools from the property tax to the income tax.

At a hearing on the governor's plan, Bagley noted that persons earning $3,000 a year who are now exempt from federal income taxes would have to pay the 1 per cent levy. He asked Weinberger whether the tax could start at a higher level.

Weinberger replied: "If you do, you'll relieve (those at $3,000 incomes) of support of the school system." He said it would also lead to a reduction in property tax relief — even for many persons earning $3,000 a year who own their own home.

Bagley replied: "I am of the opinion that a man on a virtual poverty income of $3,000 a year either lives in a hovel somewhere or rents a house trailer."

Speaking of several tax reform measures before the committee, Bagley said there seems

Fair Adds To State Budget

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan's budget — a record $6.2 billion — will be even bigger when it is approved by the Assembly's GOP-dominated Ways and Means Committee, the chairman said today.

The budget screening committee argued about the 1969-70 appropriations bill late into the night yesterday and finally raised it by $650,000 to provide enough money to stage this year's edition of the state's fair in Sacramento.

Chairman Frank Lanterman, R-La Canada, told a reporter that additional funds for education, welfare and state construction will boost the total even more.

In addition, the California State Employees Association, representing some 119,000 state workers, is asking for $40 million more in pay than Reagan wants to give.

Burns Loses Leadership Of Senate

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Republican Sen. Howard Way was chosen to replace Democrat Hugh M. Burns as president pro tem of the Senate today, ending Burns' 13 years as presiding officer of the upper house.

The action came in a closed caucus of the Senate after the 67-year-old Burns dramatically called for the vote.

It followed weeks of hard campaigning by Way, a tall, gray-haired member of a San Joaquin Valley farm family and fellow Republicans. They began their efforts when the GOP captured control of the house 21-19 in special Contra Costa County election.

The vote for Way was 21-19.

The senators declined to specify the partisan breakdown on the vote, but Way had been supported by some liberal Democrats, unhappy with Burns's support of President Richard M.

Red Troops Fire Rockets From Within Neutral Zone

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops have made their heaviest coordinated rocket and mortar attacks from inside the demilitarized zone since American planes quit bombing North Vietnam last Nov. 1, military spokesmen reported today.

U.S. headquarters said 11 positions in the southern half of the DMZ fired more than 45 rounds of rockets and mortars yesterday into allied positions stretching halfway along the 40-mile zone. But there were no reported allied casualties since the U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops were well dug in.

Marine artillery and the big guns of the U.S. heavy cruiser St. Paul in Tonkin Gulf blasted the enemy gun positions. All of the guns were silenced and forward observers reported 10 secondary explosions, indicating direct hits on ammunition stores, U.S. headquarters said.

U.S. headquarters keeps a close watch on the DMZ, since American officials say North Vietnam agreed to keep it free of military action in return for the bombing halt. Hanoi denies

Marin Multiple Listing Sales Figure Up 19 Per Cent In April

Continuing the 1969 increase in real estate activity, multiple listing sales in Marin for April have been reported at $7,388,420 — 19 per cent up from the $6,210,410 reported a year ago. In number of transactions, the increase was less pronounced, being only 10 per cent.

Completed sales for the month also moved up to $6,422,980 from the year-ago figure of $4,581,165. For the year to date, total completed sales stand at $21.9 million, compared with $15.6 million for the 1968 period.

AUTO MAN, specializing in engine work and engine tune-ups, will soon start construction on its San Rafael building on Medway Road near Francisco Boulevard. Headquartered in Culver City, the company franchises out its branches and has more than 60 in California.

Franchisee for the San Rafael facility is Michael J. Miller of Novato.

THE PETALUMA OFFICE of Data Plus, Inc. opened at 620 East Washington Street in February is expected to double its size within the next two months, according to G. Keeling Roberts, president of the firm which is headquartered in San Francisco. The data preparations service opened with five keypunch machines and has expanded to 18 machines, operated around the clock.

THE ANNUAL Pacific Coast Builders Conference will be held June 4-6 at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco. Construction men, home builders, designers and architects will come from all parts of the West Coast to attend.

This year is expected to provide the largest number of exhibits in conference history. About 225 displays are anticipated. In addition, there will be seminars and discussions on various phases of home construction, housing problems, values, costs, sales and profits.

Registration should be made now with Pacific Coast Builders Conference, 225 Montgomery Street, San Francisco. Registration is $35 per person (no charge for wives accompanying their husbands).

Rubin

ROBERT F. BLUE of San Rafael, a veteran of more than 20 years in the outdoor advertising business, has announced his resignation as vice president and general manager of Advan, Inc., headquartered in the East Bay, to take effect at the end of this month. For many years he was vice president of West Coast Advertising Co., San Francisco before the firm was acquired by Advan in 1967. His future plans have not been announced.

INSURANCE. Gerald Rubin of Corte Madera, business manager for Lawrence Halprin and Associates, has been elected a director of the Mutual Insurance Companies. He previously had served as delegate to Mutual, representing Consumers Cooperative of Berkeley and the Cooperative Credit Union. . . . John E. Burke of San Rafael has joined Mutual of New York as assistant manager of the San Rafael agency. He has been a life and health insurance consultant for more than two years.

WELLS FARGO BANK in downtown San Rafael has adopted a new "express line" procedure in teller service. After preparing deposit or withdrawal papers, customers wait in a single line instead of picking a teller's window at random. As soon as the first teller is free, head man in the line moves in and those behind him move up.

MARVIN C. LEMONS of Novato, district sales manager for Bristol Myers Products in the Bay Area, and his salesmen have been awarded trips to Nassau for their sales records.

Stocks On Higher Side At Final Bell

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks finished stronger today with Wall Street hopeful President Nixon's Wednesday night message on Vietnam would contain some promising news on efforts to obtain a ceasefire. Trading was heavy.

Atlantic Richfield moved ahead in the oil group, while IBM made a good showing among the mostly higher electronics. Fairchild Camera and Texas Instruments also firmed.

Conglomerates and motors generally were narrowly mixed. Aircrafts edged higher in many instances.

Chemicals and rails moved narrowly and without definite direction.

Steels strengthened. The American Iron and Steel Institute reported a 2 per cent drop.

Uranium Interest

AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI) — Petrodynamics Inc. has said it has acquired a 50 per cent interest in two uranium permits covering a 209,900 acre area in the Athabasca Sandstone Basin in Northern Saskatchewan. The firm plans to begin exploration this spring. Further developments will depend on the results of this preliminary investigation, the firm said.

Firm Reports Imports Hurt

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (UPI)— Bethlehem Steel, which had been the nation's second largest supplier of steel sice the 1920's, has dropped to the No. 3 spot.

The company reports in its employee publication "Bethlehem Review" that it has been bumped out of second place by foreign-made steel.

Foreign producers shipped almost 18 million tons of steel into the United States last year, according to Bethlehem. The import tonnage was 3.5 million tons more than Bethlehem supplied.

Copper Cost Up

NEW YORK (UPI) — Phelps-Dodge Corp., the country's No. 2 copper producer, has hiked the price of the metal by two cents to 46 cents a pound. It could be the forerunner to a general price increase in the industry. The Phelps-Dodge action came a month after Copper Range Co., No. 6 producer, raised its price a nickel to 50 cents a pound.

Toyota: Detroit's Foreign Headache

DETROIT (UPI) — First it was the German "bug" — the Volkswagen—that gobbled up a good share of the U. S. new car market. Today the Japanese Toyota is Detroit's growing import worry.

In the first three months of 1969, the Toyota sold 27,292 cars, a whopping 134 per cent increase over the same 1968 period. Volkswagen, which consistently has sold more than 50 per cent of the import market, continued in that role with 112,724 sales. But that figure is nearly 27,000 units less than in the same period last year.

Despite the decline in VW sales, there is no sign that the impetus of import car sales is tapering off. The opposite may be true.

It is too early to determine whether the introduction of Ford's import-fighter, the Maverick, will stem the rising tide of auto imports. Mavericks have been on the market only a few weeks, but before they hit the scene imports were chalking up new records.

Figures for January, February and March showed that the top ten import cars sold 220,211 units that quarter, up slightly from 1968, a record year for foreign makes.

Toyota has taken over second place among the imprts, displacing General Motors' German import, the Opel. During March, Toyota sales topped 10,000, making it the only import except Volkswagen, to hit 10,000 U. S. sales in a single month.

Japan's other import, Datsun, also nearly doubled its three-months sales in the U. S. with 12,596 units.

Ten years ago, when American carmakers fought imports by introducing the compact Falcons, Corvairs and Valiants, imports nosedived. They did not recover until the compacts upgraded and abandoned the import price field.

This time the story may be different. The Big Three American car builders seem determined to stay in the fight against low priced imports, currently under $2,000. It may be a long, tough battle.

Many foreign manufacturers have established footholds throughout the U.S. by building dealer and service organizations. Ten years ago all imports, except VW, were soft in this area.

Japanese merchandisers seldom repeat mistakes. Besides offering styling and comfort geared to American tastes, Toyota established a dealer network from coast to coast. It has some 700 dealers, more than half of them dealing exclusively in Toyotas. The company also sets up warehouses at strategic points so parts never are more than an overnight trip from the dealer involved.

Toyota also has established 10 ports of entry in the U.S., enabling it to offer its uniform POE retail price anywhere in the country.

With this setup behind it, Toyota announced a selling goal of between 130,000-140,000 units this year and is well on the road to reaching it.

Glass Firm Buys Armstrong Cork

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — The sale of Armstrong Cork Company's packaging materials operation to Kerr Glass Manufacturing Co., Los Angeles, was closed last week, an Armstrong spokesman announced.

The sale, calling for payment of about $90 million, is retroactive to April 1.

Involved in the transaction are six manufacturing plants and related assets, together with the move of about 4,000 employees to Kerr Glass.

Also included are a plant site at Charlotte, N.C., and the assets of National Cork, exclusive of cash, receivables and its installation contract business.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

At Age 42, Growth Deserves Attention

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I'm considering a mutual fund (Keystone S-4) in conjunction with my casualty insurance, about $600 annually after the initial requirement of $2,500. I currently invest in U. S. Savings Bonds and General Electric stock through payroll deduction. I'm 42, planning for retirement income and looking for better return on my investments. Please comment. — R. C.

A. At your age, you should concentrate on better returns from capital growth and later plan your retirement income. Keystone S-4 is a better-than-average-growth fund — yet not a go-go fund — having increased net asset value 148 per cent for five years through 1968 and nearly 11.5 per cent last year compared with 7.7 per cent for Standard & Poor's 500-stock average.

General Electric, also, is well thought of for its growth potential. U. S. Savings Bonds offer no capital growth beyond interest accruals. Safety, liquidity and ease in saving systematically through payroll deduction have built up their appeal to many thrift-minded persons. Hopefully, their 4.25 per cent yield will be lifted by Congress in the not distant future.

My advice is to minimize savings bonds and start buying into strong growth industires. I favor American Hospital Supply, Alpine Geophysical, Boise Cascade or Georgia-Pacific's new split shares, Cook Coffee, Culligan (water treatment), Broadway-Hale Stores or any of your other fast-growing West Coast corporations.

Q. My retired sister was advised to use her American Telephone as collateral to buy 1,300 Consolidated Edison on margin, costing her 7½ per cent interest. What can she do to offset this pressing indebtedness — buy high-yielding bonds to cover interest charges? — T. G.

A. I'd close out the margin account and stick to outright ownership of good income stocks. She could hold part of Consolidated Edison for its tax-exempt dividends. Price action is phlegmatic and earnings have been irregular, due partly to rising taxes and the high cost of debt obligations and partly to labor problems and complaints about air pollution.

Mortage Call

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (UPI) — Directors of Florida East Coast Railway Co. has authorized a call for redemption of the railway's $22 million of second mortage 5.5 per cent convertible income bonds.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Volpe Criticized

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A Chinese-American assemblywoman is upset because she says Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe ignored the contribution of the Chinese in building the United State's first transcontinental railroad.

Assemblywoman March K. Fong, D-Oakland, sent a telegram to Volpe yesterday saying he "slighted" the efforts of the Chinese and demanding a "public apology to the Chinese community."

Volpe was the featured speaker at ceremonies Saturday at Promontory, Utah, to mark the 100th anniversary of linking California to the East by rail.

Sirhan Denies Belli

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Sirhan B. Sirhan will stick with the attorneys who handled his trial to fight his conviction and death sentence for the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Sirhan issued a statement yesterday from his jail cell through his chief defense attorney, Grant B. Cooper, denying that San Francisco attorney Melvin Belli might take over the case.

Belli said last Friday in Tucson, Ariz., that he was contacted by Sirhan's mother, Mary, and his brother, Adel, 30, and, "they want me to do the appeal."

Ghana Crackdown

ACCRA (UPI) — Police confiscated more than $1.4 million yesterday in assets allegedly acquired unlawfully by former Ghanan officials, authorities announced. Guards surrounded houses said to belong to former ministers in the regime of outed President Kwame Nkrumah. One minister who bought his wife a gold bed was ordered to pay the government $720,000.

Farmer's Share Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Food price increases reported recently have generally been passed on to farmers instead of swelling operating margins for middlemen, an Agriculture Department report indicated today.

The department said farmers got an average of 40 cents out of each dollar consumers spent on farm-produced foods in the first quarter of 1969. This was 1 cent above the farm share a year earlier, and 2 cents higher than the estimate for the last three months of 1968.

Panel Seeking To Curb Noise

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It soon may be a misdemeanor in San Francisco to play a radio, television set, phonograph, juke box or sound amplifying equipment that is loud enough to "disturb the peace, quiet and comfort of persons in the neighborhood.

The board of supervisors gave initial approval to such a bill yesterday and it will become law after a second vote and the mayor's signature.

Noise is a violation if it is audible 50 feet away from its source between 10 p.m. and 7 a.m., the bill says.

Blaiberg Exhausted

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Philip Blaiberg, 59, the world's longest surviving heart transplant recipient, was ordered to bed today for a week because doctors believe he has exhausted himself.

His wife, Eileen, said she called the doctor in charge of her husband's postoperative care to the apartment early today when Blaiberg appeared short of breath.

"There is nothing wrong with him," she said, adding his confinement was not due to any rejection symptoms in the heart Dr. Christiaan N. Barnard implanted in his chest at Groote Schuur Hospital Jan. 2, 1968.

Red General Dies

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Defense Ministry today announced the death of another general, the 12th in three weeks. He was Lt. Gen. Nikolai Silayev, 58, and the announcement said he died after an "extended illness."

While some diplomats have called the series of deaths "intriguing," most sources discount the possibility that some disaster caused them. Because of their enlargement during World War II, the Soviet armed forces have thousands of high-ranking officers in the upper age brackets, and most westerners believe the series of deaths to be a coincidence.

Surgery Lauded

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Astronaut Alan B. Shepard's ear surgery probably means that he will be less vulnerable to dizziness in space than astronauts who never had a problem with their balance mechanism, says his doctor.

"I would have no qualms medically about his going to the moon," Dr. Charles A. Berry told newsmen before addressing the Los Angeles County Heart Association yesterday.

Meredith Accused

NEW YORK (AP) — A court has issued a summons for James Meredith, a Negro whose enrollment at the University of Mississippi led to rioting in 1962, on a charge of harassing tenants in his Bronx apartment building.

A tenant complained yesterday that Meredith, demanding higher rents in the 35-family building, cut off the hot water and elevator service.

No date was set for a hearing on the summons.

Red Coup Hinted

HONG KONG (AP — An underground radio station in Communist China is accusing Defense Minister Lin Piao of seizing power for the army in a coup d'etat against Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-tung, a group of Chinese seamen reported today on their return here from North China.

The station, located somewhere near the small city of Yent'ai on the Shantung coast, has been broadcasting appeals to the navy and air force to "rescue Chairman Mao from the arch plotter Lin Piao, wrest back political power from the army, and save the nation," the seamen said.

Drug Arrests Up

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Juvenile drug arrests in California more than doubled in 1968, according to the state Bureau of Criminal Statistics.

Spokesmen said yesterday juvenile arrests last year totalled 29,947 compared to 13,911 in 1967 — an increase of 115.3 per cent.

During the same time adult drug arrests showed a 65 per cent increase.

Report On Alcoholics Due Advisory Board

A report on a study of alcoholics will be presented to that Marin Mental Health Advisory Board at 8 p.m. May 21 at the Coral Room, Marin General Hospital.

Board members also will hear a report on the mental retardation program under community mental health services.

FIERY CRASH KILLS FIVE

Black smoke billows from a downtown intersection in Flint, Mich., where five persons died when a gasoline transport truck collided with a car. The truck carried 11,000 gallons of gasoline, part of which ignited after spilling into the street in the collision yesterday. Five business places were also extensively damaged in the gasoline-fed blaze.

Pompidou, Poher Are French Front Runners

Both men are middle-of-the-roaders in the French political spectrum.

The other major candidates in the June 1 election all come from the divided left, and the split presumably means none can get into the June 15 runoff. They are Jacques Duclos of the Communist Party; Michael Rocard of the far-left Progressive Socialist Party; Alain Krivine, a Trotskyite, and Gaston Deferre of the Socialists.

Any candidate who manages to get 100 signatures of elected office holders on a petition by midnight also will be on the ballot. One such hopefully is Nelly Bonart-Pontary, a 40-year-old woman lawyer and mother who said she did not expect to win but wanted to run to make the nation's women "aware of their own strength."

Highway 80 Detour Work May Require Two Weeks

RICHMOND (AP) — Emergency construction of a detour around a massive cave-in on Interstate 80 west of Pinole is under way today but Division of Highways officials say it will be nearly two weeks before a six-lane detour can be constructed.

Only one lane remained of the six-lane freeway after rain-eroded fill began breaking away Sunday.

Yesterday's morning traffic backup of more than 20 miles lessened during the evening rush as motorists became aware of alternate routes.

The remaining lane carried some northbound traffic while other traffic was diverted to nearby roads.

Unusually heavy spring rains which washed away fill dirt under the freeway were blamed by the Division of Highways for the massive collapse.

Cracks in the road began to show Thursday but didn't appear dangerous until Sunday, when an 18-inch crack developed in a southbound lane. One by one, lanes were shut down as the original crack developed into a gaping hole 50 feet deep and 70 feet across in some places along the 600-foot slide.

A 12-inch gasoline pipeline in the hole ruptured, Sunday spilling high-octane aviation fuel into the storm sewers of the Tara Hills section of E. Sobrante. Local fire trucks flooded sewers to wash away the highly volatile liquid.

Dozens of workmen from the Gordon Bell Construction Co., are in service moving the estimated 100,000 cubic yards of fill for the detour. Estimated cost for the emergency project is $360,000.

There was no immediate estimate of the cost of repairing the original roadway.

Meanwhile, a Division of Highways spokesman said no attempt is being made to prevent the cave-in from growing bigger, perhaps even taking away the remaining lane.

"If it goes, it's going to have to go," the spokesman said.

Volpe Ready To Push His Transit Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The blueprint for a multibillion dollar attack on mass transit problems Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe is expected to send to the White House in two weeks is certain to stir strong debate within the administration.

One issue will involve the financing Volpe has indicated he will use for the program. Another problem could arise because the plan is expected to lack specific proposals for action.

But, Volpe says, "I'm a fighter and I expect to see this through.

Volpe admits his researchers have not been able to come up with a cheap, practical way to move masses of people into, out of and around the nation's cities.

But a Volpe aide says this doesn't mean there is any doubt about the need for money.

The financing is expected to involve a trust fund concept used in the federal highway construction program and advocated by Volpe in a recently proposed airport construction bill.

Opposition to this financing by some administration economists has resulted in the temporary halt to the airport bill.

Nixon Buys California White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon has closed the deal for a $340,000 summer White House in his native California on a bluff commanding a view of the Pacific Ocean.

In making the announcement yesterday, White House aides also listed the President's net worth at $596,900. This includes his interests in his homes and property in Florida, the old Nixon family house in Whittier, and proceeds from the sales of his New York apartment and shares in a Florida land company.

$100,000 DOWN

Nixon is paying $100,000 down on the California property and the rest over five years at 7.5 per cent interest.

The California house at San Clemente is 50 miles south of Los Angeles and was bought from Mrs. Henry Hamilton Cotton, the 90-year-old widow of a wealthy oil and real estate dealer.

An aide said the President has in mind some repairs and a new paint job for the 45-year-old, 10-room white stucco home with a red tile roof. A tennis court, described as "having seen better days," may be restored, and the President is thinking about building a swimming pool.

BEACH FRONT

There is a stretch of beach for walks in the California sun. Several wealthy neighbors are seeking to have the Sante Fe Railroad tracks by the beach removed, but Nixon is said to think the train traffic will be "charming."

Nixon bought five acres of a $1.4 million, 20-acre estate. A spokesman said the balance of the land will be held in trust until a "compatible buyer" is found.

Nixon sold his 10-room cooperative apartment in New York City for $326,000. He bought it for $166,860 and had put some $95,000 into improvements.

The purchasers of the apartment were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Lehrman. He is president of Rite Aid Corp., a wholesale food and drug company in Harrisburg, Pa.

SELLS SHARES

The White House said Nixon has sold 185,891 shares of common stock in Fisher's Island Inc., a firm which owns an unimproved island in Biscayne Bay near Miami. At $2 a share the sale amounted to $371,782, "a substantial profit," an aide said. This holding could have been a conflict of interest "way down the line," he added.

The addax is a large antelope of Africa.

White House Seeking Job Corps Showdown?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House apparently is seeking a Senate showdown on the battle over President Richard M. Nixon's order closing 59 Job Corps centers and is looking to Dixie Democrats for the balance of power.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., says he understands the White House wants him to withdraw his counter-resolution that could blunt a move by Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., asking delay on the closings.

"I have heard indirectly that they'd like me not to press it (his resolution) and have a straight confrontation on the issue," Javits told a reporter. "I understood their disposition was to let this be voted up or voted down."

Javits said, however, he is not planning to withdraw his resolution.

Yesterday's opening debate was strictly party-line with only Democrats speaking for the Cranston measure and only Republicans speaking against it.

Asked last night if Cranston's measure would carry on an immediate vote of the Senate's 57 Democrats and4 3 Republicans, Javits said: "It looks that way. I would say that'll depend on whether we can unravel things tomorrow."

He indicated he would spend today looking to dent the Democratic solidarity and pick up support from among 16 Dixie Democrats.

Nixon's move would cut the 35,000-member Job Corps nearly in half saving an estimated $100 million a year.

Cranston's resolution would ask, but not bind, the administration to delay the closings now due by July 1 until Congress can study the program and alternatives.

Javits' proposal would put the Senate on record in favor of Nixon's position, which includes the promise of another training opportunity for every enrollee and an increase in the number of youths involved.

June Hearing Set

A preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court has been set for June 12 for Robert D. McKendrick, 35, of Inverness, who is accused of marijuana possession March 30.

Congregation Asks Permit For Church

San Rafael Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses wants to build a new church on Grandlee Road in Santa Venetia, but the county zoning administrator yesterday put off a decision until he checks the site plans and parking areas.

Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill said he would have to deny a use permit for the church if he finds any adverse effect on neighbors.

Daniel Dinniene, secretary of the church congregation, said there are only two homes within 150 feet of the property. It is located on the southwest side of Grandlee Road, about 200 feet off North San Pedro Road. At the corner is a small shopping center.

The church facilities will include an auditorium, office and storage areas. It will be one story. Dinniens said the premises will be used on Thursday anf Sunday, but rarely on other days.

Philip Wright of San Rafael, member of the congregation, assured Cordill: "We're very quiet. We don't have parties and raffles etc. and meetings don't last beyond 9 p.m."

The zoning administrator also;

SEADRIFT — Announced he would issue a variance allowing a temporary tract office in a residence at the entrance to Seadrift Subdivison, Stinson Beach. Philip B. Lygren, representing William Kent Estate, said the office would be used only for sale of Seadrift homes.

LAND SPLIT — Took under submission a request by Bernard Flagg to divide his property at 306 Melrose Avenue, Homestead Valley, into lots of 7,125 square feet and 7,132 square feet. The required size is 7,500 square feet.

DAY NURSERY — Denied a request by Joy and Roderick Crandall to allow a day nursery school for up to 30 children at 27 Meadow Drive, Alto.

MOUNTAIN SHOP — Denied a variance for Mrs. Mary R. King of San Anselmo to open a shop for hiking, camping and mountaineering gear at 1028 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield. The building, formerly occupied by Red Robin Caterers, is owned by the Ross Valley Medical Dental Building Inc.

SMALL LOT — Granted a variance to the rev. Gordon A. Cross of Sacramento to add a family room to his weekend home at 470 Aberdeen Way, Inverness. The lot is 3,150 square feet in an area where 6,000 square feet is required.

GALLINAS CLUB — Continued for more information a request by Gallinas Yacht Club to locate a barge at the intersection of Vendola Drive and Gallinas Creek to be used as a clubhouse.

Eye Recipient Still Can't See

HOUSTON (UPI)—John Madden spent three weeks with his eyelids stitched shut, waiting to learn whether an operation would restore his sight.

His wife said yesterday it had not.

Madden, 55, a Conroe, Tex., photo shop owner, received a new right eye three weeks ago in what was announced as the first total eye transplant. He quietly checked out of Methodist Hospital yesterday and returned home.

"There is no sight but the eye has perfect movement and he has feeling in it," Mrs. Madden said from the couple's home about 40 miles north of Houston.

College Alumni Plan Dinner Dance

The College of Marin Alumni Association will have its annual scholarship fund dinner dance May 24 at the San Rafael Elks Lodge, 1312 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

There will be a social hour starting at 7 p.m. and dinner at 8 p.m. Reservations can be made through the College of Marin Alumni Association, Kentfield.

Driving Sentence

Michael Paul Corder, 29, of the Presidio of San Francisco, has been placed on one year probation and fined $240 for drunken driving May 3 on Highway 101. He was sentenced by Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Municipal Court.

How To Hold FALSE TEETH More Firmly in Place

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping, or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Then sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. FASTEETH holds dentures firmer and more comfortably. Makes eating easier. It's alkaline—doesn't sour. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feel. Helps check plate odor. Dentures that fit are essential to health. See your dentist regularly. Get FASTEETH at all drug counters.

Dominican Offers Special Courses

Dominican College of San Rafael has announced it will offer selected summer session courses for the first time to gifted high school students who have completed their junior year.

The courses, June 23 to Aug. 1, are open to both boys and girls, who must have a recommendation from their high school administration. Applications must be submitted to the director of summer session at the college by next Tuesday.

Courses open to high school students are English composition, interpretation of literature, French culture, German 1, history of Europe 1500 to 1950, chamber music, advanced Spanish, Spanish culture and chemistry for non-majors.

Romney Keeps Promise, Gets Booed By Labor

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Housing Secretary George Romney kept his promise: He "laid it on the line" to a room full of labor leaders, and was booed in return.

Romney went before 3,000 delegates to a conference of the AFL-CIO Building Trades Department yesterday and told them they would have to end restrictive labor practices before the nation could meet its housing goals.

"That's all right," Romney said when the boos began. "I'm going to lay it on the line.

The delegates did give Romney a few cheers, but not where he intended. He got the favorable reaction when he told the delegates that wages won by building tradesmen were already "four and five times higher than any other union wage."

Corte Madera Police Vacancy To Council

The Corte Madera Town Council will consider a proposal at its 7:30 p.m. meeting Thursday that a member of the police department be assigned detective duties on an interim basis, filling the vacancy left by Inspector Harold N. Hockett, and that the detective be paid 5 per cent above base pay.

The council will also take up proposed salaries for 1969-70.

Petaluma's Mayor, Youth Spar On Plans

The Petaluma City Council — facing the usual "communication gap" — last night heard young people ask the city to serve as the center of planning for the many youth groups developing new activities for teen-agers.

With many youngsters attending the study session, some council members felt the teen-agers were impudent and irreverent at times in demanding that a city program be planned.

"There will be a long, hot, dull summer coming up, if the city doesn't do something soon," a young spokesman warned the council.

Mayor Helen Putnam at first tried to stifle the participation of the young people, saying that all segments of the teen community were not represented. "We want to be fair to everyone, so we'll set aside a time to hear everybody who wants to be heard," she said, suggesting the study session was meant for the councilmen to exchange views and not for the young people to offer opinions.

On the prodding of Vice Mayor Kenneth J. Colin and several adults in the audience, the young people were allowed to speak. Referring to the roost dances sponsored by the city recreation department, and the "Square Balloon," a private teen club, the youngsters said that false rumors among adults had killed the activities.

"The word spread falsely that kids were getting drunk and stoned there, so the parents refused to allow their teen-agers to attend," a young man said.

Councilman Robert S. Lipman, who had called for the youth session, said that many adult groups and teen-agers were meeting on the problems and that it should be the council's role to draw them all together and determine what resources the city can make available.

"We've been talking for so long, now it's time to start doing something," he said. "The problems will only increase."

After the meeting, Lipman said he would offer a resolution at the meeting next Monday to set up a youth study meeting to chart a course of action. "We've got to start trusting each other," Lipman said, referring to the generation gap.

Councilman Phillip L. Joerger said he felt the young people had unfairly charged that the city wasn't doing anything for their benefit.

Mayor Putnam said she felt the city had already taken the first step and said she had been meeting with student representatives from the schools along with school administrators, the recreation director and the chief of police to plan activities.

Although the young people wanted the meeting to continue so they might be heard at length, Mrs. Putnam gaveled the session to a close. When the teen-agers shouted "Why?" she replied, "because that's the prerogative of the mayor."

The Petaluma City Council Also:

CAR BID — Awarded a contract for the purchase of a compact pool car to Western Motors with the low bid of $1,726.

SIGN — Granted a variance to Denny's restaurant, 4986 Redwood Highway North, to construct a 50-foot freestanding sign, 20 feet higher than the usual city limit. The council agreed the sign should be higher since the restaurant must attract freeway traffic.

SERVICE STATIONS — Adopted an ordinance regulating the proximity of service stations and placed a 30-day moratorium on service station applications so the rulings may take effect. Stations will now be confined to two per intersection and the others must be 500 feet apart. They must also be 350 feet away from a school, park, playground or other place of public gathering.

COMMITTEE — Appointed Councilman David W. Brainerd to the advisory committee of the Petaluma Board of Education studying the proposed educational park plan.

AMBULANCE — Amended the boundaries of the ambulance district to withdraw the town of Marshall, which would rather be served by the Point Reyes ambulance service.

SHOEMAKER — Directed that a resolution be prepared showing appreciation for the 15 years of service by County Supervisor Leigh S. Shoemaker of Petaluma, who recently resigned due to ill health.

Dinner To Honor Past Presidents

The Marin County Peace Officers Association will honor its past presidents at a dinner this evening at the Wiltshire Towers Motel in San Rafael.

Host will be Albert E. Bagshaw, who was first president of the association on its organization in 1940. Co-host will be Donald T. Wood, who was the first secretary-treasurer. Bagshaw is a former district attorney and San Rafael city attorney; Wood, former San Anselmo police chief.

All past presidents will be presented life membership in the association, said Undersheriff Sidney Stinson, the current president.

Second Trial Set After Hung Jury

A second trial was set yesterday for the week of Sept. 2 for Ronald T. Faircloth, 24, of Kentfield, who is accused of two counts of selling marijuana to a narcotics agent.

Faircloth was convicted last week of possession of marijuana but a Marin Superior Court jury was hung on whether he was guilty of the selling charges.

He is due to be sentenced June 3 by Judge E. Warren McGuire on the possession conviction.

Tune-Up Session Set For Devils

Marinwood Water Devils will conduct a tune-up swimming session Saturday at 9:30 a.m. at the Marinwood pool, recreation director William A. Gordon announced last night at a meeting of the Marinwood Parks and Recreation Commission.

Jerry C. Leith, president of the Marinwood Homeowners Association, reported his organization is working on a summer activity program for youths between 12 and 16.

Gordon announced the summer recreation program will begin June 16. Among activities planned are day camps, tennis instruction, horseback riding, roller skating, sewing, folk guitar instruction, two-day campouts, ice skating, San Francisco Giants games, bike hikes, fishing, arts and crafts, Ice Follies, archery, nature hikes, tumbling, judo, and senior citizens activities.

Woman Recovering

Laura W. Frazer, of 197 Bolling Drive, Hamilton Air Force Base, was reported in good condition today at the base hospital after apparently taking an overdose of pills yesterday.

Supervisors Delay Point Reyes Action

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Sonoma County supervisors yesterday deferred action on a request to support a bill in the House of Representatives to appropriate $38,150,000 to complete acquisition of the Point Reyes National Seashore.

The bill, jointly sponsored by Reps. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, and William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, is the subject of a House hearing opening today in Washington, D.C.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors, spearheading a drive in support of the bill, has sent a three-man delegation to back the congressmen. In Washington are Marin's county counsel, Douglas J. Malone, Supervisor Louis H. Baar and West Marin rancher Boyd Stewart.

Raynon E. Paschke, Clausen's district representative, asked the Sonoma supervisors to approve a resolution supporting the appropriation and to send it to Washington in the next 10 days.

Paschke referred to the park as "the jewel in the crown of the National Park System," and said the added authorization would relieve the property owners of the uncertainty of the future use of the land.

Several large landowners, under the heavy burden of increasing taxes, have said they plan to sell the land to subdividers if the government doesn't make the purchase, and one has reluctantly begun subdividing.

Supervisors said they would consider a supporting resolution today.

September Trial For Hub Trio

A jury trial yesterday was set for the week of Sept. 2 in Marin Superior Court for three of the four young people arrested Nov. 15 in a San Anselmo house which officers said hald a laboratory capable of producing LSD.

Andrew Samuel Perri, 19, yesterday pleaded innocent to offering to sell LSD, and Hamilton B. Henry, 21, denied possessing LSD and marijuana for sale. Mary T. Rosenbaum, 20, pleaded innocent to possessing LSD.

Judge Harold J. Haley yesterday denied a motion to dismiss the indictment against the four because of illegal entry.

Fairfax Drops Business Fee For Festival Booths

Fairfax Festival participants will not have to pay a business license fee for the one or two days they are in the city, the city council agreed last night. The festival is set for Sept. 20-21. (Another Fairfax City Council story, page 1.)

The festival committee had asked for a waiver of the license fee because, according to Chairman Charles J. Vergara, "if it is imposed the festival would be priced out of business."

City Atty. Wallace S. Myers told the council it has been held that a one-shot operation is not "engaging in the transaction of business" as defined in the ordinance.

The council agreed to hold until budget time a request from the festival committee for a $500 donation. Last year, the council gave $350.

Vergara pointed out the festival draws 15,000 to 20,000 persons to the city and predicted it would begin showing a substantial profit soon. Fairfax has had three festivals so far and last year was the only time a profit was realized.

The Fairfax City Council Also:

DOG CONTROL Agreed unanimously to adopt the proposed revisions to the county's dog control law subject to a joint powers agreement with the county.

BUSINESS HEALTH — Agreed to dig out all plans for the parkade and have them on display at a meeting so the council members can look at it all at once. Doing something with the parkade was one of the suggestions of the business health division of the Congress for Community Progress.

SENIOR CITIZEN — Named Mrs. Leah Jarrett as the outstanding senior citizen of Fairfax.

MEMORIAL DAY — Learned the Senior Citizen Organization will conduct a memorial day service at 1:30 p.m. May 30 in the Honor Grove at Memorial Park.

SEVEN ELEVEN — Denied a request for a special use permit to build a 7-11 store at 161 Bolinas Road when the applicant, David S. Smith, asked for his fourth postponement. The council stipulated he could reapply when he is ready to appear.

TENNIS — Learned the new lights have been installed at the tennis courts next to the Women's Club.

BAY — Agreed to support county efforts to preserve the bay shoreline.

HOUSING CODE — Delayed for a month adding the housing code to the city's ordinances to give council members a chance to read it. Councilman Adelaide P. Wilson reported much of it is like the building code but also pertains to occupancy.

COMMITTEES — Received appointments to committees for the coming year, with each councilman assigned to a city department to act as liason. Mrs. Wilson thought those assignments should be eliminated now that Fairfax has a city administrator but got no support.

DEBRIS — Learned the annual spring debris pickup would be held next week and eight debris boxes will be loaded up at city expense provided the firm has an attendant on duty and only residents of Fairfax are permitted to use the boxes.

APPOINTMENT — Approved the appointment of Joanne Walla to represent Fairfax at Marin County Human Rights Commission meetings.

FLOOD CONTROL — Heard Councilman Frank J. Egger request all the background on Fairfax participation in the Corte Madera Food Control District.

FORREST AVENUE — Delayed discussion on an engineering report on the slide on Forrest Avenue to an adjourned meeting at 8 p.m. May 26 at the Women's Club.

County Contends Coroner Danced Over RFK Death

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The county of Los Angeles claims coroner Thomas T. Noguchi danced in his office and expressed hope Sen. Robert F. Kennedy would die from an assassin's bullet so he could perform the autopsy and gain an international reputation.

Another time, claims the county, Noguchi, 42, did another dance while saying, "Isn't it nice ... isn't it nice?" after the second of two helicopters crashed with heavy loss of life.

Noguchi is contesting before the county Civil Service Commission his dismissal last March 18. He was fired by the board of supervisors after the county chief's administrative officer, L. S. Hollinger, filed a lengthy report accusing Noguchi of taking drugs, exhibiting symptoms that indicate a need for psychiatric care and bullying employees.

No Pay Hike For Teachers In Lagunitas

Contracts based on the present salary schedule will be offered to teachers in the Lagunitas School District, the board decided last night, turning down a 4 per cent salary scale increase requested by teachers.

Supt. Marshall J. McCunniff said the board's action was with the understanding that if additional funds become available the contracts will be revised.

McCunniff said teachers at the meeting last night seemed to understand what the board is facing and said he does not expect any mass resignations.

The board did approve financing dental insurance for teachers at a cost to the district of $2,400 a year, he said.

The Lagunitas School District board also:

MUSIC — Asked McCunniff to investigate costs of instituting a music program in the district after receiving a letter from the Parent-Teacher Association asking the board to consider adding such a program.

TRANSPORTATION — Agreed to seek bids on maintenance of buses in connection with a study on transportation policies.

CULTURAL CENTER — Approved an agreement with Jean Berensmeier to use the old school building for a cultural arts education program for children of the district.

$600 Theft Listed

Burglars took $300 in silver coins, a portable radio-tape recorder and portable television set, valued at $300, from the residence of Daniel Kerridge, 28 Gomez Way, Mill Valley, between 7 a.m. and 4 p.m. yesterday, police reported.

Westshore Plan Wins Commission Approval

The Corte Madera Planning Commission last night recommended approval of the Westshore Plan, a proposed planned development of the Domenic Muzzi property on San Francisco Bay.

In doing so, the commission also recommended to the town council a policy statement in which these two conditions were stressed:

Waterfront residences must be provided with useable water access via a channel with a bottom elevation of minus five feet mean low lower water to deep water through a dredging project. This is to assure provision of a marina which may be combined with an assessment district for dredging San Clemente Creek.

Pedestrain and emergency vehicle access shall be provided on Harbor Drive and public vehicular and pedestrian access to the east shoreline shall be provided.

The commission approved a proposed 72,000-square-foot addition to H. Koch and Sons, 15 Koch Road, secretary Betty Long reported.

Approval was on condition that the company remove two existing billboards on the site and that a plan be presented to conceal open storage of materials or the materials be removed.

Two Face Trial In Burglary

A jury trial has been set for the week of June 9 in Marin Superior Court for two men accused of burglarizing Braverman's Furniture Store in San Anselmo on March 11.

The defendants are Howard Tennyson Payne, 48, of Oakland, and Phillip Martin Steward, 29, of no known address.

They were arrested on the roof of the store with what police call "very sophisticated" burglary tools in their possession.

Fairfax To Try Again On Loitering Control

trying to end?" O'Connell asked.

Shapiro indicated it was hippies and O'Connell countered with, "What's a hippie?" as the audience booed.

Shapiro contended the ordinance is "designed not to correct a problem that exists but a problem that you think exists." der a good citizenry ordinance

An unidentified man charged the ordinance is "social and political suppression cloaked under a good citizenry ordinance You're not fooling anybody," he said.

O'Connell, acting on Myers' suggestion for a committee, asked Mrs. Wilson to serve with him.

"I've been totally opposed to this right from the beginning," she said amid applause.

Councilman Cornelis Van Vliet suggested putting Councilman Frank J. Egger on the committee because "it was his idea in the first place." (Some time ago Egger asked for a copy of the Carmel ordinance.)

Egger said the Carmel ordinance appears to be unenforceable. "I am against it," he said and moved that the council drop "this particular ordinance," and the audience clapped vigorously.

Councilman Robert R. Souza volunteered to be on the committee, commenting, "The council can't be responsible to 125 people." O'Connell accepted, and the two-man committee was created.

Egger's motion failed 3-2 with him and Mrs. Wilson on the losing end, and O'Connell asked that the next item be considered.

But the audience wasn't finished. George R. Weddleton Jr. of 18 Kent Avenue shouted that he wanted to be heard and O'Connell reluctantly gave him three minutes.

Weddleton, who attends almost every council meeting, angrily told O'Connell he would take longer than three minutes if he chose and the mayor ordered Police Chief James R. Orr to remove him

Meanwhile, Lois Williams, a 31-year resident of Fairfax sobbed, "Listen to us. We are the people."

She asked the council what would happen if this kind of an ordinance were passed and related a Sunday incident in which her 10-year-old son, caught smoking a cigarette, was dragged off to the police station and held for 20 minutes even though what he was doing was not illegal.

She warned "these jolly good citizens" will be dragging people off under this new ordinance.

As other members of the audience indicated they still wanted a chance to speak, Souza suggested giving them 15 more minutes. O'Connell agreed and asked them to keep their comments to three minutes.

Fink accused the council of "waiting until a different time when there aren't so many people there," while James Hanson pointed out Fairfax has no recreation such as dances and now "you're taking away the places we have to go."

At that point Chief Orr returned and conferred in whispers with O'Connell, apparently on the disposition of Weddleton, while the audience shouted, "Speak into the microphone" and "It's a public meeting."

O'Connell told the group he had asked that Weddleton not be arrested and that he could come back to the meeting if he behaved.

An unidentified member of the audience suggested scrapping the ordinance under consideration and if three members of the council want to wrote another, go ahead.

"Okay, it's scrapped," said O'Connell and the audience complained that there was no vote. O'Connell moved as Egger had earlier to drop the ordinance and added a line providing for a new one.

Four members voted yes and Souza passed until the vote was taken and then voted yes.

No members of the audience favored the ordinance.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Deed Violates Trust Of Wife

Pete and Joan, husband and wife, owned a ranch in joint tenancy. In his later years when Pete was failing in health, Joan did her best to comfort and nurse him.

Before he died, Pete got Joan to sign a quit-claim deed to transfer to him any interest in property she owned. Joan signed the deed when he told her that it would not take away her part of their jointly owned ranch.

After Pete died, Joan found out that the deed had transferred her right to get the whole ranch at his death. Pete had willed everything to his brother.

Joan asked the court to nullify the deed, and the court did so.

The quit-claim deed was invalid. Pete had obtained it by violating his wife's trust in him. Under the law he could not take advantage of her.

The ranch again became a joint tenancy, and the survivor, in this case Joan, got all of it.

A large amount of property owned by husband and wife is held in joint tenancy. When one of them dies the other gets the property automatically. Neither spouse can will away his half interest to children or anybody. A will has no effect on joint tenancies, except in very special circumstances.

One joint tenant, while alive, however, could on his own without telling his wife destroy the effect of the joint tenancy. He could break the joint tenancy merely by transferring his interest in it to someone else and have him transfer it right back. Or a creditor could force a sale, let us say, of the husband's interest and thus break the joint tenancy.

When a lawyer is discussing their estates with husband and wife, to prepare wills for them, he may have to ask them to change the joint tenancy property to some other form of holding title, to permit them to will their interests to others, or for tax reasons.

A court reviews all transactions between husband and wife carefully for fairness. Neither can legally take advantage of the trust the other has a right to impose — or treat the other as a stranger in property dealings.

BURNS

Nixon and other Republicans in the last election.

Way told newsmen he would make no major changes "at this time." He said there would be "no drastic changes in committee assignments."

Burns, the most powerful senator since his election in 1957, said, "I don't think the Republican party gained a great deal."

But after weeks of campaigning by Way, Burns, for the first time, recognized today that his opponents had made headway.

In a voice quavering with emotion, he rose on the Senate floor and announced he wanted all 40 senators in a closed caucus in an upstairs committee room.

Decrying the battling, he denounced the "disturbances and machinations" of his opponents.

"I cannot ask the Senate to continue in session with all these disturbances connected to the subject continuing on and off the floor."

After he and his colleagues left the ornate, Victorian-era Senate chamber, he called for a ballot on whether they thought he should continue on the job.

He lost that vote 21-19 and then the same majority elected Way.

Opposing Way was Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, a close friend of Burns.

The action will have to be formally ratified at a Senate session tomorrow.

Way's move came without support from Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan, who had repeatedly said Burns had the votes to win.

Indictments Handed Out For Rioting

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Twenty Brooklyn College students have been indicted as a result of campus disorders during the past two weeks, it was announced today.

Indictments returned by a Brooklyn grand jury allege arson and vandalism. Asst. Dist. Atty. Gen. Eugene Gold said 17 students have been arrested and three were being sought. He said all 20 are Negro or Puerto Rican, including three women.

Also at Ithica, N.Y., today the Tompkins County Grand Jury, which has been investigating the April 19 takeover of a Cornell University building by black militants who emerged with guns, returned 21 sealed indictments.

Rist. Atty. Matthew J. McHugh declined to specify that the indictments involved the takeover of Willard Straight Hall, the campus union center by 100 blacks.

In fact, there were indications most of the indictments would not concern Cornell and that most or all charges brought in connection with the seizure would be misdemeanors not contained in indictments. The misdemeanor charges appeared likely to be criminal trespassing, and the defendants would appear in city court.

Meanwhile in Stony Brook, N.Y., police with warrants for 19 State University students for selling marijuana and hashish swooped down on dormitories early this morning, arresting 14 which set off three hours of campus rioting.

More than 200 windows were smashed in campus buildings, two automobiles burned and others damaged, and a number of small fires set, including one which burned down a gatehouse.

Damage was estimated at about $10,000. Four persons were treated for minor injuries.

About 200 students were involved in the rioting, apparently set off by the presence of police on the campus where an unannounced police drug raid more than a year ago is still a subject of controversy.

The Long Island campus, about 50 miles from New York, has 5,600 students.

One source said the narcotics squad of Suffolk County police notified campus security officials last week of the impending raid. But another source said that Stony Brook's president, Dr. John S. Toll, was told of police plans only minutes before the raid occurred.

As a result of the drug raid last year, 46 persons were arrested on narcotics charges, including 20 students. The raid, made without notifying school officials, touched off a furor among students and faculty.

Classes and scheduled preregistration were reported virtually normal later this morning, as Toll appealed in a statement distributed around the campus for calm and normalcy.

On another scene an integrated group of students at Union Theological Seminary in New York hald a day-long sit-in to support black militants' demands for $500 million in reparations for racial injustice, while more than 100 students at Mariette College in Ohio entered the fourth day of a hunger strike.

About 100 seminarians moved out of Union's administration building after 23 hours, when school officials agreed to convene a meeting of the board of directors yesterday to hear student demands.

The students for the Protestant ministry seek $100,000 from the seminary and $1 million to be raised privately by the directors for the reparations campaign against religious institutions, led by the National Black Economic Development Conference.

The students moved to the chapel and pledged to remain there until their demands were met.

Marietta has about 1,800 students.

At the City College of New York, Dr. Joseph J. Copeland ender his first day yesterday as president of the 20-000-student school with a promise to try and re-open negotiations with black and Puerto Rican students who seek a separate school of black studies and enrollment of more minority group students.

Kiesinger Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced Tuesday West German Chancellor Kurt Kiesinger will make an official visit to Washington July 22-23. President Nixon had invited Kiesinger to come to the United States.

year and leave it during his 20th year.

Undergraduate students would continue to be deferred and their year of maximum vulnerability would begin with the expiration of the deferment.

Graduate students would be allowed to complete the full academic year during which they were ordered up for induction, rather than just one term.

The National Security Council and the Selective Service director are being directed to review the whole policy of deferments and exemptions and give the President their findings and recommendations.

Nixon said the random draft plan would be established nationally but be applied locally by each draft board to meet its local quota.

Summing up, Nixon told Congress:

"I believe these reforms are essential. I hope they can be implemented quickly."

The President had gone over high points of his message with Republican congressional leaders earlier in the day. One of them, House Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, said he thought the prospects of congressional approval were good.

The President said that ultimately the draft should be abolished. Only in 1948, he said, did a peacetime draft become a relatively permanent fact of life for the nation, and now a full generation has grown up under a system of compulsory military service.

"I am hopeful," he said, "that we can soon restore the principle of no draft in peacetime. But until we do, let us be sure that the operation of the Selective Service System is as equitable and as reasonable as we can make it."

Nixon set out the mechanics of his draft plan in considerable detail.

He said the government plans to designate a "prime age group" every year. This would provide a different pool of persons eligible for the draft for each consecutive 12-month period. This period would be called a Selective Service year, since it would not necessarily start Jan. 1.

The prime age group for any Selective Service year would be made up of those who are 19 at the start of the year. Young men with deferments or exemptions would rejoin this group upon expiration of deferments or exemptions.

In the first year of operation nobody would escape vulnerability to the draft merely because of a change from one system to another. This would be assured by a system under which all eligible men from 19 to 26 who are not deferred or exempt would go into the prime age group.

Each individual would have maximum vulnerability to the draft only in the year he is in the prime group. After that, normally during his 20th year, he would move down progressively to less vulnerable categories while an entirely new set of young men would be coming up into the new prime age group.

Nixon said this would mean a young man would receive an earlier, more decisive answer to his question of where he stands with the draft and thus could plan his life accordingly.

this, saying the bombing halt was unconditional.

Farther south along the Laotian border near the A Shau Valley, other North Vietnamese troops made a heavy attack on American paratroopers trying to choke off infiltration routes into South Vietnam. Twenty American paratroopers were killed, 65 were wounded, and their artillery base sustained "light to moderate" damage, U.S. headquarters said. Twenty North Vietnamese troops were reported killed.

In another fight in the northern provinces, North Vietnamese troops ambushed a U.S. Marine force about 20 miles southwest of Da Nang, killing 10 Marines and wounding 12. Four enemy bodies were found. The fighting was at such close quarters that the Marines were unable to call in bombers of artillery.

Otepka Gets Panel Nod To Loyalty Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee approved, 10-3, today President Richard M. Nixon's nomination of Otto F. Otepka to be a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., one of the three to vote against recommending confirmation, said he will oppose the nomination when it is brought up in the Senate.

"I don't think there is room on the SACB for a member whose basis of strength and support is the John Birch Society and the Liberty Lobby," Kennedy told reporters after a closed meeting of the committee at which he questioned Otepka.

DENIES LINKS

In a statement the committee made public yesterday, Otepka said he does not have and has not had any "connections with the John Birch Society, or the Liberty Lobby, or Mr. Willis Carto, or with any other person or organizations known to him to be actively associated with any of the above three."

The Washington Evening Star said today two organizations that contributed more than $23,500 to fight Otepka's dismissal as the State Department's chief security evaluator have clearly defined ties with numerous right-wing groups including the John Birch Society.

The Star, in a story prepared for today's editions, said the principal fund-raising organization for Otepka also urged its supporters to subscribe to right-wing publications and was founded by a man who addressed a Birch Society rally last year.

The Star also said a $2,500 donation was made by another organization whose leaders have appeared at Birch Society functions, contributed to society publications and actively sought funds for the society.

PANEL AIRING

Questions about Otepka's "connections and finances" were raised last week by four members of a committee considering his appointment by Nixon to the $36,000-a-year job.

Sens. Kennedy, D-Mass.; Philip A. Hart, D-Mich.; Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., and Quentin N. Burdick, D-N.D., submitted the questions, including one asking specifically about Carto, a leader of the Liberty Lobby.

The memorandum responding to the questions was delivered yesterday to committee Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss. by J. G. Sourwine, counsel of the internal security subcommittee.

Otepka was ordered dismissed in 1963 from his State Department post after his superiors accused him of unauthorized disclosure of personnel files to the subcommittee, a unit of the Judiciary Committee.

The subcommittee, which had received testimony from Otepka about lax department security practices, strongly protested. In 1967, after reviewing the case, then-Secretary of State Dean Rusk changed the dismissal order to demotion, transfer and reprimand.

Apollo 10 Crew Is Fit For Sunday Blastoff

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Doctors today pronounced the Apollo 10 astronauts physically fit to fly around the moon next week.

Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Cmdrs. John W. Young and Eugene A. Cernan underwent a rigorous four-hour examination as the countdown proceeded smoothly toward a Sunday launching. Apollo 10 is to pave the way for a moon landing by two Apollo 11 astronauts in July.

ly all of BCDC's regulatory powers and made it only an advisory body. The legislation also would have allowed residential development on bay fill and given public navigation and fishing easements to bay fillers free.

McCarthy said he would seek to amend the Dolwig Bill in the Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee today to provide for more elected officials to serve on BCDC and to assure "just compensation" for shoreline areas taken by public agencies. The bill was to be heard by the committee — to which McCarthy and Dolwig belong — late today.

McCarthy said Dolwig did not object to these changes or even to calling the legislation the Dolwig-McCarthy Act.

In related developments yesterday, 15 Bay Area assemblyman announced their support of any strong save-the-bay bill; Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, author of a bill similar to Dolwig's, said he was still studying the Dolwig measure for possible loopholes, and the Sierra Club charged the Reagan administration with underestimating public feeling that BCDC should not only be continued, but strengthened.

The 15 lawmakers, including Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, urged speedy passage through the Assembly of the Knox bill, which cleared the Committee on Local Government of the lower house last week. It has the wide support of conservationists.

While there may be loopholes in the Dolwig Bill, Knox said, he declared that he will support it if it turns out to be the strongest bay measure. "If it is known as the Dolwig Save-the-Bay Act, that's all right with me," Knox added.

to be general agreement on areas for needed relief.

Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post suggested studying the possibility of reducing the oil depletion allowance as a new revenue source.

A tax package by Democratic Assemblymen John Dunlap of Napa and Alan Sieroty of Beverly Hills favors such a reduction and an oil severance tax.

But Bagley said he didn't think a reduction in the depletion allowance would be included in the package either. "You would conjure the wrath of the oil industry — and also 20 or 30 no votes."

With the exception of the governor's plan, Bagley said, all of the tax packages favor mandatory withholding of state income tax.

Reagan's plan would only require mandatory withholding the first year a person files. Otherwise, it would be optional.

Race Riot Hits Malaysian City

KUALA LUMPUR (UPI) — Gangs of Malays and Chinese fought in the streets of Kuala Lumpur today in an outburst of racial violence. The government imposed a 24-hour curfew. Early reports said that at least 14 persons were killed in the first three hours of fighting and that clashes were continuing.

Police were reporting firing into the rioters.

Tax Refund Measure Approved By Senate

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The Senate today voted 35-2 to extend the time for an estimated 300,000 tardy property taxpayers to file for a tax refund.

The measure by Assemblyman George Milias, R-Gilroy, extends until May 23 the time for homeowners to apply for a $70 property tax rebate. It returns to the lower house for concurrence in amendments.

Middle School Hours Voted In Mill Valley

A revised schedule for the Edna Maguire middle school was approved last night by the Mill Valley School District board, according to Supt. James A. Collins.

The new schedule, as outlined by Dr. Glenn Skelton, middle school director, will establish two 140-minute and one 70-minute time blocks for subject study.

One block of 140 minutes will be devoted to English and history, the second 140 minutes to math and science and the final 70 minutes to arts and crafts alternating with physical education, Collins said.

Skelton told the board that the studying other choices including school staff had recommended the simplified schedule after studying other choices including the standard seven or eight-period day and one which would use 20-minute modules of time for various subjects.

Mill Valley School District Board Also:

OUTDOOR EDUCATION — Agreed to act as an agent for the Marin County Superintendent of Schools office in obtaining a $15,000 federal grant to establish an outdoor education program at the Audubon Canyon Ranch.

SIGN — Delayed approval of a permanent sign and placque for the new middle school until a name for the school has been chosen and asked district residents to suggest names.

ENGINEER — Asked the staff to provide cost estimates for a structural engineer to inspect district schools.

SAFETY — Asked the staff to prepare a report, aided by the Mill Valley Parent-Teacher Council and the California Highway Patrol, on the safety of school street crossings in the district.

INSTITUTE — Agreed to allow the Behavior Therapy Institute of Sausalito to use a portable classroom at Strawberry Point School from June 16 to Aug. 15 and asked staff to draft a policy for evaluating such requests in the future.

STUDENT TEACHERS — Approved a policy encouraging the district to participate in student teacher training programs.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted resignations from Mary M. Robison, Edna Maguire English-social studies teacher, who resigned to go into independent business; Kathleen Rossi, third grade teacher, Alto School, who is moving to Boston; and Michael D. Healy, educationally handicapped teacher at Strawberry Point School, who is accepting a post as consultant to the educationally handicapped program in Napa County.

CLOSED SESSION — Met in closed session to instruct Collins on negotiations with employee organizations.

Ehrlich Maps Court Plea Against Officer's Firing

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The attorney for a fired policeman said today he would appeal an order ousting Michael O'Brien from the force for the off-duty fatal shooting of a Negro truck driver.

The three-man police commission voted unanimously yesterday to fire O'Brien on grounds of "unofficerlike conduct" in the shooting last Sept. 30 in an alley near the Hall of Justice.

Attorney J. W. Ehrich said he would appeal the decision to superior court. He said a petition for a writ of mandamus seeking reinstatement of O'Brien would be filed within a week.

Ehrlich said the commissioners had made up their minds before reading the transcript of O'Brien's 10-week manslaughter trial. The 28-year-old officer was found innocent by a Municipal Court jury.

"Officer O'Brien is being sacrificed on the alter of political chicanery for a hoped-for batch of votes for this mayor," the attorney said. He charged the commission decision was politically motivated since the members were appointed by Mayor Joseph L. Alioto.

After two months of investigations and meetings, the police commission announced its decision to fire O'Brien.

The officer had been on suspension since the day George Baskett was shot and killed outside his Brush Place apartment. The shooting occurred when a car driven by a Negro brushed O'Brien's boat trailer.

One witness testified at O'Brien's trial that the policeman had been drinking wine that day during an outing on a Northern California lake before returning to San Francisco.

Dixie Schools Curriculum Post To Principal

Raymond Riley, principal of Miller Creek School, will suceed Dr. Penrod Moss as assistant superintendent of curriculum for the Dixie School District.

Riley was appointed last night at a closed meeting of the Dixie District Board of Trustees. Dr. Moss, who has been with the district for more than 10 years, resigned effective July 1 to become an associate professor at Dominguez State College in Los Angeles.

Salary for Riley was not set last night, Supt. Dennie B. Willis said the fixing of salary will probably await the setting of salaries for all teachers, now under negotiation.

The trustees received the resignation of reading specialist Paul Ricciardi, but no successor was named.

The trustees will continue discussion of teachers' salaries at the regular meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the district office, 35 Trellis Drive, Terra Linda.

Burglary Reported

An amplifier, guitar, clock, 25 rock and roll records, and stereo equipment were taken by burglars who broke into the home of Mike N. Morena at 1000 Butterfield Road, Sleepy Hollow on Sunday, sheriff's officers said today.

Phone Official Is Hospitalized

Ross W. Wright, general manager of Western California Telephone Co. which serves North Marin was reported in satisfactory condition in Novato General Hospital today after apparently suffering a heart attack yesterday.

Wright, 63, will be in the hospital's intensive care unit for at least the next six days, telephone company officials reported, and is under doctor's orders to receive no visitors or calls.

He collapsed while working in his office shortly before 3 p.m. officials said.

Wright and his wife live at 750 Kendon Lane in Novato.

WAYNE A. STEVENS
Killed in Vietnam

Ex-Redwood Student Dies In Vietnam

Pfc Wayne Alan Stevens, 20, former Redwood High School student, was killed May 1 during a small arms attack near An Hoa, Vietnam, the Independent-Journal learned today.

He had been in Vietnam since last August, serving with the First Marine Division.

Stevens, son of Mrs. and Mrs. Harold F. Stevens of College Park, Md., attended Redwood High School in Larkspur from 1963 to 1965. During that time he was a member of the marching and concert bands.

He was also a member of the Western Regional Band and played with the Marin County Symphony. Stevens was a a member of DeMolay in Larkspur.

He attended Pacific Music Camp at the University of the Pacific, Stockton, during the summers of 1965 and 1966. His favorite musical instrument was the trombone.

Stevens was a member of the California United Methodist Church, San Rafael.

He studied music at the University of Arkansas. He enlisted in the Marine Corps in Nov. 1967 and was trained at Camp Pendleton.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a brother, Roger, of College Park.

Funeral was to be held in College Park and burial in New Richmond, Ohio. The family requested that tributes be in contributions to the United Methodist Church, San Rafael.

Meeting Shifted

The Tamalpais High School District board will hold a special meeting at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, in the district office to discuss the 1969-70 budget. This meeting was originally set for 8 p.m.

Apartment Looted

A burglar stole a phonograph, turntable, television set, two watches and two bottles of cologne valued at a total of $200 from their apartment yesterday, Linda J. Corso and Kathy M. Melby of 25 Rodeo Avenue, Apt. 1, told Sausalito police.

Money Held For Loans To Students

The College of Marin Foundation board voted last night to set aside $4,700 as matching money for national student defense loans for the 1969-70 year, board president Aaron E. Rucker reported.

The board authorized that $500 be placed in the current emergency loan fund and said what is left over in the current fund drive, an estimated $6,000, will go into the general scholarship fund.

The spring fund drive took in $19,600 but the figure may be adjusted when the final tally is made, Rucker explained. The board voted to award scholarships at its annual meeting at 8 p.m. June 2 at the college.

It also confirmed the appointments of Philip Merriman and Bernard Kerns to serve on the board until June 1971.

San Rafael Pickup Stolen In Petaluma

Police said the truck owned by Hans Ster, 807 Vendola Drive, had been driven to the area by George Bushton, 527 Stone Drive, Novato. The 1957 green Chevrolet truck had several dents, police reported, and the license number of H94411.

Budgetary Problems Worry Kentfield District Trustees

Kentfield School District trustees discussed the 1969-70 preliminary budget last night and expressed concern that the budget shows no increases for teachers' salaries, no capital expenditures and a reduction in maintenance.

Supt. Anthony G. Bacich said that the estimated budget of $1,300,000 — a cut of $112,391 from the current budget — shows no capital expenditures, a sum which is usually $3,000 to $40,000. And, he added, the 12.9 per cent salary increase requested by teachers cannot be financed from the budget as it stands now.

The district has a predicted 1969-70 income of $1,236,554 plus a balance of $130,000 — or a total income of $1,366,554, Bachch reported. Expenditures for 1969-70, he said, are estimated at $1,300,000.

The board hopes to hold the present tax rate of $3.34 per $100 assessed valuation, Bacich said.

The Kentfield School District Board Also:

NONGRADED CLASSES — Heard recommendations for nongraded classes from second to sixth grades at Wolfe Grade School by a parent study group but took no action pending further study.

HEARING-HANDICAPPED — Approved a contract with Corlett and Spackman of San Francisco, district architects, for the proposed four classroom hearing-handicapped building to be built by the county on county land at Adaline E. Kent School.

RESIGNATION — Accepted resignation of Norma Hannah, district librarian for eight years, who is moving to San Diego.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE — Granted Bernice Winik, A. E. Kent Junior High School physical education teacher, a year's maternity leave and David Van Kriedt, district instrumental music teacher, to the end of the term, for personal reasons.

Marijuana Count Filed By Novato

Two 18-year-old San Rafael men were arrested by Novato police on suspicion of possession of marijuana for sale after they were stopped on a routine traffic matter last night, police said.

Booked into Marin County Jail and held in lieu of $625 bail each were Robert James Kirby of 105 Garden Avenue and Michael John Hunn of 235 Devon Drive. They were to appear for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Officer Ronald Green said he stopped the car because it did not have a license plate light and because it was weaving slightly. Approaching the car, he said he smelled burning marijuana and found a half kilo of marijuana under the front seat.

Scholarship To Petaluma Senior

Alfred L. Kuck, Petaluma Senior High School student, has been awarded the Don Ament Memorial Scholarship by the Sebastopol chapter of the Future Farmers of America.

Kuck, who was selected from 10 finalists, plans to use the grant in the fall to major in agricultural engineering at the University of California at Davis.

A two-year member of the Petaluma Chapter, Kuck serves as treasurer and has won awards in the dairy division of state competition. He also serves as a 4-H junior leader.

Kuck is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Kuck of 4770 Bodega Avenue, Petaluma.

The scholarship is awarded annually in the memory of Don Ament, a former member of the Sebastopol chapter who died in Vietnam.

Varied Loot Taken

Henry E. Ravetto of Mill Valley reported to the sheriff's department that burglars had entered his weekend home at Forest Knolls Friday and taken a stereo set, two cases of liquor, a pistol, electric blanket, telescope, iron, 20 nembutal capsules and assorted food.

San Francisco Fights To Pare Big Budget

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A board of supervisors committee yesterday lopped $23 million from the city's proposed 1969-70 budget, but the total was still $80 million higher than this year.

The finance committee took a month to cut the record $606 million budget submitted by Mayor Joseph L. Alioto down to $583 million. The mayor had slashed $41 million from departmental requests.

The full board will consider the spending program next Monday.

The biggest cuts were in the welfare budget, with about $9 miflion removed from the Aid to Dependent Children and General Assistance spending programs.

A $583 million budget would require $210.9 million from city property tax payers. City Controller Nathan Cooper said it would mean a boost in the present tax rate which is $10.23 per $100 assessed valuation, but he refused to estimate how much.

In a budget-related action, the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce filed suit to block a 5 per cent wage increase granted 14,000 city and county employees. The chamber charged the increase violates the city charter.

Osteopathic Leader Hits AMA's Health Care Policy

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—The president-elect of the American Osteopathic Association said last night his organization could n ever merge with the American Medical Association because of the AMA's policies on health care.

Dr. J. Scott Heatherington, Gladstone, Ore., spoke at the convention of the Indiana Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons.

He charged that the AMA has attempted to destroy the osteopathic profession and has fought Medicare, Blue Cross, public venereal disease clinics, free cancer detection centers, Red Cross blood banks, compulsory diptheria and smallpox inoculation, mandatory TB reports and federal grants for student loans and medical school construction.

Dr. Heatherington said the AMA is apparently more worried about competition from the osteopaths than improving health care. He charged the AMA has attempted to destroy the osteopathic profession through tactics ranging from merger offers to attempted "academic piracy" of osteopathic students and the appropriation of AMA funds for the purchase of existing osteopathic colleges.

He said it was "unfortunate so many people still accept the myth that the AMA is the final authority in all areas of health care and that its only interest is the protection of the public."

"Even if the AMA's record did not show how much it has been dominated by its own self serving policies, the business of providing adequate health care to a nation of two hundred million people has grown much too compex to be handled by a single organization that exists primarily to defend the professional interests of its members," Heatherington said.

FERRYBOAT, NIGHT CLUB TO LIBRARY?

How about a floating library for Sausalito?

Trustee Anita Koenig raised the idea last night before the Sausalito Library Board and suggested investigating the possibility of using the ferryboat Charles Van Damme as a library.

The boat, formerly used as a night club, is now outside the city limits at Gate 6 Road. The city has been seeking a new library site since 1967 when voters rejected plans for a new building on the waterfront downtown.

The library board took no action on Mrs. Koenig's suggestion.

Timetable For Novato Sewage Set

A timetable for action by the Novato Sanitary District to stop polluting the Petaluma River and Novato Creek was submitted to the district trustees last night by engineer-manager Charles Joseph.

The timetable calls for engineering and financial studies to be made on the district's needs, to be submitted to the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board by July 1, 1970.

The regional board in March issued an order to the sanitary district to stop polluting the two rivers.

Under the timetable submitted by Joseph, the district would begin a detailed restudy of sewer facilities planning by June 23. He said the study would involve, among other things, an attempt to find a solution to Novato's sewage treatment problems which would satisfy regional requirements as well as represent facilities that would tie in well with a proposed Bay-Delta regional collector system and would be financially sound for the district.

A financial consultant would be hired to begin the necessary long range financial studies by Jan. 1, 1970, Joseph said. The engineering report should be finished by Feb. 1 and the financing study by May 15, he said.

The board, according to the timetable, then would have until June 22, 1970, to review the reports and hold any necessary public hearings before submission by July 1, 1970, a report on what has been done and a further detailed timetable on the district's plans to conform to regional requirements.

The Novato Sanitary District Board also:

ASSESSMENT — Approved an amended assessment affecting two properties in the Ignacio project to conform to changes in property lines.

EXTENSION — Accepted a sewer main extension to service Tijuana Taco on Tamalpais Avenue at Novato Boulevard.

FREEWAY — Received from the district staff a report on preliminary plans for required relocations of facilities as a result of the Novato freeway project.

WARRANTS — Approved $7,826 in warrants and ratified $9,148 in salary warrants.

MEETING — Set its next meeting for 6 p.m. May 26 at the North Marin County Water District offices in Novato.

Plans Bared For Catholic Hoop League

Plans for a Catholic Youth Organization basketball league in Rohnert Park were presented last night to the city recreation commission.

George Geister, a former commissioner, said he was planning a league to include boys in grades four through six, but needed commission funds and sanction to get the program going.

The commission, anticipating a budget review soon, said the league and costs for referees and uniforms would be considered then. Geister said the teams would play in the county organization league and perhaps later be enlarged to include grades three through eight.

The Rohnert Park Recreation Commission also:

POOL — Set the official opening of the two city pools for May 30 and said all residents would be admitted at no charge. Ronald E. Rasmussen, commission chairman, said the pools will be open daily when school closes.

BOOTH — Heard report that the announcing and concession booth at Alicia Park is nearly complete. All construction work was done by residents.

LANDSCAPING — Requested City Manager Peter M. Callinan to present a cost breakdown on the landscaping of the new community and recreation center so some funds can be included in the commission budget.

Driver Sustains Only Minor Injuries

Francois L. Albert, 45, of 1491 Indian Valley Road, Novato, was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital with a cut scalp and chin suffered yesterday when his car skidded into the center strip on Highway 101 in Terra Linda, the California Highway Patrol reported. Albert was to be released from the hospital today.

The patrol said the accident occurred at 9:10 a.m. when heavy southbound traffic slowed and Albert's car skidded as he braked, went broadside into the dirt center strip and turned onto its right side.

Action Delayed On Apartment Proposal

A proposal to amend the San Marin master plan to permit an 80-unit apartment development on land originally intended for a park was continued last night by the Novato Planning Commission until its May 26 meeting.

The proposal, from Murray and McCormick Inc., seeks to permit multiple family use of 3.8 acres on the south side of San Marin Drive across from San Mateo Way. The area was designated in the San Marin master plan for park purposes.

Consideration of the proposal was delayed to give more time for study of the application.

The commission adopted a zoning change which reclassified the Los Robles Mobile Home Park from the county zoning of mobile home park to the Novato zoning of planned residential.

Planning Director Brian Mattson said the action was needed to make the mobile home park conform to the city's zoning classifications. Novato's planned residential zoning permits mobile homes.

The Novato Planning Commission Also:

PERMIT — Approved a use permit for construction of a building to be used as an electrical contractor's shop and an electrical fixture wholesale house in the Novato Auto Mart subdivision, west of Highway 101 and south of Novato Creek.

DELICATESSEN — Approved a use permit for a delicatessen and meat market in the Nave Shopping Center, requested by Robert M. Nave.

EXCAVATION — Approved a variance request by Dotson Builders, Inc., to permit an excavation exceeding set limits at the rear of the proposed convalescent hospital at Hill and Indian Valley roads.

HELD OVER — Held over until its June 7 meeting consideration of underground utilities ordinance and the remainder of the capital improvements program.

HEARING — Set a public hearing for the May 26 meeting to consider a variance on off-street parking and reconsider use permit conditions relating to setbacks.

ADMINISTRATOR — Delayed until the May 26 meeting discussion of a zoning administrator position.

Players, Tapes Reported Stolen

Two San Rafael motorists have reported the theft of tape players and tapes from their autos.

Ellen P. Stanbro of 8 Elaine Way said a player and 10 tapes, valued at a total of $165, were taken from her car parked at her residence.

Gilbert R. Levey of 24 Bonnie Banks Way reported the loss of a player and tapes worth a total of $180 from his car while the vehicle was parked across from 5 Ross Street Sunday.

Mill Valley Man's Apartment Looted

Burglars who ransacked the apartment of Herman Andrew Kemp fo 100 Reed Boulevard, Mill Valley on Sunday outfitted themselves with clothes along with a great many other articles. He estimated his total loss at $1,359, sheriff's officers said today.

Missing were a color television, radio, three suits, 10 pair of slacks, eight pairs of shoes, jewelry, a luggage set, six shirts, an umbrella, two power drills, a vacuum cleaner, a carton of cigarettes, six books of Blue Chip stamps and $52 in change.

Weekend Theft

The theft during the weekend of a $100 rug and a $200 refrigerator from a vacant residence at 1801 Las Raposas Road, San Rafael, was reported yesterday by the Sthymmel realty firm. There was no signs of forced entry.

The first governor of California was Peter H. Burnett, elected Nov. 13, 1849.

Petaluman, 92, Struck, Killed By Car

Carl A. Petersen, 92, of 434 Gossage Avenue, Petaluma, was struck and killed yesterday at 10:10 a.m. as he was walking along Petaluma Boulevard North in the 2400 block.

The California Highway Patrol said Petersen apparently stepped into the path of a car driven by Samuel A. Smoot, 78, of 19 La Cresta Drive, Petaluma. Petersen was pronounced dead on arrival at Petaluma General Hospital.

A native of Germany, he had lived in the Petaluma area for 50 years. Petersen had been employed as a poultryman until his retirement 15 years ago.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma.

Cycle Strays; Rider Injured

A Hamilton Air Force Base airman suffered a severe cut on his leg yesterday when his motorcycle slammed into a parked car, Novato police reported today.

Airman 1/C Milton M. Perry, 19, of 3 Santiago Court, Novato, was reported in good condition today at the base hospital.

Police said the accident happened at 6:35 p.m. as he was driving out of his driveway, crossed the street on his cycle jumped a curb, crossed a lawn and hit a car owned by David L. Harris of 2 Santiago Court.

Sir Frederick Grant Banting, a Canadian scientist, was the first to extract the hormone insulin.

Two Airmen Are Burglary Victims

Radio and tape playing equipment valued at $1,830 and two shotguns worth $1,170 were stolen yesterday in a daylight burglary at the apartment of two Air Force officers at 88 Forrest Lane, San Rafael.

The thieves wrenched off the front door knob of the residence and carted off the items from a bedroom and the living room, police said.

One of the occupants, Capt. Ramiro Ross, who is stationed at Hamilton Air Force base, listed two guitars, a long distance radio, a $750 tape deck and a $450 stereophonic tuner-amplifier as among the items taken. The two shotguns stolen belonged to a roommate, Col. James M. Thomas, who is stationed in Maine, Ross reported.

Low Attendance; Classes Dropped

Two sections of the College of Marin Adult Education courses of "Black America" have been canceled because of low attendance Dr. Eugene A. Farrar, reported today.

They are the sections scheduled for Monday nights at San Rafael High School and Tuesday nights at Novato High School.

The courses will be continued on Wednesday nights at Tamalpais High School and Thursday nights at Olney Hall, College of Marin.

30-Day Sentence For Marijuana

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court yesterday ordered Ronald David Gemmell, 21, of San Anselmo to spend 30 days in jail, get a job when he gets out and refrain from using narcotics or associating with persons who do.

The youth had been convicted April 16 of possessing marijuana June 29 in Mill Valley.

Judge McGuire also placed Gemmell on one year probation.

Steam Bus Outlay Held Too Little

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The U.S. Department of Transportation has put up $150,000 to finance designing of a steam engine for buses, but that amount is not nearly enough, says William Lear.

"You're trying to build an atom bomb for a nickel," the president of Lear Motors Inc., declared yesterday as he and 23 other designers appeared for a look at the vehicles for which the steam is planned.

Lear, who developed the business jet plane that bears his name and is working on steam engines in Nevada, said steam-driven buses are feasible.

The $150,000 is to see if a steam engine operates better than internal combustion engines and to evaluate public understanding and acceptance of the proposed system.

A governmental panel working ont he project says that "the first priority is protection of the public's health and safety from any operational hazards whatsoever."

Steam is being tried in an effort to curtail air pollution.

San Francisco Municipal Railway and the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District are each to provide buses into which experimental steam engines will be installed.

Temblor Detected

BERKELEY (AP) — The University of California seismograph recorded an earthquake at 7:24 a.m. today calculated to be 3,600 miles southeast of here off the coast of the Colombia-Ecuador border. The quake was rated 6.2 on the Richter scale.

Fine, Probation In Certificate Charge

Donald Ray Spears, 21, of San Francisco, yesterday was fined $312.50 by Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court for attempting to cash three $50 gift certificates at Mac's in San Rafael with faked identification.

Spears was also placed on one-year probation and given a suspended 60-day jail sentence.

a brief word about bedspreads . . .

At long last we discovered some clever people who specialize in bedspreads, upholstered headboards, couch covers and the like. Bank Gains New Name, State Charter

Redwood National Bank, San Rafael has a new name and a new state charter.

Its conversion from a national bank to a state bank became effective yesterday upon receiving final approval from the State Banking Department. Stockholders of the bank had previously ratified the conversion to a state charter at their annual meeting of April 24.

The name of the bank will now become The Redwood Bank and new incorporation articles have been filed with the Secretary of State in Sacramento. Capitalization has been set at $2,440,000, with $5 par shares.

President Byron W. Leydecker said the conversion will enhance Redwood's secured lending authority with respect to individual borrowers. Under a state charter, unpledged government bonds may be included in the bank's reserves, releasing an equivalent amount of cash for investment, earning more money for the bank.

The bank new becomes subject to regulation by the California State Banking Department instead of the Comptroller of the Currency and the board of governors of the Federal Reserve System, but it will continue to be insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

Officially the bank becomes The Redwood Bank today, Leydecker said, but it will take time before there is a complete changeover in forms and bank literature.

Dinner Set For Student Travelers

Eight Terra Linda High School students, four exchange students returning home and four local students to go abroad, will be honored at a community dinner at 7 p.m. Monday at the school cafeteria.

Foreign exchange students who will be leaving after a year at Terra Linda High School are Fanny Margolis Kraychinski of Montevideo, Uruguay; Brigitte Petersen of Hadersley, Denmark; Doris Reckewell of Goslar, Germany; and Voltaire Tupaz of Valenzuela, Bulacan, Philippine Islands.

To live abroad this summer under the Experiment in International Living will be Carole Campbell, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Campbell, visiting Austria; Sue Giacomini, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Giacomini, to Italy; Gary Katz, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mossis Katz, to Great Britain; and Pat Orsini, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Caesar Orsini, to Germany.

The four local students will receive $450 each from the International Student Exchange Committee at the school toward their expenses.

Reservations for the dinner, sponsored by the committee and the student International Friendship Club, can be made through Mrs. Howard Council of Marinwood or Mrs. John D. King in Terra Linda.

Council To Hear Separation Plan

The San Anselmo City Council will consider a proposal to remove the city from the Ross Valley Flood Control District at its 8 p.m. meeting today in city hall.

The city has a joint powers agreement to help maintain the Corte Madera Creek flood control channel after phase three of the work is completed.

The removal proposal was made by Councilman James F. Reed who suggested May 29 that the Army Corps of Engineers is turning the Corte Madera Creek into a drainage ditch.

The council will also consider the final layout of the proposed hub intersection and hear a report from a council committee on a proposed public safety building site.

The American robin can fly 32 miles an hour.

Task Force Folds After Tonight

The task force to study problems of aid to families with Dependent Children will meet for the last time at 8 p.m. today in room 400 of the Civic Center.

The task force, established by the Marin County Board of Supervisors one year ago, will be replaced on July 1 by the Family and Children's Advisory Committee, which is required by federal law.

At tonight's meeting, the AFDC task force hopes to approve a final report and recommendations to the supervisors before bowing out.

All But One Sentenced For Campus Uprising

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —All but one of 15 persons who pleaded guilty to charges growing out of a disturbance at San Francisco State College were sentenced to a suspended 90-day jail term, a year's probation and a $150 fine.

The other person received a similar sentence except the fine was $250.

Those who pleaded guilty to unlawful assembly, failure to disperse and disturbing the peace are Thomas Bell, Grant Colwell, Linda Dahl, Sharon La Motte, William Mayer, Julio Alvarado, Boyd Barnette, Gordon Bowen, Nina Gillig, Barbara Bonifas, Karen Pfeifer, Eric Shima, Stephen Connolly, Heidi Smith and Sally Napolitan.

Miss Napolitan was fined $250.

The disturbance Jan. 23 came during strike called by the Black Students Union, which demanded a college of ethnic studies and the admission of all Negroes regardless of academic qualifications.

Sex Education Seminar Slated

An all-day seminar on sex education in the schools will be held Saturday at the Bermuda Palms in San Rafael by the Central Area Parent-Taxpayer Affiliates, an ad hoc committee opposing the current family life program in schools, and by California Families United.

The program will include talks, workshops and a question period. Registration will be from 8:45 to 9:45 a.m. and then sessions will be held until about 6 p.m., with a break for a buffet lunch.

Reservations can be made through Mrs. Carl Hepp, 155 Elm Avenue, Mill Valley.

District Will Replace Old, Leaky Sausalito Pipeline

A 27-year-old 12-inch water main to Sausalito will be replaced with a 16-inch line, Marin Municipal Water District directors decided yesterday.

The change will be made in connection with a state highway project on Shoreline Highway near the Fireside Motel. The state will pay the cost of materials for the larger size pipe, $5,433.

The board also agreed to abandon an old four-inch line in Sausalito, off Sausalito Boulevard.

Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger asked for the abandonment, reporting the line leaks frequently and is difficult to get to for repairs. Residents on the line can be served from other water mains, he said.

The Marin Municipal Water District board also:

EQUIPMENT — Agreed to sell the district's obsolete data processing equipment to the Santa Rosa School District for $250 for training purposes, provided no Marin schools want it at the same price.

MICROWAVE — Approved an expanded lease with Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for use of a site on Mount Tamalpais for a microwave station below vegetation level. The firm's current lease is for $1,200; the extra land will add $400.

VALVE — Agreed to buy a needed valve from the Grant Co. Oil Co. of Oakland for $750 although one is on order for $225 less from Orlando Crane Co. The valve is needed soon, Seeger said, and Crane cannot make delivery until mid-August.

SUPPLIES — Bought $9,307 worth of copper tubing from P. E. Otis Co. of San Francisco.

SEWAGE — Heard a review of the state's Bay-Delta sewage disposal study as presented by Seeger for information purposes. Seeger noted it is advanced regional government in action.

PERSONNEL — Named Dennis V. Saio as a senior computer operator at $758 a month; Beverly J. Egnew as a part-time recreation attendant; Dale Blanton as gardener helper in the shop, and Edmund C. Hill as summer help in the garden crew, all at $2.39 an hour.

New Hampshire entered the Union June 21, 1788.

Glaucome Tests

Marin opthomologists, headed by Dr. Joel R. Levine of Mill Valley, will test persons for glaucoma at the annual free glaucoma clinic, sponsored by the Mill Valley Lions Club, from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday at Park School in Mill Valley.

Crash Victim's Long Troubles Much Eased

Two months ago, Jan Beam was struggling to recover from a March 1968 automobile accident, on the verge of being evicted from her home and almost broke.

Today she is living in a smaller apartment, improving physically and receiving disability benefits from Social Security, along with her welfare allotment.

Mrs. Beam, 41, now of 406 Maple Street, Mill Valley, received a check for about $700 yesterday, seven months worth of disability benefits from Social Security.

Mrs. Beam, who spent much of last year in hospitals, had not thought of applying for the benefits and persons assisting her had not done it for her. A story on her plight appeared in the Independent-Journal March 6 and Social Security representatives put the machinery in motion for her benefits.

Normally, Social Security information is confidential. Mrs. Beam gave permission for her experience to be used to let others who might become disabled know they should file early for benefits.)

Mrs. Beam was paralyzed in the accident on Highway 101 but after a series of operations regained partial use of her body. She said she is working with her doctor on remaining problems in an effort to avoid more surgery.

After her story appeared, several persons offered financial and physical help to the former waitress, among the persons who responded was a group from Marin Catholic High School.

Mrs. Beam said the students came to her former home and cleaned it and the yard and have volunteered to continue helping her in her new home.

"I'm very happy," said Mrs. Beam.

Petition Opposes Gas Rate Hike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Strong consumer opposition to a $37.1 million hike in gas rates have been sounded at a California Public Utilities Commission hearing.

Representatives of the Association of California Consumers, Inc., yesterday presented a petition bearing 6,500 names opposed to the rate increase.

Pacific G. & E. Electric Co. is seeking a rate hike to increase its current return of 6.25 per cent to 7.5 per cent.

The firm maintains it needs the increase to obtain new capital on favorable terms in the present tight money market.

Clothes Shown In Murder Trial

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The bloody clothes of Lake County Deputy Sheriff David Hoyt were submitted as evidence yesterday at the trial of two convicts accused of killing him in an escape attempt.

Sgt. George Robson said the coat, shirt and T-shirt had "bullet holes front and rear and were bloody." He took charge of the clothing after Hoyt was killed in Lakeport Oct. 11, 1967.

The defendants, Larry Taylor and John Lynn, both 24, are accused of the fatal shooting of Hoyt during an escape attempt while they were being moved from the jail to a courtroom.

Outdoor Art Show Planned At Mall

The Terra Linda Art Association will hold its sixth annual Outdoor Art Festival May 23-24 in the Northgate Fashion Mall.

More than 400 pieces of art will be exhibited at the juried show. The show will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Friday and from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday.

$1,500 Youth Work Program Is Approved

Tiburon City Council last night authorized a summer work program for youth at a cost of $1,500 as a pilot project.

Parks and recreation commissioners, who recommended the program, noted it would give youth work opportunity and has been successfully operated in other Marin cities.

As proposed, the youth would work with the public works department on such jobs as weed control, park cleanup and related jobs.

Russell L. Melquist, assistant to the city manager, recommended against the program, saying the amount of work needed to be done was minimal and that it would require adult supervision which would more than offset the work gain.

Councilman Anne L. Ellinwood said it would be in "the overriding interest of the community" to undertake the program, and councilmen felt there would be enough work to do.

They left it to the city administration to determine how many youths would be hired and for how long. The proposed salary was $1.60 an hour.

The Tiburon City Council Also:

ROAD JOBS — Awarded Ghilotti Bros. Inc. of San Rafael, lowest of four bidders, a contract to reconstruct Trestle Glen Boulevard and Mar West Street from Cove Road to Esperanza Street at a cost of $30,044, and to make parking modifications on the south side of Tiburon Boulevard from Beach Road to Corner Market at a cost of $6,123. City Engineer Ray W. Foreaker said the proposed sidewalk along Trestle Glen Boulevard would be handled as a separate job at a later date.

STATE PROJECT — Approved state Division of Highway plans for improvements on Tiburon Boulevard including widening and left turn channels for southeast bound traffic at Rock Hill Road and Lyford Drive and widening at San Rafael Avenue.

DRUG WORKSHOP — Authorized an appropriation of $100 toward financing a workshop on drug abuse to be sponsored by the Citizens Committee to Study Drug Abuse at Bel Aire School June 7. The committee is sponsored by the cities of Tiburon and Belvedere and Reed School District.

NO-PARKING — Created a no-parking zone along the easterly side of Los Lomas Lane after the police department reported numerous complaints from residents on the lane that parked vehicles hindered driving.

FLOOD RELIEF — Applied for state flood relief funds, estimated to bring $1,860, to repair slide damages on Tara Hill Road, estimated to cost $11,510. The city also is seeking federal funds for the damage.

LEGISLATION — Supported AB 1882 which would permit the state to sell surplus land to other governmental agencies at less than market value, and opposed SB 944 which would require the city to pay a subdivider the costs of the land, improvements fees and taxes if he dedicates the land for park or recreational use.

COMMENDATION — Commended the city police department for its recent work which led to the uncovering of a burglary ring.

PROCLAMATIONS — Authorized Mayor Branwell D. Fanning to make proclamations recognizing events and observances which are significant to the community without council action.

APPEAL CONTINUED — Continued until May 26 at 8 p.m. an appeal by Lawrence E. Stotter of the board of adjustment's denial for a side yard variance at 2244 Vistazo East.

AUDITORS — Hired Sleezer and Eckhoff, certified public accountants, of San Rafael to undertake the audit for fiscal 1968-69 at a cost of $900.

DAMAGES — Denied a claim by Mausao Segi of 31 Juno Road for $200,000 for injuries suffered by his 14-year-old son, Ray, who was struck by a car Jan. 15, 1969, on Tiburon Boulevard at Jefferson Road after getting off a bus carrying homeward-bound students from Redwood High School.

ALLOCATION — Allocated unencumbered funds to revised drainage on Venus Court, estimated to $5,150 and to gutter revisions at Juno Road and Juno Court, estimated to cost $2,550.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned until 8 p.m. May 26 at city hall.

Councilman William R. Bremer was absent.

P-TA At Redwood Votes Opposition

The Redwood High School Parent - Teacher Association board has voted its opposition to the state P-TA stand against passage of Senate Bill 35 to restore ceilings on school taxes.

The action is unusual in that the P-TA's own rules forbid locals from actively opposing a proposition endorsed at the state level. "For this reason the Redwood board hopes to reopen the matter for P-TA study at the state level," reported Mrs. Reed Brockbank, president.

SB 35, introduced by a long list of state senators headed by John G. Schmitz, R-Tustin, and including John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, would repeal a portion of the Unruh Education Act of 1967 which removes all voter control of school tax increases as of 1971. It has passed the senate but is being held in the Assembly Education Committee, headed by Victor V. Veysey, R-Brawley.

Tamalpais Valley Woman Released

No charges were filed yesterday in Marin Municipal Court against a young woman arrested with an alleged heroin peddler Friday in Tamalpais Valley.

The district attorney's office said its investigation would continue.

Sandra L. Tsegeletos, 21, was released from jail but told to return to court Wednesday by Judge Peter Allen Smith.

She was arrested at the home at 240 Cleveland Avenue she has been sharing with Jan D. DeBruyn, 24, who is accused of a federal violation of selling heroin.

Volunteer Firemen Set Barbecue June 8

Novato volunteer firemen and their families will hold their annual barbecue at noon on June 8 at the Silvera Ranch on Highway 101 north of Novato, Fire Chief Jack Kidder said today.

The fete, planned at the volunteer' meeting last night, will feature a chicken barbecue and games for children and adults, Kidder said.

Tiburon Panel Approves Rezoning 26 Acres Held By City Treasurer

Tiburon City Council last night approved rezoning 26 acres south of Trestle Glen Boulevard, owned by City Treasurer Samuel M. Shapero, from park to planned residential.

The vote was 3-1 with Councilman Anne L. Ellinwood dissenting and Councilman William R. Bremer absent.

Councilmen felt the drainage problems at the site, the proposal to extend Porto Marino Drive and Shapero's potential gift of 12 acres for park should be separated from the rezoning matter.

Miss Ellinwood contended that the drainage and the road extension questions should be answered before the rezoning. "I think we should address ourselves to the problems and then rezone it," she said.

Furthermore, she said, the council has never had a presentation on the matter from either its planning consultant or planning director.

Councilman Denis T. Rice said the rezoning "should stand or fall on its own merits," and the other questions would be fully studied.

The parcel extends from Trestle Glen Boulevard south to Tiburon Hills, and from just east of Tiburon Boulevard almost to the Marin Convalescant and Rehabilitation Hospital.

Under planned residential zoning, Shapero would qualify to construct 52 units, but Rice felt the overall density should be reviewed, and possibly 38 or 40 units would be more appropriate.

Miss Ellinwood noted that the city could end up with the acreage where a drainage problem exists, and would be stuck with solving the drainage problem.

Councilman Thomas E. Drohan commented that part of the council's job "is looking a gift horse in the mouth."

John Hoffmire, representing the Tiburon Civic Foundation, said Shapero's proposal is to give the land to the foundation which would deed it to the city for park use. He estimated the value of 12 acres at about $100,000.

Rice emphasized that the question of a gift of land couldn't be considered while deciding on rezoning.

Councilmen decided that the parks and recreation commission should examine the proposed park site, and the design review committee should study the proposed density.

They also gave first approval to amending the zoning ordinance to have planned residential districts subject to review by the design review committee.

Under the proposed amendment no planned residential site plan would be final until approved by both the planning commission and the council.

The design review committee can protect the public interest when the plan is submitted for review, Rice reported.

Planning Director Wayne E. Moody noted that design review would cover traffic, grading and drainage.

Sentence Delay In Narcotics Case

Judge Harold J. Haley yesterday postponed sentencing for two weeks for Curtis Lynn Ross, 18, of San Rafael, while a determination is made whether the youth is a narcotics addict or in imminent danger of becoming one.

Ross's attorney, probation officer and district attorney's office had all recommended that he be given jail time followed by a commitment to Synanon or a state hospital.

Ross, who is due to be sentenced for a burglary, also faces a mandatory 90-day jail sentence for a misdemeanor conviction of being under the influence of narcotics.

He was one of three youths present when a 16-year-old girl died March 1 of an overdose of drugs in a Corte Madera motel.

Pentagon Aide Cites ABM Needs

COMBINED AP & UPI

DAYTON, Ohio—The Pentagon's chief scientist says the United States will be vulnerable to a Soviet missile attack by the mid-1970s if Congress refuses to authorize the Safeguard antimissile system this year.

Dr. John S. Foster Jr. said yesterday if authorization of the Safeguard system is delayed, the United States could not have an operational missile defense before 1976.

By that time, Foster said, the Soviet Union will have had in operation as long as a year a missile system capable of destroying 95 per cent of America's Minuteman silos.

His speech came in the wake of reports that congressional opponents of Safeguard have almost enough votes to reject the system, which military planners hope to have working by 1974.

In San Francisco, former scientific adviser to the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower said the system will be ineffective and will hamper disarmament negotiations.

The weapons expert, Dr. George Rathjens, said yesterday the ABM is not now necessary because the U.S. still has many more missiles than any Soviet attack could destroy.

The MIT scholar said he has doubts the ABM system would be effective, largely because there is no way to test it in the environment in which it would be used.

"Even if 90 per cent of the Minuteman sites were knocked out, there would be enough left to destroy 70 per cent of Russia's industry," said Rathjens, who noted the United States goes ahead with the ABM system.

Collegians Counting Days Until An Austrian Summer

By GRACE HENDERSON

Four students enrolled at Dominican College have announced plans for summer trips to Europe beginning on May 26. On that date Nancy Knolls of San Anselmo and Margaret Diener of Five Points will leave for a stopover in Switzerland prior to reporting for work at a youth hostel in Innsbruck, Austria.

Nancy, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Stanley Knolls of San Anselmo, is a junior at the college. Majoring in German with a minor in English, she says her German will come in handy on her travels this summer.

THE 20-YEAR-OLD Nancy has been to Switzerland five times, on visits to her grandparent's home. She will spend another four weeks with them following her Austrian employment and some traveling.

Margaret Diener, 21, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Diener of Five Points, where her father is a ranch foreman. She has traveled within the western United States only. Right now she is "just shopping" and collecting pamphlets on European areas to be visited this summer.

Margaret is also a junior at Dominican College and will travel with Nancy for the first part of their trip. Following her stay in Innsbruk, she will visit Italy and return through the low countries including Austria and Germany. Her major language is English and her minor is German.

Linda Keating, who says her French is "passable," is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Keating of San Rafael. Her father is an engineer with a construction company which has meant the family has lived in various parts of the world.

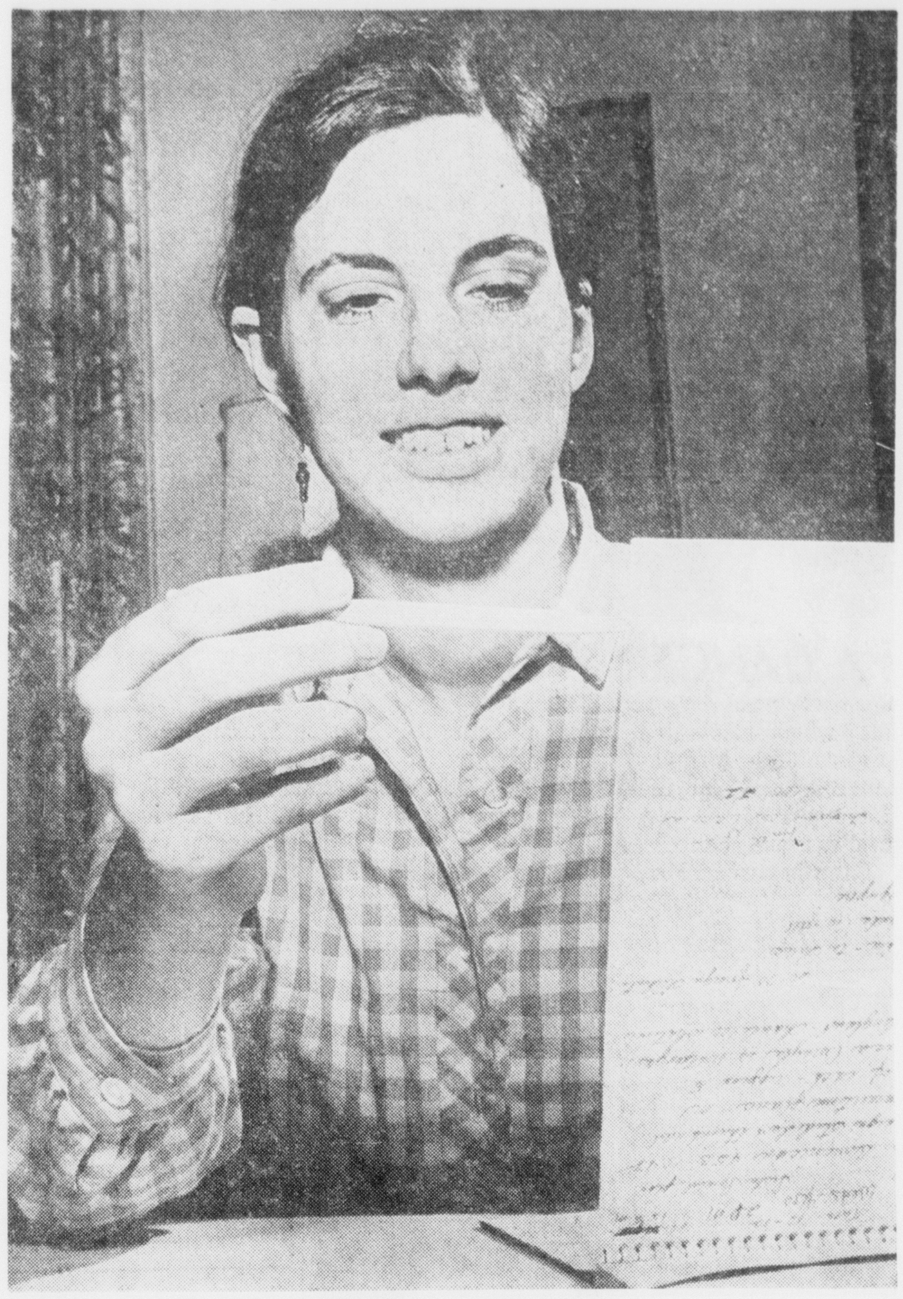
During her freshman and sophomore years in high school, Linda, her parents, a sister and three brothers lived in Jamaica. They have made Marin their home the past three years.

Between final examinations of the spring semester at Dominican College and her June 13 departure date for Innsbruck, the 19-year-old will prepare her wardrobe and work part-time as a receptionist at a beauty shop in the Northgate shopping center.

The San Rafael girl is majoring in English with a minor in music.

JOINING LINDA for the extended trip will be Margaret Morgan of Honolulu, Hawaii. She is also 19 years of age and a sophomore at the college. Her major is in French.

None of the four has worked at a youth hostel before, and all are counting the days until they see the famous Austrian Olympic town for themselves.



LINDA KEATING, 19, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Keating of San Rafael, is looking forward to a June 13 departure for Innsbruk, Austria where she will work in a youth hostel. She checks her list for last minute details she will combine with semester exams at Dominican College. Following two months at the hostel, Linda will join Margaret Morgan of Honolulu in further European travels.

ANTICIPATING A SUMMER in Europe are Margaret Diener, left, of Five Point and Nancy Knolls of San Anselmo. The Dominican College students will leave May 26 where they will be the first of four students from the local college to work in a youth hostel in Innsbruk, Austria. This will be the sixth trip into Switzerland for Nancy whose grandparents live there. Both girls will travel throughout Europe following their five weeks of employment. French Home Cookery Taught By Housewife

The art of French home cooking — the dishes the ordinary thrifty French housewife serves her own family — has been brought back to Marin by Jan Gilman Toulon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cary Gilman of San Anselmo.

Jan, who grew up in Larkspur and Ross, is passing along the culinary wisdoms learned in her mother-in-law's kitchen in France through classes sponsored by the Marin YWCA, an agency of United Bay Area Crusade.

Affirming that most French cooking Americans hear of is of the high style Parisian gourmet cuisine, Jan feels that many housewives are scared off by ingredients called for in recipes, hesitating, for example, to rush out and buy an expensive can of imported truffles.

The foods she is demonstrating in the YW sessions, held in her own kitchen at 108 Dominga Avenue, Fairfax, are those being served day-to-day in French homes, prepared with the same fruits, vegetables and meats that are served daily in Marin homes.

"To the French housewife, the important thing is freshness. She has fruits and vegetables only when they are in season, so she knows many different ways to cook each. Americans are apt to just boil and put on butter," she pointed out.

And appropriately, the recipes for the current classes call for vegetables and fruits available in Marin grocery stores.

BARQUETTES DE FRAISES
(Strawberry boats)

The boats are made of pie dough, shaped about four inches long with half-inch sides, baked for 10 minutes at 425 degrees and then cooled.

Sort the smallest strawberries from a quart basket (or cut up larger ones), and fill the boats. For the sauce, crush the remainder (about half the basket) and add a half-cup of sugar and five ounces of raspberry jam.

Boil the crushed berries, sugar and jam in an enamel or teflon saucepan (the mixture darkens in aluminum) for two minutes, stirring with a wooden spoon. Spoon the sauce over the fresh berries in the crust boats.

Looking forward to fresh peas, Jan suggests this recipe.

PETITS POIS BONNE FEMMES

Gently fry a medium onion, sliced into little slivers, with a quarter-pound of diced saltpork and a tablespoon of butter. After about five minutes, add two or three chopped lettuce leaves to the bottom of the pan and then two pounds of shelled new peas.

Cook for 10 or 15 minutes on the lowest possible fire "without taking off the lid too often, only shaking the pot occassionally." Jan explains that because of the lettuce leaves, staying in the bottom of the pan, no other liquid is needed.

This recipe combines eggplant, zucchini and fresh tomatoes.

LA RATATOUILLE

Peel an eggplant and cut in bite-sized chunks. Salt and place on paper towels with a weighted plate on top for 10 or 15 minutes, so that the bitter mositure oozes out.

Cut four small zuccini in bit-sized pieces. Peel three tomatoes (by dunking in boiling water) and cut in chunks, allowing the seeds and water to escape

Saute an onion, cut in coarse pieces, and a finely chopped clove of garlic, in a heavy saucepan, using enough olive oil to cover the bottom of the pan.

The vegetables are added to this sauted onion and garlic in order of the cooking time needed for tenderness, beginning with the eggplant, then zuccini and last the tomatoes. Add a teaspoon of sugar and salt and pepper.

Simmer the mixture over a very low fire for 15 or 20 minutes, stirring frequently to avoid sticking.

IN EACH OF the weekly YWCA classes, scheduled from 10:30 a.m. to noon Wednesdays and Fridays, Jan is preparing a full course dinner — to be eaten by participants for lunch.

Information on enrollment may be obtained from Miss Eleanor Wolfe, executive director of the Marin YWCA, 305 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

A native Marinite and graduate of Katharine Branson School, Jan went to University of Aix-Marseille in 1961, returning briefly in 1962 with her husband-to-be, Louis J. Toulon, to be married in St. John's Church in Ross.

The couple lived in France for five years, returning to Marin in 1967. They have a boy and a girl, David, 5, and Martine, 2.

Jan's father, now retired, formerly was manager of Pacific Telephone in San Rafael, and her mother, Vera (Jim), operated a dress shop in Kentfield for 20 years, retiring recently.

Sausalito Women To Display Creative Stitchery To Guests

Creative stitchery, a centuries-old art, is again in vogue. The Sausalito Woman's Club program on Thursday at 2:30 p.m. will present Janet Van Evera and Marge Krijick, creative stitchery experts.

The two artists, painters and weavers will give a short history of embroidery and crewel from ancient to contemporary and will show examples of their work: wall hangings, pillows, sweathers, purses, table mats and samplers.

Mrs. Van Evera has shown work in more than 20 museums in the United States and has taught classes at the Marin Art and Garden Center, for the San Francisco Junior League and the Museum West Auxiliary.

An added feature will be an exhibit of recent work done by Woman's Club members Mrs. Jacques Neuville and Mrs. Jackson Perry. They will be available to answer questions about their hobby.

Mrs. Richard Cruikshank is program chairman , and Mrs. Carl Spring is planning an old fashioned tea to follow the meeting.

ROSARIUM INSTITUTE 175, Young Ladies' Institute, will have its crowning of a May queen at the meeting on Thursday in St. Patrick's Center, Larkspur. After the 8:15 p.m. meeting, Mrs. David Miller Jr. and her committee will proceed with the ceremony, which honors the institute member which the committee has selected.

FIESTA DEL quince de Mayo, West End School Parent-Teacher Association's family day luncheon, will be held Thursday at the school in San Rafael. Mrs. Donald Cliggett and Mrs. Theodore A. Martin are chairmen, assisted by HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

The Best Of Figures Not Always All Peaches AndCream To Owner

DEAR HELEN:

My figure is merely something that happened to me. It doesn't mean I'm a sexpot. But how do I convince boys?

They call me Miss Center Fold of —— High. One even said, "Baby, a girl with your build can't be cold." They take it as a personal insult when I turn them down.

Last night I used that line in your column, "It's my football, my field, and my rules." And the guy said that anyone with a walk like mine (he called it "backfield in motion") could expect some forward passes.

A lot of the girls resent me because the guys whistle. Helen, it's not all peaches and cream, being — RAQUEL THE SECOND

DEAR RAQUEL:

Girls who never had your problem might figure yeu're either batty or bragging, but other Raquel-types (including Herself, I'm told) will understand. It isn't all roses being a "No-no" product in a "Go-go" package. You're constantly having to prove there's something real behind the gorgeous facade.

But on the whole, it's a very happy challenge. Hold that line and you'll win the ball game!—H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm another guy with an opinion.

I recently went on vacation and met a girl who stopped my advances. I was never so happy to get turned down. I won't forget this girl and although she lives a long way from me, I enjoy writing to her. Had she given in to me, sho would have been classified as "ordinary."

Instead, she is the kind of girl a fellow takes to a walk-in show and out to dinner; the type he can be proud of, and might even want to marry some day.—A. T.

DEAR A.:

Foolish Question No. 246½: If you guys so admire the girls who stop your advances, why then do you "advance"? Really, they won't suspect your manhood if you show a little reserve. —H.

PERSONAL TO "ANN": Wild hoax letters are something like Rorschach test reactions. Reading yours, about the mother you killed through carelessness and the father you drove insane after he beat you, I'd guess you'd see monsters or devils in every ink blot.

Now — let's hear your real problem. Perhaps it isn't nearly as bad as it seems to you now. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

Regarding all the letters you'd had about drugs.

I can't help wondering if these kids who are trying to "find themselves" have ever found themselves inside a church or synagogue. I'll bet most weren't raised with firm, realistic religious convictions. Too many Christian parents baptize the baby, send him to Sunday School until he wants to quit, and from then on, Easter is about the only time they go to church. No wonder the kids are searching for the meaning of life. The adults are too busy with their tranquilizers and clubs to bother with them.

Maybe the church is as much at fault. If it offered real, everyday guides to faith and love, it would keep kids coming back.

No, I'm not an old fogey. I'm barely 23 and don't know nearly as much about my church, my God and my Bible as I should. But I'm trying to find out.—J.W.

Mrs. Sessi President Of P-TA Unit

Mrs. Gimi Sessi of Rafael Meadows is the new president of the Santa Venetia Middle School Parent-Teacher Association for the year.

The mother of six children, she and her husband have lived in San Rafael for 17 years. Their children are Nancy, who attends Terra Linda High School; Martin and Sherri at the Middle School; and Michael, Matthew and Mitchell at Oliver Hartzell School.

Mrs. Sessi has previously been P-TA vice president, safety chairman and eighth grade representative. Marie Sessi is also room mother at Hartzell School and chairman of the team mothers of the Gallinas Valley Little League. She says her hobby is writing to legislators.

She and her husband, who has a barbershop business in San Rafael, have been active in church and community activities also.

The P-TA plans to resume its hot dog days and ice cream days at the school this year.

A DANCER STEPS OUT

Dancer Shela Xoregos does a few impromptu steps during the party Sunday which celebrated psychologist Cavendish Moxon's 88th birthday and provided a respite from rehearsal for the Xoregos dance company. Members of the new Xoregos Guild, artists, musicians and dancers, joined with Marin friends at the homes of Mrs. Althya Youngman and the adjacent patio and pool of the Laurence Chons in Sausalito for the afternoon. From left are Mrs. Charles Steiner, Shela Xoregos, Christina Pardinas, Mrs. Robert Blosser and her husband, designer. Town Meeting Saturday

By BRUCE COLEMAN

San Anselmo is to lose its tiny downtown park and fountain.

Some residents honk children off the sidewalk so that they can park their cars there.

There is no teen center and so groups of youngsters hang out in front of downtown stores and drive-ins.

There's overcrowding in some of the school classrooms.

The area surrounding the Greyhound bus depot is more than a little neglected.

These findings are taken from a community questionnaire filled out by 3,000 San Anselmo residents and will be discussed at the fourth annual San Anselmo Town Meeting to be held at 12:30 p.m., Saturday, according to chairman Everett Farey.

"It's a grass roots program and everybody has a chance to speak out," added Farey.

Subjects on the agenda were determined by the questionnaire response and topics at the event, to be held at Sir Francis Drake High School, are: Civic Pride and Beautification, Parks and Recreation, City Development, Schools and Education, Traffic and Transportation and Human Relations.

There will be a dinner dance, by reservation only, at 8 p.m. in Alexander Hall, San Francisco Theological Seminary.

Panelists from various professions and many different civic groups throughout the county will participate, Farey pointed out.

The panels are as follows:

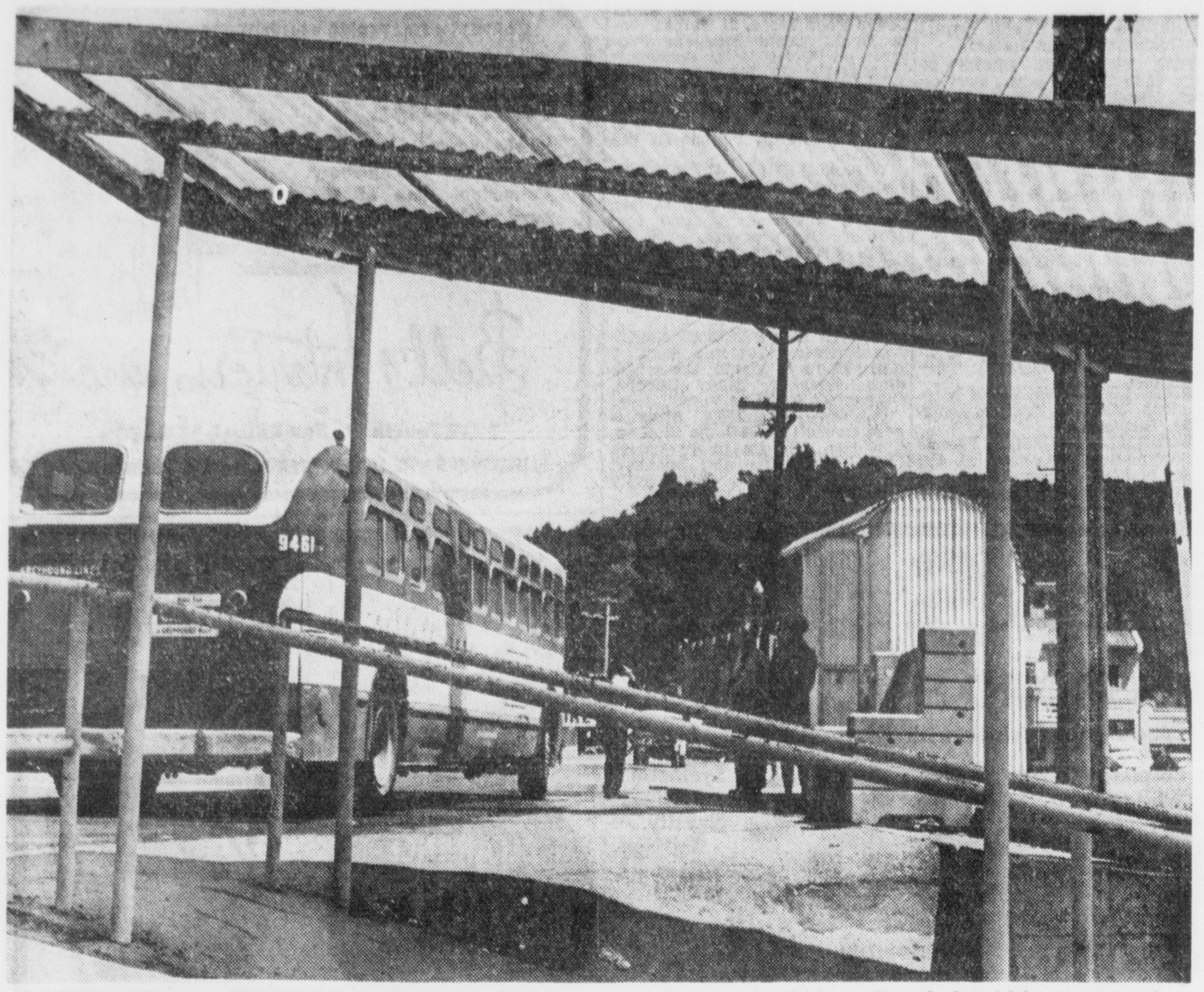
Parks and Recreation — Chairman Paul Brand, past chairman of San Anselmo Parks and Recreation Commission and Bay Area Anti-Pollution District inspector; Margaret Azevedo, Marin County Planning Commissioner; Chris Harris, Sir Francis Drake High School student and Marin County Youth Commission chairman; Ed Adams, Parks and Recreation director of the City of Novato; Irwin Luckman, landscape architect and former general manager of the East Bay Regional Park District.

City Development Chairman Jerry Lloyd, school teacher and past member of the San Anselmo Planning Commission; Mary Summers, past director of Marin County Planning Department; Paul Rosenthal, mechanical engineer and Mill Valley Planning Commissioner; Albert Wasser, proprietor of Wasser Furniture Accents, San Anselmo, and Richard Gross, financial consultant with Stone and Youngberg.

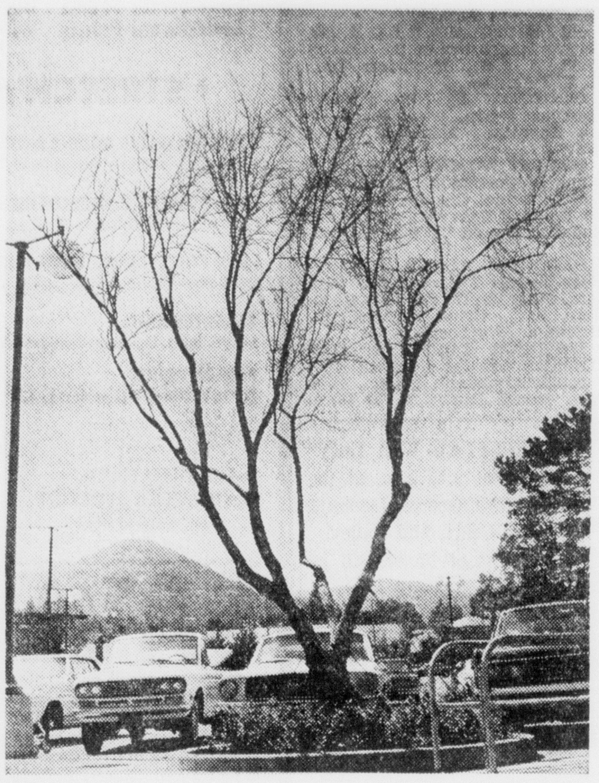
Schools and Education — Chairman Joe Trowbridge, San Anselmo Educational Specifications Committee member; Bill Christie IV, attorney and K-3 Educational Specifications Committee chairman; Dr. Penrod Moss, assistant superintendent, Dixie Elementary School District; John Cherry, Sir Francis Drake High School student and Frank Miller, Tamalpais High School District Trustee.

Traffic and Transportation — chairman of San Anselmo chiarman of San Anselmo Homes Association; Seymour Kashin, Marin Transit District director; William Jack Adams, past member, Marin Transit District; John Dearman, attorney and Golden Gate Bridge District director and Robert Sieker, State Division of Highways traffic planner.

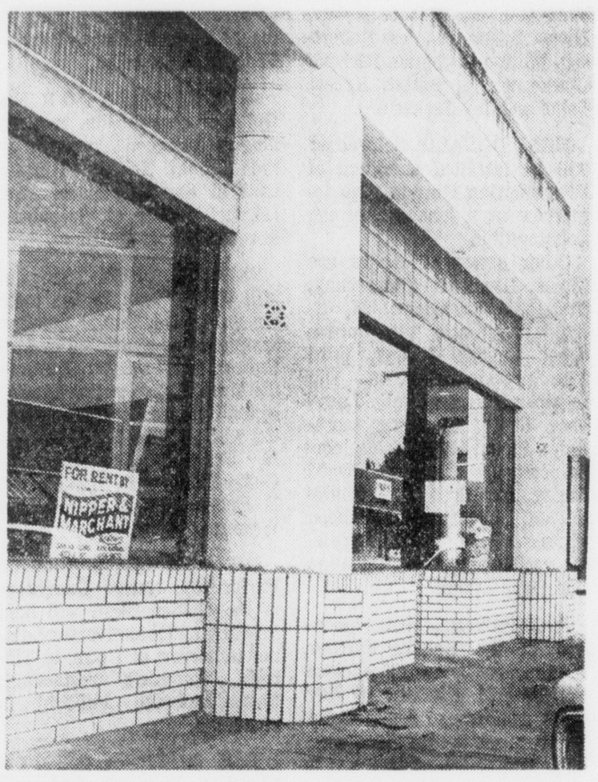
Human Relations — Chairman Robert Lee, chairman of the Ethnics and Society Department, San Francisco Theological Seminary; Basil Scalabrini, school teacher and trustee-elect of the San Anselmo School District; Norman Leach, San Francisco Theological Seminary student; Dr. Festus Adebonojo, San Anslemo Human Rights Commission member and Mary Donnelly, past member of the San Anselmo Planning Commission.



DESCRIBED AS 'HIDEOUS' — Some residents have told the San Anselmo Town Meeting that the area near the Greyhouund Depot on San Anselmo Avenue is "hideous" and should be improved. Vinyl-roofed structure shelters ramp leading from the depot to boarding area.



DEAD TREES—There are several dead trees in the parking lot at Red Hill Shopping Center on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. The town meeting participants will discuss their future on Saturday.

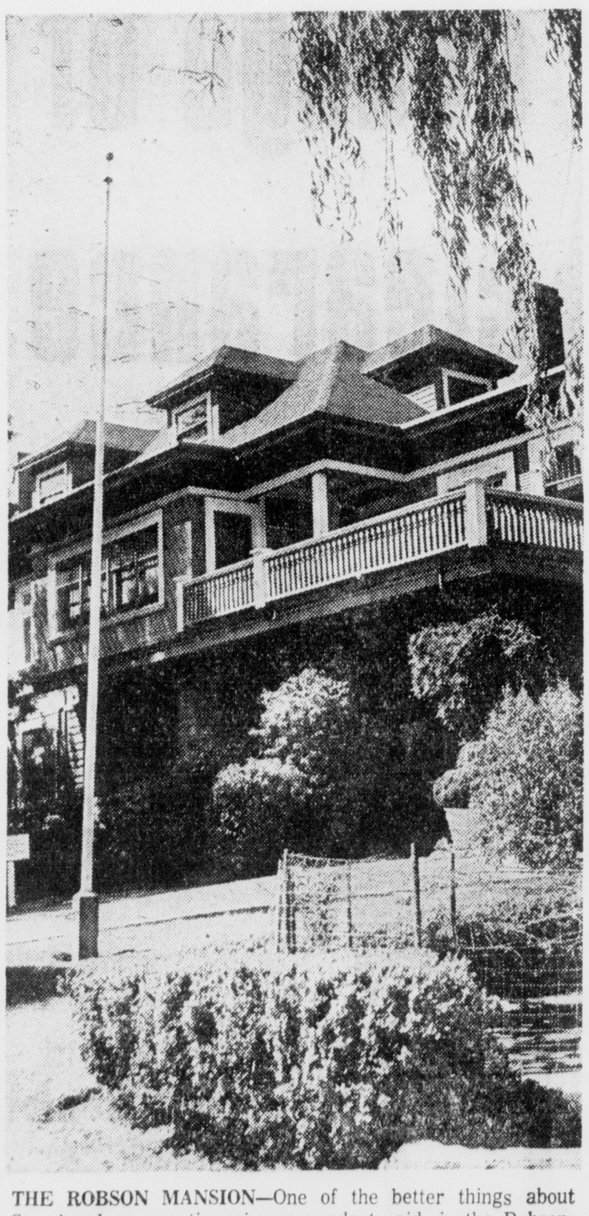


EMPTY STORES—There seem to be so many empty stores in the downtown area, people who filled out the San Anselmo Town Meeting questionnaire complained. What can be done about it? they ask.

STREET OR SIDEWALK? — The San Anselmo ordinance reads that one must not park overnight on the streets and, as a result, many people park on the sidewalks. Sometimes drivers honk their horns to get kids off the sidewalks so they can park.

FOUNTAIN TO GO—The tiny park and fountain on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard is to be eliminated when Hub streets are realigned. This rankles many people some of whom intend to discuss the park at the town meeting Saturday.

CENTER WIDENING—The proposed widening of Center Boulevard will mean that the boulevard will be wide for one block, then run into a bottleneck at Bridge Avenue, citizens report. Too, widening will destroy a clump of trees next to Guasco Market.



THE ROBSON MANSION—One of the better things about San Anselmo, questionnaire respondent said, is the Robson-Harington Park mansion. The town meeting will question: What use should be made of this park and mansion?

Visitors Produce Madrigal Magic

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

An entirely different kind of madrigal singing was presented last night at the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo by the Madrigal Singers from the University of the Philippines.

On a world tour as cultural representatives of the Philippine government, the group consists of 11 young men and 11 young women who sing mostly a cappella, as they sit in a semicircle with boys and girls alternating instead of massed according to the four-voice types. The result was a beautifully blended sound.

Another extraordinary feature was that their director, Andrea Veneracion, a woman faculty members, sat and sang with them.

Their tonal quality was unique — of crystalline purity without any vibrato, yet not what is known as "white" and monotonous. They achieved variety and color through a wide range of dynamics, from a gossamer pianissimo to tremendous power that made them sound like three times as many voices. This amazing range was especially notable in an Echo Song by Di Lassus and an alleluia by Handall Thompson that brought a deserved standing ovation.

What one most often thinks of as madrigal singing was heard in their opening group of traditional madrigals by German, Italian and English composers such as the well-known Wilbye and Morley.

Most interesting was their second and fourth groups of Phiippine folk songs. Spanish musical influence was clearly evident in the second group that included a war chant, two nursery songs, one about the Philippine national flower and a love duet.

The fourth group seemed more exotic and indigenous to the Philippines, perhaps because one, an evening serenade, was accompanied by a bamboo flute, whose tone was rather sharp and not entirely musical, and the finale, a song from Mindanao accompanied by a set of seven gongs of different pitches and two native drums.

The third group consisted of three contemporary songs, including the memorable alleluia, and four folks songs from around the world. These were one from Brazil, one from Hungary, a lovely African lullabye in the Bantu dialect and a Negro spiritual. The last was well sung but not in true Negro spiritual style.

There were some good enough individual voices. That made me wish a few solos had been included to add more variety to the program.

Auditions Set For Shakespeare

Auditions for the 1969 Marin Shakespeare Festival will be held Sunday from 1:30 to 5 p.m. at the Forest Meadows Theater adjacent to Dominican College of San Rafael.

Those wishing to audition should be prepared to present a speech of from 20 to 30 lines from a play they hope to perform in and should bring a glossy photo and a resume, reported Alvin T. Guthertz, public relations representative.

Productions this season will include "Midsummer Night's Dream," Richard II" and "Two Gentlemen from Verona."

There also are openings for stage technicians, reported Guthertz.

Sausalito Pot Case To Superior Court

Leonard Schectel, 22, of Sausalito, yesterday was bound over to Marin Superior Court on charges of possessing and selling marijuana Aug. 21 in Sausalito. Charges against his wife, Vivian, 20, and a friend, Leonard Model, 22, were dismissed, however.

Schectel was told by Judge Hadden W. Roth to appear in Superior Court June 6 for arraignment.

PHILLIP de FREMERY
Classical guitar soloist

Classical Guitarist To Perform

Classical guitarist Phillip de Fremery of Ross, will give a concert at 8:30 p.m. Saturday at Angelico Hall on the Dominican College campus.

A student of Andres Segovia, de Fremery is a student at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music where he served as student body president. He is the first giutarist in the school's history to win a four-year scholarship.

He also studied at the North Carolina School of the Arts and the Santiago de Compostela in Spain. He is a graduate of Ross School and Redwood High School.

Student Art Shown Through May 23rd

Art work by students from kindergarten through 12th grade in the San Rafael School District is on display at the district office through May 23.

The exhibit is open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. each school day and from 7 to 9 p.m. on Wednesdays. All children in the district will be bused to see the exhibit.

Crafts Show Has A Familiar Ring

By LAURA DEVENDORF

The contemporary crafts show through Saturday at Gallery III in the Marin Co-Op Center is literally a wall-to-wall, floor-to-ceiling exhibition.

It also includes many familiar names — Dick, Dumas, Kennedy, Roush, Dramer, Norstad, Teale, Showcroft, Madison, Falch, Nelson, Biniaritz, Wagner, Patera, Marx, Mazek, Simons, Patera, Harris and Cranford. All add to the planned confusion of ceramics, stitchery, weaving, jewelry and batiks plus items created with materials which only recently have become part of the craftsmen's list.

Of the latter, Kramer's complicated geometric designs of nylon-strung plexiglass evolve into total shapes that are to be used as mobiles or table bases.

How craftsmen vary more standard materials can be equally interesting. In ceramics, Norstad's several pots seem definitely tranquil compared to Dumas' raw bird shapes and masks that have such angry violence.

And the clean, smooth surfaces of Nelson's stem goblets and floral centerpieces have a near-cartoon quality requiring a kind of appreciation different from that needed for the moddy combinations of shapes, tones and textures on Biniaritz's raku pottery.

In stitchery, both Marx and Harris assemble many fabrics into unusual motifs including exotic landscapes and banners. While Teal's six panel work divided by split bamboo and twine incorporates shells and stones and their restitched images into a work that has rare fineness and restraint.

With the exception of an Indian motif stuck on a black and white striped panel, Cranford creates weavings that are sensitive compositions of color and texture. There are several rough, irregular pieces placed appropriately on weathered wood, several bell-hung woven pulls in lush color combinations, as well as Peruvian knotting by this artist.

And what has been mentioned is simply the beginning. Yet with floors, ceiling and walls thick with crafts you seldom see careless execution or hackneyed ideas. The few which do leave raveling, messy edges or creak with commercialism are hardly enough to distract from this mad, happy hunting ground for craft nuts.

No Session

Last night's scheduled meeting of the San Rafael Library Board was canceled for lack of a quorum. It will be re-scheduled later this month, said Vivian Smith, secretary.

Symphony Will Honor Beethoven

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A 24-week program including all Beethoven symphonies and piano concerti was announced today for the 58th season of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra opening Dec. 3.

The season will be the seventh and final one for music director Joseph Krips, who said he was going to "try to make it an interesting and a good season." He said there was an "enormous variety" in the 75 concerts that end May 29, 1970.

The program includes six full weeks of concerts conducted by Seiji Ozawa, who leaves his post as music director of the Toronto symphony this month.

Ozawa, at 33 one of the most highly regarded of young conductors, has a three-year contract to succeed Krips after the next season. Ozawa's 1970 guest appearances will include all four weeks of February and the first two in March.

Krips, who is 67, said he will maintain some connection with the orchestra, which he described as having "reached a point where everybody in San Francisco should be proud of them."

The heavy programming of Beethoven in the upcoming season includes, in addition to the symphonies and concerti, five other major works by the master whose 200th birthday anniversary is being commemorated.

Stanford Opens New Art Center

STANFORD (UPI) — The Nathan Cummings Art building was dedicated at Stanford University yesterday.

The building, constructed at a cost of $2.4 million, was called "one of the three important centers for the study of art in the West" by Dr. Lorenz Eitner, chairman of the Stanford Art Department.

New York industrialist Nathan Cummings attended the dedication with his wife. A major pledge by the couple made the building possible, a university spokesman said.

Special Session

The Marin County Redevelopment Agency will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Manzanita Center, Marin City, to consider an inquiry from the Marin City Council about the status of plans by Marin Development Co. to build 17 houses in Marin City.

Students To Play In Piano Recital

Pupils of James Odette of Mill Valley will present a piano recital open to the public at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the music room of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, 1123 Court Street, San Rafael.

Performing will be Darlene Wade, Dea Belrose, Douglas Ehrenberg, Laurie Sweeney, Gretchen Stranzl, Amy Seminario, Kim and Charles (Chip) Kouba, John Mohler, Eve Ehrenberg, Paul Gorman, Sharon Stranzl, Julie Person and Susan Vaughn.

Bodega Bay Club Is Now Incorporated

The Bodega Bay Club, a nonprofit association of home owners in Oceana Marin, a subdivision at Dillon Beach along Tomales Bay, has filed articles of incorporation, according to Secty. of State Frank M. Jordan.

Directors are Benjamin Bonelli, Phyllis P. Williams and Louise E. Taylor, whose office address was listed as 935 Lootens Place, San Rafael.

30 To Compete In County Bike Rodeo

Thirty Marin youngsters have won the right to compete in a county-wide bicycle rodeo at 8:30 a.m. Saturday at San Rafael City Hall. The top three winners will receive bikes.

The thirty were among 180 boys and girls who competed in six separate preliminary contests Saturday, under the sponsorship of Radio Station KTIM, Marin's Schwinn dealers and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The competition is part of a series of bicycle month events. The second part will be a family bicycle ride at 10 a.m. May 25 from the Civic Center to China Camp and back.

Winners, in order of placement, are:

Corte Madera: Mark Vidler, 12, of 5 Molo Street; John Dallara, 9, of 35 Chickasaw Court; Richard Kogler, 12, of 10 Echo Avenue; Peter Strassman, 9, of 122 Walnut Avenue, and Alan Pasquinelli, 8, of 416 Manzanita Avenue.

Ross Valley: Roy Sonntag, 8, of 444 The Alameda; Ted Robbins, 12, of 67 Ross Avenue; Marcus Lee, 10, of 18 Kensington Court, and Donald McClure, 9, of 1030 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, all of San Anselmo, and Victoria Vallee, 10, of 46 Winship Avenue, Ross.

Novato: Greg Luntzel, 12, of 794 St. Francis Avenue; Jack Davis, 9, of 27 Washington Street; Craig LaDow, 11, of 793 Eucalyptus Avenue; Paul Nye, 10, of 29 Washington Avenue, and Laura La Dow, 10, of 793 Eucalyptus Avenue.

San Rafael: Hugh O'Donnell, 12, of 2190 Danberry Lane; Chris Parlin, 11, of 323 Coleman Drive; John Scarlett, 8, of 1 St. Francis Lane; Susan Glover, 10, of 9 Coleman Drive, and John Parlin, 8, of 323 Coleman Drive.

Mill Valley: Lorraine Kellogg of 135 Peralta Avenue; Debbie Monardo, 12, of 50 Millay Place; Jolie Hughes, 8, of 120 Peralta Avenue; Martin Perone, 10, of 77 Longfellow Drive, and Terry Kellogg, 11, of 135 Peralta Avenue.

Council To Hear Zoning Pleas

The Novato City Council will hold public hearings on proposed amendments to the city's zoning ordinance at 8 p.m. today in the council chambers at the community house.

The proposed zoning changes would require a use permit for residential uses in commercial districts and limit commercial uses and eliminate residential uses in industral districts.

The council also will hold hearings on an appeal of the planning commission's denial of a use permit for a cloudburst car wash in Novato and an amendment to the Novato Auto Mark Master Plan to permit commercial uses by use permit.

San Anselmo Police Open House Saturday

The San Anselmo Police Department will hold an open house from 1 to 7 p.m., tomorrow through Saturday in honor of National Police Week, Chief Raymond R. Buchignani said today.

Visitors will be invited to see photographic and narcotic exhibits and examine the department functions.

Novato Classes In Dog Training

The Novato Parks and Recreation Department will conduct a dog training and obedience course for children 10 through 16 years old at 10:30 a.m. on Saturdays beginning May 24 and running through July 12.

The classes will be held at the Olive School multiuse field. Dogs must be at least three months old to participate.

Registration may be made at the recreation office in Novato City Hall.

Adult-Teen Conference On Monday

The North Marin Federation plans to appoint a committee of adults and teen-agers to work on youth programs and problems in the Novato area, June Owens, recording secretary of the federation said yesterday.

The committee will be made up of four adults and four teen-agers, Mrs. Ownes said, and will study such areas as drugs, a teen center and a Novato youth commission.

The federation will meet at 8 p.m. next Monday at Mrs. Owens' home at 885 Via Escondida.

Mrs. Owens said the federation also plans to send a letter to the Assembly committee on revenue and taxation supporting proposed legislaton to place property taxes on mobile homes. The committee has scheduled public hearing on the matter at 1:30 p.m. May 20.

The federation also plans to discuss at next week's meeting the proposed purchase of the San Marin Club by the City of Novato, a proposal for Friday night or Saturday morning banking hours as an aid to commuters, logging in West Marin and the county sign ordinance hearing scheduled for the county Board of Supervisors May 20 meeting.

Marine Corps Eyes Novato Men

Marine Corps recruiters will begin recruiting men in the Novato area next month for the corps' newly established law enforcement program, Marine officials in Santa Rosa said today.

Officials said recruiters would begin a regular schedule, probably from the main Novato fire station, to attract young men into the program soon after school is out next month.

Detailed schedules will be announced within the next few weeks, they said.

Mill Valley Bicycle Trail Policy Asked

A five-point bicycle trail policy was recommended for city council adoption by the Mill Valley planning and parks and recreation commissions in a joint meeting held last night.

The policy asks that a network of trails be developed throughout Mill Valley with pull-off points at view locations and parking facilities in the down town area, near the library and city parks, according to secretary Jeanne McLean Rohde.

The network should connect with the planned trails of the county and adjacent cities, according to the policy, and a link between Mill Valley and Sausalito should be developed as soon as possible, Mrs. Rohde said.

The commissions also asked that the county be urged to allocate money for the link between Mill Valley and Sausalito.

The policy asks that the city revoke the current prohibition against riding bicycles on city sidewalks but require only that bicycles be ridden in a safe manner; that facilities for bicycle trails and parking be included in the 701 planning study recommendations; and that further study should be given to the development of riding, hiking and cycling trails in the North Ride area.

The Mill Valley Planning Commission also:

TACO BELL — Denied a use permit application by Taco Bell for a take-out food restaurant at 497 Miller Avenue on the grounds the site, as proposed to be developed, is inadequate and the building design was declared unacceptable by the city's architectural advisory committee.

VARIANCE — Denied a variance application by Gene Addleman for relief from offstreet parking requirements for two parcels on Cascade Way at the Dipsea Trail on the ground the parking in the area is already overcongested. The commission also asked the council to zone the property open space and to acquire the property "In some manner."

USE PERMIT — Approved a use permit for a warehouse at the Goodman Building Supply Co., 775 Redwood Highway, subject to architectural advisory committee approval of building plans.

701 PLAN — Postponed consideration of the lower Miller Avenue portion of the 701 plan until May 26 because of the late hour.

Concerned Sausalito Group Assured Teacher To Stay

By CHARLES YOAKUM

Nearly 100 persons jammed the Sausalito School board meeting last night to protest the rumored firing of a new black teacher at the Martin Luther King School.

The large crowd — many of them students — left the district office only after being reassured that William Chaka would not be fired and that the board "felt he was doing a fine job."

Chaka has been with the district about two weeks, officially serving as a "consultant" to an eighth grade class at the school since he does not have a teaching credential. The teacher of record in the class is Margaret Moore, but for the past two weeks, Chaka has been doing the teaching.

Mrs. Moore remains technically in charge of the class, meeting state requirements that there be a certified teacher. She works on lesson plans and generally supervises the work program, Asst. Supt. Joseph Amato told the Independent-Journal after the meeting. Amato said the eighth grade class was added to her responsibilities when it was left teacherless after the resignation earlier in the school year for reasons of health by its teacher. Chaka, Amato said, had taken much of that extra burden from Mrs. Moore.

The large crowd — more than half of them black — began filling up the meeting place shortly after the board had begun the agenda. Within minutes all available seating space — including the floor — had been filled and many others were standing.

The board quickly abandoned its regular agenda and opened the meeting up to the floor.

"It's obvious all these people came to talk about something," board president Bruce E. Woelfel said.

A member of the audience rose and asked the board the status of "brother Bill" referring to Chaka.

"We understand he might lose his job," he said.

District Supt. Phillip W. Schneider asked to reply to the remarks.

"I think its time I made my position clear on this matter," Schneider said.

"William Chaka came into a classroom which had a lot of problems," Schneider said, "and in the short space of time he's been with us, I feel he's done a wonderful job.

"He's maintained control of the class, he's done an extraordinary job. I have every intention of recommending that we continue Chaka's employment. In fact, we are right now trying to get him a credential so he can be a regular teacher. If we can't, then we will work out something on a 'consultant' basis."

Schneider said that he had heard that Chaka was being charged by some white students and parents with "teaching black racism," but he called it nonsense.

"I have also heard that some parents feel that since he is teaching a social studies and English course, some more time should be devoted to those subjects," Schneider said. "But I think this is a case of him being new to the district. He needs time to develop a program."

Chaka was supported by several black students who are in his class.

"Our first teacher didn't do anything and the second taught racism and that all blacks are dirty," one eighth grade girl said. "Until Chaka took over, it was like a jungle in the classroom, with everybody throwing things and stuff."

Another student said that Chaka was teaching "the things that are important."

"Who cares about those punks George Washington and Abraham Lincoln," he said. The same youth charged the white students in the class with "going home to their parents and charging Chaka with teaching racism."

Another black student, Ruth Ann Compton, said that "I have done more work in the last two weeks than I did in the rest of the year.

"The white teachers we had couldn't get the white kids to shut up, and they used to huddle all together in the room, sitting away from us. The kids were scared of black people and so all they do is go outside and talk behind people's backs."

Following each statement in defense of Chaka, the rest of the crowd would break into hand-clapping and cheers.

Trustee Martha Freebairn-Smith asked Schneider if there was anything that could be done to "bring white children around?"

"I 'd rather not get into that at this meeting," Schneider said, "lets postpone it until later."

Chaka is a graduate of San Francisco State with a degree in government, Schneider said.

In other action, the Sausalito School board:

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted the resignations of the two half-time librarians at Martin Luther King, Virginia Geddes and Nancy Schimmel. Both resignations were tendered in one letter citing "personal reasons" as the cause.

COORDINATOR — Took under study a request that a full time "coordinator of volunteers" to coordinate the program which consists of volunteer teacher's aides and tutors. Under the proposal, a full time credentialed teacher would run the program, interview and evaluate volunteers and hold seminars to improve the program.

ART FESTIVAL — Approved the use of school facilities by the Sausalito Art Association for their annual art festival in September.

Weekend Vandalism

Vandals last weekend broke into the Sausalito Arts Association Center at Old Bayside School, threw sandbags around the auditorium and knocked down a light show display, police reported. The damage was discovered when the center was opened yesterday morning.

DOUGLAS WATERHOUSE
Winning carpenter

Novatan Is Carpenters' Skill Winner

Douglas Waterhouse of Novato is one of eight carpenters who will participate in the statewide carpenter apprenticeship contest June 18-21 in Los Angeles.

Waterhouse, who lives at 1117 Ferris Drive, won the honor Saturday when he competed in the 10th Annual Bay Counties Carpenter-Mill Cabinet-Millwright apprenticeship contest in Concord.

It is the third year in a row that someone from Carpenters Union Local 35 in San Rafael has won. Kenneth Becker of San Rafael won last year and Robert Ruzick of Novato won in 1967.

Waterhouse competed with men from the counties of Marin, San Francisco, San Mateo, Alameda and Contra Costa. He built in eight hours a rummage collection box such as is used at supermarket parking lots. He was also required to take a written examination two weeks ago.

Should Waterhouse be the state winner, he will be sent to represent California in the international competition in Chicago Aug. 11-16.

Teachers In Ross Win Pay Backing

Ross teachers, seeking raises of about $1,000 each, received support from parents last night and the school board agreed to continue salary negotiations.

At the last meeting, teachers asked for a pay package which would have cost the district $34,000 a year more and trustees said that kind of money was not available.

Four letters from parents were received last night and board chairman L. G. Maclise made a presentation on various salary schedules, including increases at a lesser rate than proposed by teachers, according to Supt. Robert D. Gowan.

Gowan reported he presented a new working budget to the board last night. The new figure calls for expenditures of $435,470 compared to a March working budget of $423,745.

The difference, he said, includes $6,200 in health benefits for teachers and maintenance work.

He said the board discussed levying a special seventh and eighth grade tax override which can be done without voter approval. He did not have an estimate tax rate figure but said it would be up at least 32 cents per $100 assessed valuation over this year's $2.715 per $100 assessed valuation.

Budget discussions will continue at the next meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday at Ross School.

The Ross School board also:

TEAM TEACHING — Learned a team teaching approach will be used in the second grade next year and there is a possibility it will also be adopted for sixth grade.

SUPERINTENDENT — Discussed the role of the superintendent-principal of the district in preparation for replacing Gowan who has resigned. Board members will discuss with teachers their ideas on administrative posts in the district and agreed to invite a teacher representative to participate in screeing candidates for the position.

Fine And Probation For Pot Possession

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court yesterday fined Phillip David Brown, 21, of San Anselmo, $200 for possession of marijuana Oct. 15, 1967, at a College of Marin dance.

He also placed the youth on nine months probation and gave him a 15-day suspended jail sentence.

A co-defendant in the case, David G. Harrington, 21, of Kentfield, is still awaiting trial on the same charge.

Two More Arrests In Silver Theft Case

A San Anselmo junk and antique dealer and a San Rafael man were arrested yesterday by San Rafael police in connection with the theft of approximately $1,300 in silverware and jewelry from a Mission Avenue home on May 4, and sale of some of the goods.

Inspector Gilbert Freitas said the dealer, Bartlett Cannon Tucker, 54, owner of a shop at 1202 San Anselmo Avenue, bought a quantity of the stolen items for $40, a day after the burglary at the home of Ramona C. Wayland at 304 Mission Avenue. Tucker was booked into Marin County Jail in suspicion of receiving stolen property and released on $2,500 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow.

Arrested on suspicion of burglarizing the Wayland home was Paul Danny Cassidy, 22, of 1135 Fourth Street. Freitas said Cassidy's accomplice was George Edward Myers, also 22, with no fixed address. Myers was arrested Friday and is being held on $5,000 bail.

Bail had not been set this morning on Cassidy.

Freitas said all property taken from the Wayland home has been recovered. In addition, he is seeking the owners of a 12-piece serving of sterling silverware recovered in connection with the investigation of the Wayland burglary. The silverware is dated 1895 and bears the initial C.

Freitas said persons with information about the silverware should call him at the police department.

Students Asked To Make A Case

The administrative policy board of Tamalpais High School yesterday asked a student committee to meet the board to argue the case for an open campus.

No date was set and composition of the committee was left to the students.

Approximately 150 students walked off campus at noon Friday to protest Tamalpais's closed campus, after handbills appeared that morning urging the demonstration.

With a closed campus, students are not allowed to leave the school at lunch or between classes without specific permission. Tamalpais has had a closed campus since 1965 when neighborhood protests erupted over littering, trespassing and off-campus brawls among students.

Hearing Set For Man On Exposure Charge

Thomas M. Blankmann, 21, of 594 Keokuk Street, Petaluma, has been scheduled for a hearing Friday in Sonoma Superior Court on a felony charge of indecent exposure.

Blankmann was arrested last week by Petaluma police and was released on $2,500 bail. Officer James Gebhardt said Blankmann was accused of having exposed himself to young girls at the Petaluma Municipal Swimming Pool on April 24 and again last Friday. The offense was considered a felony beacuse of a prior conviction.

$455 In Goods

Burglars broke into the home of Carmen De Armond at 177 Canal Street, San Rafael, yesterday and stole jewelry, a portable television, a camera and binoculars worth a total of $455, police said.

New Panelist To Fair Board

Terry Bonner, of 69 Queva Vista, Novato, was named last night as the chamber of commerce's representative on the Western Weekend Inc. board of directors.

He replaces William Conklin, who resigned.

Directors of Western Weekend, to be held June 12-15, also named judges for the fair's annual beard contest which has drawn 24 entries thus far. Judges will be John Gilmore, past president of Western Weekend, Robert Carrow, former Novato mayor, and Novato barber Robert Comandura.

Sponsors announced at the general membership meeting last night there would be an aerial flag contest this year with a $10 weekly award during the next month.

The membership voted $100 in prize money for the horse and rider contest during the fair and $50 for the old-fashioned costume contest.

Teen House Study

A drop-in house for Mill Valley teen-agers will be discussed by the Mill Valley Human Rights Commission at 8 p.m. tomorrow at 172 Lovell Avenue, Mill Valley.

Gnoss Estates Group Fills Two Vacancies

H. James Mumma of 1140 Rosalia Drive was appointed vice president and Anne Lusk of 14 Denise Court was named treasurer of Gnoss Estates Homeowners Association last night, president John Schoonover reported today.

Mumma replaces Muriel Birkland, whose husband is being transferred from Hamilton Air Force Base, and Mrs. Lusk succeeds Josephine Johnson, who is moving from the Novato area.

Schoonover also appointed Ross Brewster of 1150 Rosalia Drive to be the association's representative on the transportation committee of the North Marin Federation.

In other action, the association decided to see what action could be taken to prevent further slides in the development and heard reports on the financial advisory committee's report on Novato schools and progress of a planned beautification project with Olive School

Pet Collie's Death Caused By Poison

Insurance man Edward K. Wachsman of 50 Palm Avenue, San Rafael, has reported to police the family dog was fatally poisoned last week.

Wachsman said he found the pet collie lying beside his home Saturday. A veterinarian's autopsy disclosed the dog apparently had been poisoned by a household drain acid.

All-Day Breakfast To Benefit Youths

The Petaluma Rotary Club will sponsor an all-day breakfast tomorrow from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Elks Club, Petaluma.

Robert Armbruster, breakfast chairman, said all proceeds will benefit the Petaluma Boys' Club and Boy Scouts.

PARENTS: THIS SUMMER LET READAK
Help Your Child to New Success in School

Learn how a summer study program can unlock your child's unused potential

A little boy from San Francisco wrote us this note recently:

"I enjoyed your classes very much. But the time seemed to go by so fast! I partly wish I wasn't fixed up yet so I could go on with the classes. But I know what you have done for me will be a big help afterwards. And I'll learn how to divide just for you."

Course Outline

We don't just "fix up" children. We also teach 'A' and 'B' students how to read with greater comprehension, and how to read faster. We present courses at some of the toughest college preparatory schools in California.

Children of all ages are helped by reading improvement. We have small classes for third, and fourth graders. Fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth graders take our special courses. High school students know they must read well in order to get good grades. And get into college.

Comprehension is the key to any Readak course — for third graders, or for adults. We teach children how to find the main idea, how to spot the key facts, how to remember what they've read. We teach them how a paragraph is organized, and how the paragraphs fit together to make an essay, or a story. We teach vocabulary development.

Phonics is important for younger children. The diagnostic phonics tests tell us if your child needs phonics instruction. He will learn to identify the long vowels, the short vowels, the digraphs, the diphthongs. And he will learn to unlock new words, phonetically.

Study Skills

How often parents have told us, "My child reads well. He is bright. But he doesn't know how to study." Readak has now developed a special Study Skills course. This program makes scholars out of students. Your child will learn:

- How to prepare for study
- How to take notes
- How to take tests
- How to concentrate
- How to remember
- How to write essays
- How to use time
- How to write compositions

Throughout school, your child can only do his best work if he knows how to study. Often, low grades mean only poor study habits.

Your child is given a diagnostic reading test before enrollment. After he is tested, you have a conference with his teacher. You receive the test results in clear, plain talk — no holding back. If we feel we can help, your child is put in the proper class for complete attention to his individual needs. In order to help your child, we must know his present reading ability. And we will not accept any child without proper testing.

Advanced Methods

Readak reading courses do not duplicate the public school approach. There is no conflict. Readak teaches all the most advanced and efficient methods of reading improvement.

Often, regular school instruction is not enough. Classes are large. Teachers are busy. Your child is studying many subjects, not just reading. There is not enough time to concentrate on an intensive reading program.

. . . we won't guarantee we can get her into college, but Readak can give her something just as important — outstanding reading ability and love of books.

Readak has extremely small classes. Our teachers are highly trained reading experts. We teach reading only — not math, and science, and P.E. Just reading. The program is very concentrated, and very effective.

You will be very pleased by the results. Ask your neighbor. Probably her child went to Readak last summer. Children develop a new feeling of confidence. We want every child to be enthusiastic about reading. We want every child to love to read books.

The success of Readak depends upon our success in helping your child. We intend to keep on growing.

Our Director, Clyde R. Brown (M.A., Stanford; current Calif. General Secondary Credential) has taught in Calif. public schools and at Stanford's Counselling and Testing Center. In addition he is a specialist in individualized instruction and is a consultant for several leading publishers in the areas of teacher training and curriculum design.

ON VIOLENCE: Brute Force The New 'Education'

By JOYCE GABRIEL

NEW YORK — (NEA)— In 1964, the Berkeley Free Speech Movement erupted into headlines across the nation. Overnight, the peaceful campus was turned into a battlefield. Student rebels, united under a banner they called "freedom," sat in, sang in and struck the university, presenting demands which included the right to collect funds on campus for the Viet Cong, the right to use obscene language on campus, and the right to buy and sell hallucinatory drugs on campus.

At Berkeley, activity stopped as the administration, led by Clark Kerr, then president, attempted to appease the rebels.

The Free Speech Movement collapsed because of lack of support. But certain methods had been used, precedents had been set, and the mechanism had been launched for nationwide campus violence.

LAST APRIL, Students for a Democratic Society, picking up where the Free Speech Movement had left off, seized and occupied five buildings at Columbia University.

Dr. Robert Hessen, an instructor in Columbia's Graduate School of Business, described the Columbia action in a recent magazine article:

"The siege tactics which disrupted Columbia and brought its normal activities to a halt represent the latest assault by a revolutionary movement which aims to seize first the universities and then the industries of America. The rebels are members of Students for a Democratic Society, a nationwide organization with chapters on over 250 campuses."

THE PRINCIPLES of SDS, set forth by Carl Davidson, a student demonstrator and author of the booklet, "The New Radicals in the Multiversity," focus on two things: student power and revolution.

"If there is a single overall purpose for the student power movement," Davidson states, "it would be the development of a radical political consciousness among those students who will later hold jobs in strategic sectors of the political economy."

Student radicals, influenced by Prof. Herbert Marcuse's New Left philosophy, would seek to destroy the university as society's weakest link. And the way to destroy the university is by force.

"The basic issue in campus battles," said Dr. Hessen in an interview, "is whether any group has the right to threaten or initiate the use of force. The initiation of force to achieve one's political objectives is both immoral and illegal, regardless of whether the aggressors are KKK or SDS."

FORCE — VIOLENCE — explodes daily on the campus.

At Harvard University, student rebels held members of the faculty hostage until their demands were met. At Cornell, Afro-American students captured and held the student union building. They were armed with clubs, guns and spears.

These schools represent the best in American education — their admissions standards are among the highest, their courses the most difficult in the nation. In confrontation with student rebels, their administrations backed down.

"APPEASEMENT breeds contempt," said Hessen. "The way for any university administration to deal with campus violence is to state, in advance, that no individual or group may advocate or initiate the use of force and if anyone does, there is no place for the individual on campus. He should be suspended or expelled."

James Perkins, president of Cornell, concurs with Hessen. "It is time to stop the taking over of university buildings by force," he said.

Campus violence is increasing. It has encountered little real opposition.

"The New Left wins by default," explains Hessen. "No one has challenged the movement on ideological grounds. What people have to realize," said Hessen, "is that people who use brute force are not another school of thought."

The Same Old Story: Higher Rates, Less Service

When Winton M. Blount took over as postmaster general under the new administration, he professed himself amazed at the inefficiency in the Post Office Department.

Blount said he was determined to reform the department. As a first step, he moved to take postmaster appointments out of partisan politics. He indicated this was but the beginning of a reform that would restore efficiency to a mail service which has grown steadily worse over the years.

That was three months ago.

LATE LAST MONTH, Postmaster General Blount asked Congress to increase domestic letter postage to seven cents. This, he said, would enable the department to show a $384 million surplus next fiscal year, instead of a loss.

In asking the rate increase, Blount was merely following the foosteps of other postmaster generals of recent years.

Until the early 1930s, the letter rate had been two cents for over four decades. It was raised then to three cents, at which it remained until the Eisenhower Administration. It then went to four. The Johnson years saw it upped twice—to five and then to six cents.

WITH EACH RAISE, there was a promise of improved mail service made possible by innovations in equipment and mail handling. Not one of these promises was fulfilled. Instead of improving, the mail service kept getting worse.

The Post Office Department introduced the "automatic post office." It required everyone to use zip code in addresses "to speed up the handling of mail." It outlawed undersized envelopes "to speed up the handling of the mail."

AND HOW, as result of these and other innovations — and the accompanying increases in postal rates—did the Post Office Department speed up handling of the mail?

It did away with the Railway Mail Service system of sorting mail en route, instead allowing it to pile up at central distribution points (such as San Rafael) awaiting sorting. It discontinued directory searches in the case of wrong street addresses. It cut home deliveries from two a day to one a day—and last year threatened to cut out all Saturday deliveries. It cut the hours of post office service. It reduced special delivery service to the point where the extra postage often does not assure earlier delivery of the letter.

THE POST OFFICE Department, in short, has asked the mailer to do more and more, and has charged him more and more for worse and worse service.

Postmaster General Blount and the Congress should recognize a few obvious facts:

1. The post office is intended to perform a service for all the people. It is a valuable service. To insist that this department—alone of all in the government—be self-supporting is a piece of blatant nonsense.

2. If the volume of mail is excessive, the solution is not to raise rates to keep people from using the service. It is to provide more subsidy and demand the service be improved—at least so it is no worse than it was a generation ago. And if any rates are to be raised, they should be those of bulk mailers, who are in effect subsidized by the mailers of letters and packages.

The United States charges the highest postal rates in the world. And its service is among the worst. If Mr. Blount cannot do better in attacking this problem than to ask for another increase in the letter rate, we suggest he quit and let someone else try.

A Mixed-up Era

This is a crazy, mixed-up time in history. All places in history are a little mixed up, but our own time seems more so than usual. This is reflected in little, seemingly unimportant things.

Today, the frame often costs more than the picture. Barbers are asking for more money at a time when hairiness is the fashion. We spend our time and precious resources in a far distant country while our own environment goes to pot (no pun intended). We pave more of our county while knowing trees are important in the battle on air pollution. And the smog board rules against burning prunings and broken limbs, thus working against its own ends by making tree-ownership an expensive and impractical proposition.

Indeed, it is a strange, strange world we live in.

Movie Information Not Censorship

The members of the Marin Motion Picture and Television Council wish to correct an inaccuracy that was printed in a recent "Women's Agenda" column. The item referred to a program that two of our board members presented to the Tamalpais Center Women's Club wherein we were described as a group that promoted "censorship" of movies and television. Anyone who is acquainted with our group will tell you that we are organized to promote better films and television, stressing family-type entertainment. We try to encourage parents to exercise restraint in th shows they allow their youngsters to see, but we have always urged the two industries (movies and TV) to be responsible in the making their products. Our aim is to supply information from which parents may make their own judgement.

Wornum Absences Only Part-days

In the interests of accuracy I feel that you should correct the statement on my three absences as contained in your editorial of Tuesday, May 6.

On Jan. 23 I was present all day until 3:30, when I had to leave for a long-standing appointment in Fremont. The session continued about two more hours.

On March 11, I with Mr. (Peter R.) Arrigoni was on our two-day visit to Colorado Springs on invitation of the Air Force. I was interested, as you observed previously, in finding out further information on blocking the ABM installation in Sausalito. I did miss this meeting.

On April 8 I was present all morning, leaving at midday to catch a plane to Mexico. I timed my week's vacation so as to be back Monday night and thus only miss the afternoon session on the day I left.

I feel therefore that your statement contains the unfortunate implication that I am not doing my job. I have in effect missed one and one-half sessions in the first three months — not three. It would not be out of order to mention the innumerable extra meetings which we all attend.

Who First In Bay? Argument Continues

How ironic to be called a "die-hard theorist" by a die-hard theorist. I refer to L. A. Phillips letter of May 8 responding to my suggestion that Drake may have been the first to enter S.F. Bay.

Mr. Phillips bases much of his accusation on the spacious theory that anyone and everyone who dares to question Drake's having landed in present-day Drake's Bay does so because they have never sailed off Point Reyes in the summer months . . . He uses the voyages of Cabrillo and Ferrelo as proof. But Cabrillo sailed passed Point Reyes in November; Ferrelo in February . . .

The famous English explorer George Vancouver sailed off Point Reyes in 1792. Of Drake's Bay he wrote:

"According to the Spanish, this is the bay in which Sir Francis Drake anchored; however safe he might then have found it, yet at this season of the year it promised us little shelter or security."

Thirty years later another English sea captain, F. W. Beechey, sailed off Point Reyes. He wrote: ". . . (the bay) is too exposed to authorize the conjecture of Vancouver that it is the same in which Sir Francis Drake refitted his vessel."

Long before this both Cabrillo and Vizcaino were unable to make a landing on the beach of Drake's Bay because of adverse winds and high seas. And Cermenho's ship was driven ashore and wrecked on the same beach.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

GRANDMA put two apples on the table when Stanley and his little sister came calling. One apple was large and bright red, the other withered and wormy. "Now, my loves," said Grandma, "I want to see which of you has the better manners." "She does," said Stanley — grabbing the bigger apple.

A down-and-out actor, who owed money to everybody he knew, sidled up to a wealthy broker outside the Knickerbocker Club and whined, "My wife was taken to the hospital today. Won't you loan me $50 to tide me over this emergency?" "You might change your approach," rasped the broker. "This is the third time you've pulled this story on me. But here's $25 anyhow. Let's both make $25 this time!"

GOLDEN GATE VIEW

Marin's Own Version Of Berlin Wall Pose

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

We were stationed in Germany when the Berlin Wall went up eight years ago, and viewed with much skepticism the quick arrival of a host of American politicians who delighted in posing at the wall.

The flood control project in Kentfield has revived the same sort of ritual by some local and state politicians. The issue for them — if there is one — is secondary to the importance of being seen decrying the dreadful affair.

But in the case of the Kentfield controversy it also is noteworthy that the wailers at the wall are virtually all Democrats. The only relief from the tedium was the frank explanation by a Southern California congressman that he came because a prominent Democrat in the community had summoned him.

With all of the real issues waiting around for someone to get concerned about them, the creek project is awfully tame stuff to arouse so much controversy. Maybe that is its beauty.

Somewhat less refreshing was an appeal last week by a group of College of Marin students that Marin's state legislators enter their fight over the creek. Politics just isn't played that way, but at least the students had a chance to learn more than whatever was taught to them in high school government classes.

THE CALIFORNIA LABOR Federation, AFL-CIO, has condemned a bill to allow sale of prison-made goods in public buildings, at fairs or on property operated by nonprofit operations, rather than only at the state prison. The restriction found its way into a bill last year in a Sanate committee, thus barring future shows such as the one earlier last year at the Civic Center of art from San Quentin Prison.

Since it would not be fair to assume that the federation had reacted blindly to the miniscule threat posed by the sale under such limited circumstances, we can only seek some other reason for its position.

Perhaps the hangup is that the federation's members want to unionize prison inmates before they can be permitted to sell outside the walls. Or maybe there's a jurisdictional fight inside the prison between inmates who have kept up their dues in competing unions.

A HINT of the bind the state is in because of a growing backlog of unsold bonds came last week when Finance Director Caspar W. Weinberger asked the state Public Works Board to try to give property owners state bonds instead of cash whenever the state buys land worth more than $100,000.

The board agreed to try his suggestion, but land acquisition agents of the Department of General Services made it clear that few property owners will go for the idea.

Weinberger conceded that the state will be under heavy financial pressure within a few months when there will be a need for new money to finance the water project.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, may find that this pressure will build his case for a withholding tax — next year, if not now.

$2.5 Billion Price Tag To Rebuild South Vietnam

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

David E. Lilienthal, a man of impressive credentials, once remarked that in terms of wealth-producing capacity war was the best thing that had happened to Germany and Japan in 100 years.

Although both had suffered almost 100 per cent destruction of their industrial capacities during World War II, the reconstruction gave them the world's most modern equipment and enabled them in a few years to become the giants of Europe and Asia, far ahead of France and Britain which had suffered far less war damage.

Lilienthal, former head of the Tennessee Valley Authority, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission and a veteran of development planning in Iran, Colombia and elesewhere, now is at work on post-war rehabilitation for South Vietnam.

A REPORT prepared jointly with South Vietnamese planners now on President Nguyen Van Thieu's desk estimates that South Vietnam with $2.5 billion in economic aid can become economically independent within 10 years after war's end.

The report considered by some to be optimistic, places heavy emphasis on development and reclamation of vast area of the rice-producing Mekong.

It also presupposes efficient South Vietnamese management and presumably an end to a tolerant Asian view toward corruption which annually drains off $150 million or more from the national economy.

TWO OF the more exciting international projects which will bolster the South Vietnamese economy are the Trans-Asian highway which eventually will link Istanbul and Saigon and the $1 billion U.S. investment program offered by former President Johnson in a speech at Johns Hopkins in 1965.

This is the Mekong River development plan benefitting South Vietnam, Cambodia, Laos and Thailand upon which work already is far advanced.

Lilienthal, however, believes that South Vietnam's own development need not await these projects, nor does it need await the end of the fighting.

SOUTH VIETNAM'S pressing wartime needs for improved port facilities, warehousing and roads already have resulted in impressive groundwork for a peacetime economy. Thousands of skilled Vietnamese workers have been the outgrowth of a new port at Cam Ranh Bay, highway construction and related jobs in a $1.8 billion military construction program.

A rice hybrid has more than doubled production in areas where it has been tried.

But in the Mekong Delta alone more than one million acres have gone out of production as farmers fled the fighting.

Settlement of new owners on the land, desalination of water and clearing of silt-filled canals will get top priority. There are hopes for a new timber industry.

And in the end, perhaps, North Vietnam can sell minerals and manufactured goods in exchange for food from the fertile South.

Man At Door In Petaluma Pretty Sure To Be Candidate

When doorbells ring in Petaluma households, its usually not the friendly Fuller Brush man, but an office seeker soliciting votes for the June 10 election.

Candidates on the ringing route report there are so many covering the city that they often cross paths several times in the same afternoon. Despite the onslaught of unscheduled and sometimes untimely visitors, the residents have been most cordial, the candidates report.

CITY COUNCILMAN Robert S. Lipman, running for mayor, usually travels with a "secret weapon" — one of his three young children. When voters ask the youngster why they should vote for Lipman, the child responds, "Because he's my dad."

Incumbent Mayor Helen Putnam, with both of her children grown and out of state, could always enlist the aid of her first grade class. Judging from her popularity among the pupils, she'd have no trouble getting volunteers.

Most Petalumans agree the mayor's contest will be a close race, but are pleased to have the opportunity of choosing between two attractive candidates. "I was getting tired of having to choose between the lesser of two evils when I went to the polls," is a sentiment often heard.

Council candidates are also taking to the streets to gather votes, with some covering as many as 500 homes in one day. Veteran campaigners, carefully selecting their walking shoes, insist there's no cheaper way of reaching the voters.

SONOMA STATE College students last week put on a good demonstration in chaotic campus campaigning. In the original election, where candidates didn't win a clear enough margin and forced a run-off, students had to show official identification cards before voting. The student board of directors later voted that the cards would not be necessary, nor was the punching of cards needed to insure against ballot box stuffing.

Although the campus is currently in a state of political turmoil, the apparent new student body president is Jon Owen of Novato. A native of San Rafael, Owen graduated from San Rafael High School in 1966, where he was also student body president.

Pleased with the election outcome, Owen didn't wage what could be called an extensive campaign or become as emotionally involved as the other candidates. No banner proclaimed his candidacy and only a few campaign signs were posted on bulletin boards.

"I figured that if I won — that would be fine. If I didn't win — well, that would be all right too," he said.

Other students went to great lengths to attract the electrorate's attention, including one wearing a sandwich board sign and another who air-dropped leaflets from a dangerously low-flying plane.

Take It From Mulligan: It's Much Better Not To Know

WASHINGTON — My friend Mulligan was in a stew. "I'm getting sick of all this 'public's right to know' business."

"What are you talking about?" I asked him.

"I've been watching the ABM hearings for two days and I'll be damned if I know what they're talking about."

"But Mulligan, these things should be thrashed out in the open. We have a big stake in the ABM, and if we don't know the pros and cons of the system, we could all be in a jam."

"IS THAT SO?" Mulligan said. "It so happens I was much happier not knowing about the ABM. I was minding my own business. I wasn't aware of the Soviets' first-strike peril; I couldn't have cared less about our second-strike deterrent capability; and I didn't even know there was a generation gap in our missiles."

"A generation gap in our missiles?" I said in astonishment.

"Sure. Don't you realize that our first-generation missiles are being threatened by the Soviets' second-generation missiles, which will soon be replaced by more sophisticated third-generation missiles?"

"I certainly didn't."

"I wish I didn't know, either. I suppose you're also unaware that the Soviets' SS-9 ICBMs are now in full production and will eventually have multiple nuclear warheads that could destroy five or six cities in the United States at the same time. How would you like to go to sleep with that knowledge every night?"

"I'D HATE to dream about it."

"What's going on in this country, anyway?" Mulligan said. "In the days gone by, before the public had a right to know, we had guys to do our worrying for us.

"It was their job to stew about someone blowing up the world. Now they tell us everything, and we're supposed to figure out what they're talking about. It's like a brain surgeon showing you 20 different instruments and asking you which one you want him to use for the operation."

"You're overwrought, Mulligan. The reason that they want you informed on matters pertaining to nuclear defense is that the people charged with safeguarding our country don't want to make mistakes. They feel if the public is aware of the danger, then they'll get the support so necessary to implement the decisions."

"BIG DEAL! What am I supposed to do — pick up the phone and say, 'Hey, Secretary Laird, if I were you I wouldn't worry about the Soviet first-strike peril. Come up with a more feasible Multiple-Independently-Targetable-Reentry Vehicle that won't cost too much and I'll put in a good word for you with the Daughters of the American Revolution'?"

"Now you're not being reasonable," I admonished Mulligan.

"Reasonable? We don't even know if the Minuteman ICBMs will work, so how the hell are we supposed to know if the ABMs work? Suppose the ABM system is protecting missiles that can't get off the ground?"

"YOU DON'T HAVE all the facts at your command to make that judgment," I said.

"You're damn right I don't," said Mulligan. "So I don't want to know any facts at all. You have to be a physicist to understand the questions, much less the answers, at the televised hearings. I say if they're going to mess around, let them do it in private. I really don't have any interest in how many more years we have before the Chinese can blow us up."

"You're being unfair to our leaders. All they're trying to do is share their awesome responsibility with you."

"If I wanted that awesome responsibility, I would have run for President or asked Mr. Nixon to make me secretary of defense," Mulligan said. "I'll make a deal with the administration. I'll worry about the sportswear business if they don't bug me with their problems about the ABM."

"You don't have the nuclear-team spirit, Mulligan. Aren't you at least interested in the missiles we're building for peace?"

Child Bike Rider Hurt By Collision

A 6-year-old Petaluma boy was injured yesterday at 6:05 p.m. when he rode his bicycle into the path of a car at 631 Baker Street, Petaluma, police reported.

Joseph A. Perrault, 529 Upham Street, was reported in good condition at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital with a concussion. Police said the youngster entered the street from a blind alley and struck the side of a car driven by Raymond E. Knapp, 32, of 3745 Skillman Lane, Petaluma.

Homing pigeons have been known to travel an average of 40 miles an hour over distances of 125 miles or more.

Reagan Promises Decision Soon On Dos Rios Project

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan today wrestled with the decision on whether to approve the controversial Dos Rios Dam project, target of a bitter struggle between conservationists and water developers.

Aides indicated Reagan would announce a decision "soon."

The decision fell square in Reagan's lap yesterday when State Resources Secretary Norman B. Livermore Jr., a former Marin County resident, timber executive and director of the conservationist Sierra Club, made his recommendation.

But Livermore refused to disclose what recommendation he made on the estimated $400 million water development and flood control project on the north coast in Mendocino County.

Livermore, whose own agency is sharply divided over the proposal, met in a closed-door cabinet session with Reagan for about an hour and a half.

Highly placed sources indicated Livermore expressed opposition to construction of the 730-foot dam whose capacity would be greater than Oroville Lake and Lake Shasta combined.

Livermore has told intimates he opposes the project and his public statements have not contradicted this.

Reporters asked about a published report which said he would quit his post if Reagan approved the dam. He termed the report "twisted."

"I'll resign if the governor fires me," he said in response to questions. But pressed for a fuller explanation of the remark, he said he made the comment in "jocular" fashion.

"We're all living on limited time," he said.

Republican Chairman Gordon Cologne of the Senate Water Resources Committee said Reagan told the project supporters during a separate private meeting later "flatly he had not yet reached a decision."

A PROTESTER PROTEST

Teens Stage Relay Jog For Patriotism

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP) — Bearing an American flag, 30 seniors of Owensboro Catholic High School have completed an 180-mile relay jog as a protest against campus protesters.

The youths, tired but happy, finished their 22-hour journey from the state capitol at Frankfort yesterday.

"We had a job to do that was more or less patriotism," said Mike Mills, one of the joggers. "If we failed, then the whole school had failed. We did the job."

Tom St. Maxens, the student government president, who conceived the idea for the patriotic run, commented "The stiffness is just beginning to settle in on everybody."

Earlier the mood was one of jubilation, as a 100-car entourage led the group into Owensboro.

"It seemed everybody in town had turned out to welcome us," said one runner.

Senior class president Bernie Ballard carried the flag the last leg. "The closer I got to the high school, the faster I wanted to go," said Ballard.

At the end of the journey, St. Maxens ran the flag up the pole in front of the school while a crowd of 200 joined in reciting the Pledge of Allegiance and singing the national anthem.

The relay started Sunday afternoon.

Cubs' Annual Derby Is Set For May 22

SUMMONS
(General)
No. 53682

Superior Court of the State of California for the County of Marin.

EDMUND PAUL HALLEY, JR. Plaintiff vs.
PAULINE HALLEY, Defendant

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA to the above named Defendant:

You are directed to file with the clerk of this court in which the above entitled action is brought a written pleading in response to the complaint within ten days after the service on you of this summons, if served within the above named county, or within thirty days if served elsewhere (except that if the action is against the state pursuant to Section 738.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure, within 180 days). You are notified that unless you so file a written responsive pleading, the plaintiff will take judgment for any money or damages demanded in the complaint, as arising upon contract, or will apply to the court for any other relief demanded in the complaint.

You may seek the advice of an attorney on any matter connected with the complaint or this summons. Such attorney should be consulted within the time limit stated in this summons for filing a written pleading to the complaint.

Fellowships Go To Six Scholars For Grad Study

Five Marin scholars and one Southern Sonoma student have been awarded graduate fellowships by the State Scholarship and Loan Commission, Arthur S. Marmaduke, executive director, has announced.

Fellowship are up to a maximum of tuition and fees for the 1969-70 academic year, he said.

Selected from Marin and the schools they will attend were: Daniel Friedman, 353 Montford Avenue, Mill Valley, Stanford; Helen L. Hart, 46 Mohawk Avenue, Corte Madera, University of California at Berkeley; Timothy H. Hollingsworth, P. O. Box 303, Bolinas, Dominican College; Gustav A. Koehler, 1118 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, University of California at Davis; and Gilbert R. Precivale, Box 193, Lagunitas, Stanford.

TV REVIEW

Doctors To Make Return

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Doctors, once a very hot entry on network television, will be making a return to the home screen next season in a big way.

Or, as the French say, the more things change, the more they are the same.

The video territory once staked out by the likes of "Ben Casey" and "Dr. Kildare" will be claimed in the fall by three new shows—one on each major commercial network.

On CBS-TV, viewers will find an hour series which will be titled either "Medical Center" or "UMC" (University Medical Center).

On ABC-TV, the freshman show will be called "Marcus Welby, M.D.," and will star Robert Young as an oldtime doctor with a brash young assistant. This program is also an hour in length.

NBC-TV, meanwhile, has a weekly hour series titled "The Bold Ones," which actually will be three alternating shows—one of them focusing on persons involved with "the new medicine."

It is very clear the recent real dramas concerning transplants have helped give a new life to the glamor of the medical profession, and will probably be used plentifully on television come fall.

Griffith Beats Hayward, May Get Shot At Nino

NEW YORK (AP) — "Good fight, Emile," said middleweight champion Nino Benvenuti of Italy. You'll fight me, Nino?" asked Emile Griffith.

"Sure," replied Benvenuti.

So it looks like a fourth middleweight title fight is in the works between the two arch-rivals, probably for September in New York although nothing is on paper today.

FROM BEHIND

Griffth earned the shot by coming from behind to beat cut-prone Stan "Kitten" Hayward of Philadelphia on a decisive, unanimous 12-round decision at Madison Square Garden last night.

Hayward, who had outpointed Griffith in Philadelphia last Oct. 29, had rocked the former welterweight and middleweight champion with a stunning right to the jaw in the fourth round and was outboxing the grim New Yorker at this stage.

AFTER CUT

But when the wide cut on the Kitten's left eyebrow was opened in the fifth and blood streamed from the gash, Griffith took charge and dominated the fight from then on.

Referee Arthur Mercante and judge Tony Castellano each had Griffith the winner in rounds 8-4 while judge Johnny Dran had it 9-3 for Griffith. The Associated Press card had Griffith in front 8-4.

"It was Griffith all the way," said Benvenuti, who took the title from Emile a second time here 14 months ago. "He would have won even if Hayward was not cut. Griffith looked slower but stronger since I fought him."

BORED IN

Griffith bored in to work over Hayward's body and to prevent him from getting too much punching room.

"I couldn't get set for more than one punch the way he worked," said Hayward. "Then when I was cut, I couldn't see out of the eye for several rounds. I think I'll have an operation to get the scar tissue removed."

He was cut in the same place only last March 17 in a losing 15-rounder with Freddie Little for the junior middleweight title in Las Vegas.

IN TRAINING

Hayward weighed the agreed limit of 161 pounds after sweating off 1½pounds within two hours after the first weighin. Griffith weighed 155.

Quite A Rebuilding Job At Rohnert Park Course

COMEBACK OF THE YEAR — There is a popular ditty which advises that if you get knocked on your kisser, pick yourself up, dust yourself off and start all over again.

That could very well be the theme song for the Rohnert Park municipal golf course.

Although it has been in e x i s t e n c e for several years, the Rohnert muni until only recently was sort of a black eye to the seven-year-old Sonoma County city. The course d e v e l o p e r, Dorado Pacific Corp., was forced into bankruptcy a number of years ago and the links, in awful shape from the beginning due in part to an inadequate irrigation system, appeared destined to become a subdivision.

The adobe soil in that neck of the woods made golfing a miserable adventure because of huge cracks in the fairways. I know one golfer who in one hour on the links lost four balls and his wife through the crevices, by cracky.

City Comes To Rescue

Anyway, the young city of Rohnert Park came to the rescue in 1967 by acquiring the 130-acre site and immediately launching an energetic renovation program under the green thumb guidance of course superintendent Sam Singh.

The first nine holes were opened last August and the final nine just two months ago. What once resembled Market Street after the '06 quake today is a lush and quite pleasant golf course.

City officials, proud as punch, hosted members of the news media the other day at a s p e c i a l prededication preview of the course.

I was given a cook's tour of the greenery by Chris Christensen, a former College of Pacific basketball star who is the Rohnert Park Men's Golf Club's tournament director.

Covering 130 acres, the course measures 6,435 years; men's par is 71, women's 74.

Adobe Problem Eliminated

Christensen, a former Marin County resident, pointed out that a new irrigation system has virtually eliminated the adobe problem; new lakes were created and existing lakes enlarged; sand traps were enlarged and filled with white Monterey sand; many pine trees have been planted; the clubhouse has been remodeled and a new access road from the freeway leads into a new parking lot.

"We're quite proud of this course," said Chris. "Rohnert Park (population 5,875) is the smallest city in the state with an 18-hole muni course. And we've got some good tournaments coming up to show it off. We're hosting the North Bay Counties Tournament of Champions June 15 and 22 and the Sonoma County Men's Amateur Championships July 27 and Aug. 3. We're expecting more than 100 club champs and runners up in the June tourney."

Club president Alan Appleton intoned: "It used to be like our own private country club here, but now that the word's out how we've renovated the course we're seeing more and more strangers."

Said club professional Bob Porter: "We can handle over 250 players a day and business is really picking up. Tell Marin County golfers they're welcome."

There Are No Weeds To Fight

B o a s t e d Rohnert Park mayor Jimmie Rogers: "This course is unique in that there is no rough area, no weeds to fight. Play moves right along because there is no delay looking for lost balls."

There are a number of water hazards which keep things interesting. For example, two greens are completely surrounded by water. Also, a Northwestern Pacific line runs past the western boundary of the course so if you hook a shot on the ninth hole your Spaulding could wind up in Willits.

In the planning stage for the course is a subdivision to be known as Golf Lake Estates. The master plan also calls for a school near the 12th green. It will be an elementary school, so punsters won't be able to call it Pin High.

Yes, things are really b o o m i n g at our young neighborhood to the north. If you're having trouble getting starting times in Marin, give Rohnert muni a jingle. They'll welcome you with open arms. It's only about a 35-minute drive from San Rafael.

Longden Gets His Tips From Majestic Prince

BALTIMORE (AP) — Trainer Johnny Longden can't get any information straight from his horse's mouth. But he picks up valuable tips sitting on the back of Majestic Prince.

"I guess I have a little edge by working my own horse," Longden said of the Kentucky Derby winner who goes after his second leg of the Triple Crown in Saturday's Preakness at Pimlico.

"By exercising my horse, I can tell by his actions when something is bothering him," said the former jockey, who won a record 6,032 races. "Then I can use my own judgment instead of relying on someone else. I get my information first hand, because I'm always there."

Longden recalls Majestic Prince once acted a bit sluggish during a workout at Santa Anita and a subsequent check showed he had a temperature of 102 degrees.

Rams Get Bob Brown In Five-Player Deal

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The Philadelphia Eagles settled a personnel problem yesterday by trading offensive tackle Bob Brown to the Los Angeles Rams in a five-player deal which returned defensive back Irv Cross for a shot at coaching his former teammates.

Brown, the 6-foot-4, 295-pounder called by Rams' Coach George Allen the "finest offensive lineman in football," asked to be traded "for personal reasons."

He met with Eagles General Manager Pete Retzlaff in the morning, and less than five hours later Retzlaff said he and Allen confirmed the deal, sending Brown and defensive back Jim Nettles to the Rams in return for Cross, offensive tackle Joe Carollo and offensive guard Don Chuy.

"The visit from Brown was not unexpected," Retzlaff said later. "I've been talking to George Allen for five days about a trade and I knew who I wanted."

Brown had indicated a desire to be traded after Eagles new owner, Leonard Tose, named Retzlaff general manager last week in place of Joe Kuharich.

USC, UCLA, Stanford Big Winners

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Southern California put on a spectacular offensive display yesterday to sweep a doubleheader from Washington but the Trojans are still in second place in the Pacific-8 Conference baseball standings.

The Trojans, who have a 13-5 mark, blasted seven pitchers for 26 hits to post 13-2 and 11-7 victories over the Huskies. Cal Meir, the leading extra base hitter in the conference, led the explosion with five hits and four RBIs in the nightcap.

UCLA and Stanford remained deadlocked for the top spot with 14-4 records by taking twinbill sweeps.

The Bruins defeated Washington State, 4-1 and 9-7, and Stanford, behind the pitching and hitting of Bob Boone, took Oregon State, 4-3 and 12-2.

In the fourth Pac-8 doubleheader, Oregon took California 4-3 in the first game but the Bears bounced back to take the second game 10-9.

Sohner Wins Doubleheader

Sohner Tree Service of San A n s e l m o swept an ulcer-inducing doubleheader in the Santa Rosa Softball League last night, beating the Alibi Club of Santa Rosa 1-0 in the opener and nipping Sebastopol 2-1 in the 14-inning nightcap.

Chuck Tyson pitched a one-hitter for Sohner in the opener. The only run came in the first inning when Herb Dower singled, was sacrificed to second, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on an infield out by John Brookman.

Iron man M a u r y Swarm pitched all 14 innings in the nightcap, striking out 16, walking 1 and yielding 5 hits. Sohner broke up the marathon with two out in the bottom of the 14th when Nolan Wilson singled and Jess Munyon tripled.

Giants Hope Bolin Can End The Skid

S.F. Falls To Pirate Late Rally

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The sliding San Francisco Giants call on big Bob Bolin tonight in an effort to reverse the unfavorable tide.

The Giants, who e a r l i e r ripped through a n i n e - g a m e winning streak, suffered their eighth loss in 10 games yesterday when r o o k i e Al Oliver cracked an opposite field single with two outs in the ninth to give Pittsburgh a 4-3 victory.

PERCENTAGE PLAY

Manager Clyde King played percentage baseball — not once but twice — in the final inning but it went for naught.

After Manny Sanguillen doubled down the rightfield line with one out, King brought in his ace southpaw reliever Joe Gibbon to face three lefty Pirate swingers, Rich Hebner, Willie Stargell and Oliver.

The first man drilled a single to right but Ken Henderson made perfect throw to the plate to nab Sanguillen. Then figuring the veteran Stargell more of a threat than Oliver, King ordered him intentionally walked.

SPOILS PLAN

In tonight's game, Bolin (2-2) will be opposed by either Bob Moose (3-1) or Steve Blass (2-2).

Marin Softballer 'Player Of Week'

Catcher Jess Munyon of Sohner Tree Service team of San Anselmo, was named "Player of the Week" in the Golden Gate Travel League for his hitting against Koss Supply in a May 4 doubleheader.

Munyon is the second Sohner player to receive the award. Outfielder Gary Swarm received the award several weeks ago.

Munyon collected four hits in the first game to drive in all three Sohner runs in a 3-2 victory. The Sohner catcher's fourth hit drove in the winning run in the bottom of the seventh.

Two Win Streaks Clash In Oakland

OAKLAND (UPI) — Unless it rains — and it's not likely — one winning streak will come to an end tonight. The Oakland Athletics hope it won't be theirs.

The A's have six straight hard-earned victories u n d e r their belts plus 10 of their last 11 and are in a virtual tie for first place with Minnesota in the Western Division of the American League.

EIGHT STRAIGHT

On the other hand, the Boston Red Sox have reeled off eight consecutive wins, including the last five on the road, and are only a game out of the top spot in the Eastern Division behind pace-setting Baltimore.

Dick Williams had been getting excellent long ball power from his Bosoxers. As a team, they have connected for 42 home runs in 29 games to lead the majors. Rico Petrocelli, who is batting at a torrid .360 clip, leads the club with 10 homers.

BIG GUNS

Oakland's top stickers include Danny Cater and his .328 average, Reggie Jackson with 10 homers and Rick Monday and Sal Bando who have 23 and 22 runs batted in, respectively, to rank among the league leaders.

O p e n i n g night hurlers are slated to be rookie Mike Nagy (1-0) for Boston and Jim Nash (3-1) for the A's.

Four Men Hurt, Six Horses Die In Fire

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (UPI)— A flash fire raced through a stable at Garden State race track early today, burning it to the ground as grooms and handlers worked to get 60 thoroughbred race horses to safety.

Police and firemen, who in less than an hour, said six horses died and four persons—two firemen and two track workers—were slightly injured, brought the fire under control

DESTROYED

Stable B, the oldest of a dozen stables at the track, was completely destroyed. Stable C, which had 40 horses inside, was slightly damaged.

All the dead horses were in Stable B, which was 250 feet by 40 feet.

One of the dead thoroughbreds was "old Woman," which yesterday won a $7,500 claiming race. She was owned by Kenny Noe, Sr.

The two track workers injured were knocked down when they attempted to keep horses from re-entering the burning stable from which they had evacuated. They were identified as Samuel Kirk, 58, a track security guard, and Theodore Craig, 59, an assistant trainer from Baltimore.

ROAM AREA

While all seven fire companies from Cherry Hill and firemen from five surrounding areas fought the general alarm blaze, the track workers tried to lead the horses to the track area. But many of the frightened animals broke loose and roamed the fenced-in track area for hours afterwards until handlers were able to catch them and bed them down in different areas away from the burned stable.

It was the first fire in the 20-year history of the track.

Swimming Pool Open Fridays, Saturdays

The Redwood High School swimming pool will be open for public use on Fridays and Saturdays now through the end of the school year in mid-June, Recreation Director Dick Hart announced.

The pool will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. Admission is 40 cents for adults, 25 cents for high school students and 15 cents for elementary school students, said Hart.

The Amazing Comeback Of Boston's Conigliaro

It was on the night of Aug. 18, 1967, that the Boston Red Sox had to call time because their ace batter, Tony Cognigliaro, got something in his eye—a baseball.

The pitcher had to call for a new ball, too, because that one had blood on it. So did Tony Conigliaro.

Tony was unable to take his base because he was too busy trying to hang on to the earth.

IT WAS the earliest Tony had got to bed in 10 years. It should have been easy to get to sleep because all Tony had to close was one eye, but this was one night he had a good excuse for breaking curfew. The doctors were X-raying whatever parts of the eye they could find till well into the morning.

The headache didn't last a day over a year, but the dizziness had more staying power. Tony was the only guy in Boston who could get seasick riding a bus.

THE DOCTORS who examined the X-rays wondered politely if anyone had heard the ball ticking just before it hit. Aside from the fractured cheek bone and dislocated jaw, there was internal bleeding where the eye had been. Tony was on the critical list for 10 days and the disabled list for two years.

NATURE IS bountiful with skin and bones, but eyes come only two to a customer, and Tony's left one was only slightly better than a glass one. Depth perception vanished to the point where he would back through doors, and vision plunged to 20/300. The only thing Tony could see out of his left eye was a forest fire. He'd have to be careful not to bump into an elephant. A cyst had burst a hole through the seeing part of the eye and it was flooding with fluid. Tony not only couldn't play a baseball game, he couldn't even watch one. Movies gave him a headache. Television looked like a match burning in a dark room.

IT WAS a tragedy for all baseball. Young Tony Conigliaro was far ahead of Babe Ruth's home run pace at the time. Only 22 years old, he had already hit 104 home runs in the big leagues (and 24 in only 80 games in the minors). On the first pitch ever thrown to him in Fenway Park, he broke windows in the house across the street from the left-field fence. Only one thing could have saved Babe Ruth. And, it appeared, it had.

The Red Sox won the pennant, but Tony was still going around bumping into things. When he went to spring training, the count would be 3-and-2 before Tony knew they had even let go of the ball. They threw him the kind of pitches you throw to little kids in the backyard — or the living room. Tony could have batted safely in a greenhouse. It was hard hitting a ball five inches in diameter, when he had trouble standing on one 8,000 miles in diameter.

AT FIRST, Tony gave in to black despair. "I was the saddest buy in town. I spent a lot of time with myself, but I was no fun to be with. When I laughed, it was only noise. My mouth was the only part of me that was laughing.

"At first I thought, 'Why should I ask God for help now when I'm down when I didn't need him when things were going good?' " God would know him for a fake, Tony felt.

THEN, MEDALS, rosary beads, letters from 20,000 people all over the world, Bibles, prayers from nuns in Italy and priests in Japan and ministers in Boston began to come in. "It gave me a push," Tony admits. "I found out from some of those people I was still a pretty lucky guy compared to a lot of them. I became a different person, I think a better one."

He tried a career singing. At 6-foot-3 with silken brown hair and movie actor looks, he had no trouble packing the clubs, but the squeals of teen-agers were no substitute for the roar of a Series crowd. "You never realize how much you're going to miss something you're fit for till you can't do it any more."

HE LOVED baseball enough to try to get back into it as a pitcher. He was far less of a threat to Babe Ruth at this, but at a winter instructional league last November, an astonishing thing happened: Tony Conigliaro looked up and there was the lovliest sight in the world, a baseball hanging in the air — a nice, fat, hitable baseball with Joe Cronin's name on it. Gingerly, he swiped at it with the bat — and heard the two most wonderful sounds in the world, the crack of the bat and the thump of the centerfield fence.

A crowd began to collect. The manager, Billy Gardner, called over to the pticher, "Throw him something hard." "He just hit my 'A' pitch off the center-field fence," the pitcher called back sottly.

CONIGLIARO REFUSED to become too heartened. But he got so good, some of the pitchers were beginning to think about brushing him back again.

He hot-footed it to the Boston Eye Clinic. The doctor examined his eye, then checked him for wings or a halo. He didn't know whether to report it to the Medical Assn. or Lourdes. Tony's eye was 20/20. Babe Ruth was in deep trouble again.

"I DON'T know what to attribute it to," confessed the doctor. Tony did. And went right to church to do it.

Drake Warner Grid Sign-Ups

Coach Tony Barbera of the champion Drake Junior Pirates in the Marin Pop Warner Football League announced sign-ups for boys in the fourth through seventh grades will be held tomorrow night, 7:30 at Isabel Cook School in San Anselmo.

Another sign-up will be held the following Wednesday, May 21, at 7:30 p.m., at Fairfax Pavilion.

On hand with coach Barbera to explain the Warner Football program will be Walt Boatright, booster club president, and assistant coaches Randy Garrison, Darrell Williamson, Alan Brady, Marv Ingraham and Joe Casalnuove.

Boys must reside in the Drake High School area to play for the Junior Pirates.

Gibson's Perfect Game—With Bat

Bob Gibson had a perfect game, but he won't go down on the list with Don Larsen, Jim Bunning and Sandy Koufax.

The St. Louis ace collected three singles and a walk in four times at bat las night as the Cardinals defeated Los Angeles 6-2.

CUBS WIN

In the only other National League games, Pittsburgh edged San Francisco 4-3 and Chicago topped San Diego 2-0.

"I've had four hits in a game before, but I don't think I ever had a perfect night," Gibson said. "I should remember something like that, but I don't."

The 33-year-old right-handed hitter, who has hit one home run in each of the last two World Series, started his perfect game with a single in the third.

In the fourth, Claude Osteen intentionally walked Steve Huntz with two out, loading the bases, and Gibson followed with a two-run single, increasing the Cardinals'lead to 3-0.

EVEN STEALS

The pitcher led off the seventh with a single and scored, then walked in the eighth and stole second.

"Anytime they play behind me, I'm going to run," said Gibson, referring to first baseman Ron Fairly's playing off the bag. "I don't believe in that stuff about being four runs ahead and you play nice. Four runs isn't that much of a lead."

It was for him, though, as he scattered seven hits for his fourth victory against two defeats. He also tied a major league record in the seventh inning when he struck out three Dodgers on nine pitches.

DAVIS HOMERS

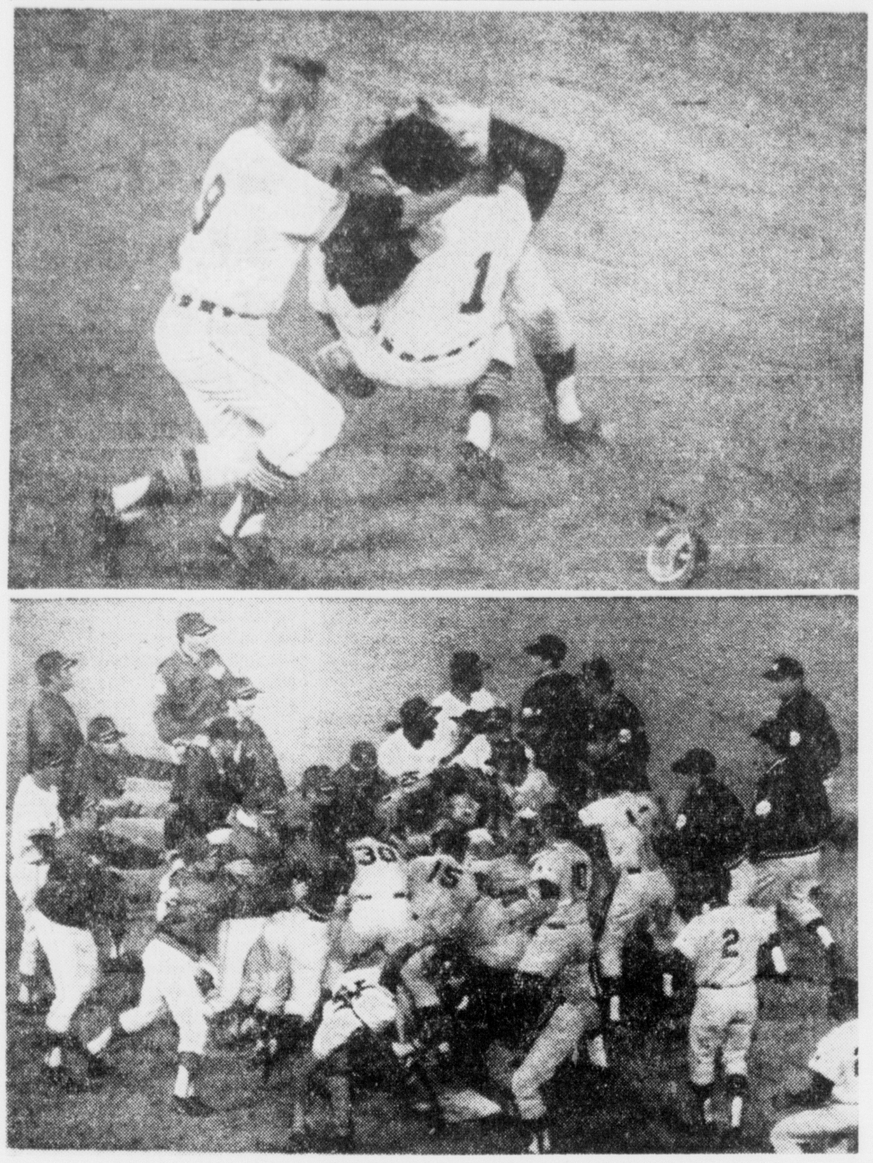
Ferguson Jenkins pitched a five-hitter and drove in the only run he needed against San Diego. The run came in the second inning as Jenkins grounded into a force play following singles by Randy Hundley and Al Spangler and a walk to Adolfo Phillips.



THEN THE FUN BEGAN—Seattle's Rich Rollins (9) tried to break up a fight between teammate Ray Oyler (1) and New York's Bobby Murcer (top photo), after Murcer slammed into Oyler in a hard slide at second. Rollins failed as both benches emptied, (bottom) for a five-minute brawl ending in the ejection of Murcer, Oyler and Yankee manager Ralph Houk.

It's Wild Time In Seattle When Pilots Dump Yankees

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

After two weeks in headlong retreat, the New York Yankees have stopped running and started fighting back—from a horizontal position.

The powder puff Yankees, floored by a seven-run Seattle salvo in the first inning last night, countered with a flurry of elbows, fists and body blocks before bowing to the Pilots 8-4 for their 13th loss in the last 15 games.

HARD SLIDE

Bobby Murcer, one of the few Yanks who hasn't lost his punch, socked a two-run homer in the first inning and decked Seattle shortstop Ray Oyler with a rolling slide in the third, touching off a mass melee at second base.

Embattled Manager Ralph Houk shoved an umpire after the brawl was over and got himself tossed out of the game along with Murcer and Oyler.

Relief pitcher Fred Talbot drew a warning from Umpire John Rice for knocking down Seattle hurler Marty Pattin in the bottom of the third and catcher Frank Fernandez almost triggered another donnybrook in the fourth by bowling over Pilots' receiver Gerry McNertney on a play at the plate.

ANGELS WIN

While the Yanks and Pilots battled at Seattle, the California Angels scraped past Washington 3-2 at Anaheim in the only other game on the American League schedule.

Tommy Davis' three-run double off Al Downing, who had walked the first three batters he faced, keyed Seattle's first inning spree. Jose Vidal's triple and singles by Pattin and Tommy Harper helped the Pilots rake reliever Mike Kekich for four more runs and a 7-2 lead.

Murcer, whose ninth homer sent the Yanks ahead before the deluge, came up again in the third and was brushed back by a Pattin pitch. He then singled to right and tried to stretch the hit, bowling over Oyler at second base. Oyler made the tag and then came up swinging. Murcer fought back and both benches emptied.

'NO WAY'

"He came in throwing an elbow," Oyler said after the game. "That's no way to play baseball."

"I had no intention of starting anything," Murcer said. "He jumped me, then I jumped him. Then everybody was on top of both of us. I don't think anyone really got hit, and I don't think there's any hard feelings now."

After the scuffle broke up, Houk stood toe-to-toe with umpire Russ Boetz and argued that Oyler had dropped the ball in the collision at second. Goetz thumbed him out and Rice, the senior umpire, had to step between them before escorting Houk to the dugout.

BENCHES EMPTY

Talbot low-bridged Pattin with two out in the Pilots' third, drawing a warning from Rice, and when Fernandez piled into McNertney in a futile attempt to score in the fourth, players streamed off both benches again.

But no punches were thrown and there were no further incidents as Pattin breezed to his fifth victory against one loss and the Yanks stumbled to their fifth straight setback.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG

Many women bowlers seem reluctant to pitch the ball out six or so inches over the foul line. If you suspect you may be dropping the ball, place a piece of paper just over the line where you release the ball. If black marks show up on it, you're dropping the ball. Concentrate on giving the ball a lift over the line.

SLUMP OF HIS OWN

Harrelson Like All Indians

CLEVELAND, (AP) — Hopes that Ken Harrelson would lift the Cleveland Indians out of their slump have not been fulfilled as he tries to break out of a slump of his own.

The Indians had only one victory in nine games in their worst start in years when they acquired the 1967 American League runs batted in champion from the Boston Red Sox in a six-player swap April 19.

Acquisition of the Boston slugger caused a surge of hope in the breast of many a Cleveland fan, and Manager Alvin Dark stated that Harrelson is the kind of guy who "can take this team and turn it right around."

Sixteen games later the Indians have a 4-21 record for an incredible .160 average, and the Hawk is battling to climb out of a slump during which his batting average has dropped 41 points.

Harrelson came to the Indians with a .239 average and now it is down to .198. He has had seven hits, including one homer, and four runs batted in, in 45 at bats since donning a Cleveland uniform.

The Hawk says the team slump bothers him more than his own.

"If the team was winning, it wouldn't bother me," Harrelson said last night as the Indians, who were idle yesterday, prepared to take off for Kansas City. "When they're losing . . . that makes it doubly hard to take.

"I'm working as hard as humanly possible to break out of the slump."

State Replenishes Marin Waters With Catchables

Lakes Laguunitas and Phoenix and Rodeo Lagoon will receive their third plants of trout this week.

Most of the fish are nine to ten inches long and a limit makes a meal for about four people. Anglers using flyrods(fly lines and light leaders with a No. 10 or No. 12 hook, and a good class of salmon egg take easy limits with good action and sport.

Other anglers using spinning rods and small lures do just as well. Bait can be used on spinning gear if preferred. Rarely will one get a large fish from these waters as the pressure is very heavy. One year the state planted 10,000 catchables at Lagunitas, keeping a man on the scene to check the fish out. The first day 7,000 were taken, the second day 2,600 were taken and the remainder the third day.

I RECEIVED a call from the family of Gary Morgan of Tiburon in regards to his 20-inch trout taken at Rodeo Lagoon on opening day. I had kiddingly implied that maybe the size of this fish was stretched a little. They want to send me this 20-inch fish (I really think it was bigger!) through the mail for proof. Now, my wife, Mary, who happens to be the post master at Woodacre, says I've had it if everyone I needle starts sending fish through the mails to prove their point. I may never again say anything about anyone's fish in this column. (Except maybe about some of my friends' fish!)

KENT LAKE has been slow, but the anglers there are after trophies and are content to fish for one or two lunkers even if it takes a week. So far most of them are still getting their week in!

At Lake Berryessa near Napa, Joe Mello and his wife Molly of Santa Venetia took 18 trout trolling, though they had never fished there prior to this year. It took them about three trips to solve the puzzle of this lake.

I HEARD that Bernard Nerviani of Fairfax caught a trout that was short, but weighed six pounds or more. It was so fat that an experienced anglerette friend of mine thought it was a black bass. Descretion is the best part of valor here. I have no further information on this one!

THE STRIPED bass that Mello caught on April 9 in San Pablo was tagged with the $2 tag at Antioch on April 3. Also, this was the first tag returned to the Department of Fish and Game for a reward payment. That fish traveled from Antioch to San Pablo in six days or less.

I NOTICED Saturday that they were dredging out the launching ramp channel at the Marin Rod and Gun Club pier at Pt. San Quentin. Big trucks hauling mud away and a dredge-loader digging out the channel. Do you know who the foreman was? Yep, Bunky Scanlon of Mill Valley. She was there ordering trucks, showing them the way, the whole works! I think she is getting ready for a big summer of catching those $10 tagged fish the Department of Fish and Game just finished tagging.

SALMON FISHING is still excellent at Sausalito. Some good limits were brought in Saturday, though it was rough and choppy in some areas. Another few weeks or so and we should be getting those light variable wind predictions and things will be easier.

AT NICASIO about 100 anglers were out Saturday when 75 car loads of the Stafford Lake anglers arrived. They were sent there because of the crowded conditions at Stafford. Did you know that 9 out of 10 anglers at Nicasio fish for bluegills? The cane pole with the bobber and a worm on the hook is still most popular. About 10 trout were taken at Nicasio this week. Sometimes the fishermen there, when they catch a trout, don't know what it is?

The rubber eel is the big bass patience and skill to work this getter at Nicasio. It takes great areas with sometimes an hour lure along the rocky bottom between strikes. Try it!

Giant Injuries Called 'Unbelievable'

By JACK HANLEY

PITTSBURGH — Leo Hughes, better known as Doc, trainer of the Giants, shook his head in disbelief as he looked around his training room in Chicago the other day.

Willie McCovey was in the whirlpool, soaking an ailing hip. Willie Mays was on the rubbing table where Doc's educated fingers were kneading kinks out of the team captain's aching back. Juan Marichal was on the adjoining rubbing table where Doc's assistant, Al Wylder, was working on a knotted muscle in Marichal's left side.

"I can't believe it," said Hughes. "I just can't believe it. I've been in baseball all my life and I've never seen anything like this. Ever since the days Denny Carroll taught me the trade, I've never seen every key man on a team suffering simultaneously.

"It's not just that our 3Ms are hurting. Every regular is ailing. Do you realize that Jim Ray Hart was the only player in our opening day lineup who started against the Cardinals in Busch Stadium the other night?

"And before the game was over, Hart fell on the rain soaked field going after a fly and reinjured the right shoulder he jammed against the left filed foul wall in Candlestick two weeks ago."

Hughes momentarily left Mays and peeked outside the door leading into his training room. Hart and Bobby Bonds were lined up with several other walking wounded waiting their turn on the tables.

"I'll have to start issuing waiting numbers," said Hughes.

When Hughes was advised last Wednesday that Bonds' left forearm began to puff up during a special batting practice session, the team trainer said to the bearer of the gloomy news: "You got to be kidding. At least, I sincerely hope so because we got to field a team tonight."

That was the game Gaylord Perry pitched and stopped a five game losing streak of the Giants.

Despite his puffed forearm, originally damaged in Candlestick a fortnight ago by one of Bill Singer's fiast balls, Bonds volunteered for outfield defensive duty when Hart hurt himself in the seventh inning.

But Bonds couldn't swing a bat when it came time for him to hit so Ron Hunt batted for him. By this time King had run out of players and Mays emerged from the dressing room for ninth inning emergency defensive duty.

While he was at bat in the ninth, Davenport spun a vicious foul off the instep of his left foot. The old pro leaned on his bat for support. It was obvious that he was in considerable pain. Hughes went to him. Davenport waved off the trainer.

Davenport may not be able to play every day now that he is approaching his 36th birthday but the veteran with the weather-beaten face sure is ready for action in emergencies.

Mets Have Real Mobile Outfield

By MIKE RECHT

NEW YORK (AP) — There are a number of mobile outfields in the major leagues, but there's only one mobile Mobile outfield—and it belongs to the New York Mets.

It is composed of Celon Jones, Tommie Agee and rookie Amos Otis, all natives of Mobile, Ala., who still make their homes there.

And it isn't publicity that has caused Manager Gil Hodges to put the three buddies together on the field at the same time in recent games.

Jones happens to be the major leagues' leading hitter at .411, Agee raised his average to .279 with three homers in Sunday's doubleheader and Otis is the youngster for whom the Mets have such high hopes.

Jones and Agee are the best of friends, dating back to their days when they were high school baseball, football and track stars together in Mobile. And now Otis, four years younger at 23, claims them as his closest friends on the club.

"We have a feeling for each other because we are from the same town," Jones said. "Amos wants to do good because I'm doing good and I want to do good when Tommie is going good.

"We know how we should hit and we watch each other at the plate, more than we do any of the other guys, and we help each other out with advice.

"Tommie (a bachelor) and Amos (whose wife and three children) come over for dinner at least once a week and we drive to the park together."

"Our lockers are next to each other, too," Otis added.

"I weighed only 160 pounds after getting the flu in spring training, but I ate over Cleon's house two or three times a week —his wife, Angela, can sure cook—and now I'm up to 169.

"I first saw Cleon and Tommie when they were playing in a high school football game and I was in grade school. Now we work out together during the winter. And when I came to the club, everyone was friendly, but they were my best friends."

The three would like to keep their outfield intact, but right now Jones is the only daily starter, and Agee and Otis can joke about it.

"They'll give the key to the city to Cleon when we get back to Mobile next winter," Agee quips, "and maybe he'll let us use it, too."

Davis Cup: Yugoslavia, Brazil Win

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Brazil has eliminated Colombia and Yugoslavia has ousted France in the Davis Cup tennis competition.

Brazil defeated Colombia 3-2 at Bogota, Colombia, yesterday, gaining the crucial third point on Tom Koch's 6-2, 7-5, 6-2 triumph over William Alvarez. The victory qualified Brazil for the third round of the South American Zone play.

OTHER MATCH

In the other singles match, Colombia's Jairo Velasco beat Edson Mandarino 6-2, 6-1, 6-3.

Yugoslavia also won by a 3-2 score. The deciding match for Yugoslavia was won by Zeilko Franulovic, who downed Francois Jauffret 6-3, 6-3, 6-3.

Frenchman Georges Goven took the other singles scrap, beating Yugoslavia's Nikola Spear 6-3, 6-2, 6-1.

INDIA SWEEPS

At Poona, India, India won both singles matches yesterday and completed an East Zone sweep 5-0 over Japan. India's Premjit Lall defeated Ichizo Konishi 6-3, 7-1, 6-3, and Shiv Prasad Misar trounced Koji Watanabe 6-3, 6-3, 5-7, 6-2.

Conigliaro Dating Mamie Van Doren

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Hitters are so different from pitchers," says Mamie Van Doren, buxom, blonde actress linked romantically with outfielder Tony Conigliaro of the Boston Red Sox.

"He has so many calluses on his hands."

Miss Van Doren, 36, who once dated pitchers Sandy Koufax and Bo Belinsky and recently divorced minor league hurler Lee Meyers, says she didn't know the 24-year-old Conigliaro until two weeks ago in New York when entertainer Merv Griffin introduced them.

'GOOD FRIENDS'

"We are just good friends," says the star slugger who sat out last season after nearly losing his eyesight in 1967 when a pitched ball from California Angels' hurler Jack Hamilton struck hom on the left side of the face. "She's a lot of fun to be with."

The actress, 36-22-36, said yesterday she gave up on athletes after her divorce from Meyers until Conigliaro came along.

She thinks the cross-country friendship with Conigliaro will continue.

'LUCKY'

Conigliaro was asked if the relationship had reached the point of engagement. "I would not say so," he replied.

"I've been very luck for him, he told me," said Miss Van Doren, twice married. "He's better in his hitting. That's better than the other ones I went out with."

She says dating hitters is more difficult than dating pitchers because pitchers don't have to play every night.

Win A Trip To Sweden By Studying The Correct Play

Most of the declarers went wrong on today's hand, according to a report from Jan Wohlin, famous Swedish expert. See if you would have made the contract if you had been playing in that tournament in Stockholm.

FIRST TRICK

Each declarer won the first trick with the king of diamonds, saving dummy's ace for help in developing the clubs. The typical declarer continued with the ace and queen of clubs, noticing West's heart discard without enthusiasm.

Our typical declarer continued with a club to the king and another club to the jack. Back came a diamond to the ace, and declarer cashed the last club and then tried a finesse with the queen of spades.

South could get four clubs, two diamonds and two spades but nothing else. Down one. You'd have done better, of course, if you had been in Stockholm for the tournament. If not, think about the right play before you read on.

NEEDS TWO FINESSES

When West discards a heart on the queen of clubs, South sees that he will get only four club tricks and will therefore need two successful spade finesses to make the contract. Since dummy is short of entries, South must overtake the queen of clubs with dummy's king to return a spade at once for the first finesse.

The spade finesse succeeds, and South now leads his other club to dummy's nine. The overtake in clubs costs nothing since South is sure to lose one club trick no matter how he plays the suit.

WINS WITH CLUB

East wins with the jack of clubs and returns a diamond to dummy's ace. Now declarer cashes the ten of clubs and the last club. This leaves him in position to take a second spade finesse. South makes his contract with four clubs, three spades and two diamonds.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1-no-trump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ K 10 8 7
♥ K J 8
♣ J 8 5 4.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two clubs, the Stayman Convention, asking partner to bid any major suit of four or more cards.

If partner bids two spades, you will raise to three spades, promising four-card spade support with eight or nine dummy points. If partner bids anything but two spades you will retreat to the safety of 2-no-trump.

STOCKHOLM (UPI)—A cat-loving woman in a Stockholm suburb was ordered to get rid of 34 of her 36 cats after local health authorities ruled that more than two cats in a small city flat constitute a "sanitary inconvenience" for the other tenants.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, May 13, the 133rd day of 1969 with 232 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1607 English colonists landed near the James river in Virginia to establish their first permanent settlement in the New World. They named it Jamestown.

In 1846 the United States declared war on Mexico.

In 1956, a pleasure boat capsized in the Java Sea, killing 73 persons.

In 1968 U.S. and North Vietnamese delegates began preliminary peace talks in Paris.

A thought for the day: Ralph Waldo Emerson said, "Nature and books belong to the eyes that see them."

Baby Necessity Not Taxable In Britain

LONDON (UPI)—Baby diapers are exempt from the extra purchase tax announced in Britain's 1969-70 budget, on one condition.

"They will have to be clearly identifiable as nappies (diapers)," said a Customs and Excise spokesman.

Name Is Durable

CANTON, Mo. (UPI)—The Cats' Pause, the crowded old student union building at Culver-Stockton College, was replaced recently by a new student activities building. A contest was held among the students to name the new building. The winner: Cats' Pause.

Marin Multiple Listing Sales Figure Up 19 Per Cent In April

Continuing the 1969 increase in real estate activity, multiple listing sales in Marin for April have been reported at $7,388,420 — 19 per cent up from the $6,210,410 reported a year ago. In number of transactions, the increase was less pronounced, being only 10 per cent.

Completed sales for the month also moved up to $6,422,980 from the year-ago figure of $4,581,165. For the year to date, total completed sales stand at $21.9 million, compared with $15.6 million for the 1968 period.

AUTO MAN, specializing in engine work and engine tune-ups, will soon start construction on its San Rafael building on Medway Road near Francisco Boulevard. Headquartered in Culver City, the company franchises out its branches and has more than 60 in California.

Franchisee for the San Rafael facility is Michael J. Miller of Novato.

THE PETALUMA OFFICE of Data Plus, Inc. opened at 620 East Washington Street in February is expected to double its size within the next two months, according to G. Keeling Roberts, president of the firm which is headquartered in San Francisco. The data preparations service opened with five keypunch machines and has expanded to 18 machines, operated around the clock.

THE ANNUAL Pacific Coast Builders Conference will be held June 4-6 at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco. Construction men, home builders, designers and architects will come from all parts of the West Coast to attend.

This year is expected to provide the largest number of exhibits in conference history. About 225 displays are anticipated. In addition, there will be seminars and discussions on various phases of home construction, housing problems, values, costs, sales and profits.

Registration should be made now with Pacific Coast Builders Conference, 225 Montgomery Street, San Francisco. Registration is $35 per person (no charge for wives accompanying their husbands).

ROBERT F. BLUE of San Rafael, a veteran of more than 20 years in the outdoor advertising business, has announced his resignation as vice president and general manager of Advan, Inc., headquartered in the East Bay, to take effect at the end of this month. For many years he was vice president of West Coast Advertising Co., San Francisco before the firm was acquired by Advan in 1967. His future plans have not been announced.

INSURANCE. Gerald Rubin of Corte Madera, business manager for Lawrence Halprin and Associates, has been elected a director of the Mutual Insurance Companies. He previously had served as delegate to Mutual, representing Consumers Cooperative of Berkeley and the Cooperative Credit Union. . . . John E. Burke of San Rafael has joined Mutual of New York as assistant manager of the San Rafael agency. He has been a life and health insurance consultant for more than two years.

WELLS FARGO BANK in downtown San Rafael has adopted a new "express line" procedure in teller service. After preparing deposit or withdrawal papers, customers wait in a single line instead of picking a teller's window at random. As soon as the first teller is free, head man in the line moves in and those behind him move up.

MARVIN C. LEMONS of Novato, district sales manager for Bristol Myers Products in the Bay Area, and his salesmen have been awarded trips to Nassau for their sales records.

Stocks On Higher Side At Final Bell

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks finished stronger today with Wall Street hopeful President Nixon's Wednesday night message on Vietnam would contain some promising news on efforts to obtain a ceasefire. Trading was heavy.

Atlantic Richfield moved ahead in the oil group, while IBM made a good showing among the mostly higher electronics. Fairchild Camera and Texas Instruments also firmed.

Conglomerates and motors generally were narrowly mixed. Aircrafts edged higher in many instances.

Chemicals and rails moved narrowly and without definite direction.

Steels strengthened. The American Iron and Steel Institute reported a 2 per cent drop.

Uranium Interest

AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI) — Petrodynamics Inc. has said it has acquired a 50 per cent interest in two uranium permits covering a 209,900 acre area in the Athabasca Sandstone Basin in Northern Saskatchewan. The firm plans to begin exploration this spring. Further developments will depend on the results of this preliminary investigation, the firm said.

Firm Reports Imports Hurt

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (UPI)— Bethlehem Steel, which had been the nation's second largest supplier of steel sice the 1920's, has dropped to the No. 3 spot.

The company reports in its employee publication "Bethlehem Review" that it has been bumped out of second place by foreign-made steel.

Foreign producers shipped almost 18 million tons of steel into the United States last year, according to Bethlehem. The import tonnage was 3.5 million tons more than Bethlehem supplied.

Copper Cost Up

NEW YORK (UPI) — Phelps-Dodge Corp., the country's No. 2 copper producer, has hiked the price of the metal by two cents to 46 cents a pound. It could be the forerunner to a general price increase in the industry. The Phelps-Dodge action came a month after Copper Range Co., No. 6 producer, raised its price a nickel to 50 cents a pound.

Toyota: Detroit's Foreign Headache

DETROIT (UPI) — First it was the German "bug" — the Volkswagen—that gobbled up a good share of the U. S. new car market. Today the Japanese Toyota is Detroit's growing import worry.

In the first three months of 1969, the Toyota sold 27,292 cars, a whopping 134 per cent increase over the same 1968 period. Volkswagen, which consistently has sold more than 50 per cent of the import market, continued in that role with 112,724 sales. But that figure is nearly 27,000 units less than in the same period last year.

Despite the decline in VW sales, there is no sign that the impetus of import car sales is tapering off. The opposite may be true.

It is too early to determine whether the introduction of Ford's import-fighter, the Maverick, will stem the rising tide of auto imports. Mavericks have been on the market only a few weeks, but before they hit the scene imports were chalking up new records.

Figures for January, February and March showed that the top ten import cars sold 220,211 units that quarter, up slightly from 1968, a record year for foreign makes.

Toyota has taken over second place among the imprts, displacing General Motors' German import, the Opel. During March, Toyota sales topped 10,000, making it the only import except Volkswagen, to hit 10,000 U. S. sales in a single month.

Japan's other import, Datsun, also nearly doubled its three-months sales in the U. S. with 12,596 units.

Ten years ago, when American carmakers fought imports by introducing the compact Falcons, Corvairs and Valiants, imports nosedived. They did not recover until the compacts upgraded and abandoned the import price field.

This time the story may be different. The Big Three American car builders seem determined to stay in the fight against low priced imports, currently under $2,000. It may be a long, tough battle.

Many foreign manufacturers have established footholds throughout the U.S. by building dealer and service organizations. Ten years ago all imports, except VW, were soft in this area.

Japanese merchandisers seldom repeat mistakes. Besides offering styling and comfort geared to American tastes, Toyota established a dealer network from coast to coast. It has some 700 dealers, more than half of them dealing exclusively in Toyotas. The company also sets up warehouses at strategic points so parts never are more than an overnight trip from the dealer involved.

Toyota also has established 10 ports of entry in the U.S., enabling it to offer its uniform POE retail price anywhere in the country.

With this setup behind it, Toyota announced a selling goal of between 130,000-140,000 units this year and is well on the road to reaching it.

Glass Firm Buys Armstrong Cork

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — The sale of Armstrong Cork Company's packaging materials operation to Kerr Glass Manufacturing Co., Los Angeles, was closed last week, an Armstrong spokesman announced.

The sale, calling for payment of about $90 million, is retroactive to April 1.

Involved in the transaction are six manufacturing plants and related assets, together with the move of about 4,000 employees to Kerr Glass.

Also included are a plant site at Charlotte, N.C., and the assets of National Cork, exclusive of cash, receivables and its installation contract business.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

At Age 42, Growth Deserves Attention

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I'm considering a mutual fund (Keystone S-4) in conjunction with my casualty insurance, about $600 annually after the initial requirement of $2,500. I currently invest in U. S. Savings Bonds and General Electric stock through payroll deduction. I'm 42, planning for retirement income and looking for better return on my investments. Please comment. — R. C.

A. At your age, you should concentrate on better returns from capital growth and later plan your retirement income. Keystone S-4 is a better-than-average-growth fund — yet not a go-go fund — having increased net asset value 148 per cent for five years through 1968 and nearly 11.5 per cent last year compared with 7.7 per cent for Standard & Poor's 500-stock average.

General Electric, also, is well thought of for its growth potential. U. S. Savings Bonds offer no capital growth beyond interest accruals. Safety, liquidity and ease in saving systematically through payroll deduction have built up their appeal to many thrift-minded persons. Hopefully, their 4.25 per cent yield will be lifted by Congress in the not distant future.

My advice is to minimize savings bonds and start buying into strong growth industires. I favor American Hospital Supply, Alpine Geophysical, Boise Cascade or Georgia-Pacific's new split shares, Cook Coffee, Culligan (water treatment), Broadway-Hale Stores or any of your other fast-growing West Coast corporations.

Q. My retired sister was advised to use her American Telephone as collateral to buy 1,300 Consolidated Edison on margin, costing her 7½ per cent interest. What can she do to offset this pressing indebtedness — buy high-yielding bonds to cover interest charges? — T. G.

A. I'd close out the margin account and stick to outright ownership of good income stocks. She could hold part of Consolidated Edison for its tax-exempt dividends. Price action is phlegmatic and earnings have been irregular, due partly to rising taxes and the high cost of debt obligations and partly to labor problems and complaints about air pollution.

Mortage Call

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (UPI) — Directors of Florida East Coast Railway Co. has authorized a call for redemption of the railway's $22 million of second mortage 5.5 per cent convertible income bonds.

Congregation Asks Permit For Church

San Rafael Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses wants to build a new church on Grandlee Road in Santa Venetia, but the county zoning administrator yesterday put off a decision until he checks the site plans and parking areas.

Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill said he would have to deny a use permit for the church if he finds any adverse effect on neighbors.

Daniel Dinniene, secretary of the church congregation, said there are only two homes within 150 feet of the property. It is located on the southwest side of Grandlee Road, about 200 feet off North San Pedro Road. At the corner is a small shopping center.

The church facilities will include an auditorium, office and storage areas. It will be one story. Dinniens said the premises will be used on Thursday anf Sunday, but rarely on other days.

Philip Wright of San Rafael, member of the congregation, assured Cordill: "We're very quiet. We don't have parties and raffles etc. and meetings don't last beyond 9 p.m."

The zoning administrator also;

SEADRIFT — Announced he would issue a variance allowing a temporary tract office in a residence at the entrance to Seadrift Subdivison, Stinson Beach. Philip B. Lygren, representing William Kent Estate, said the office would be used only for sale of Seadrift homes.

LAND SPLIT — Took under submission a request by Bernard Flagg to divide his property at 306 Melrose Avenue, Homestead Valley, into lots of 7,125 square feet and 7,132 square feet. The required size is 7,500 square feet.

DAY NURSERY — Denied a request by Joy and Roderick Crandall to allow a day nursery school for up to 30 children at 27 Meadow Drive, Alto.

MOUNTAIN SHOP — Denied a variance for Mrs. Mary R. King of San Anselmo to open a shop for hiking, camping and mountaineering gear at 1028 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield. The building, formerly occupied by Red Robin Caterers, is owned by the Ross Valley Medical Dental Building Inc.

SMALL LOT — Granted a variance to the rev. Gordon A. Cross of Sacramento to add a family room to his weekend home at 470 Aberdeen Way, Inverness. The lot is 3,150 square feet in an area where 6,000 square feet is required.

GALLINAS CLUB — Continued for more information a request by Gallinas Yacht Club to locate a barge at the intersection of Vendola Drive and Gallinas Creek to be used as a clubhouse.

Eye Recipient Still Can't See

HOUSTON (UPI)—John Maddent spent three weeks with his eyelids stitched shut, waiting to learn whether an operation would restore his sight.

His wife said yesterday it had not.

Madden, 55, a Conroe, Tex., photo shop owner, received a new right eye three weeks ago in what was announced as the first total eye transplant. He quietly checked out of Methodist Hospital yesterday and returned home.

"There is no sight but the eye has perfect movement and he has feeling in it," Mrs. Madden said from the couple's home about 40 miles north of Houston.

College Alumni Plan Dinner Dance

The College of Marin Alumni Association will have its annual scholarship fund dinner dance May 24 at the San Rafael Elks Lodge, 1312 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

There will be a social hour starting at 7 p.m. and dinner at 8 p.m. Reservations can be made through the College of Marin Alumni Association, Kentfield.

Driving Sentence

Michael Paul Corder, 29, of the Presidio of San Francisco, has been placed on one year probation and fined $240 for drunken driving May 3 on Highway 101. He was sentenced by Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Municipal Court.

How To Hold FALSE TEETH More Firmly in Place

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping, or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Then sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. FASTEETH holds dentures firmer and more comfortably. Makes eating easier. It's alkaline—doesn't sour. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feel. Helps check plate odor. Dentures that fit are essential to health. See your dentist regularly. Get FASTEETH at all drug counters.

Dominican Offers Special Courses

Dominican College of San Rafael has announced it will offer selected summer session courses for the first time to gifted high school students who have completed their junior year.

The courses, June 23 to Aug. 1, are open to both boys and girls, who must have a recommendation from their high school administration. Applications must be submitted to the director of summer session at the college by next Tuesday.

Courses open to high school students are English composition, interpretation of literature, French culture, German 1, history of Europe 1500 to 1950, chamber music, advanced Spanish, Spanish culture and chemistry for non-majors.

Romney Keeps Promise, Gets Booed By Labor

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Housing Secretary George Romney kept his promise: He "laid it on the line" to a room full of labor leaders, and was booed in return.

Romney went before 3,000 delegates to a conference of the AFL-CIO Building Trades Department yesterday and told them they would have to end restrictive labor practices before the nation could meet its housing goals.

"That's all right," Romney said when the boos began. "I'm going to lay it on the line.

The delegates did give Romney a few cheers, but not where he intended. He got the favorable reaction when he told the delegates that wages won by building tradesmen were already "four and five times higher than any other union wage."

Corte Madera Police Vacancy To Council

The Corte Madera Town Council will consider a proposal at its 7:30 p.m. meeting Thursday that a member of the police department be assigned detective duties on an interim basis, filling the vacancy left by Inspector Harold N. Hockett, and that the detective be paid 5 per cent above base pay.

The council will also take up proposed salaries for 1969-70.
